General's Wife Is Co-Chairman of French Session

The wife of an army general from Tecumseh is playing an important role in a coming European gathering.

The ninth annual Conference of American Women's Activities in France will be held in Bordeaux, France, on March 10 through 12.

Seventy-five American and international women's clubs in France, Switzerland and the Benelux countries, make up the federation, representing approximately 5,800 members.

Mrs. Webster Anderson, wife of Maj. Gen. Anderson, commanding general, United States Army Communications Zone, is serving as one of the four honorary chairmen of the 1964 AWAF conference.

She is also the honorary president of the Orleans American Officers' Wives' Club and the Franco-American Women's Club in Heidelberg.

Mrs. Anderson has served as a Red Cross gray lady, and worked with Girl Scouts program and the PTA. She has organized or carried on existing charities at practically every post where she and her husband have been stationed.

Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Oberlin College. As a kindergarten teacher, she organized the first nursery school at West Point, N. Y. The Andersons have lived in Orleans, France, since October, 1962, and are the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Hughes, and three grandchildren.

CHECK ACCIDENTS—A traffic accident spot map, one of several special charts which deal with Tecumseh's traffic problems, is discussed by Bayard Clark (left) assistant director of Automobile Club of Michigan's safety and traffic division, and Charles E. Gordon, Club traffic research supervisor. They will use this chart and others in a report on the $4,000 Tecumseh traffic survey at a meeting with civic and city officials on Wednesday, March 11.

City Traffic Survey Coming

Results of a $4,000 survey of Tecumseh's traffic problems, together with recommended solutions, will be presented at a dinner meeting of city officials and local businessmen, Wednesday, March 11.

Walter Fowler, Automobile Club of Michigan's Tecumseh-Adrian area division manager, will be host.

The full-scale study, conducted by Auto Club's traffic research department last April and May, was made without cost to the city as a public service.

The Tecumseh City Council requested the study in November, 1962, because of a concern over changing traffic patterns resulting from local population increases.

It also was said at the time that on-street parking was becoming a big problem due to new industry coming into the city.

An Auto Club research staff, headed by Charles E. Gordon, worked with local civic and police officials in the survey.

They spent about three weeks making on-the-scene checks of traffic volumes, flows and intersection turning movements with the aid of mechanical traffic computers and counting boards.

An analysis also was made of traffic accident records maintained by police for 1962 and 1963.

☆

AUTO CLUB employed as consultants on the project a Detroit traffic engineering firm, Gibson and Associates.

Bayard Clark, assistant manager of Auto Club's safety and traffic division, and Gordon will explain the survey at a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting at the Tecumseh Country Club on Milwaukee Road.

At the conclusion, Mr. Fowler will present the complete report to Tecumseh Mayor Harold Easton.

Roller Skate Party Profits Go to MAEDC

Several plan to attend the spring district meeting in Saline March 23. A district vice president will be elected.

All proceeds will go to the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, Mrs. Ray Oliver is chairman.

Spaghetti dinner is being planned for Jaycees and wives at the Grange April 11. Mrs. Clifford Byrd is chairman.

Mrs. Doug Dunn is chairman for making Easter favors for patients at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Easter Seal envelopes addressed by members were turned over to chairman Mrs. Dyke Helms.

Mrs. Fred Betzoldt volunteered to select a committee of five to assist at the Bloodmobile March 3.

Mrs. Raymond Shelton presented a skit on parliamentary procedure after refreshments were served by Mrs. Dyke Helms, Mrs. James Rundell and Mrs. Bruce Corley.

Mrs. Neil Pearson, who was sponsored by the Garden Club to Higgins Lake Conservation program, will give a report at the next meeting.

TEEN TALK

By JANICE WHELAN

Formal initiation of the Spanish Club was held Feb. 25 with Jo Ann Bryan, Linda Brazee, Emily Manwaring, Paul Stoner, Chuck Calhoun, and Mike Velandra formally initiated into the club.

As part of their initiation, the new members dressed in part of a Spanish costume the next day. The girls wore mantillas with a rose and the boys wore black sombreros which they had made.

The Student Council asked the Club to furnish refreshments for the Sponge Dance, April 10. A committee was set up to look into this.

✓

After the formal initiation, the third-year Spanish class entertained the rest of the club. Three short dramatic skits were presented in Spanish.

Las Infraciones — Don Baird, Debi Crawford, John Oberlin, Susan Bottorff.

Los elogios — Mary Kunkle, John Oberlin.

After enjoying these skits, the club was adjourned.

The Student Council is busy planning Sponge Week and is in the process of establishing the days for it, April 8-10.

A special feature will be a variety show the first day, which will also be Dress-Up Day.

The idea of having an international theme for the week was decided upon and several days such as Japanese Day, where the students sit on the floor in classes, was also discussed.

More ideas are being looked for Mr. Hart must approve them.

The Council is planning a Clean-Up Week for March 10. It will share an assembly with Honor Society, each having 20 minutes.

The Council has lined up speaker, John Hayden to talk on the litter problem in Tecumseh and also a litter bug. Honor Society will present an initiation program.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

UNWANTED, UNINVITED AND UNLIKED

". . . . . a chunky, short-tailed black bird with a long pointed bill and pointed wings". This is part of the definition, in the "Audubon Bird Guide", of a starling. No good bums — trouble makers and many other unpleasant things I call them.

Last week, when I was rather bitterly complaining about the deplorable state of our bird population, I certainly was not asking nor even hoping, for help from this quarter. We do not like starlings!

With most things there is at least one point which deserves being noted on the credit side but with starlings, nothing. Oh, one tiny 'good' but even that is debatable.

As yet we are not over-run with the tramps but the few which have showed up are too many. And, of course, the danger is always present that if they find things to their liking, all the relatives will be whistled in.

As the birds waddle across the yard, scrap at the bird feeder or bathe at the open spot in the creek, we shudder.

They are so terrible looking—and acting, too. Eight inches of messy, ragged bird.

In addition to the long bills and wings, they have short blunt tails. These bills, by the way, are darkish brown most of the year but as spring nears, they turn bright yellow.

☆

The birds have but one molt a year and in the fall their new feathers are conspicuously tipped with white, the effect being a noticeably spotted bird.

After a hard winter's use these spots are literally worn off and thus the birds approach the mating season with new suits which are really nothing more than fall's garb remodeled.

The story of the starling's introduction into this country has been told and retold. How could anyone have been so stupid as to be homesick for these tramps?

According to one report, in March of 1890 a Mr. Eugene Scheifflin liberated 80 birds in Central Park, New York City, and in the spring of 1891, 40 more were released.

Being tough and resourceful characters, this was indeed a land of opportunity; free from all natural enemies, Mother Nature's method of controlling things, it is no wonder they have taken over so quickly.

Physically, the bird is amazingly well fitted for the battle of life'. Hardy, muscular and strong, it quite resembles the crow but has a far superior bill which is used as both an offensive and defensive weapon.

Intelligent, brave, prolific, adaptable, cautious and sneaky are also descriptive.

☆

MY BIGGEST 'BEEF' against these birds is that being nonnative they compete for both food and nesting sites with our own birds.

Just look at some of the birds which starlings will evict: tree swallows, martins, blue birds, flickers, Nuthatchers, fly catchers and wrens. With no homes available our birds decline.

The one bright spot in the starling picture is it's insatiable appetite for insects; they love bugs but even this point is not all good because the pests, so bothersome in Europe and to which the starlings were most partial, are not bothersome here.

So it is that we are not too pleased with our company; as guests we find the starlings unwanted, uninvited and unliked.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

This blustery weather is the perfect accompaniment for a thought on my mind right now.

In case you may not have noted, there are some really dedicated ice skaters around the area.

Whenever the ice has been good enough, they're out in force. Many of the young men carry hockey sticks and love to play this game.

Unfortunately, there are too few "good" days as far as these kids (including some adults) are concerned.

What we're nudging into is this question—how about the town getting to work on the project of an indoor artificial ice rink?

Possibilities for such a facility make the head spin. From seven to 70, the skaters would flock. Whole families would come. Lessons in figure skating for the girls, hockey league for the boys, the list is alive with good sport and fun.

They say walking is man's best exercise. It's fun, but not nearly so much so as skating.

How much would such a rink cost? Probably about $50,000, but it can be done. Our Fund Foundation offers the best possibility. It handled the new library in jig time.

Saturday morning found two Tecumsehites, dad and son, in East Lansing. They donned blades and spun around the spacious indoor rink at Michigan State during a free-skating period. The ice was delightful.

Wheeling and dealing were an assortment of people, including some little things about five years old. Figure skating classes were going on and in fact, the entire Saturday afternoon is devoted to these pursuits.

Hockey occupies many hours each week.

Free skating was 50c for children and 70c for adults. If you'd like to rent the entire palace, at some odd hour, for a skating party or hockey session, the fee is $35.

The cash rolls in, indicating that people are more than willing to pay as they play—and get some healthful exercising.

Can it ever happen?

2 THS Graduates Rate Positions on Dean's List

A report just published at Adrian College indicates that over 10% of the fulltime student enrollment of Adrian College were named to the Dean's List for first semester achievement.

To be selected, a student must have accumulated at least a 2.25 point hour ratio (based on a 3.00 grading system.)

$5 Million Industry Almost Reality

By JIM LINCOLN

Unless there are some unforseen developments, Anderson Chemical Division will soon break ground for an industrial plant three miles south of Tecumseh on Sutton Rd.

Practically all opposition against the company disposing of industrial wastes into River Raisin was trivial at the special public hearing last Friday afternoon at the Community Center.

It was conducted by the Water Resources Commission.

Although Loring F. Oeming, executive secretary of the commission, said at the hearing that the group would not release a decision until its next meeting, March 26, it appears an announcement may be made late this week.

Only sound opposition was made by Cecil Schmitz, vice-president and general manager of the Home Canning Co., of Blissfield.

Mr. Schmitz, speaking also for a second Blissfield cannery, pointed out to the commission that additional calcium chloride in River Raisin could raise the percentage high enough to have a corrosive effect on their tin cans to make them unmarketable.

The canneries pack primarily tomatoes, cooking and cooling their product in the river water.

Ol' Man Winter Blasts

Sleepy-eyed risers Tuesday morning looked out the window and said, "Boy — it's foggy!" Then they woke up.

Boots and mufflers were the order of the day as residents stepped out of cozy homes to tackle the blizzard that lasted until afternoon.

After buying high boots, Herald reporter went stamping around the countryside, finally hitched a ride with the police department, who assisted countless people in every block.

The County pulled snow removal equipment off the road until later in the day — they were fighting a losing battle during the height of the storm.

Downtown merchant said he was having a great time watching everyone get unstuck — no customers, but lots of fun. He added, "Today would be perfect for robbing the bank if I could think of a fool-proof getaway."

Mrs. Robert Murray was out in the wind and snow during her good deed for the day — pulling stranded motorists with her Jeep until her rope broke.

Wrecker from Purkey's answered 41 calls. Don Purkey said their truck was stuck a few times, but they winched it out by hooking it to a tree.

School was kept, but buses were late and elementary students were dismissed early.

Hardy souls who braved the weather felt like pioneers as they lowered their heads, plowed through knee-high drifts and dumped the snow out of their boots.

The weather made home a great place to be.

THE REV. THOMAS COLLINS CAN BE PROUD OF NEW ST. ELLIZABETH ADDITION.

'Ecumenical' Dinner Party

There's a new 200-seat addition at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church—and a new ecumenical spirit in town.

The $44,000 addition, which offers 1,785-square-feet of floor space, was erected along the north side of the church. Badly needed, it has eliminated standing at Sunday Masses and increased total seating capacity to 600.

Growing steadily, the local parish has 400 member families, nearly 1,200 persons.

As for the new ecumenical feeling, it started when St. Elizabeth pastor, the Rev. Thomas J. Collins, deemed this an excellent time to entertain some of the local ministers.

He held an informal dinner party Thursday. A look at the new addition was part of the evening.

There was no program, just informal visiting.

Without a doubt, the gathering helped create a new feeling of inter-faith understanding.

The initial invitation from Fr. Collins for the dinner brought quick and positive response, as expressed in the acceptance by the Rev. Julian Gresham, Presbyterian pastor.

"Your invitation is most gracious. I have hoped for such opportunities through which we might get better acquainted and am glad you came up with such a good one. Wish I had thought of it."

AAA Traffic Survey Shows Trouble Spots

Improvements to Tecumseh's main streets, creation of one-way north-south arteries and better street lighting throughout the city are highlights of the Automobile Club of Michigan survey designed to help the city solve its growing traffic problems.

The report called for "community action" in order for Tecumseh to "realize its desire for safe and efficient streets."

The improvement program was outlined in a 29-page report presented to Tecumseh city officials and businessmen at a meeting Wednesday in the Tecumseh Country Club.

The suggested action followed a full-scale study of traffic conditions last April and May by an Auto Club research team, together with an analysis of all types of traffic accident records for 1961 and 1962, kept by Tecumseh police.

Bayard A. Clark, assistant director of Auto Club's safety and traffic division, and Charles E. Gordon, Club traffic research supervisor, explained the report to Tecumseh city officials.

THE ACCIDENT problem in Tecumseh, which saw no fatalities during the period studied, was described as local because 85 percent of the drivers involved were area residents.

This points to the urgency of getting the message across to local drivers. The fact that only 25 percent of the 194 accidents in 1962 occurred at night indicates that "Tecumseh drivers exercise greater caution at night," the report said.

Giving major attention to four Tecumseh streets, the study noted that "Evans St. and Chicago Blvd. were the scene of most of the accidents and that the intersection of the two streets is the focal point of trouble."

☆

THESE STREET recommendations were listed:

► Evans St. — Since the northern section is only two lanes wide, there is not sufficient space to accommodate traffic waiting to turn off the road and through traffic.

The report recommended widening on the approaches to Macon Rd., Burt St., Water St., and Herrick Park Dr. The shoulder along the section from Herrick Park Dr. to the Evans Creek bridge should be paved to provide an adequate parking lane and curbs and gutters should be installed.

Left turns should be prohibited from southbound Evans into Ottawa; at the Evans and Chicago intersection, where 18 of 49 accidents involved vehicles turning left, consideration should be given to prohibition of left turns off Evans.

4 Teachers Resign, One Will Retire

Five teachers, one retiring, have indicated to the administration that they will not be returning for the 1964-65 term.

Mrs. Louis Patterson, high school Spanish teacher, is retiring. Mrs. Gloria Calhoun will take her place.

Those resigning are: Mrs. Barbara Kerr, first grade, Ridgeway elementary.

Mrs. Carolyn Pettit, history, high school.

Mrs. Carol Rise, fifth grade, Tecumseh Acres.

John White, fifth grade, Patterson.

Unless there are more unexpected resignations, this is one of the smallest turnovers in teaching personnel for many years.

In the recent past, 15 or more teachers resign annually to teach elsewhere.

Behind Page One

Charles Figy, of Morenci, former director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, is the new chairman of the 20-member Michigan State Fair Authority.

Mrs. Albert Cain tells us she was one of the complainants on the $500,000 civil rights suit, rather than Mrs. Harry Bush, Jr. Sorry.

If you notice a big crack in the sidewalk on the south side of Chicago Blvd., near Union St., here's the inside story. George Schumm, 508 W. Chicago Blvd., was stepping out briskly the other day, heading for the post office. George hit a slick spot and zoooom, down he went. The full blow was taken by his head, thus the walk really quivered.

We hope people take all these crazy items with a grin. Otherwise the whole Herald gang will be tarred and feathered come warm weather. Eh, Harry?

Good for you, Elly Peterson! This lovely lady is unlimbering the long range artillery in a run for the Republican nomination to oppose Senator Philip Hart. Lenawee County GOP'ers should arrange an Elly Peterson Day real soon.

Want to see what the Lauson Division of the Tecumseh Products Co in New Holstein, Wis. looks like? An aerial view printed in The New Holstein Reporter was sent to The Herald last week by Mrs. Charles Stephenson. Pictured is the new 85,000 square-foot addition. Much thanks to our New Holstein "reporter" for keeping us informed.

And you thought we were all through with this Beatle stuff. Silly reader. Two neat pix were slow in getting printed for our recent "bomb" on the Beat Boys, so here they are. That's Mrs. William J. Kasno, owner of Maria Beauty

Shop, with the darling wig she fashioned for our photographs. (Maria is the one at left.) Then here's handsome, serious, pipe-smoking Gene Earling. When Gene was asked what he thought of the Beatles, he responded, "Beagles? Well, I rather fancy dachshunds myself."

Willyism for the week — "A beauty shop is a place where the less-comely ladies, who are tired of it all, may go to 'curl up and dye'."

First thing new city recreation director Don Moffatt did upon arrival in town was set up a Community Center cleaning schedule. Assisted by Ken Southwell and Don Teegarden, Don was up to his eyeballs in mops, soapy water, brooms and scrub brushes all of last week. "We're going to make this a showplace," he grinned.

That 29-page Auto Club traffic survey is loaded with wonderful ideas for improving city roadways. Let's hope they all will eventually become reality. Tecumseh is on the verge of another giant growth period and city streets should be ready to handle this parade of progress.

Happy first birthday, Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co.

Ernie Topps, 76-years-young, checked in to say he certainly remembers Wes Willett and his orchestra, the subject of a recent Long & Short episode.

Oooops, we got the wrong Mrs. Moore in fluoride story. The one to call is Mrs. Robert D. Moore, 423-4422.

"I think I'm gonna be a drop-out."

Ladies To Hold White Breakfast Thursday, Mar. 19

Mrs. Sherman Richards, secretary of spiritual life of the Ann Arbor District, will be the guest speaker for the 11th annual white breakfast at the Methodist Church.

The event will be held Thursday, March 19, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the church social rooms.

Ladies of the church are again inviting the public to attend. Those wishing to make reservations may do so with Mrs. Erwin Buss of Mrs. Jim Murphy. Tickets are 75c.

A nursery for pre-school children has been arranged.

Cadet Band Takes Part in Festival

Tecumseh High School's Cadet Band performed Feb. 29 at the Class B district band festival at Michigan Center High School.

The 58-piece unit performed for three well-known educators and heard other bands.

They also toured Michigan Center High School, which was dedicated in 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Goodman, Don Purkey and George Choske traveled with the band and assisted with the arrangements.

6 Scouts Earn Merit Badges in Swimming

Boy Scouts of Troop 4 members have spent Thursday evenings of the past three weeks attending swimming instruction at the Adrian Junior High School pool.

Committeemen of Troop 4 provided transportation.

Airman Will Study X-ray Techniques

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Scott, 419 W. Cummins St. held a buffet supper Saturday night for their son and family, Sp/4 and Mrs. Norman D. Scott, Melinda and David.

They're leaving this week for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where he is entering medical X-ray technician school.

Guests were Mrs. Frank Scott of Blissfield, Mr. and Mrs. Merland Andrews, Ginger and Jim and Mrs. C. D. Andrews of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Smith and Bradley.

During the evening, Sp/4 Scott received a telephone call from his brother, Sp/4 Paul E. Scott, who is stationed at Fort Dix, N. J.

Looie, the Leprechaun will have trouble keeping himself hidden Tuesday, St. Patrick's Day if this snow remains with us. His tiny green shoes, hat and fringed coat will stand out as much as do the robin's breasts we have been hearing about.

Two calls came in Wednesday morning at the Herald office.

Mrs. Marshall Coulter said that she noticed Robin's bright red breast in a snow-laden tree just outside their window Tuesday. She spent last week with a cousin in Cleveland, O. Mr. Coulter went down over the weekend to bring her home.

Mrs. LaVern Graf at Ferris Trailer Park saw a big fat robin eating an apple left over in a tree from last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sager have as their houseguest, her sister, Shirley Groombridge, who arrived here from Dover, England, March 4.

Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Blanden visited their son, David, at Alma College Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Sluyter, Mrs. Ethel McDonald, and Bess Livingstone were in Detroit for the gift show last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGlasson and son, Jimmy, arrived Saturday to spend several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Day and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Herbert Burch of Ypsilanti entered St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor Monday for heart surgery Tuesday.

Kathleen Edwards of Memphis, Tenn., has returned to her home after a three-week visit with her daughter, Mrs. Carson House, and family. She reported that the grass is green and the bulbs are coming up in Memphis.

Mrs. Hildreth Eggleston of Bowling Green, O., was a weekend guest of Margaretta Brisbin and Ruth LaPrad.

Larry Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Green of Holloway, and John R. Dewey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dewey, Tipton, are both stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Sgt. and Mrs. John Browne have returned to the states with their son, Steven John, who was born in Furth, Germany, Jan. 3. They are spending a leave with Mrs. Brown's parents in Luckey, O., and his mother, Mrs. Dean Delker, and family in this city. Sgt. Browne will report April 3 to Fort Benning, Ga., for further training and teaching. Mrs. Delker and daughter, Hilary Browne, flew to New York City Thursday and returned Friday. Due to fog they drove to LaGuardia Field from Kennedy Airport, getting a good view of the site where the World's Fair is being constructed.

100th Birthday Party of Pythians Held in Tipton

Plans were made for a family supper April 4 at the meeting of the Knights of Pythias Lodge 160 Tuesday evening.

A public card party will be held April 3 by the group.

Several Knights and their wives attended the recent 100th anniversary supper in Tipton and saw pictures that the Grand Chancellor took while in Scotland during August.

The next meeting will be held March 17 with supper at 6:30 p.m. with Carl Kempf and Robert Wood in charge.

10 Days To Wait for Word

City officials learned Wednesday morning that Tecumseh is still in the running for a second large industrial plant —in addition to Stauffer Chemical—at the northwest corner of Occidental and Gady Rds.

They were told that it might be 10 days or two weeks before any announcement is made.

Last week, Consumer Power officials discussed possible location here, two miles south of Tecumseh, but would not reveal the potential company's name.

Employment figures projected were a minimum of 1,500 and a maximum of 4,000.

$5 MILLION

Although objecting to Anderson disposing of calcium chloride into the river, Mr. Schmitz also told the commission that he did not want to deter construction of the plant here.

Dr. Fred Feldman, Deerfield village president, voiced opposition, but admitted his community's problems were minor. He cited costs for Deerfield's infiltration system and possible effects on boilers there.

Many spoke in favor of the Anderson plant.

Harold Easton, Tecumseh mayor, read a resolution in favor of the Anderson plant. The resolution was passed unanimously by the River Raisin Association Wednesday of last week.

The Association, of which Mr. Easton is chairman, is a four-county organization backing the River Raisin Watershed Project.

Robert Chandler, project engineer for the Stauffer Chemical Co., parent company of Anderson, told the commission that everything possible would be done to clean up the effluent to be disposed into the river.

He indicated that company was close, economically at least in costs, to being able to salvage some of the intended waste and market it to steel companies.

If the Anderson plant is approved, facilities costing between $5 and $6 million will be constructed for an employment of about 700. Annual payroll will be $4,500,000.

AAA Traffic Survey

should be resurfaced, curbs and gutters installed and the street lighting upgraded.

► Chicago Blvd. — Since accident records show drivers are changing lanes or turning off Chicago without indicating their intentions, an intensive educational campaign is needed against these careless habits rather than physical street changes.

On some side streets, parking should be banned within 100 feet of Chicago to improve driver visibility and at the same time provide more space for vehicles waiting to enter Chicago.

► Maumee St. — The section, from Russell north to Patterson, should be completely rebuilt with curbs, gutters and new street lights. The section, from Patterson north to Chicago, should be resurfaced, new street lights installed, and all curb parking prohibited.

► Union St. — While current traffic usage of this street does not require any extensive physical improvement at this time, the existing bridge over Evans Creek should be replaced as soon as possible. The bridge was described as "unsafe for both vehicles and pedestrians."

OTHER MAJOR streets saw these recommendations:

► Patterson St. — Eliminate the jog at Evans and Patterson; improve this street to major street standards from Union to Maumee; prohibit curb parking and parking between the curb and building lines from Ottawa to Maumee.

► Mohawk and Blood Rds. — Improve this route to major street standards. The report said the surface, alignment and bridge are "totally inadequate for any traffic load."

► Burt St. and Macon Rd. — Improve these roads to major streets as abutting land is developed from current rural use.

"A COMPLETE review of Tecumseh's major street system in relation to existing and projected land use is in order," the report declared. "The widening of some streets is needed, but is not feasible because of narrow right-of-way. Therefore, a system of one-way streets to improve north-south traffic flow and circulation around the central business district should be considered."

The report also recommended installation of curbs and gutters on all streets to improve access control and facilitate parking control and a complete renovation of "Stop" signs throughout the city.

Calling "existing lights on most streets totally inadequate for today's traffic," the report recommended a street lighting program covering both major and secondary streets.

Tecumseh police force, the report declared, is "adequate for current needs" as judged by the national police manpower-population ratio.

It added, however, that any appreciable increase in population will create need for strengthening the present force of eight police officers.

Following the program, the report was presented to Mayor Harold Easton by Walter Fowler, Auto Club's Tecumseh-Adrian division manager, who was host at the dinner.

Back from Florida

'Ecumenical'

SEVERAL OF the guests expressed warm reaction to the dinner.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, wrote Fr. Collins, "May I thank you most sincerely for the marvelous dinner. I am sure that everyone else enjoyed it as much as I did. So glad to see the fine addition to your church, too."

Methodist minister, the Rev. Don Porteous stated, "As we ate together I was reminded that the Spirit of Christ unites us in one common Christian purpose."

Dr. Laszlo Gero of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church noted, "This dinner was the best example of enjoying good friends, Christian spirit, fellowship in Christ and a remarkable modern emphasis of our Christian goal to be all of God's people. I enjoyed that very much and I want to keep this excellent friendship with Father Collins and his good people."

The Rev. Paul Brantingham, minister of Tecumseh Friends Church, said in a note to his host, "Thanks for the very delightful evening. The dinner and fellowship were something long to be remembered. You and your people are to be complimented upon the completion of your beautiful new addition."

The Rev. B. O. Bashore, pastor of the Baptist Church here, said, "Fr. Collins' gesture of graciousness afforded the opportunity to not only become better acquainted but to further the ecumenical movement of which we are all conscious. Several problems of mutual interest were discussed and unanimity of agreement was reached."

☆

The pews, fashioned in Archbold, O., by "craftsmen in fine church furniture" are a nearly-perfect match for the existing ones. Brickwork is identical. This phase was done by Medford Palmer, 307 S. Maiden Lane, who was one of the masons on the original church in 1950.

The six large, bay-type windows, 6 x 2 feet, have stained-glass centers.

Fr. Collins, an electronics expert, has revamped the entire sound system, which has a 50-watt amplifier and six speakers, placed strategically throughout the church, giving the effect of a normal voice level in all sections.

ST. ELIZABETH was established as a parish by the Detroit archdiocese in 1947 with the late Rev. Michael G. Collins named the first pastor.

Prior to that time, Tecumseh was listed under the category of a mission church, with Mass usually celebrated on Sundays.

The first Fr. Collins purchased the seven-acre site along N. Union St. where the present parish plant is located and immediately started work on the church. When the first Mass was said there Christmas of 1950, the parish had 180 families.

AN EIGHT-GRADE school was built in 1954, opening with an enrollment of 160. There has been one addition to that building and the pupil count has jumped to 360.

Total value of parish property stands at $400,000.

Other work on the church is being done this week and will include a new and larger Communion rail and carpeting of the entire sanctuary in green.

SMORGASBORD

"I walked in and my eyes bulged. When I left two hours later, my tummy bulged.

"This Smorgasbord was the best I have ever eaten — such variety. Louie is a great chef and really displays his talents here!

"On my first trip, I loaded my plate with all sorts of international goodies; jumbo shrimp (my favorite — at least six inches long) with HOT hot sauce, red Alaskan salmon in aspic, chicken salad, assorted relishes, pickled beets, cottage cheese and assorted cheeses, including snappy white goat cheese; huge pretzels, poppyseed roll and crackers.

"Then I helped myself to a big bowl of tossed salad with thousand island dressing (choice of four dressings).

"Mmmm — I get hungry just remembering that meal!

"My second trip hit the hot stuff — Swedish meat balls, chicken and rice pilaf and grape leaves stuffed with meat, rice and spices.

"After this delightful repast, I had to rest for half an hour, have a cup of coffee and some conversation.

"When I went back for the main course, I chose a mouth-watering slice of rare prime rib roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy. (Had to pass up the champagne ham, roast turkey and dressing — not enough room on my plate!)

"I also refilled my tossed salad bowl and sneaked a couple more shrimp (still my favorite).

"Another rest and more coffee gave me enough nerve to travel back again for my choice of dessert in petit fours and oriental pastries.

"I chose baklava — a rich concoction of paper-thin layers of pastry, intermingled with piles of crushed nuts soaked in butter and honey.

"Another cup of coffee topped off this scrumptuous meal!"

New Method of Education

The PTA's of Patterson and Herrick Park elementary schools will meet at Patterson School Thursday, March 19.

After separate business meetings at 7:30 pm. the two groups will join in the gymnasium at 8 p.m. to hear Mrs. Francis D'Arkos describe and demonstrate her method of teaching.

When the Jackson Citizen Patriot was besieged with requests for an article about Mrs. D'Arkos work with persons who have learning difficulties, she asked, "What could prove more emphatically that there are countless persons with learning difficulties who need help not available elsewhere?"

Since 1952 she has put her teaching method to every possible test, with 1,561 people coming to her home for guidance in 1960 alone.

MRS. FRANCIS D'ARKOS

☆

"THIS METHOD has worked completely with every type of child," she says, "including the handicapped, deaf, epileptic, cerebral palsy victims, feeble-minded, superior emotionally disturbed and average left-behinders."

A "left-behinder" is any child, regardless of his intelligence, who for some reason is not working at full capacity or using his full potentials, says the former teacher and social worker.

Her entire method is based on one principle: Children want to learn and can learn if given the chance. Only the rate of learning differs.

Although the majority of her work is with children, she has taught adults with equal success.

Since the publication of her book, "The Splendor of Learning" in 1963, she no longer boards students in her home to have time for lecturing, but still as many as 30 a day seek the help and guidance freely given at Stonecroft, the gracious D'Arkos residence south of Moscow.

☆

PARENTS COME from all over the USA for help. One mother in the wilds of Manitoba is teaching her own child with Mrs. D'Arkos help via the mails — a child who was rejected by the schools as unteachable.

Remedial reading teachers in THS Junior High School have been using the D'Arkos method.

Teachers and parents of children with learning problems are urged to attend by the Rev. Julian Gresham, president of Patterson PTA.

Refreshments will be served.

'Gizz Kids' Loved Tecumseh

Cliff Knudson, president of Rotary, received a letter last week from the University of Illinois Rehabilitation Center.

"I would like to express our appreciation to you and to the Rotary Club for having sponsored us in Tecumseh. We remember our appearance there as a pleasant and eventful climax to our 1964 tour.

"The students like to think that they put on their best performance in Tecumseh. Undoubtedly they were more relaxed for this exhibition than for any other and I think that reflected in their performance.

"On behalf of the students and Delta Sigma Omicron I would like to thank you for this opportunity to tell our story in Tecumseh.

"The excellent photographic account of the game printed in The Tecumseh Herald and described by Marda Duncan attests to the fact that our visit was well received. For this alone we are grateful. The revenue we realized is an additional benefit.

"You may be assured that if ever you wish to have us reappear in Tecumseh we shall be more than willing to accept your invitation."

Ten young couples of the Ridgeway-Britton Methodist Churches enjoyed an evening of bowling at the Lenawee Bowling Alley in Adrian last Saturday after which they gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishop for refreshments. The next meeting of the group will also be a bowling party to be held the evening of April 4.

TEEN TALK

By JANICE WHELAN

What do you do if you are 33 high school students with plenty of time, absolutely no homework, liberal-minded parents and an obliging advisor?

Simple, you organize and run a Science Fair.

Once again, these 33 dedicated members of the Tecumseh High School Science Club will present their annual Tecumseh area event on Saturday and Sunday.

This fair allows over 200 students, in kindergarten through 12th grade, to demonstrate knowledge of science with displays and projects.

In addition to these projects, this year's fair will feature displays on the government's space program by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and on electricity in our lives by Consumers Power and Detroit Edison.

The fair will be open to the public, free of charge, from 2 to 8 p.m. on Saturday and 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Besides interesting students of science, the fair gives Science Club members a chance to appreciate the difficulties of organizing a major effort and the fun that can result.

Tecumseh High School band boasts seven members of the Lenawee County All-County Band. The talented musicians are Lee Green, David Dustin, Fran Cooper, Dick Fielder, Sherry Harper, Tim Dickinson and Doug Hall.

The French Club held its informal initiation March 3. The initiates were attractively dressed in their good clothes. They wore dunce caps, proclaiming all French Club initiates as stupid and a sign identifying them as initiates.

For a few minutes at the beginning of each study hall period they entertained the study hall pupils with such heart rending songs as "Old McDonald."

The formal initiation is being planned for next month.

The Termites were the performing group at Tecumseh's pep meeting March 5. They spurred the team onto victory with their songs which they revised from the popular "Beetle songs, like "I Want to Hold Your Hand," and "We Love You Beetles" (Termites).

If you haven't guessed already, "The Termites" were really the cheerleaders in disguise, but who could have told the difference?

Their hair was combed in Beetle fashion with an original top notch for novelty. They played instruments ranging from "Mouseguitars" to ukeleles, and Karen Gottschalk played a "mean drum."

Racial Harmony Is Theme of Talk

Fifty members of the St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society heard an interesting program Wednesday evening.

Featured was a talk by the Rev. Fr. James Sheehan, member of Archbishop John F. Deardon's committee on racial harmony. He said that while most Christians profess a belief in equality of God's creatures, they fail to carry it over into their everyday dealings.

They believe one way and act another or they pretend the problem of discrimination does not exist and try to ignore it.

THE NEGRO according to Fr. Sheehan, now culturally and economically deprived, if given equal opportunity, could contribute immeasurably to the general culture.

He continued that even doctors, professional people, still are confined to the ghettos provided by the white man's exodus.

In spite of what we "say" we are not living our belief if we discriminate, he pointed out. It is not enough to feel good will in our hearts, we must make a positive effort to become "involved" in integration.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Riordan and her committee, Mrs. Vern Neidlinger, Mrs. Edward O'Neill, Mrs. John Osburn, Mrs. Eugene Parros and Mrs. Floyd Paruch.

12,000 Tickets for World's Fair

Dr. George Burkhard, general chairman of the Tecumseh World's Fair Committee notes that display booth sales have now reached 94% with a sell-out in sight.

The Fair, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh, will be held on April 3, 4 and 5 at the Community Center.

There will be exhibits by area merchants and industrial concerns as well as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H groups and the Sutton School for exceptional children.

TICKETS ARE now rolling off the presses — 12,000 have been ordered with more to be available as needed.

To insure a top-notch show, the Fair Committee has engaged a professional convention decorator. The entire indoor exhibit area will be decorated with royal-blue backdrops and matching side valances.

The exterior of the building will be made more festive with decorative buntings, hundreds of brightly-colored plastic pennants and large white and blue fans.

Women Invited To Hear Ex-Missionary to Korea

An invitation to the women of Tecumseh is being extended by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have will speak on the subject, "Mothers and Babies" preceding the meeting Wednesday, March 18 at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Center.

Dr. Ten Have is a member of the University of Michigan School of Public Health and the staff of a clinic being conducted by the Planned Parenthood League.

Dr. Ten Have has been a medical missionary, working with Dr. Peter Boelens in Korea when they became involved in an organization called CAPOK — (Christian Adoption Program of Korea).

The two physicians did triple work — cared for the sick and the needy and brought the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Every week these two doctors aided about 300 sick Koreans and supervised nurses who cared for as many as 10,000 patients a month.

A question-and-answer period will follow Dr. Ten Have's address, preceding the business meeting.

Pastor Speaks To Youth Group

The Rev. Julian Gresham spoke to 24 members of the Presbyterian Junior High Fellowship on the meaning of the sacraments during the meeting at the church Monday evening.

Games under the direction of Gail Hohenstein were played. Refreshments were served by Carol Hamilton and Miriam Puffer.

"HEATING WITH ELECTRICITY GIVES US A FEELING OF COMFORT AND CLEANLINESS WE NEVER HAD BEFORE"

says Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Barnes of Eastport, Michigan

"When you live as far north as we do, having a heating system that delivers top comfort at a reasonable cost becomes a real important item. That's why we are sold on electric heat. It heats so gently that most of the time we are not even aware that it's on. And as far as comfort is concerned, we have learned that there's a big difference between being comfortable and simply being warm . . . even during the severe, record-breaking cold weather we had last winter. "From my point of view," says Mrs. Barnes, "I would select electric heat if for no other reason than the cleanliness it affords."

Candid opinions such as these, about the many wonderful benefits of electric heat are being shared by more and more families throughout the Outstate Michigan area every year.

If you're planning to build, buy, or modernize, it will pay you to get the facts. Send for the booklet and information mentioned in the coupon at the left.

Storm Is Cause of 7 Wrecks

Seven accidents, six on slippery streets, were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week.

Four accidents, fender-bender types, occurred Tuesday after a heavy snowfall and four citations were issued.

A three-car accident Tuesday morning at Patterson and S. Evans involved Wayne Patton, 56, of 310 N. Maiden Lane; Barbara Jean Wright, 28, of 212 W. Logan; and Ruth S. Packard, 48, of 511 S. Evans.

The Wright car bumped into the rear of Patton's car, pushing it into the path of the Packard auto.

Late Tuesday afternoon, Linda Lee Butler, 21, of 208 Cairns St., was cited for violation of the basic speed law after she collided with an auto driven by Chester D. Smith, 514 Seminole Dr.

The accident occurred early Tuesday morning on S. Ottawa St.

WEDNESDAY of last week, Jesse J. Baughey, 40, of 409 Russell Rd., was charged with violation of basic speed law after running into the rear of a car driven by Harold G. Poley, 40, of Addison.

Improper starting was charged against Betty M. Gera, 52, of Dundee, Saturday when she pulled into the path of an auto driven by Ernest A. Gregory, 67, of 506 S. Pearl St.

Dick M. Wella, 26, of Adrian St., was charged with failure to have his car under control Sunday morning when it slid and rolled over on its side on Russell Rd.

The vehicle was towed away.

THS Alumni Committee Will Meet

Tecumseh High School Alumni standing committee is holding a meeting for everyone interested in the 1964 Alumni get-together.

James Fiedler, chairman, asks members of the Class of 1954 to attend, since they will be hosts for the party.

The meeting will be held at City Hall, Tuesday, March 17, at 8 p.m.

Substance

Spiritual "substance" will be the subject at all Christian Science church services next Sunday.

Mabel Lockwood Fashions Paper for Friendly Class

Subject of the program was "Extra, Extra." The leader, Mabel Lockwood, proceeded to put a newspaper together, with the help of the 17 present.

The story of the first permanent newspaper published in America in Boston on April 24, 1704 was presented and the question "What makes a newspaper' was answered. A poetical grouping of numerous headlines was read.

Then came the editorial — "Subscribe to your home town paper. (It appears in this week's "Voice of The Herald.")

There were health notes, school notes, court news, church notes and the local and personals. These really brought the laughter for they were original and clever.

Two humorous poems added to the fun. "One on Pop" told the story of his search for the evening paper without success. Then Ma came in and said, "Pa, here's your paper — it was right beside your plate."

"When the Paper Doesn't Come" told how father found a lot of fault with the way things appeared in the paper, and how worthless it was — but how frustrated he was when it didn't come.

The classifieds were given in response to roll call, and there were some prize winners in the group — causing many a chuckle.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Herbert Murphy, president. It was voted to send $10 to the new Friends church in Lansing.

Guests were invited to a salad board by Mrs. Brantingham.

Mrs. Emma Day was assistant hostess and Mrs. Howard Everhart gave the devotions.

Misfortune Tracks Youth

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Aw, Mom, it's not that bad," said Carlton Sheley as he watched his mother fighting back the tears.

She had just arrived at Herrick Memorial Hospital after hearing of her boy's newest injury.

The 14-year-old son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Sheley, 603 S. Pearl St., had only been back in junior high school two weeks since Sept. 20, when he was struck by an auto while bicycle riding.

Friday noon as he negotiated third floor steps alone on his crutches, somehow the crutches caught and he fell.

Before anyone was able to reach him, the lad knew that his upper leg had been broken again.

Physicians at Herrick Memorial Hospital assured his parents that this time the break was a cleaner one. It is hoped that it won't take too long to heal.

Surgery was performed Saturday to place a pin in the injured leg from hip to knee.

MRS. OSCAR BRYAN, secretary at the school, probably spoke for the while city when she said, "It just makes us sick, he had been getting along so well."

Mrs. Bryan explained that it is the regulation at the school, that persons on crutches be dismissed early from classes to allow them to navigate the halls without interference from other students.

All-County Band Includes Seven THS Musicians

The program will be divided into three segments:

► All-County band, comprised of the best players from each band, will give two compositions.

► The entire group of bands will present a massed band arrangement of "God of Our Fathers".

Guest conductor will be Jerry Bilik, teacher, composer and arranger.

On the staff at the Univeristy of Michigan, he has arranged many of the selections performed by the Michigan band.

Mr. Bilik, composed the "Civil War Fantasy" taking songs from the period, and "49th State" and both will be used Monday.

☆

ALL COUNTY BAND members from THS are:

Dick Fielder, French horn
Leland Green, cornet
David Dustin, clarinet
Fran Cooper, oboe
Sheree Harper, flute
Doug Hall and Tim Dickinson, trombone.

☆

Tickets may be purchased from Senior High School band members.

Peace Corps Test Saturday

The Peace Corps has announced that the next Peace Corps placement test, required of all applicants interested in serving overseas, will be given on Saturday at aproximately 825 locations, including the Adrian post office.

The test begins at 8:30 a.m. local time.

Woman's Society Supplies Staples for Missionaries

BRITTON — The Woman's Missionary Society of Bethel Baptist Church met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Monk.

The society is gathering staples, such as soap, to help supply the needs of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howder while they are on their first turn in the mission field in Japan.

The Howders will also be given a portable sewing machine and clothing for their new baby.

Mothers were invited to leave their children at the home of Mrs. Howard Bishop so they could attend the meeting.

Memoriam

In Memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, who passed away March 6, 1960.
One gift in life you cannot buy,
One that is rare and true,
Is the gift of a wonderful mother,
Like the one we had in you.
Your name is often mentioned,
As our thoughts so often fly
To the days when you were with us.
For memories never die.

THS Quintet Is Favored in Regional

By JIM LINCOLN

One of the finest basketball teams in Tecumseh history enters regional tournament play this Thursday night against an oft-beaten Hillsdale five.

Game time is 7 p.m. at the Dundee gym.

Tecumseh is now headed down the home stretch, hoping for a berth in the state tourney at East Lansing. Comparative scores against common opponents don't count.

If the Indians play ball, they can win the regional, and then battle probably River Rouge for the right to represent southeastern Michigan at the state semi-finals.

Coach Vic Lawson's team cannot afford over-confidence or a bad night, these are the only two factors which can upset the Indians at Dundee.

If they whip the Hornets this evening, they will probably face Milan in the finals. Reports indicate that the Huron League team can probably beat Mt. Carmel, winner Tuesday night over Jackson St. Mary's.

The regional's championship game is scheduled for 7:30 Saturday night. Tecumseh should be in it — and win it.

Next week, if all goes well, the Indians would face a highly-touted Detroit area team. Tecumseh has the ability and potential to upset Rouge — or any other Detroit team.

SLUMPS TO 19 — Jerry Hebb "slipped" to 19 points in the district's finale Friday night when Tecumseh easily overpowered Monroe CC, 85-68. In the tough Blissfield encounter, the 6'4" forward hit for 39, and with guard Jim Lawson, sparked the Indians to an 80-65 victory. The Tecumseh five will have to stay hot if they expect to whip Hillsdale tonight and sweep the Dundee regionals.

Baseball League for Boys, 15-17, Will Be Formed

A baseball league for young men, ages 15, 16 and 17, is being formed for action this summer.

It will be called the Senior Circuit.

Any boy in this age bracket, living within the Tecumseh School District, will be eligible to play.

To sign up, youngsters should go to the Community Center Wednesday, March 18 between 7 and 9 p.m. Commissioners of the summer baseball program and Don Moffatt, new city recreation director, will be on hand.

Tecumseh Defeats Blissfield, Monroe CC for District Title

Favored Tecumseh romped through the district tourney at Blissfield as expected last week, whipping the Royals in the big game Thursday night, 80-65, and then copping the title against a weak Monroe Catholic Central five Friday, 85-68.

Both Tecumseh and Blissfield were by far the tournament's strongest teams and their game actually decided the cagers to represent the district in the Dundee regionals this week.

☆

GUARD JIM LAWSON sparked the Indians to a big fourth quarter when he hit for 10 of his total 18 points.

A behind-the-back dribble, breaking him into the clear for a bunny, was the prettiest play of the game and helped the Indians to an eight-point lead.

Friday's championship tilt was a far cry from the calibre of play fans witnessed the previous evening.

☆

JEFF OSBURN topped the Indian attack with nine fielders and two free throws for 20 points.

The junior guard, who alternates with three teammates in the starting five, hit for 13 in the first half.

Hebb collected 19 points, Clark Nichols 16, and Allen 12. The Indians hit 27 of 36 fouls with Allen tallying all of his points from the free throw line.

The victory boosted Tecumseh's record to 13-4. The Indians' four defeats came by a total of 12 points.

Tories Facing Top '5' Tonight

Now comes the Moment of Truth.

Britton-Macon, hoping to repeat as Class D state basketball champion, faces its sternest test Thursday evening.

In collision course, Thursday, the Tories will sail into undefeated Port Huron St. Stephens, rated No. 1 in Michigan with a string of 20 victories.

Britton topped Detroit St. Leo, 78-63.

St. Stephens slaughtered Detroit St. Elizabeth, 104-61.

Tory Coach Sam Hamilton remarked after the St. Leo tilt, "We didn't play good ball, but we got by. There were too many turnovers."

Personal fouls again plagued all-state Phil Benedict, who had three before the half. However, he still netted 31 points.

Scoring was nicely spread, Verl Sanch getting 20, Pepper Griewahn 11, Ron Mastie 10 and Roger Bortel six.

The Tories outrebounded St. Leo by about 15 grabs, despite the fact that the Detroit team had good boardmen.

During the recreation period, members were divided into groups, given five articles, and each group then presented impromptu skit using the articles.

14-Year-Old Rolls Car Four Times

Fourten-year-old Clyde Spivey Jr., 407 E. Logan, driving a 1962 automobile about 1:28 Sunday morning, lost control and rolled over four times on Occidental Rd., about 300 feet south of Russell.

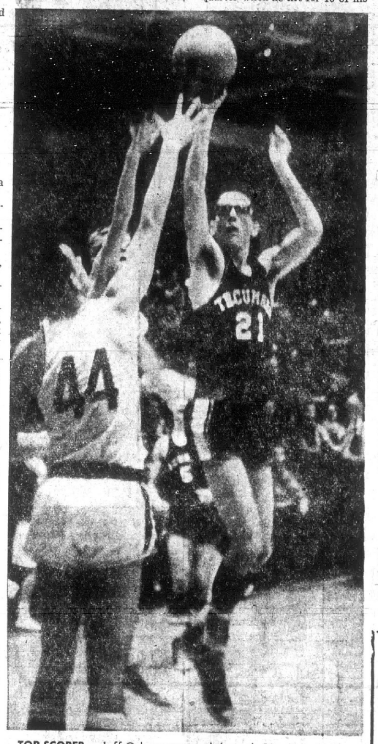
The young boy was taken to Herrick Hospital where his injuries were first thought serious. He's now at home.

Officers from the sheriff's department are still investigating.



TOP SCORER — Jeff Osburn pumped through 20 points in the district championship game to lead his teammates to an 85-68 win. It was the junior guard's top prep game, his scoring coming on nine fielders and two fouls.

City Gets Eight Acres

The arrangement between Brooks Barron, who built many homes in Tecumseh, and the city regarding curbs and sidewalks along Shady Lane has been completed.

As the contractor, Mr. Barron was responsible for this work. The city assumed this job in return for deeds to eight acres of land Mr. Barron had owned in the Tecumseh Acres subdivision.

The land is valued at $4,600.

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your case in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Retarded Boy Has Hug for Each School Visitor

By JUDY FIELDER

Mentally and physically handicapped children have always been in our midst. Even today society tends to alienate them because they are different.

Subconsciously, people often make fun of physical handicaps, such as the nearsighted Mr. Magoo, stuttering Porky Pig and lisping Elmer Fudd.

Mass elimination of the exceptional was tried as recently as World War II when the Nazi's were going to create a perfect race.

They forgot perfection can only be so by way of comparison.

Children being helped today through Lenawee County's special education program have a great deal to offer to society—not as Einsteins or great leaders—but as individuals and human beings making a normal life despite their handicaps.

Children who were institutionalized in the past and forgotten or set aside—the deaf, mentally retarded, those with brain damaged, cerebral palsy victims, muscular dystrophy victims, polio cases—are now being trained to develop their capacities to the utmost.

Recently Mrs. Louis Roumell and I were guests of the Lenawee County special education advisory committee for a tour in Adrian of the special education facilities being offered by the county.

AFTER HOPPING onto a special education bus, we traveled first to Prairie School, where children ranging in age from six to 17, with both physical handicaps and brain damage, are being taught under the direction of Joyce Hargrove.

Shortly after walking into the room I was met by a delightful little boy who touched my arm as he spoke.

Although I could not understand him, he patiently repeated himself until I learned he was saying, "What's your name?"

Upon reply, he promptly gave me a great big hug.

He repeated this action to every adult in the room — being sweet and sincere with each of his love offerings.

All the children were anxious to talk to us and show their reading books.

Several of them will never be able to spell the word "cat", but they are absorbing the fact that other people read and are being taught to realize other things that the majority of us take for granted.

☆

WE TRAVELED to Madison School, where educable children are being taught by Frances Gorny.

She works with 18 students. All but three are part-time in a homogenous type of study, where the children are in regular classes too.

When they have special problems in certain fields, they go to Miss Gorny's room.

She said the children are all slow in one coudse or another and pointed out one girl whose reading had improved extensively when she received eyeglasses, after needing them for two years.

Her methods of teaching included fish, a pool table to help with arithmetic, birds and arts.

Sewing machine allows the children to repair torn items and make clothes from material given them. Miss Gorny added that one boy can sew as well as she can.

An ironing board also stood ready, in case it was needed.

The first part of the year, she reported, if a child came to school with a wrinkled shirt, he took it off, sprinkled and ironed it. She added the problem seldom comes up now.

Many teachers find it hard to persuade even top students to stand up at the front of the room to read from their books.

The children in Miss Gorny's room were so proud of their accomplishments in reading that hands flew from all sides when she mentioned wanting a volunteer.

If a mistake was made, hands were raised and the reader went over his line until he corrected himself.

A pride in accomplishment and complete lack of self-consciousness reflected the happy and patient attitude of the teacher.

Miss Gorny added the reason for combining special education and regular classes is the children, once out of school must live in a regular world and not be defeated.

☆

Use of voice is stressed as we were shown when each child introduced himself.

Hand signals are minimized because they provide communication only with other deaf.

The children are instructed in lip reading and learn the feel of the voice by touching the instructor's neck when he is speaking.

Victims of Muscular Dystrophy and other crippling situations were being taught in two orthopedic rooms.

Several children were improving their dexterity by making paper mache animals during our visit.

☆

SHELTERED workshop at Goodwill Industries was our next stop, where students from Sutton School were sorting buttons, nails and jewelry, also stapling and sorting bags, in evaluation testing for dexterity.

Duane Morey, personnel director, told us the first year is spent testing students, then they are trained and placed in suitable jobs in industry.

The shelter is an old gas station that has been renovated and added on to with the assistance of a $5,000 grant from the United Cerebral Palsy Association.

The setup is a first for Michigan and one of the firsts in the nation where schools and Goodwill work together to create better opportunities for the handicapped.

Mr. Morey added, "We hope they will become taxpayers in the future rather than be tax supported."

☆

TOTAL expenditures for special education during 1962-63 school year were $213,897, including state and city aid.

Capital outlay and equipment claimed $38,500 and operational expenses were $175,397.

Over 3,000 children out of 21,000 in the county are helped by the program.

Added to the staff are six speech correctionists, six visiting teachers and several diagnosticians.

☆

AT A CONFERENCE following the tour, general discussion led to the need for help for the emotionally disturbed.

One statement was made that at least 30 children have been discovered this year by county diagnosticians to be emotionally disturbed.

An increased program for gifted children was discussed, but the opinion ran to needs for vocational training for borderline students.

A gentleman from the County Welfare Department said there are more applications now for welfare payments from people under 21 than in the history of the department.

A school superintendent said he voted against the bill proposing to combine a junior college for Hillsdale, Jackson and Lenawee Counties because he felt a junior college could be supported in Lenawee alone.

Arthur Twiss, county assessor, summarized everyone's reaction to the day by humbly stating, "I came here today because I didn't know very much about this program and I wanted to learn. Now I know a LITTLE I knew."

"When I saw those children I selfishly thought, 'There goes somebody else's heartache — thank goodness it's not mine.'

"But it is mine," he added. "We need to see this program gets all the support it needs."

IT'S A "MUST" — Physical therapy is a "must" for handicapped students. Therapist Carol Pacioni helps a young man pound a nail. A loom, typewriter and other items are also used to improve dexterity.

Aided Hundreds in Need

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Oh, I didn't do much."

Robert Gillespie, service officer for the American Legion Underwood-Orr Post No. 34, was speaking of his recent assistance to Mrs. Henry Strand, the young widow with 10 children.

Mrs. Strand will receive a VA payment of $50.40 each month beginning in 1965. Each child was eligible to get $7.56 per month, beginning the date of their father's death.

This lasts through the 18th year for each youngster. Provision is also made for helping those over 18 with special schooling.

Mr. Gillespie has for 20 years lent assistance to veterans' families and veterans themselves, when they have sought pensions, compensation or entrance to Veteran's hospitals.

He has been able to obtain 80 pensions since taking office.

Besides veteran's pensions, these have included pensions for widows and children, children only, widows only, parents, and veterans' disabled children before they reached 18.

Mr. Gillespie has assisted many with admittance to the Veterans' Hospital, in getting GI home and farm loans, grave markers, GI term insurance transferred into straight life and applications for Social Security.

He has helped disabled veterans obtain specially equipped automobiles, established a local post office for burial flags and helped the local funeral directors apply for reimbursement for expenses.

☆

THIS SERVICE has not been consecutive years. He was provoked with some World War I veterans, when they did not feel that WWII vets were competent to hold offices in the local post.

He simply told them he was finished until they got some new blood in the organization.

So capable is this service officer that he has been awarded the Second District certificate for outstanding service for two years.

THE AWARD reads:

"Certificate for Outstanding Service. This is to certify that Robert M. Gillespie has been selected as the outstanding Post Service Officer of the Second District of The Department of Michigan for the year 1961-62 and has rendered meritorious service to War Veterans and The American Legion in his position of Post Service Officer of Underwood-Orr Post No. 34."

The other one reads the same except for the date.

A veteran of the first World War, Mr. Gillespie was a mechanic in the Air Service in 1918.

Extremely modest about his efforts in behalf of his fellowman, Mr. Gillespie leaves no stone unturned to perform his duty to the fullest though he thoroughly enjoys his work.

Many miles by car and telephone are covered and according to Mrs. Gillespie it's almost a full time job.

In the Strand case, for whom Mr. Gillespie said "he didn't do much", it was necessary to make out papers for each of the 10 children and include a birth certificate for each.

☆

SOMETIMES a situation turns out to be just routine and another time it has taken as long as two years to obtain compensation for a qualified veteran's family.

BOB GILLESPIE WHEN HE GOT LIFE CARD FROM LARRY COTE

Mrs. Gillespie says that her husband's greatest joy is to help others in the way that he would like to be helped if the situation were reversed.

With such a wealth of experience and knowledge gained by attending meetings and keeping up with the latest publications from the Veteran's Administration, it is not surprising that the local service officer has had many calls from other areas.

The Underwood-Orr Post does and has reimbursed him for long distance phone calls and mileage, but there have been times when the treasury was not too flush that Bob just didn't keep track.

Tecumseh area veterans — and they need not be members of the post — are fortunate to have one so well qualified and so willing to work as their service officer.

Mr. Gillespie is a loyal Legion member. He says, "For quite a while we have been hearing people say that they do not like this or that about the Legion.

"If there is anything wrong with the Post it is due to the fact that members who should be attending the meetings do not and then they find fault with the ones that do.

"From a membership of over 375 there should be more than 30 at post meetings," he states.

The Gillespies live at 122 W. Brown St. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Harold Easton, 701 Center Ct. and Mrs. George VanCamp, Jr., 501 Center Dr.

SLIGHT ALTERATION — Morris DeJonghe of Ridgeway operated the back hoe at the site of the new post office, across from city hall. His job was to dig up footers of concrete block, which are being replaced with concrete, as a result of a change in original specifications. John Ballestri of Monroe is the sub-contractor on footers. Sixty yards of concrete will be needed to bring footers to grade.

CLINTON WOOLEN CHATTER

By EL and FRIENDS

Has it ever occurred to you that your chances of owning a ten thousand dollar bill are very, very slim?

According to information which has been given us, there are only 800 of them in existence and some Royal Highness over in India has 100 of them tucked away as a sort of nest egg. The other 700 are floating around, and most of them are handled by a teller in the Federal Reserve Bank in New York. They say he does not bat an eyelash when some citizen brings in a suitcase full of money and asks to exchange it for a $10,000 bill!

A long time ago in a large bank I once held a large handful of tightly-packed "happiness Green". There were lots and lots of Zeros, in fact $1,000,000 worth. The thought it would be easy to run with flashed through my mind . . . but an iron gate and a few men with ugly guns erased the thought, pronto.

Our reason in bringing it up in the first place is to tell you not to wait until you get one of these bills before coming to Clinton Woolen. Smaller denominations are very welcome here! And if you don't have enough money at the moment . . . use our Layaway Plan.

Every day brings more and more new items for spring and summer. Fabrics for every use . . . wools - blends - cottons - synthetics . . . machine washables - hand washables . . . all from America's top mills.

If there ever was a year when you could really let yourself go in color and design, this is it. Shifts, jumpers — in fact, play clothes of every kind are showing up in way out colors and in every type of fabric.

Saxton Wins Prexy Post

However, William Saxton, school superintendent, upset the proceedings, being the only Citizen's Party candidate to win.

From that point in, it was a sweep for the Progressives.

Mrs. Robert Auten polled 75 votes in being re-elected clerk unopposed.

Mrs. Ronald Cheever was re-elected treasurer over Mrs. Ellis Fairbanks, 75-12.

☆

Dean Downing over Richard Vallie, 48-36.

Ralph Tiede over Delmar Dunham, 52-31.

Gaylord Furcason over Herman Bates, 52-36.

☆

A TOTAL of 89 voted, nearly triple the total of last years 31, when each ballot cost the village approximately $3.

Ron Mastie Hits for 31 in Victory

ADRIAN — Grabbing that district tournament trophy proved to be a mighty tough job for Sam Hamilton and his Britton Tories.

Deerfield just didn't want to say "uncle."

They finally surrendered, with 11 seconds to play. Until then, they were battling every inch of the way.

The end came when a Deerfield free throw attempt went awry, as the Tories hung on 75-73. Phil Benedict grabbed the loose ball and the champs headed west.

☆

Final score, Britton 77, Deerfield 73.

Mastie, 5-8, hit 31 tallies, with Benedict contributing 25, while dogged with four personals picked up in the first half.

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Venske and family of six moved to the former Bill DePuy residence at 309 W. Pottawatamie St. Dec. 27.

Mr. Venske is employed as assistant to Virgil Tucker, secretary of the Tecumseh Products Co. Before coming to Tecumseh, Mrs. Venske was the secretary to the superintendent of schools in Muskegon.

The couple are interested in archery and the whole family enjoys the out-of-doors, cook-outs and roughing it in the woods. They frequently went to the Manistee Forest near Hoxeyville and to the beach at Muskegon.

Mr. Venske liked to take his little folks to the YMCA for swimming and handball. Fortunately for his wife, she loves to bake and does a great deal of sewing, making many of the clothes for the little members of the family.

The two oldest daughters, Marcia, nearly 16, and Janet, 14, now students at Tecumseh High School were formerly Sunday School teachers at the Episcopal Church in Muskegon.

The whole family now attends St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. Venske said, "We have four little ones and two older to help. I really enjoy my children this way."

Mr. and Mrs. William Steele Jr., 222 E. Chicago Blvd., recently moved here from York, Penn., where he was assistant chief mechanical engineer of Buchart-Horn Co. Inc., consulting engineers.

He is now an engineer at Tecumseh Products.

Mr. Steele, his wife Kaye and two sons, Darryl, 7, and Bruce, 4½, attend the First Methodist Church.

Their chief project at the moment is converting an Econoline bus for week-end camping trips. She said the boys feel like they're next to heaven with all the lakes around.

"It takes a while to get settled, but the town is so friendly, we don't think it will take long," Mrs. Steele said.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robison and two children moved to their home at the corner of Billmyer Hwy. and M-50 last fall. The address is 6004 E. Monroe Rd.

The Robisons moved from Hudson and were previously residents of Adrian.

Mr. Robison operates his own business, the Adrian Decorators. According to his wife, Louise, Mr. Robison is a radio fan. He is the secretary of the Raisin Valley Citizens Band Club.

The couple's little folk are Sharon, 5, and Randy, 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rozsa moved from Petersburg to their home at 502 Center Dr., last autumn.

They have five children, four living in Detroit and one daughter, Catherine, who lives with them.

Mr. Rozsa was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. for 10 years, retiring five years ago.

He has attended the retirees' parties, but his wife is unable to walk the distance and they do not have an automobile.

REAL ARM FULL — Michael and Mark (or should that be Mark and Michael) McLoughlin were the first twin births of 1964 at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Admiring the pair is their mom, Mrs. Charles McLoughlin. Dad is a pressman at the Adrian Telegram and the family resides at 726 N. Union St. David, age 7, and Lori, are surely delighted with the new addition. The twins were born Feb. 28. "Boy, they came fast," said Mrs. McLoughlin. TO THE EDITORS:

Last Monday night, March 2, 1964, I had the honor and the privilege of attending the very important and busy session of the last City Council meeting, and was very much impressed with the orderly and patient procedure of the members of our local government body.

This was my second appearance before the Council to express my viewpoints on certain regulations that I thought were unfair to my personal and business welfare and was highly satisfied with the tolerance with which they permitted me to be heard from.

Believe me, it is not because in both cases their decision was beneficial to me that I write this communication, but because in both of these occasions I had worked hard to gather honest evidence to support my case, and had the opinion of many people that I was justified in seeking what I thought was right.

In this respect I was openly heard and each member of the Council listened attentively to hear my side of the story.

This is local government at its very best and I can say with great pride that this is a fair group of dedicated men and there should be no fear on the part of the people from Tecumseh to seek of them fair and honest disposal of their civic problems.

It would be a good thing and a source of much enlightenment if more Tecumseh people would attend some of these meetings and see for "themselves" how much these men give of their time for so little, and you will enjoy a laugh or two, also.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

BLOW WINDS, BLOW

March comes hustling in with wild, howling winds. They are often high winds which shun the ground but whip the tree-tops into all sorts of frantic gyrations; they are often loud winds, too, ranting and raving 'til shivers run up and down one's spine. And, have you ever noticed that the worst sounding storms always seem to whip up on the darkest nights?

When I am sitting up, with the bed pulled down in front of the window, the view of the creek is perfect but when flat, with the bed rolled down, my best view is of the tree-tops.

Watching the trees sway them back and forth triggers many thoughts. First of all, how strong, yet how flexible, are the elms, maples, walnuts and sycamores which I see.

The many willows which line our creek are rather unimpressive as dancing silhouettes. Their thick, heavy trunks just seem to grow straight up, then disappear into a jungle-like maze of small twigs.

The other trees have big graceful branches which are beaten, bent, twisted, bowed and thrashed about; but still, they stand up, windy day after windy day, to this brutal punishment.

☆

SOMETIMES my imagination takes off and I wonder where the labels or directions are. Labels, directions? Certainly, think how many things come with instructions to "shake well before using".

Some things must be well mixed up and could it be that, before spring can start misting each tiny branch with green, the trees must be well shaken?

But getting back to more serious matters, it is merely a trick of a faulty memory or, in the past few years, have we had more wind than we previously had?

I don't seem to remember that we used to have week after week of windy days, but certainly that is what we have had lately.

Another thing we were discussing the other day is that the "breezes" don't seem to recognize seasons any more. Spring, summer, fall and winter all have mad, tearing winds — anytime of the year we come up with typical March days.

QUITE FRANKLY, I am not overly fond of strong blows. Frightened is a little strong — annoyed is a better description of my feelings towards excessively windy weather.

A soft, warm breeze coming through an open window is fine; sitting out in the yard, with a gentle wind just ruffling the hair and barely stirring the leaves, is great; and, of course, it is just marvelous to zip along the highway with car windows wide open or better still, let's ride in a convertible with the top down.

All of these things I love but when the windy blasts shake the windows and rattle the house — no, no!

March is such a hybrid month. It is apt to bring anything — spring one day, winter the next. Every change, however, has its own gale.

I ran across something the other day though which will perhaps make me feel better about our March winds.

I hope we won't be sued or anything like that for paraphrasing but I think it is marvelous. In a recent article, Gladys Taber, who by the way is fast becoming a favorite author of mine, wrote that she likes to think that winter-weariness will be blown from our bones by the March wind. Oh, I hope so!

So it is that going along with the old adage — if you can't beat 'em, join 'em — I shall try to remember Gladys Taber's words and then say to the March winds, "Come on and blow — blow winds, blow!"

Chevy II Nova Super Sport with Bucket Seats

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see it give slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 you need but give the accelerator an inch, and this Super Sport will take a mile.

And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior and door-to-door carpeting will tell you that. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, AM-FM radio, and many other accessories. And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. That's because it has high-mounted independent coil springs in the front and Mono-Plate single-leaf springs in the rear.

With everything Chevy II Super Sport has going for it, it's no surprise your Chevrolet dealer is anxious to show you its price tag. Because that's the only thing about it that isn't super.

Don't Borrow — Subscribe

They had a barrel of laughs last week over at the Friends Church, when a make-believe newspaper was fashioned during the program of the Friendly Class.

We have lifted it from the report of that fun-filled meeting, using it here, in our "Voice of The Herald" columns.

"Once upon a time a nickel-nurser sent his kid to borrow the neighbor's pet ax and the kid upset a hive of bees and soon was covered with lumps.

"The clothes pole fell over the car and smashed the windshield, and mother, rushing out to see what occasioned all the excitement, upset a five-gallon churn of cream into a basket of kittens, drowning all of them.

"The electric flatiron burned through the ironing board, setting fire to the house, and firemen broke all the windows and chopped a hole in the roof.

"The baby ate a jar of pickles and got cholera morbus and the doctor's bill was $15. The daughter ran away with the hired man during the excitement, the dog bit a neighbor's kid and the calves ate the tails off of four night shirts on the clothes line.

The question this week seems to be, "Where is this cornerstone?" If you know, call 423-2174 after 1 p.m. Thursday. First correct answer will be given $1 towards a one-year subscription to The Herald. Last week, Mrs. Edward Beal, 505 S. Evans St., hit first on the small steeple atop the Presbyterian Church (right).

Mrs. Arch Wray read an article on Lent to members of the Daughters of St. Peter's Church March 3.

Sixteen were present when President Mrs. Cecile Smith appointed a committee for the Lenten luncheons of March 12 and 19.

Several members displayed articles they have made for a fair the group will stage in the fall, with Christmas items to be sold at a downtown location.

Tea and sandwiches were served by Mrs. Anna Haughn and Mrs. Purnell Osburn.

'Male Animal' Tryouts Slated Friday, Saturday

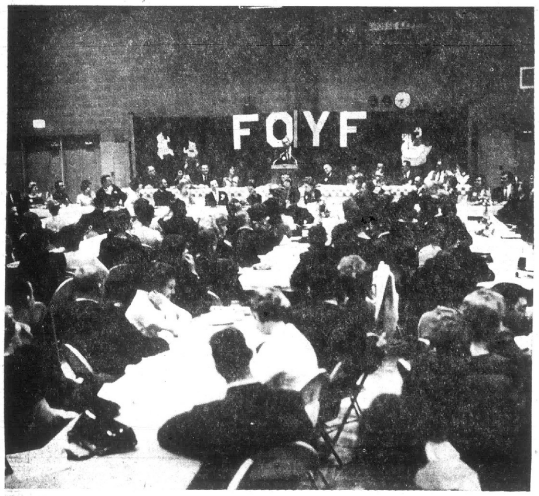
Tryouts for roles in the upcoming Tecumseh Players' offering of "The Male Animal" will be Friday and Saturday.

Friday's session will begin at 7 p.m.

Saturday's is set for 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Both will be in the Glass Room of the Community Center.

The show is slated for six performances on April 16, 17 and 18, 23, 24 and 25.



'Selling' Our Town

A memorable event in the lives of several young Michigan farmers took place in Tecumseh when they were honored by the Jaycees at the state Four Outstanding Young Farmers banquet (see picture).

We need more recognition of the importance of farming, as the prime industry of America — honoring the people who quietly do their job and keep us all well fed.

The hosting by the Tecumseh Jaycees was done in excellent fashion — with great enthusiasm and a sense of organization for the entire day. Visitors were kept busy, seeing this community, area industries and farms.

The Jaycees did a great job of "selling" our town and putting Tecumseh on the map in the eyes of hundreds of blue ribbon visitors.

Needed a Junior College

For the Tecumseh youth, it's far brighter than for those of Detroit.

A recent Free Press editorial noted that "For thousands of Detroit teenagers 'scuffling' is a way of life."

"When you 'scuffle' through life, there's no place for you," the Free Press said.

A survey of the Detroit Central High School Class of 1962's top 20% showed only 15 went to college, 12 got jobs and 40 were "scuffling." Remember, these are from the top 20%.

We asked Tecumseh High School for a run-down on our Class of 1963. John Pobuda obliged with some interesting — and heartening — statistics.

The class had 140 graduates.

Sixty are in college and 17 enrolled at trade schools. Ten have gone into military service.

Thirty-nine have jobs. Eleven girls are married and two young ladies are unemployed.

Mr. Pobuda has no record on seven girls and two boys.

The interesting part is that 77 young people out of 140 are presently furthering their education — more than 50% of the '63 graduates.

It has become increasingly evident since World War II, that a high school education is not enough. If a young person expects to establish himself in a business or industry, he needs that college or specialized training.

Obviously, not all youngsters can afford to attend Michigan State or Michigan or Adrian College. What can these graduates be offered?

At present, there is a serious limitation — almost a void — in this area. Tecumseh and Britton alumni can go to Jackson Junior College, or enroll in vocational classes around Toledo and Detroit.

What we really need is a junior college in Lenawee County, with a solid selection of course offerings. About 50% of the emphasis should be placed on vocational training — refrigeration, auto mechanics, electronics, advanced office machinery, printing and the like.

This section of Michigan is fortunate to have so many fine young people. They don't all earn A's and B's on their high school report cards. But they do have the ability to learn a vocation, if that sort of instruction is made available to them, at a moderate cost and within easy commuting distance.

NEW GM PLANT

Plans for a new Fisher Body upholstery trim plant in Tecumseh, employing approximately 1,000 people, have been announced by Robert H. Gathman, vice-president of General Motors and general manager of Fisher Body.

The new facility is part of GM's record two-year worldwide capital expenditure program of almost $7 billion. The over-all program was revealed Wednesday in Fremont, Calif., by GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner.

Tecumseh's plant will be located on a 200-acre site two miles south of Tecumseh on the northwest corner of Occidental Hwy. and Gady Rd. The site is approximately two miles east of M-52 and is adjacent to the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad.

Expenditures for payroll and local purchases of materials and services are expected to approximate $9,000,000 annually, Mr. Gathman said.

The new trim fabricating plant will contain about 290,000 square feet of space for producing sets of upholstery for passenger cars. Mr. Gathman said this would relieve the production overload at the Fisher trim plants located at Livonia and Grand Rapids, as well as provide additional capacity for an expanding automobile market.

Construction will start this spring with tentative completion scheduled for a year hence. The building will be a steel and concrete structure enclosed with face brick and aluminum siding.

With the beginning of production, the plant will receive bolts of fabric and other soft trim materials and convert them into seat covers, door trim pads, headlinings and sun visors.

The upholstery materials will be cut both by hand and machine and then sewn together on individually-operated sewing machines.

Still other operations will be performed on dielectric presses which bond vinyl and vinyl-coated fabrics together and imprint them with decorative effects. The finished trim then will be shipped to body assembly plants all over the country.

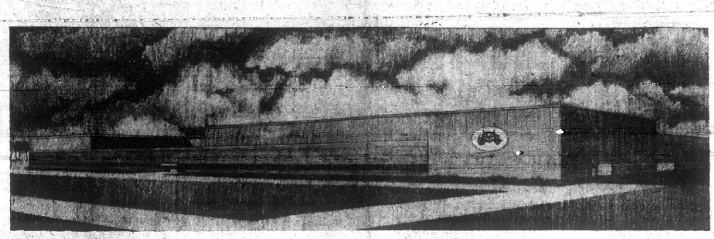
ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES at the front of the building will contain 32,750 square feet of floor space. Employee locker rooms and rest rooms on the mezzanine level will contain 10,000 square feet, and a 15-000-square-foot cafeteria will be located on the second floor.

Other construction projects involving Fisher Body include a new metal fabricating plant at Kalamazoo and an assembly plant at Lordstown, O., for Fisher Body and Chevrolet.

With the addition of the Tecumseh, Kalamazoo and Lordstown plants, Fisher Body will operate 35 plants in 27 American cities in 12 states. The division produces automobile bodies for Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac.



NEW GM PLANT FOR TECUMSEH — This is an artist's rendering of the new 290,000-square-foot interior trim fabricating plant to be built by Fisher Body Division of General Motors two miles south of Tecumseh. It will be on a 200-acre site at the northwest corner of Occidental Hwy. and Gady Rd. The new Fisher Body plant will employ approximately 1,000 men and women and it is estimated that expenditures for payroll and local purchases will reach $9,000,000 annually.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Like a kid who got a new bike for his birthday, each one of us at The Herald is grinning from ear to ear.

News of the new Fisher Body plant in Tecumseh struck like a thunderbolt Wednesday morning.

Two of the nicest guys a person will ever meet — Chuck Hagler and Norman May, who labor for General Motors as public relations experts — dropped into our office about 10.

They asked for a secluded spot where we could visit.

When two executives of a giant corporation drop into a small-town weekly newspaper office, you can't help but realize something is up.

As we huddled in the quiet of our offset pressroom, Chuck broke the ice with a gag that nearly made me drop my teeth.

"You drive a Chevrolet, don't you? We're making a customer service contact," the big lug started.

Before this bewildered scribe could get readjusted in his chair, Chuck asked Norm to explain the real reason why they were in Tecumseh.

At this point, Mr. May casually dropped the bomb.

News stories, already prepared by the GM folks, were handed to us. There was a bright glow in the room. Chuck and Norm seemed as happy about the whole thing as we did.

Norm allowed, as a member of the Rochester School Board, he'd certainly love to see this sort of layout earmarked for his hometown. Although a valuation of the new Tecumseh plant has not been revealed as yet, it will surely be a boon to our school district valuation.

If at this point, dear reader, you think this writer is giddy and light-headed, you're right. At present, this is strictly a Cloud Nine week

Why Tecumseh? How come we were so blessed?

Chuck and Norm couldn't give us specific reasons, noting that the choice came as the summation of many things — labor force, transportation, water, geographic location.

Shipping will go from here all over the United States.

To show how keyed up we all are, this "late-week" edition of The Herald was printed Wednesday night, about 11, immediately following the quarter-final basketball games.

Originally, we were going to run it Thursday morning — but the gang took a vote and everyone wanted to get the job done as soon as possible.

Are we excited?

Yow!

GM Spending Hits $2 Billion for Expansion

FREMONT, Calif. — General Motors' capital spending for plants and equipment in 1964 and 1965 — including Tecumseh's new layout — will amount to a record two-year total of almost $2 billion, Chairman Frederic G. Donner disclosed Wednesday.

This includes a capacity expansion program, plus [illegible] capital outlays for plant improvements, research activities and new model programs, he explained.

The expansion program is the largest in terms of added volume ever undertaken by General Motors, Dr. Donner said, and ultimately will increase GM's passenger car capacity in the United States and Canada by about 20%.

It will mean several new plants and will require the expansion of existing manufacturing and assembly plants in the two countries.

In addition, expansion will continue at major manufacturing plants in England, West Germany and Australia.

"WHEN THE new plants are built and equipped and the added capacity is utilized, we would look forward to an increase of about 50,000 jobs available in this country," Mr. Donner said.

GM now has close to 300,000 hourly-rate employees in its passenger car operations in the United States.

GM will also continue to spend in the area of $600 million a year for special tools to bring out its new models of cars, trucks and other products.

Mr. Donner addressed California civic and business leaders at a luncheon during ceremonies dedicating GM's new car and truck assembly plant here. He and President John F. Gordon headed a group of top GM executives who came here for the dedication.

Of the $2 billion in expenditures for plants and equipment, over $900 million will be spent this year and about $1 billion in 1965, Mr. Donner announced.

"This will represent the largest total of capital expenditures that General Motors has ever made in any two-year period in its history — about 30% above what we spent in 1955 and 1956 when our last major expansion was underway," the GM chairman noted.

"Another measure of the size of this program is that our average annual expenditures for

IT'S A FLYING MACHINE — Paul Speer, a junior at THS, has made an honest-to-goodness air car that rides above the surface on an air cushion made by two large fans powered by eight horsepower go-cart engines. Paul designed the car in drafting class and built it in shop. He has been working on the project since school started this year. The unique invention steers by fluctuating the air flow from either fan with a throttle.

Free Parking Considered

If Tecumseh merchants have their way, local patrons of the downtown business district will soon have some free parking for their customers.

An all-out drive is underway to raise money, through either immediate donations or pledges from downtown merchants.

Others, not directly affiliated with the downtown section, also have contributed, and even some non-business residents have given money.

Contributions last week raised nearly $10,000. Hopes are high that donations will top this figure and enable the community to eliminate practically all meters in off-street parking lots.

Police and Council cooperation is to be sought, and expected, since merchants already have met with some city officials who indicated the merchants' plan is feasible.

The plan is to raise $500 from each merchants with pledges, if desired, over a five-year period. With each $1,000 raised, the merchants can retire one parking meter revenue bond.

Pat Meadows, United Savings Bank president, has investigated the revenue bonds, even purchased some for the bank.

With control of the bonds, the merchants plan to ask the city to remove some meters for free parking.

Since the merchants will be buying the bonds at $1,000 each, plus a penalty for paying off the bonds ahead of time, savings to the city could amount to over $10,000 in bonds alone.

Each bond paid off this year will save the city an additional $740 in interest.

Which meters will be removed, and how many, will be determined by Police Chief Murrel Clark and Council.

Tories Whip Covert 67-58

By TOM RIORDAN

MARSHALL — Class will tell!

That was the story as Britton fought from behind to dump Covert, 67-58, here Wednesday night before 1,700 fans — including 502 of the villages 512 residents.

Phil Benedict got few shots the opening 16 minutes and scored but one goal. In the final two periods he dumped in 17 to provide the big push and finished with 19 for the night.

Ron Mastie and Pepper Griewahn, both with 17 tallies, mostly on long one-handers, were tremendous. Ron, the smallest Tory, picked off a half dozen key rebounds.

Verl Sanch got eight before he fouled out. Pepper also picked up five personals, but with only 2:06 to go in the game and the score 64-52.

Next stop; East Lansing and a semi-final state tournament with either Barryton or Flint Sacred Heart Friday evening at seven o'clock in Lansing Sexton's gym.

Can lightning strike the same spot twice?

Score by quarters:

Britton	9	16	25	17	—67
Covert	12	16	13	17	—58

Stubborn THS Falls to Rouge

By JIM LINCOLN

ANN ARBOR—Stubborn Tecumseh bowed out of the Class B state tournament race Wednesday night, losing to River Rouge 69-58, but not before rubbing some of the glamour off the perennial state champs.

Except for the middle two quarters, Coach Vic Lawson's club matched the fancy Detroit suburban five. Midway in the final period, Tecumseh once closed the gap to 10 points after falling 19 points behind.

Guard Jim Lawson stole the show from Rouge's Willie Betts, who finished with 16 points. Lawson collected 20 points and sparked the Indians throughout the game. His play was tremendous.

Gregg Allen and Clark Nichols also had their moments against the bigger Rouge club. Allen, expected to be smothered by Betts and his tall teammates, not only collected his share of the rebounds but drove for 15 points.

Nichols, reluctant to shoot, started popping in the second half and finished with 10 points despite being guarded by a 6'3" Rouge forward.

Both Jeff Osburn, seven points, and Jerry Hebb with six turned in excellent performances although Hebb fell below his 23 points per game average.

The quarter-finals was the highest Tecumseh has finished in tourney play since 1942.

Rouge probably will go on and win the state title. So far, the Indians have given them their toughest game and with a bucket or two at opportune times, the game could have gone the other way.

River Rouge	14	18	19	18	—69
Tecumseh	11	13	11	23	—58

The Lloyd Stites family assisted 18 motorists in the storm March 12. Cars, mostly employees of Tecumseh Products Co. and Faraday slid into ditches in a half-mile stretch on Russell Rd. passing the Stites' residence. "Not in the 15 years we have lived here, have we seen such a tie-up," said Mrs. Stites.

LeeAnn Schneider who earned $1.96 in the March 5 issue of The Herald in the United Savings Bank ad is 10 years old rather than 12 as was printed. Anyway, the Karl Schneiders are fortunate people to have such a lovely business-like little lady in their home.

As Jesse Baughey stated "only God doesn't make errors." It was Harold G. Poley of Addison who was charged with violation of the basic speed law recently after his car ran into the rear of Jesse Baughey instead of vice versa, as printed in last week's Herald.

In memory of Beatrice E. DePuy, from her daughter and son-in-law, Lenore and Hearold Coates and grandchildren, Ruth Ann and Larry Lee Coates — two redbud trees and one flowering peach tree.

In memory of Ernest Furgason, father of Mrs. Hugh Andrews from Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Macbeth, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Pihl and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horvath — a flowering peach tree.

In memory of Bert Ousterhout and Harold Kelso from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cobb — a magnolia tree.

The Herald's newest pride is an Econoline Van. One of the gals in the office has been buzzing around in it and having a great time. Sunday night on TV she saw a similar van in an advertisement.

When the announcer lifted the cover between the front seats to show the engine, she exclaimed, "Oh, that's what's under there. I thought it was for storage. Y'know, I wondered where the engine was."

Herrick Memorial Hospital is richer by 21 pairs of children's pajamas. When the ladies of the Church of Christ were informed of the shortage of warm pj's for the children, they hauled out their sewing machines and went to work.

A delightful lady told of the change of address of her serviceman son Monday. It's now

C.2 — 1st Training Reg.
Fort Dicks, N. J.
We just missed one thing — his name.

Talk about hectic—bad enough to print two papers in one week, much less lose our right arm. Dorothy Grigg is in Ypsilanti this week taking care of her new granddaughter, Michelle McConnell Woodbury and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Woodbury, nee Camilla Grigg. Michelle was born March 11 at Woman's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Thank goodness for Mrs. Paul Rowlands, who is filling in while Dorothy's playing with the baby.

Nancy Anderson of Ardmore, Penn. sent us a post card telling us she thought the cornerstone was at Patterson Elementary School. What a memory that gal's got! She's right — but was too late — Mrs. Robert Stone called first to identify our mystery spot.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and assisted by Mrs. Ben Ross and Mrs. Jerry Tomecek.

Jobless Pay Drops to $51,429

Benefit payments to Lenawee County unemployed workers amounted to $51,429 during February.

This is the lowest dollar value of unemployment insurance benefit payment since January 1966.

In addition, there were 32 individuals that claimed benefits each week during the month against other states, the majority of these who normally work in Ohio.

$2 BILLION

plant and equipment in the next two years will be about double the annual average over the six years following 1956."

☆

THE RECORD program, he explained, is needed to keep pace with a growing market for is expected to reach levels of at least 10 million new passenger cars and trucks in the United States and 13 million outside of the United States by 1970.

These levels would represent increases of 15 per cent in the United States and about 35 per cent abroad over current markets.

"These planned plant expenditures may be said to be a measure of the confidence of General Motors in the [illegible] of future in the automobile industry — the economic future of our country — the even broader future represented by the potentialities for increased trade and investment among the free nations of the world," Mr. Donner said.

About 75%, or nearly $1½ billion, of the $2 billion in capital expenditures is scheduled for the United States, of which approximately $700 million will be spent this year and $750 million in 1965. (Some 50 to 55% of the U. S. expenditures will be made in Michigan, where about half of the Corporation's plant investment and employment is located.)

Overseas, expenditures for plants and equipment will total nearly $400 million for the two-year period.

In Canada, capital outlays will amount to about $120 million during the two years.

MR. DONNER made public these details of the $2 billion capital expenditure program for the next two years:

► Construction of a General Motors assembly plant at Lordstown, O., to be managed by Chevrolet and Fisher Body Divisions.

► Substantial facilities programs at various locations in the United States by all five General Motors car divisions and by a number of divisions which supply parts and accessories to the car manufacturing and assembly divisions.

► In Canada, construction of new car assembly, truck chassis and trim plants by General Motors of Canada and expansion by McKinnon Industries, Ltd., of its facilities for production of components and parts.

► Overseas, further expansion of General Motors - Holden's plants in Australia and Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., facilities at Ellesmere Port, England; and construction of car and truck engine plants in Mexico and South Africa.

A new plant for production of Opel Kadett car has been brought into operation in West Germany.

TO PARTICIPATE in the developing growth in demand for automotive products, Mr. Donner said, "requires the willingness and ability to back up our confidence with energetic action and imaginative effort."

"This effort must be concentrated largely in three areas," he said. "First and foremost, we must, in the face of stiff competition, keep our products attractive to customers and in the forefront of advancing automotive technology."

The expansion program beginning this year is the third major one undertaken in the United States since World War II, Mr. Donner noted.

Three Michigan State University coeds who plan secretarial careers will be able to claim some professional experience as executive secretary "interns" when they receive their bachelor's degrees this week.

The three are the first participants in an MSU senior seminar designed to provide for prospective secretaries what student teaching does for would-be teachers.

Conceived by Dr. Mary Virginia Moore, the seminar gives women in MSU's secretarial program an opportunity to work with executive secretaries on the campus.

She spent six hours a week during the winter quarter learning first-hand the duties and concerns of an executive secretary.

In addition to their work as part-time secretaries, the coeds spend two hours weekly in the classroom discussing their work and planning projects in connection with the course.

Miss Oliphant has been assigned to the office of James H. Denison, assistant to the President and director of university relations.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant of 412 N. Maiden Lane.

She's Back Home

Mrs. James Tonneberger has returned home after spending some time as a patient at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

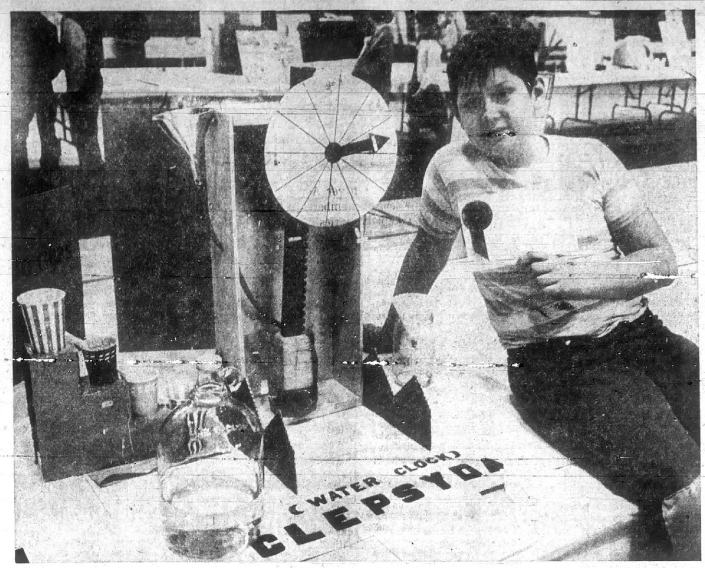
Main speaker at the event was British novelist-scientist-philosopher C. P. Snow, who spoke to the students about our moral duty to the poor countries of the world.



FIRST PLACE — M. W. House has his own method of telling time with his water clock. He holds blue ribbon received for outstanding project in the intermediate division. Water poured into funnel goes into jar, causing buoy to rise, therefore hands of the clock turn. The other clock is a series of four cups, where water flows from the top one on down the line.

Post-Christian Era Discussed at LCW

Mrs. Rowland Boyers led a stage discussion at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church LCW for 24 members March 9.

Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, Mrs. Theodore Outerkirk, Mrs. Donald Nettleman, Jr., Mrs. Walter Morden and Mrs. Curtis Wright participated in the program, "The Post-Christian Era".

The discussion was based on the point that the world is no longer under the dominance of Christianity.

The leader's closing thought was, "We are asked to transform the world—not conform to it. To be seaworthy, a ship must be in water, but if it is "of" the water, the vessel sinks."

"Our mission is similar. Let us rededicate our lives.

Devotions were led by Mrs. William Farrell.

Plans were made for a social for couples April 25.

Results of a questionnaire given to each member were discussed. Arrangements are being made to shorten the business meeting.

The officers will now conduct a board meeting prior to the general meeting.

Thanks were given to the adult choir for their work. More choir members are needed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dean Hamilton and Mrs. Wayne Blanchard.

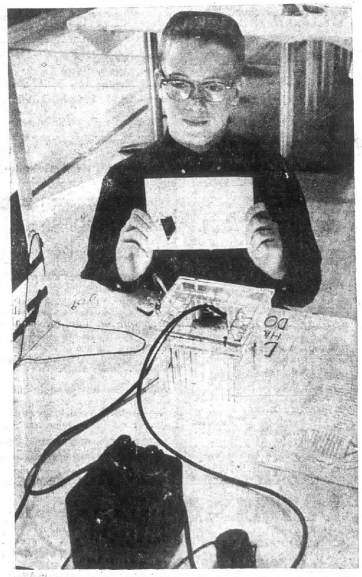
Women Travel to Detroit by Bus

Forty-two women traveled to Detroit by bus Monday night with the Business and Professional Women's Club for their annual "night out".

After dining at exotic Top O' the Flame restaurant, the group saw a new style musical, "Stop the World I Want to Get Off".

Mrs. Reginald Dixon said the satire starring Kenneth Nelson and Joan Eastman was fabulous. She added that even the men in the audience stood and yelled "Bravo".



HE HATES BUGS — Bill Whiting devised a clean quiet electric bug killer. Not only does it successfully eliminate insects, but it won him first place in the junior high school division of the Science Fair.

The co-chairmen, Mrs. Russell Johnson and Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt thank the many who helped make the dinner a success.

Mrs. Joseph Dziachan, kitchen chairman, had excellent help, especially Mrs. Ben McWilliams, who made all the salad, and Edward O'Neill, whose hands are several shades whiter after washing hundreds of dishes.

Mrs. Robert McCrate had a large force of women in the dining room.

An estimated $400 profit was made on the dinner.

Mrs. Hal Yoder, Tecumseh neighborhood chairman, spent March 16 collecting items from Girl Scout leaders and packing cases.

Mrs. Donald Creger and Mrs. Merril Tuckey took the kits to Jackson where they will be packed in cases to be shipped to Guide Headquarters in Algeria for distribution.

The kits consist of a health kit containing two bars of soap, washcloth, towel, comb and safety pins.

The chalkboard kit made by troops, is a chalk-board, chalk, eraser, crayons and paper.

There are kits with clothing for girl or boy.

Mrs. Yoder thanks Jean Colgrove Gifts for the use of her window during Girl Scout week for the Algerian display and the Arts and Crafts display.

Scotts Turf Builder
20% OFF
Scotts Halts stops crabgrass before it starts
It's time to THINK GREEN!
Spring is just around the corner! That's why we recommend Turf Builder now. Early fertilizing means early green-up. Also early root development, sturdier grass, thicker turf. TURF BUILDER is the only grass fertilizer that's Trionized — to give sustained feeding. Its protein-building nutrients are "locked in" until needed, then automatically released only at the time and rate most beneficial to the lawn. Dollar for dollar, TURF BUILDER is your best fertilizer buy.
2.95 and 4.96
First time ever!
Save $2 on Halts
That's right. We now have Scotts famous crabgrass preventer on sale for $7.95. It's regularly $9.95. A big 20% savings!
You can spread HALTS on your lawn any day now, and crabgrass won't so much as lift its ugly head this summer.

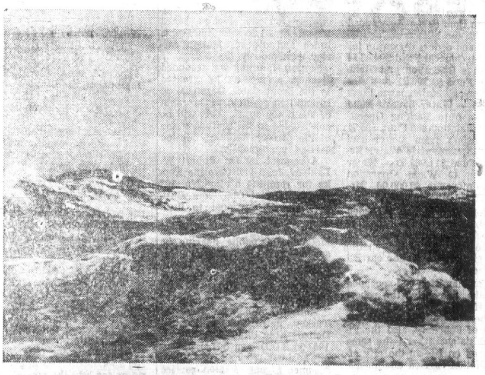
For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church



THE POWER TO STAY

An anchor seems like dead weight, doesn't it?

But what mariner would sail without it? For an anchor is not dead weight. It commands the tremendous force of gravity in a wild, raging sea. It can grip solid land to fight driving wind or swirling current!

A few men have thought they could go farther faster without religious faith . . . until the squalls found them drifting helplessly on bitter shoals!

God gave us forces of motion and progress. We see . . . aspire . . . achieve.

So God gave us the Truth our churches offer every human heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Card of Thanks

WE WISH to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their acts of kindness, their floral tributes, for the food which was brought in and the many cards we received during our recent bereavement in the death of our father, Lavern Linn. We also wish to thank the Rev. G. O. Hannevik, Niblack Funeral Home and the pallbearers.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Linn M19,p

I AM VERY grateful for and proud of our hospital here in Tecumseh and the many fine Drs. and nurses who are on the staff. Dr. Hammel and the nurses took excellent care of me during my confinement. Thanks to Mrs. William Frownfelder for specializing after my surgery. Rev. Donald Porteous your calls were very much appreciated and thanks to the many neighbors and friends who gave of themselves and flowers and cards which were sent to me. My family especially appreciated all the good food brought in and the helping hand with the house work. Again thanks to all of you.

ALL-COUNTY CONCERT

Tecumseh Band Number 'Inspiring'

By ALMINA HUNT

"Tremendous" is hardly adequate to describe the performance of the Tecumseh High School band at the 14th annual All-County Concert.

Under the direction of the guest conductor, Jerry H. Bilik of the University of Michigan, the All-County band presented two numbers "The 49th Star" and "American Civil War Fantasy". These were Mr. Bilik's own compositions.

Tecumseh had seven members in the All-County Band, including Sherree Harper, David Dustin, Leland Green, Fran Cooper, Doug Hall, Jim Dickinson and Richard Fielder.

To conclude the concert, Dr. James Spencer of the music department at Adrian College took the baton to lead the massed bands.

"God Of Our Fathers" with over 600 students in unison, was soul-stirring.

The proceeds from this concert go to provide Interlochen scholarships for Lenawee County pupils.

TWO BIG WINS

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Herald readers this week may be getting a sneak preview of things to come.

1. An early-week edition.

2. A pictorial supplement, devoted to one subject.

We've long thought about these things and this basketball business propelled us head-long into a "dry run" of such a program.

With both Tecumseh and Britton winning regional crowns, we found ourselves with the awkward situation of having two quarter-final state tournament games being played on Wednesday evening.

For a weekly, having something big happen on a Wednesday night is like seeing $1,000 bills blowing around in the street while both legs are broken and in casts.

But, then along came this thought.

Our regular inside section, which normally goes to press on Tuesday anyway, has been run as a separate edition, going onto newsstands Tuesday afternoon and to mail subscribers Wednesday morning.

Along with this, we are including a two-color supplement on Tecumseh's exciting regional wins — the first time this happened since 1942. (That was the era of Dr. Bob Mohr, Dr. Bob Laidlaw, John Hamilton, Jack Osburn, Bill Sisson, Stu Costigan, Max Green, Dr. Lee Clark and Bob Wilson. More on them later).

Thus, we found ourselves licking the Wednesday Night Bugaboo, seeing how it is to get out two issues and presenting a possible new monthly feature section — the color tabloid.

It will probably be the latter that we'll get into on a regular basis—an eight-page deal devoted to one subject with emphasis on pictorial beauty.

You may be interested to know that this week's special was printed with the $100,000 equipment of the Ingham County News.

Now, getting down to the present basketball situation, a story on Coach Vic Lawson seemed in order so we asked his wife to give us some facts about Vic's career.

Those of you who know Louise Lawson immediately recognize her as the Indians' No. 1 fan, who gets so keyed up during THS games she oftens ends up as a basket case before they're over.

You can probably imagine the anxiety with which she lived during these state tournament days. Just prior to the Hillsdale game, Louise tried to get at a stick of chewing game. In her frenzy it seemed she was going to down gum, wrappers and all.

Britton Bumps Top-Rated Five

By TOM RIORDAN

Fresh from chopping down the state's No. 1 rated Class D team, Sam Hamilton's Britton Tories run into a tall Covert squad Wednesday at 7:30 at Marshall High School. Lights of the nearby village will be out that evening as the entire population follows their beloved hoopsters.

Britton fans were thrilled last week as the Tories nipped top-ranked Port Huron St. Stephen, 74-70, to grab the regional title.

Britton hopes to do the near-impossible — win a second straight state championship — and the Tories are three steps away from their dream.

But dreams are shattered in final seconds of play and that could be the case against Covert of Van Buren County, which knocked off Coldwater St. Charles, 51-50, to reach the semi-finals.

Coach Hamilton, whose career record is an amazing 85 and 20, scouted Covert, paced by a high-jumping 6'6" center and several other good rebounders.

Going with the same starters who rocked previously-undefeated St. Stephen, Sam will open with Roger Bortel and Verl Sanch at forwards, Phil Benedict at center and Pepper Griewahn and Ron Mastie at the guards.

Walt Korican will see plenty of action, too, going in at guard. When he does, Pepper will move to forward.

In eliminating St. Stephen, the Tories played close to the vest, spreading the scoring around as the opponents change their concentration of guarding from Phil to Pepper to Ron.

As expected, they started by trying to blanket Benedict. This gave Pepper his chance and he came through. Then the emphasis changed, giving Ron opportunities and he canned a bunch. All along, Phil was picking off rebounds and converting his scoring opportunities.

☆

He hopes to have his lads slow things down, with a set style of play, passing carefully until the good shots appear. Sam will play one guard back, ready to thaw the Covert fast-break.

Sam,—along with about 700 Britton fans,— were especially pleased with the victory last week. He scouted the St. Stephen team, but wouldn't let his boys see their opponent.

"I knew we were up against a good club," Sam mused Sunday. "It was the best team we've played in a long time."

An unfortunate post-game situation, the protesting by the losers that one of the referees had been a brother of the Britton superintendent, caused a little wonderment around Britton, but was finally resolved by Michigan director of high school athletics, Charles Forsyth, who tossed out the protest.

Reviewing the book action to date, Sam noted, "The Dundee defeat made a team out of us." The Viking victory came in De-

Tecumseh Nips Milan by One

By JIM LINCOLN

River Rouge with fabulous Willie Betts, 6'5" highly-touted pivot ace, now stand in the path of the Tecumseh Indians as they battle for a place among state tournament semi-finalists. Coach Vic Lawson's Indians take on Rouge Wednesday evening at 7:30 on the Ann Arbor High School court.

The first regional championship in over 20 years was collared last Thursday and Saturday nights when Tecumseh nipped teams from Hillsdale and Milan at Dundee.

The Indians edged Huron League rival Milan, 54-53, Saturday night for the championship, after trimming Hillsdale Thursday, 62-56.

In each game, the Indians had to come from behind, overcome poor ball handling and cold, cold shooting. If Coach Vic Lawson's team had played up to par, the local cagers would have had little trouble with either team.

Tecumseh must do much better against River Rouge to boost any hopes of making a trip to East Lansing.

☆

AGAINST Hillsdale, the Indians fell 10 points behind early in the second period, 21-11, and then caught the Hornets with 10 straight points.

Late in the third quarter, Gregg Allen flipped in a two-pointer from the baseline to give Tecumseh a lead the Indians never again relinquished.

The third quarter proved fatal to the Hornets who tallied only nine points while Tecumseh hit for 16.

Hillsdale relying mainly on uncanny shooting from the free throw line, stayed within three or four points through most of the final period before bowing.

Hillsdale hit on 20 of 21 fouls, including all 11 in the second half.

Jerry Hebb topped the local scorers with 19, while Allen had 13 and Nichols 10. Allen's 11 points in the second half sparked the winning Tecumseh drive.

☆

THE TITLE game with Milan was not decided until the last minute when Jim Lawson hit on a jump shot, Hebb and Jeff Osburn collected single points from the free throw line.

With eight seconds left and the Indians leading Milan 53-51, Osburn was purposely fouled to give the junior guard two chances at the foul line.

His first attempt popped in and out, but the second stripped the nets to give Tecumseh a three-point lead with time running out. Milan hitt ta goal as the buzzer sounded.

In the hectic third and fourth quarters, Clark Nichols hit four times on jumpers to either tie the score or give Tecumseh the lead.

The biggest lead the Indians ever held during the game occurred at the beginning of the final period when Allen hit from the baseline and upped Tecumseh's margin to five points.

Milan caught the Indians with about two minutes to go but fell behind for good.

THE 6'4" ALLEN paced the Indian scorers with 16 points. Lawson, who kept the Indians within striking distance in the

ALL-STATER LEADS TORIES — Rangy Phil Benedict will be leading the Tories of Britton into their quarter-final battle against Covert Wednesday. A great shot, Phil tallied 501 points so far this year, a per-game average of 23.86. But Phil isn't a "gunner", being a fine play-maker and excellent rebounder. College scouts have been watching him since his junior year.

NICHOLS GOES FOR PAIR — Clark Nichols may be only 5'8" tall, but he's one of the Tecumseh Indians' best jumpers. Here he flips up a one-hander against Hillsdale, which fell, 62-56, in the regional semi-finals. Jerry Hebb (44) and Gregg Allen (54) keep tab on Clark's shot. Hornets are Terry Ricketts (41), Tom Olmstead (13) and Frank Waters (25).

TEEN TALK

By JANICE WHELAN

The Tecumseh Teen Club is trying to provide bands for all of the dances, changing from Saturday nights to Friday nights after the basketball season is over.

The reason for having bands is to get a better attendance.

Teen Club Secretary Brenda Golat, says, "The kids have asked for this and we are trying to provide it. Although there are other dances in nearby towns, we feel the teens from Tecumseh should support their own club.

If we do not get good attendance at these dances we go in the hole when we have to pay the band."

The Teen Club hopes that the teens wake up before it's too late and support their Club. The next dance will be March 20, 1964, with Bob and the Invaders.

The time is from 8:30-11:30 and the price for admission is 50c if guests have a card and 75c if they don't. Membership cards may be purchased at the door for $1.

√

The thirty-sixth annual state FFA convention will be held at Michigan State University, East Lansing, March 24, 25 and 26.

Over 900 boys from 215 high schools will receive awards, compete for honors and conduct business of the State Association.

The annual banquet for some 1,000 persons will feature Dr. John Furbay, lecturer, author and global air traveler as the speaker. A special luncheon for chapter advisors will be provided by the Michigan Electrical Suppliers.

Local officers are:
John Boyce—president
Dave Bips— vice-president
Tim Johnston—secretary
Richard Neuman—treasurer

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE DAY IT STORMED

Plans have changed; we had thought that this would be a good week to discuss Gertie's ducks but the events of March the 10th deserve some comments, probably a whole article of them. We will be 'ducky' next week.

The Great Storm started about 5 o'clock in the morning. I understand. A hard sleet peppered down at first but soon the wind whipped up a full scale, riproaring blizzard.

Mom and Dad left the house at approximately 6:45 — fifteen minutes later she returned and found their going-out tracks were completely filled up.

Twenty minutes later Ida plowed in and reported the same thing; there were absolutely no signs at all that road, driveway, sidewalk or steps had even been used. That is a lot of snow coming down terribly fast!

When my drapes were opened, I could hardly believe my eyes and the amazement continued all day.

Who said something about this being a mild winter? March might have come in like a lamb but it was certainly roaring this day.

It was a marvelously exciting storm to watch; my complete enjoyment was only marred occasionally by a slight twinge of conscience at the thoughts of the poor people who had to get out and brave the elements.'

☆

BY MID-MORNING the wild churning wind had whipped the snow around so much that my west-facing window was plastered with the white stuff and even the south window was lightly coated. A blizzard was raging in every sense of the word.

So hard was the snow falling and so strong were the winds blowing that they seemed all jumbled together and tumbling over themselves.

Before our view of the bird feeder was snowed out, there was interesting watching. The sparrows battled their way in first and it was a real battle for them, too.

The slightest miscalculation and they were flying backwards. The mourning doves fared little better, they seemed to be going sideways most of the time.

Two blue jays showed up but they were really unhappy. While one scratched for a quick snack, the other sat in the wren tree and actually, he was all hunched up.

His head pulled down, his shoulders humped up — he looked so uncomfortable we had to feel sorry.

☆

CLOWN of the morning was a very mad squirrel. He didn't like anything at all about the blizzard and had worked into a regular temper tantrum.

Burrowing down to the sunflower head he found it empty—Wow! Using both hands plus his mouth, he ripped and pulled the head to shreds.

Next stop was the ear of corn but he was still too mad to eat. He jumped to the ground, raced to the corntree, tore out to the fence and then came back to the feeder.

All the while, of course, he was fighting the wind and snow and, had he known how hard we were laughing, he might never have settled down to eat.

About noon things calmed down a bit and our windows cleared. How beautiful it was and please, all of you who were stuck in the snow, don't throw snowballs at me.

From the inside looking out, it was lovely. The snow was drifted so that to say the wind had sculptured the drifts into abstract art forms is no exaggeration.

The creek, the front of Marsh's house and our fence were 'worked' the best; blue ribbon first prizes should have been awarded to them all.

So it is that we shall now close this article, without even commenting upon our reactions to the many cars which we saw going sideways. I will just say that there was much good looking from my windows on the day it stormed.

NEXT WEEK:
Aftermath Of The Great Storm

Boysville NEWS

By RICHARD McMILLAN

The Fighting Knights lost a heartbreaker last week to the Whiteford Bobcats, 72-57, in tournament competition.

The Knights, really hungry for victory, jumped to an early 7-3 lead. The Bobcats, equally determined fought back to take the lead 15-14 at the quarter and 33-32 at the half.

The Knights couldn't find the range after the intermission and were behind by 17 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth quarter saw the Knights come back within eight points with five minutes of play left, only to again fall back when three of Boysvilles starters fouled out.

In the last game of the regular season, the Knights fell to highly-rated Britton, 76-53, the Tories, with Phil Benedict dropping in 41, were too powerful for the Knights.

√

Sophomore Gene Bricault returned to the campus after spending six weeks in Herrick Memorial Hospital. Gene was badly injured in a riding accident Jan. 25.

√

Sophomore Bennie Thomas took first place and won a new Websters Collegiate Dictionary.

The two seniors who entered, John Barta and Joe Maline, took second and third places respectively, each winning three paperback classics for their efforts.

TO THE EDITORS:

Thank you for your recent letter expressing your opposition to the Agricultural Act of 1964.

As you know, the Senate approved this bill by a vote of 53 to 35, and the bill has gone back to the House which may either accept the language of the Senate bill, or request a conference to reconcile the differences in language.

This bill was thoroughly debated in the Senate, and when it came to final passage, I voted against it. One of the major factors in my decision was the fact that Michigan wheat growers, in the May, 1963, referendum, voted overwhelmingly — by a margin of 4 to 1 — against the program recommended by the Department of Agriculture.

Since that time, my mail has continued to reflect this same overwhelming opposition to the proposed wheat certificate program even though the bill would make participation voluntary.

This was not, however, the prevailing view of the Congress and so, barring the unexpected, the new wheat and cotton program will be in effect for the 1964-'65 crop years.

The experience of these two years hopefully will give us a new basis for evaluating future programs in this important area of the Michigan economy.

With all good wishes,
Sincerely,
Pat. McNamara,
United States Senate.

TO THE EDITORS:

Last week was Girl Scout Week and not one word in the Herald about it. For a community this size we have a large active association.

The past two Mondays I have attended meetings at Brooklyn with leaders from the whole Council.

They all had good coverage and pictures for Girl Scout week.

Adrian has always had Campfire girls but last year a Girl Scout troop was started and they had a full page! Also another page of Scouts appeared on Friday.

At Jean Colgroves Gifts we had a large window full of arts, crafts, gifts and charity work.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Broadcast networks and national publications of various kinds have, for years, been flashing figures to prove the power of their advertising.

The local newspaper has no elaborate research organization to prove its effectiveness, yet it does not need to enter an argument on its comparative value as an advertising outlet.

The cash register remains the best gauge of the retail advertising.

When the major department stores such as Sears, Macy's, Fields and Gimbel's find a better advertising medium than newspapers there may be some reason for surveys.

When the leading retailer in the typical small city does not concentrate his advertising in local newspapers, then other retailers may wonder about the value of newspaper advertising.

When the boy with a bicycle for sale can find a better medium that the classified advertising section of his newspaper, then thousands of small advertisers may begin to wonder about newspapers.

When the real estate firm can sell a farm, a commercial building, and several homes all in one small package anywhere but the newspaper, then a revolution in advertising is heralded.

When major grocery stores find a more effective way to sell coffee and bacon they will certainly stop putting the bulk of their advertising budget into newspapers.

In short, when the whole economic health of the community is not reflected in hometown newspaper advertising, then the newspaper should begin to flash figures and make surveys.

Farm Bureau Spokesman Blasts Two Bills in Congress

"Why is there so much interest in forcing American agriculture into the same sort of program which has resulted in Khrushchevs' greatest failure?"

A large gathering of central Michigan farmers recently heard Dan Reed, legislative counsel for the 70,000-member Michigan Farm Bureau, voice this question in a scathing attack on the Secretary of Agriculture and the Administration for what he called "a breach of faith."

"In last year's wheat referendum on May 21, farmers gave their answer to the Cochrane-Freeman management control proposal."

"Over the nation, in a strong voice, farmers joined in opposing this plan for a government-controlled agriculture. It is a breach of faith now for Secretary Freeman and the Administration to be pushing the same sort of program through Congress on the basis of arm-twisting and political pressures," he said.

"If Secretary Freeman wasn't interested in finding out what farmers thought, why did he ask? Is a 'yes' vote the only one that will be accepted in Washington?" Reed asked.

He pointed out that proposals such as the McGovern wheat plan and the Cooley-Humphrey-Talmadge cotton measures to make agriculture dependent on direct government handouts are not in the best interests of the consumer, the farmer, or the nation.

Word From North Africa

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Miller recently received word from their son A2/C Thomas Miller from Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya, North Africa.

Tom is there on temporary volunteer duty for 90 days and will return to Sembach, Germany, where he has been stationed for nearly three years.

He told his parents of the customs of the people. Most of the women wear coverings over their heads with only one eye showing and some completely cover their heads.

They use horses and buggies for taxi service.

Tom said that most of the people are fairly friendly.

One of his buddies was recently caught in the middle of a race riot in the city of Tripoli, and his car was stoned, but he was unhurt.

Tom said he visited the Tripoli International Fair, which was in the center of town. Exhibits were on display from all countries of the world.

The base is outlined by the Mediterranean Sea and the weather is wonderful, nice for swimming in the 75's during the day.

He also says there is lots of work to be done. They labor six days a week.

Tom's address is:

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM GIBSON

William Gibsons Married 50 Years

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday.

An open house is planned by their children and will be held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder, 10700 Ridge Hwy.

Friends and relatives are invited to call from 2 to 5 p.m.

They have lived in the vicinity of Britton during all of the 50 years.

The Gibsons are the parents of two children, Harold M. Gibson of Tecumseh-Macon Rd., near Clinton and Mrs. Schroeder.

They also have seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The couple ask that gifts be omitted.

Election Error Made at Herald

The Herald regrets the three errors made in last week's Britton Village election story. First of all, William Hetrick was named president, not William Saxton as we reported. Secondly, the clerk who was re-elected is Mrs. Raymond Auten and the unsuccessful treasurer candidate was Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks. Our Britton Editor, Mrs. Paul Rowlands, had the facts correct in her report, but we somehow muddled them. What made it worse for Mrs. Rowlands—she had to accept all the phone calls, all this after being a member of the election board and working on the voting.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Martin Ivan, Jr., was discharged from Herrick Memorial Hospital last week after spending several days there as a medical patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Baird of Erie. Sunday they visited their daughter, Susan, at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Mrs. William Dettman is a patient in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. Her daughter, Mrs. Carl Koch of Flint, is spending several days here with her father.

Guests Sunday of Mrs. John Beal and family were Mr. and Mrs. Cal Rohrback of Adrian, Miss Jeannine Skinner and Doris Rowe of Ypsilanti.

first two periods, netted 14. Nichols had 10.

Both games were rough and several times nearly got out of hand.

The deliberate foul of Osburn in the final seconds against Milan was almost vicious and brought players from both benches onto the floor.

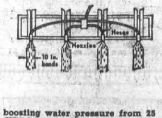
SOIL MOISTURE INFLUENCES COMPACTION. As the drawing shows, compaction on wet soils compared with dry soils is much greater. Try to avoid plowing when soil is wet or driving on it with heavily-loaded trucks. Compacted soils have reduced corn yields as much as 13 bushels per acre in research trials. Since compaction from tractor furrow wheel is most damaging, best bet is to use dual wheels. Reducing tire wheel pressure within certain limits helps, too.

UNIFORM GRINDING AND MIXING of high concentrate cattle rations is important. If ration components are variable in size, the ration tends to separate and dust accumulates whenever the grain is moved or mixed. Cattle do not accept a dusty ration rapidly. Also, a ration with variable particle sizes does not mix, handle, or transport well. Entire handling and processing system should be well designed to keep particle size uniform.

PRE-EMERGENCE BAND SPRAYING for weeds can be done with planter-mounted rig similar to the one in the drawing. Chemical tanks are tractor-mounted. Spray nozzles are attached behind press wheels for accurate placement. For a 10-inch band make nozzles adjustable 8 to 8 inches high with convenient flat fan or band spray nozzles. To vary application rates change nozzles or tips rather than adjusting pressure much from 30 to 40 pounds.



CUT HOG PEN CLEANING TIME. By boosting water pressure from 25 to at least 60 pounds per square inch, USDA researchers cut cleaning time in half, used one-third less water, and did a better job. The increased water pressure eliminates having to loosen the manure with a scraper.

Long and Short

Well, Louise quickly responded to our request. She also sent along a cute covering note, which read:

"You asked me to write about my husband's coaching career—this is almost too much for me. I'm a Tecumseh High School fan (not only round ball), a player's mom and the coach's wife.

"Right there are three strikes, I'm out! I can write nothing but good. We have had our wins, losses, laughs, cross words, but you know, these 'rose-colored' glasses are really nice.

"Nevertheless with or without them, I'm still a fan, a mom and a wife.

"I'm proud of the boys' good sportsmanship, on and off the court. Our school and town should be also. A nicer, good looking group you couldn't ask for—(gotta take those glasses off).

"Our boys, all of them, are Great!"

Then Louise went into the coaching career of her hubby.

"Coaching basketball is not just a job to Vic Lawson, it is a way of life, an all-consuming passion and his results have borne out this fact.

"Born and raised in Cadillac, he was graduated from Western Michigan University and received his masters degree from the University of Michigan.

"Before coming to Tecumseh, he taught and coached basketball for two years at Jonesville and for one year at Greenville.

"He began his teaching (United States history and physical education) and coaching career in Tecumseh in 1952, and continued in this capacity until 1960.

"During this time he was given the additional responsibilities of director of athletics.

"From 1960-1963, Vic did not coach, but this life was not for him and he returned to his true love in 1963.

"Not only has Vic gained the respect and admiration of his team, but of his contemporaries in a highly competitive field. He has never been known to be a poor sport nor will he tolerate any unsportsmanlike attitude on his squad.

"He is a hard-driving vigorous coach who expects and therefore gets, the best from his boys. He has maintained a high standard of conduct for his boys, both on and off the basketball court."

Vic's over-all coaching record includes 134 victories and 74 losses. At Tecumseh he has produced four league championships or co-champions, four district titles and one regional.

Mrs. Joe Rice was a member of the panel at the DAR State Conference in Grand Rapids on March 11. This was an instruction session on Genealogical research on how to get records from county offices. Mrs. Rice also visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, of Ada.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

When spring finally wafted its gentle way in Tuesday afternoon, 7,045 Tecumseh residents probably got the same thought at the same time — oh, just to goof off and stay out in this sunshine.

Those were the most wonderful 70 degrees we seen in many months.

Things have been popping like mad since last week's announcement of the new Fisher Body plant, which will employ 1,000 and be built this spring just south of town.

It is only fitting that his honor the mayor, Harold Easton, should be on hand to meet and greet many of our town's visitors on Sunday.

Harold revealed that 35 cars stopped at his Mobil station on the Sabbath, all with the same two questions:

1. Where is the new plant going to be located?
2. How is housing around Tecumseh?

Tecumseh was bantered about in the nation's press last week when the announcement was made by GM's Frederic Donner, who told of the firm's $2 billion expansion program that will take two years to complete.

With his announcement came the fact that a new fabric plant will go in Tecumseh, Michigan — and weren't those words sweet.

A lot of comments have filtered through to us, some that bring a chuckle, some a "Huh?"

One old timer told another man he wasn't so sure he was happy about this GM thing. The second guy yelped, "That was the same thing you said when the Products came to Tecumseh!"

One lady gushed to another knowingly, "Well, it so happens I knew all about this five years ago!"

The gal she was telling this outlandish fib to said she felt like responding, "So? Why do you think we moved to Tecumseh in 1957?"

If the truth be known, GM wasn't certain of its new Tecumseh plant until a week before the announcement. The final clincher came with soil borings, which proved that the land at the proposed site would handle a large structure.

GM officials, at last week's press conference, said that the Tecumseh area came "into focus" six weeks before announcement, then "into sharp focus" about March 1. But the soil borings had to be made before the deal was firmed.

Work being offered will be semi-skilled, with emphasis on women doing cutting and sewing of seat fabrics.

As one of the Fisher Body fellows said, "This is a collegiate operation — no smoke or fumes, but rather a quiet campus-type setup."

$20 Million Complex Hangs in Balance

by JIM LINCOLN

Frantic, last-minute efforts to save the Anderson Chemical Division for Lenawee County were still being made Wednesday afternoon by officials of the Adrian-Area Industrial Association.

Unless they're successful prior to this Thursday's meeting of the Water Resources Commission in Lansing, Tecumseh and Adrian will lose what is planned to be a $20 million facility on Sutton Rd., three miles south of Tecumseh.

He says that Anderson Chemical's disposing of calcium chloride into the River Raisin will raise the corrosive element of the river's water to such a degree that it will cause rust on the company's tin cans, making them non-marketable.

The Blissfield canner did not waver Wednesday morning when informed that the Stauffer Chemical Co., parent company for Anderson, had finally come up with a process to up-grade the acid or calcium chloride and market it as a by-product to the steel industries.

Only in an emergency, such as a steel strike, would Anderson Chemical then dispose of calcium chloride into the river, from which the cannery uses water for cooking and cooling their canned vegetables.

☆

EVEN THEN, SOME RESTRICTIONS as set forth by the Water Resources Commission would limit the amount of acid to be put into the river.

Apparently, this had little or no effect on Mr. Schmitz, who has been spokesman for the Blissfield Canning Co., too.

Following a Blissfield Council session Monday night, Mr. Schmitz, however, stated upon leaving that if Anderson Chemical was 100% sure that they would not dispose calcium chloride into the river, it would make a difference. He did not elaborate further.

Stauffer chemists have worked for months to up-grade the acid for marketing. The firm disclosed Tuesday that a new process was economically feasible.

Prior to that time, it was announced at the public hearing, before the Water Resources Commission on March 6, that officials were 90% sure that such a process could and would be attained.

Officials are sure that if waivers of a 15-day appeal period are signed, the Water Resources Commission will give complete approval, with some restrictions which are acceptable to Anderson.

Blissfield Council will sign a waiver if the canneries do. It has been felt for some time that George Waigle, president of Blissfield Canning, would sign if Home Canning did.

Initial plans for Anderson Chemical call for construction to begin by April 1 with completion in about 18 months. Cost of the original plant is estimated at $6 million with growth to 20 million in five years.

Employment will be upwards of 700 with an annual payroll of $4.5 million.

The tremendous economic boom for the entire area, including Blissfield, would probably have other companies building in the Sutton Rd. area to supply the new Anderson plant.

Cars Crash Head-on Killing Both Drivers

A mother of six children and a father of two were killed here Saturday afternoon in a head-on collision on N. Evans St., near Red Mill Dr.

Dead are Mrs. Thelma P. Rogers, 23, of 107 Russell Rd., and Lyle H. Reinhart, 43, Manchester, but formerly of Tecumseh.

Tecumseh and State Police say failure to determine the point of impact left investigating officers with little basis as to the cause of the collision.

The crash was so intense that debris and wreckage were widely scattered. Both cars were total wrecks.

Mr. Reinhart, traveling north, had just passed a car driven by Jack Tonneberger before the accident. In passing Mr. Tonneberger, he cut back into the north lane too soon, nicking the front left fender and bumper of the Tonneberger car.

Mr. Tonneberger last saw the Reinhart car swerving and weaving before the collision.

According to police records, Mr. Reinhart's driver's license was revoked in 1958 for driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages. He also had numerous tickets for minor violations, according to Sgt. Carl Anderson of the Clinton State Police post.

He had been drinking prior to the accident and lab tests showed blood content to be 18%, about 3% over the intoxication level.

SERVICES WERE held Tuesday afternoon for both victims.

The Rev. B. O. Bashore conducted services here at the Cork-ery Funeral Home for Mrs. Rogers. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery in Clinton.

She is survived by her husband, Donald; three daughters, Betty, Linda, and Donna; three sons, James, Ricky and David; and her father, a brother and two sisters.

Mr. Reinhart's services were held at the Proctor Funeral Home and burial also was in Riverside Cemetery.

His survivors include his widow; a son, Terry; a daughter, Mrs. David Rafferty of Clinton; and a sister and two brothers.

He attended Tecumseh High School and was an employee of the Tecumseh Products for the past 23 years.

Tiny Town Goes Goofy

By TOM RIORDAN

BRITTON — From a blissfully quiet village, without a soul around, this community turned into the jumpingest place in Lenawee County about 6:30 Saturday afternoon.

Suddenly, everybody and his brother wanted to be in the community downtown area. That's a little rugged when the whole business district stretches just over one block long.

But they tried — about 1,500 people — with cars rolling bumper-to-bumper for much of the distance between Tecumseh and Britton, a stretch of six miles.

Folks wanted to be on hand to welcome back the amazing Tory basketball team, which had just done the near-impossible, win a second consecutive state Class D championship.

☆

IN A BEDLAM of noise, out of the team cars stepped Coach Sam Hamilton, followed by his hoopsters. Sam clutched the giant golden trophy, almost too big for one person to hold.

Cheers rocked the foundations of the town.

Sam deposited the trophy in the window of Glenn Gripton's hardware store and then the whole gang adjourned next door for a snack of hamburgers and malts. The Britton Restaurant was a sea of laughing, shouting fans, anxious to slap the backs of their heros, shake the hand of the gray-haired Sam.

It has been another fabulous year for Sam, whose cagers have lost two times in the past three seasons while racking up 65 victories. For this winter, there was one falter, to Class B Dundee. "This defeat made us into a team," Sam opines in retrospect.

In the state tournament wrap-up, Sam's Tories played like champions. Their teamwork, shooting and hustle just was too much for the final foes.

To reach the finals, Britton had disposed of Barryton, 78-56. The Bulldogs just couldn't match the Tory markmanship and rebounding. Pepper Griewahn swished 29 points through the hoops. In one quarter, he hit on seven of eight tosses.

Capt. Ron Mastie also had a hot hand Friday night, canning 23 points, mostly on long one-handers.

All-state Phil Benedict blanketed the boards, outrebounding the entire Bulldog squad, 31-27. All told, Britton snagged 67 loose shots.

IN THE FINALS, Verl Sanch did a tremendous job against Baraga as he flipped in 26 markers to pace Tory scorers in the 79-56 championship victory. Verl teamed up with Phil under the boards and gave the Tories almost complete domination in the rebound department.

Benedict got 21 points as Baraga fell. In the crucial third period, with Britton trailing by four points, Big Phil rammed in two baskets and a free toss to put the Tories ahead, 47-46. They led from this point.

Pepper had another fine performance in the Saturday afternoon finals, netting 17 points and playing a brilliant floor game.

This parody on the Lord's Prayer from the Spanish American War was brought to us by Mel Partridge.

Our Father who are in Washington
Bill McKinley be thy name
Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done
In Cuba and the Philippines same as USA.
Give us this day our daily hardtack and sowbelly
Deliver us from the Army
And we will vote for you forever and ever.

Walls of the old Sand Lake School are two and three feet thick, but this does not deter the Frontier City folks. The school, built in 1861, will come down this week and be moved to a new site at the city. Ivan Hunt, owner of the tourist attraction on M-50, remarked that many people in the Irish Hills attended the school. A new attraction called The Petrified Forest will be established on US-12 where the school is located. The school building was given to Mr. Hunt by Bill Pettit and Bud Rogers, who are planning the new venture.

For leading his Mercury agency to first place in a state-wide sales campaign, George Underwood won a trip to Paris and Rome for his wife and himself. Only hitch: will the stork arrive about the time the jet for Paree blasts off?

That clown. Dr. Robert Murray called the editor Friday with some kind of jibberish about the Ford plant taking an option on his land.

Heaven forbid, Five preaching all in one evening? Only the Rev. Blair Bashore and the Rev. Julian Gresham will give messages for the Good Friday services. Other ministers mentioned in last week's issue will be assisting with other parts of the worship.

Long & Short

the warmly humorous, the clothing giant, Harold Green, reports that he'd like to start a campaign to bring the Lenawee County Court House back to its original home — Tecumseh, where else.

Out in Britton, in case you hadn't heard, they're celebrating the second straight winning of a state basketball championship.

Admittedly some of the folks are a little base about the situation this time, but most are warmly enthusiastic over the event.

One of those people most excited is Mrs. Verl Sanch, who with her husband runs an antique shop and claims a husky son named Verl, Jr., who it turns out was one of the big guns as the Tories topped Baraga for the state crown.

Young Verl was a tiger on the Jenison Field House hardwood, netting 26 key points and grabbing a flock of rebounds.

Well, here's the way it happened in the Sanch family, as reported by Leota Sanch, mother of the Tory star.

When he was about four, mom and dad fashioned a coat hanger into a basket and attached it to a blackboard in the house. Through this, tiny Verl pitched balloons. As he grew bigger, they moved the "basket" onto the top of a closed door.

By the time Verl was a junior higher, he had moved into the great outdoors, where a regular basket and backboard adorned the garage.

In other words, the kid has been shooting buckets most of his life. As far as the boys from Baraga, Barryton and points north and west are concerned, Verl was born with the knack for getting the clutch hoop.

Few kids can play basketball the way the charges of Sam Hamilton do. More important, few athletes are as dedicated to the success of the team. Our Tecumseh boys also possess this quality, so important in the making of a champion.

There are a world of "gunners" — kids who lose sight of the team's welfare in favor of blasting whenever they get their hands on the ball.

One little personal thrill about being the guy to follow Britton to the state finals, was a chance to get away from the current rash of "Tarzan" movies, which come on right at supper time.

As a dinner of delightful Lake Superior white fish was served to this scribbler Friday evening in the Lansing Press Club, thoughts were of solace and contentment.

Then, without warning, the club manager and keeper of the liquid refreshments, reached up and flicked on the television set.

To my complete amazement, he carefully tuned in "Tarzan" and revved up the volume to extra loud.

Quite astonished, I turned to the waiter and poured out my soul, "I just drove 75 miles to get away from 'Tarzan' during my dinner and look what happens."

He nodded sympathetically and replied, "You just can't win."

That's for sure.

And I couldn't even shout towards the set, "Turn that thing down," as is one of the last of my rights at 510 Nokomis St. in Tecumseh.

Who'd ever think a car 213 inches long, 79 inches wide, 6 passengers roomy and Trophy V-8 powerful could cost so little?

Pontiac people.

You'll never guess what else Pontiac people get for their money in Catalinas. Pontiac styling? Well, obviously. Curve-uncurving Wide-Track? Of course. A Trophy V-8 that thrives on regular gas, if they prefer? No charge. Lots more that could cost extra, but doesn't? Sure, electric wipers and dual visors and foam-cushioned front seats. If you drove a Catalina, you'd feel like a Pontiac person. Smug.

Eliminate Refrigerator Accidents This Spring

It's spring, and with the birds, bees and flowers comes tragedy, sometimes.

Philip S. Duckham, Jr. owner of the Dependable Garbage Service, Inc., reminds Tecumseh residents that it is in the spring of the year that so many small children lose their lives in old refrigerators.

As a public service, Mr. Duckham would like to eliminate the possibility of an accident of this nature happening in this area.

His trucks will pick up any unused refrigerators and properly dispose of them by burying them under tons of dirt.

The appliances are first run through a machine which collapses them until there is nothing for little folk to crawl into with the possibility of doors slamming shut.

Once a child is held prisoner, there is absolutely no escape from the inside and the appliances are so well insulated that their cries are seldom heard.

Mr. Duckham, a member of the rescue squad and fire department of Napoleon, remarked Tuesday that the statistics are terrifically high on the number of youngsters that die in this manner, sometimes two at a time.

It is a violation of the law for property owners to have abandoned refrigerators on their grounds unless the door is removed Anyone seeing one of these "monsters" will be doing a public service to report it.

Dependable Garbage Service Inc. is located at 111 N. Evans St. Phone 423-4280.

Elmer Pocklington had as a recent caller, Robert Pocklington of Albion. Mr. Pocklington is the son of Harold Lee Pocklington, a former resident, and is taking a month's training at Sears Roebuck at Adrian.

Community Center To Be Showplace for World's Fair

The Tecumseh Community Center with a colorful history as a flour mill, factory for war production, auto parts, and zippers, and currently as a meeting place for a variety of community activities will be transformed next week into a showplace for the products of the city's factories, stores and civic groups.

This will be the first time the recently-remodeled building will be used for an activity of this size and scope. All three floors of the center will be used during the show.

In addition, area auto and travel trailer dealers will show their latest products along the drives on the north and south sides of the building.

The show, to be called "The Tecumseh World's Fair", will be presented under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh.

It will open Friday, April 3, at 6 p.m. and continue Saturday and Sunday, April 4 and 5 from 1 to 10 p.m. daily.

Over 60 different exhibits will be presented showing the lifeblood of the community.

Portions of some of the exhibits will be trucked in from throughout the United States, showing the finished product that various components manufactured locally become a part of.

Consumer goods exhibits, showing the diversity of products available through area merchants, will feature many recently-introduced nationally advertised items.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, The Sutton School for Exceptional Children, 4-H Clubs and High School groups will present exhibits depicting their activities.

In addition, the Army, Navy and Air Force are sending in exhibits that should prove highly interesting to all age groups.

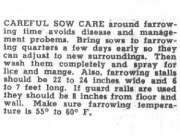
To interest the younger set, Sagebrush Shorty, star of "The Big Show on TV Channel 7 will appear at the fair Saturday afternoon.

To provide color and entertainment on an International level, a quartet of Uruguainian dancers, students at the University of Michigan, will appear on Sunday in native costumes.

Members of local 4-H groups and the Teen Club will assist the Kiwanians in operating the food concessions.

Attend Breakfast

Mrs. Edward Bailey, Mrs. Donald Ries, Mrs. L. [illegible] and Mrs. R. A. Mitchinson attended the White Breakfast at the Tecumseh Methodist Church last Thursday.



CALENDARIZED CORN PLANTING can pay off in lower field losses at harvest-time if you plant more acreage than can be harvested in a week and have the equipment to harvest at around 25% moisture. Here's how it's done: split planting into three groups —early, mid-season, and full season hybrids with earliest corn planted first. Since early corn usually doesn't yield as high, seed about 2,000 more plants per acre.

FEED DAIRY COWS HIGHLY DIGESTIBLE RATIONS for maximum production, especially smaller breeds. Ohio researchers found that smaller breeds are more efficient in digestibility than larger breeds, except when fed poor quality roughage. Small cows can produce as much as larger ones when fed a ration having dry matter digestibility between 68% and 74%. This improves the competitive position of smaller breeds.

CAREFUL SOW CARE around farrowing time avoids disease and management problems. Bring sows to farrowing quarters a few days early so they can adjust to new surroundings. Then wash them completely and spray for lice and mange. Also, farrowing stalls should be 22 to 24 inches wide and 6 to 7 feet long. If guard rails are used they should be 8 inches from floor and wall. Make sure farrowing temperature is 55° to 60° F.

BUY NO. 2 DIESEL FUEL if your tractor will burn the lower grade. A No. 2 diesel fuel will contain 7,100 more Btu's per gallon than a typical No. 1 fuel which means more than 5% extra power from a fuel costing less per gallon.

NOTICE there is no sale this week on the Underwood OK Used Car lot

Gary and John are going to be a little different this week and say we are not having a clearance sale, mid-winter sale or any sort of sale. If you come here, we think you'll agree our cars will sell themselves. We'll just help by giving good trade-in allowances and realistic bank rate terms. We have always maintained that you get what you pay for when you buy used cars and no one is going to give you something for nothing. We represent our cars as we see them and give you no vague promises or double talk. You drive away with a written guaranty, which we'll stand behind. We sell an awful lot of automobiles, so I guess this must be the reason.

Talented Teen Is Wilson Fellow

Talented teenagers may join the automobile as a chief source of pride in Michigan, according to a recent survey by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Michigan ranks ninth in the nation with 220 secondary school graduates who later won Wilson Fellowships in the last six years.

Mr. Harvey, a 1957 graduate of Tecumseh High School, received his fellowship in 1961, after graduation from Kenyon College.

The following year he went to Harvard on the Wilson Fellowship to further his study of economics.

He is now attending the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor working toward his PhD in Economics. He is also working for the university on a manpower training study.

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Research Center Established by Products

ANN ARBOR — Ground was broken Friday for Tecumseh Products' new research center in the Greater Ann Arbor Research Park.

The first spadeful of dirt was turned over by Ray W. Herrick, chairman of the board of Tecumseh Products, after he had said, "To God Almighty, to America and to Ann Arbor, I humbly turn over this first spadeful of dirt."

He was followed in the digging by University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher, Ann Arbor Mayor Cecil O. Creal, Joseph E. Layton, president of Tecumseh Products, Prof. Joseph Rowe of the U-M who will represent the university of the research center's guidance committee, and James Campbell, president of Consumers Power Co.

A biting cold wind from the east swept the area in research park where the ground-breaking was held and the wintry weather on the first day of spring held down the opening remarks in the ceremony presided over by President Hatcher.

Mayor Creal welcomed Tecumseh Products to Ann Arbor and said he looked forward to completion of the research center and to how much it will mean to Ann Arbor.

He also expressed gratitude to the university for its help and concluded with the hope that he would return often to the research park but on a warmer day.

Speaking for the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, Joseph Hogan said it was hard to realize that the idea for a research park had been just a hope not too long ago.

He told how the idea had been greeted with skepticism and said credit must go to the people who overcame all the obstacles.

President Layton said this was a very important day for Tecumseh Products and cited the need for communication between research and industry.

He expressed the belief that the new research center would make it possible to communicate ideas.

Mr. Herrick said he was looking forward to coming to Ann Arbor. He declared that all things start from a little idea and traced the development of the plan to build the research center.

CLINTON WOOLEN

CHATTER

By EL and FRIENDS

We have been conducting a little survey on how much knowledge people in the area have on merchandise being offered by various stores in the several towns and cities. The results are amazing, in that we found so many that did not know certain types of merchandise were available in not only one but a number of stores.

A few examples: Only one out of 10 could name over two stores where gift items are offered; there are more than 15 stores in the immediate area. In one nearby town we found 25 out of 30 did not know Clinton Woolen handled Cotton goods as well as Wool. Twelve parents in one city did not know that an old established store has a boy's department and all these parents have young boys.

It makes one wonder if advertising really reaches enough people. Perhaps we merchants should have a conducted shopping tour service so more people would be aware how much is really available locally.

Did you know that Clinton Woolen offers for spring and summer:

All-weather Coats
Sportswear of wide variety
Casual Wear
Lady Van Heusen Shirts
Over Blouses
Swimwear
Fabrics in Cotton, blends and wools and for the Man—
Sportcoats
All-weather Coats
Golf Slacks
Jackets
Sweaters and Shirts
Swimwear and many other items.

Take some time today and shop your local Area Stores, we will bet you will be surprised.

304.5-Mile Test Drive Proves Mercury has superior riding quality

We recently invited a Tecumseh man to test-drive one of our standard Mercurys when he had a short business trip that would require a couple of days. He picked up a Monterey Friday, returned it Monday with this report. We thought readers of The Herald would be interested in seeing what he had to say.

Spring was supposed to start Friday, but the weather just wasn't being cooperative. Snow and wind whipped the air as I got behind the wheel of the Mercury. This probably was as good as any day to start the test run, which George had suggested. After a few miles, spring suddenly was there after all — inside that Mercury. It rode great, smooth. Power steering made the usual driver fatigue melt away. The rear window, neatly angled inward, rolled open at the touch of a handy lever on the dash to bring in delightful wisps of fresh air. Even in that nasty weather, with wet pavement and slush, the Mercury cruised comfortably at 55 mph. The transistor radio, with rich tone, was a delightful companion through most of the 304.5-mile test drive. The two-day junket was made over a variety of roads, but much was on Michigan's fine expressway system. On Saturday, spring really arrived with sun, dry pavement traffic sparse. This was a chance to relax and give the Mercury full head. For one stretch of more than 100, I let her go. Most of the time, hardly realizing it, the car pushed up 90 and it seemed like about 65. I knew this would spoil my gasoline record, but it rode so beautifully at 70 and 75, I sailed along at this rate. At that, when we made the final mileage check, we discovered it ran at just a hair under 14 miles per gallon. Driving more moderately, this car will get 16 to 17 miles easily. The stability and riding quality of the car are superior.

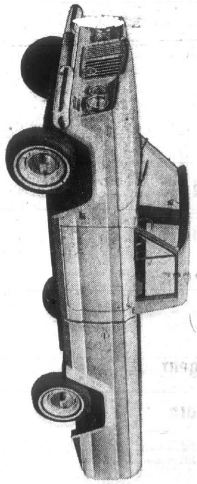
OOPS...
We did it again!



We're the first to admit that we build 2-wheel drive trucks differently from anyone else. You may call it building them backwards... or upside down... or even sideways. Whatever you choose to call it, it's a fact that we do build them differently. But we do it for a very good reason.

We do it because we think 2-wheel drive trucks should be just as rugged as 4-wheel drive trucks. So we start out by actually building a 4-wheel drive Jeep® Gladiator truck, but without the transfer case and front propeller shaft. Then we take the rear end of a 2-wheel drive Jeep® Gladiator truck with all the heavy duty components and suggestions of a 4-wheel drive truck.

Sure, it's doing things differently. But it results in a big bonus for the Gladiator owner... especially since prices are competitive, too.

Why not see your Jeep® dealer today and get all the facts.

LOCAL BUSINESS

The Want Ad section of a newspaper has an importantance far beyond its immediate service to the individual advertiser.

More than any other feature the Want Ad section is evidence that the newspaper is truly the "peoples' medium." The Want Ad puts the individual with a few dollars to invest in selling on an equal footing with a billion dollar corporation.

Nothing gives more insurance to the integrity and independence of newspapers than the thousands of individuals and small businesses which invest in Want Ads.

For Want Ads, like subscriptions, are repeated expressions of faith in the local newspaper by the whole public. They help to remove any question about the newspaper being unduly influenced by any special interests.

In fact throughout the country, there are many newspapers which could thrive on Want Ads and subscriptions alone. Before the development of modern display advertising all newspapers were thus supported.

But most people do not think about the contribution of Want Ads to a free press. They think of the section of unsurpassed convenience when they need to buy or sell anything from a used tricycle to a tractor. The general reader thinks of it as one of the most interesting parts of his hometown newspaper.

Or, as a Memphis advertising man said recently: "Want Ads appeal to the basic needs of people — housing, jobs, transportation."

"Want Ads get results because the things advertised are so specialized. Persons who want something usually can find exactly what they want in the classified columns."

Zoning of Hardy Property Changed in Unique Manner

A controversial zoning proposal to change the former Dr. P. B. Hardy property at the corner of W. Chicago at Pearl St. from "Residential A" to "Business and Professional" was settled — apparently satisfactorily to both factions Monday night by Council.

The Property, sought by Dr. Walter Elwartowski, chiropractor, was zoned Business and Professional except the north 10 feet of the lot.

Although the doctor had informed councilmen that he intended to use the side entrance to the home and place his business sign there, the new zoning will prohibit any sign on Chicago Blvd., in front of the property.

Many residents in the area had protested the zoning change at the March 2 meeting, fearing that Council would set a precedent, which would lead to commercial expansion on Chicago Blvd., west of Pearl.

In the past, others have attempted to locate business places on W. Chicago within Residential A zones and have been turned down by Council.

AFTERMATH OF THE GREAT STORM

Gertie's poor ducks, they will have to wait for another week. So much happened in the wake of the March 10th storm that it simply cannot be ignored. Even though when you read this article lawns will be starting to green up and early spring flowers could be in bloom, nevertheless I believe the memories of the great storm will be fresh.

First of all, Mother Nature showed us, that for all our smugness, she is still the boss.

We tend to become so self-satisfied and impressed with our own achievement; we shoot rockets to the moon, orbit men around the world and build extremely complex machines. Still at the slightest whim she can brew up a storm and absolutely clobber us.

We really aren't so important after all, are we?

The next thing the storm did was bring us much bird business. We were busy at the height of the blizzard but when things subsided, when the wind calmed down and the snow let up, then the bird watching the likes of which we hadn't seen all winter long.

As always happens when the snow comes, so do the cardinals. Nothing of course, could have made us happier — we love the red beauties.

☆

We were pleased to note two pair and rather surprised to see that they really were pairs.

It would never have done to show much devotion but there was a slight suggestion of awareness; both papas knew exactly where their lovely ladies were most of the time.

Another springy sight was offered by the stupid and ragged starlings. They flocked to the feeder, but fortunately, were skittish and easily frightened away.

But, did you realize that this color change starts at the base of the bill and works toward the tip?

How funny were the few who were in the middle of this phase; ever heard of two-tone bills?

It was fun to welcome back old faithfuls, who actually have not been too faithful this year.

Perky tufted titmice, a trio of the up-side-down nuthatches, bluejays, juncos and a couple of black and white striped downy woodpeckers.

The latter busied themselves at the suet but we were sorry there were no plump sunflower seeds for the others. They do so enjoy them.

☆

A STORM of this magnitude aways brings some firsts The one over which we were most thrilled was that finally, after waiting all winter, the two little song sparrows decided to dine on the feeder.

They are such cute little characters but frustratingly fond of 'ground eating'. Round birds — cuddly is a good description — their grayish white fronts are heavily striped with cinnamon brown markings and high in the middle sets a dark stick-pin-like dot.

Their backs are dark but also heavily streaked. Pretty, pleasant sparrows whom we wish would patronize the feeding stations oftener.

Her handsome boyfriend was lunching at the almost depleted pile of scratchfeed on the feeder so she takes herself up to the suet bell.

The footing was not good but somehow she managed to cling to the side — not only did she do this but, while picking out and eating the scratchfeed in the bell, she even kept the sparrows and nuthatches away.

So it is that while we will definitely tell you about Gertie's ducks next week, today I just had to bring you up-to-date on the aftermath of the great storm.

NEXT WEEK:
Really — Gertie's Ducks

School News from Tipton

News from the Tecumseh Library

Inspirational reading is worthwhile and most interesting any time of the year, but the Lenten season is an extra fine time to be reminded of the many fascinating books on religious subjects available at your library.

"Easter and Its Customs" by Christiana Hole traces the customs we take most for granted to their distant origins, often bringing to light unexpected and delightful connections between the old and the new.

The Bible is the central book of our civilization, and a continuous history of all its aspects throws light on that civilization as well as on the Bible itself.

"The Cambridge History of the Bible" is one of the finest of many scholarly and readable works on this subject.

"Jesus of Nazareth" by Joy Harrington is a simple story told as a consecutive narrative. This account of Jesus, boy and Teacher, takes advantage of many new facilities available to chroniclers today.

Mary Ellen Chase has the wonderful gift of kindling in others the fire of her own enthusiasm. Scholarship and skill are important ingredients, of course, but warm and direct communication to the mind and heart of the reader is paramount.

Two of her works are "The Bible and the Common Reader" and "The Psalms for the Common Reader."

Margaret Henrichsen loved the little white churches, so integral a part of the landscape of New England, so integral a part of the daily life of our forefathers. It grieved her that many of them were closed.

"Seven Steeples" is the story of how one woman ministered to seven churches and how a closed and cautious folk opened their hearts to her.

Faith and fellowship are no mere Sunday things in J. C. Penney's philosophy. As one of the most successful business men of our times, he has been inspiring in his personal example of courage, wisdom and service to his fellow men and to his God.

"Lines of a Layman" is his 24 hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week code of Christian living.

These are but a small sampling of the varied tapestry of such books awaiting your pleasure and inspirational profit.

Advice to car owners on how to get more in trade!

When they tell you it's not the first cost that counts, but the upkeep too —that's not the whole story either. Read on . . .

When you visit our showroom and chat with one of our salesmen you're really just talking with another car owner. There's not a man on our staff who isn't a car buyer himself, with the same interest in getting the most for his money as you. He knows your side of the story! And here it is . . .

First you want the best deal you can get when you buy.

He'll explain to you our Spring sale of '64 Comets and how it can save you lots of money right off the bat. It's merely a matter of sales volume. Comet sales are up — 131% over a year ago,* and still climbing. So we're keeping prices down at rock-bottom to keep our sales sky-high.

Next you want economy every mile you drive.

And don't think because a car saves you money by the mile that it's a "dog." Matter of fact, the '64 Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion (each member of a team went that distance recently at Daytona, averaging over 105 mph for the course!). The point is Comets have a host of built-in service-saving features to give economy new meaning!

And finally — you want the most in trade when the time comes.

Well — now we come to the happy ending of our story. For high resale is Comet's language! This one has the tradition of record high resale — one of the hottest items in demand on anybody's used car lot. Yessir, if you want to know how to get more in trade — start with a Comet in the first place!

And the very first place to come for that is our dealership — why not make it today?

*Same period '64 vs. '63.

Sixteen friends enjoyed an evening of games and dancing, after which a lunch was served from a buffet table decorated in pink and blue and centered with a birthday cake.

Mrs. Davenport was assisted by Carol's aunt, Mrs. Norma Hayford of Clinton.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Wisdom of Solomon

Tecumseh now stands on the verge of another enormous growth potential. In the offing are great opportunities—and plenty of pitfalls.

The wisdom of Solomon will soon have to become an everyday trait with government officials in our city and Raisin Township. Decisions of lasting importance on many matters will have to be made soon. If the right decisions are produced now, considerable heartache and unhappiness can be avoided in the future.

Careful zoning and building restrictions are going to be vital in the sure-to-happen housing and business boon destined to arise through the Tecumseh area. At all cost, government leaders must avoid jerry-built subdivisions and slapped-up retail stores.

In the current issues of LIFE magazine, there's a penetrating editorial entitled "The Creeping Junkyard." From it, we lift the conclusion, which pertains directly to the years ahead for our community.

"The list of factors contributing to what Blake (Author Peter Blake in his God's Own Junkyard) calls 'the planned deterioration of America's landscape' is long and discouraging—bad zoning laws, inadequate or nonexistent ordinances against outdoor advertising, building codes which encourage the construction of quick-money skyscrapers and suburban housing little better than delayed-action slums.

"This means a big, detailed and urgent job for Americans who still recognize the civilizing effect of beauty—natural and man-made—and feel strongly enough to want to keep what we have been given and create more."

Great Accomplishment

It was a wonderful season for Vic Lawson and his Tecumseh High School cagers. We'd like to add our praises.

It would have been grand had THS been able to upset River Rouge and go on to take the Class B crown. But the accomplishment of winning the district and regional tournaments then reaching the quarter-finals, is a momentous achievement.

To prove this point, we might note that the last time a Tecumseh team did so well in tourney action was 22 years ago. Seldom do squads climb the diamond-studded ladder to such state fame.

From another angle, we can state that Tecumseh was one of the 32 best basketball teams in Michigan—one of the eight best in Class B.

Nice to consider, too, is the fact that Coach Lawson will welcome back most of his band of talented lads from this season's squad.

To seniors Jerry Hebb, Clark Nichols and John Oberlin we say "Nice season, fellows, and good luck for the future."

'Don't Print That Story!'

(Editor's note — This is a guest editorial, which appeared recently in The Marshall Courier of Benton, Ky.

A Newspaper editor repeatedly hears remarks similar to "It would have been better if you hadn't printed that story," or "What good did it do to print such a story?"

It usually is heard when some unfavorable situation develops involving an individual or some event, organization or even a community.

Usually such criticism stems from the same individuals who seek and accept favorable publicity whenever the occasion warrants and sometimes when it doesn't.

Some say no worthwhile good is accomplished when a respected citizen is drawn into a court test. We submit, however, that it proves that the laws are made for everyone, that nobody rates immunity.

The "unfavorable publicity" charge was heard in previous years during polio epidemics and during floods when some individuals thought the press was doing irreparable damage by reporting the facts.

We believe, however, that an informed public is by far the best policy. There is no greater enemy to rumor and exaggeration.

This newspaper cannot be an "all is peachy" type publication which reports only the favorable occurrences and overlooks anything which might tend to be unfavorable to some.

A newspaper is a mirror which reflects the activities of a community and sometimes, perhaps, that mirror will become clouded.

We believe these policies, maintained and fostered through the years, formulate an adequate reply to critics who object to newspapers publishing some news events as they occur.

Students Enjoy Varied Activities

By BOB SCHOENING
Special Herald Writer at MSU

Looking ahead to college seems to scare many high school seniors. This could be because they think that college is the place where you work hard most of the day — or else flunk out.

It's not the case in the majority of colleges and universities, certainly not at Michigan State.

MSU offers a great variety of activities to students who want to have some fun and gain new experiences while at college in addition to regular academic routines.

There are more than 30 fraternities and more than 20 sororities on campus, as well as many clubs and societies.

Students with interests in politics can join the Young Democrats or Young Republicans. Those with artistic talents can become members of music or art clubs.

It is not advisable to join a club of every kind, for that might be a little too time consuming. After all, a certain amount of hours should be left for studies.

Tecumseh students at MSU lead varied lives while at college. During their stay here they have joined clubs and societies and are keeping busy with extra curricular activities.

☆

HERE'S A QUICK survey of some.

► Doris E. Oliphant, 21, of 412 N. Maiden Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant, is graduating on March 13 as a secretarial administration major.

She is president of Phi Gamma Nu, professional business sorority, and a member of Phi Beta Lambda, a coed business society. Next term she will student-teach shorthand, typing and bookkeeping at Henry Ford High School in Detroit.

Doris transferred to MSU from the University of Colorado in her sophomore year. She would like to travel after her student-teaching job and try to get a job in Europe.

☆

► Fred Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dickinson, 514 W. Pottawatamie St., a freshman majoring in pre-med, is a member of the MSU marching band, playing the clarinet. The MSU band plays at all home football games and at two away games, under the sponsorship of Oldsmobile. The band has 160 members.

► Tim Sisson is in athletic activities. He is the son of Mrs. Helen Sisson, 200 Chippewa St., and Sam Sisson, 102 W. Pottawatamie St.

Tim has been active in intramural sports and is planning to play freshman baseball this coming spring. He is 18 years old, a no preference major and has a B-plus scholastic average.

► Deborah Holden, a freshman majoring in French, daughter of Mrs. Laine Holden, 208 S. Union, Tecumseh, has also been bitten by the sorority bug. Debbie is pledging Alpha Chi Omega, also is the sports chairman of her dorm precinct.

► Bob Dick, 21, a senior majoring in psychology, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Dick, 215 Democrat St., is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and has been chapter secretary. Bob has a 3.1 average out of a possible 4.0.

Bob is graduating in June and plans to go to graduate school after leaving MSU.

► Lee Britton, most different of all Tecumseh students at MSU, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Bill Britton, now residents of Lansing. Lee, 22, is a senior majoring in zoology and pre-med. He is different than others because he is a married student.

Last fall he married Harriet Blanden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Blanden of Tecumseh. They live in one of the married housing villages on campus. Lee says married housing at State is comfortable. He reports it is relaxed and friendly — probably the friendliest part of the university.

Everybody is in the same situation in married housing, and therefore, everybody helps their neighbors.

Married housing is quiet and conducive to studying.

Lee is a member of Beta Beta Beta, international biological honorary. For two years he was a resident assistant in one of the men's dorms. He was also in dorm government and participated in intramural sports.

With a B average, he is planning to go to medical school next year. His main choices are Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

These are only a few of the activities that go on on campus every day. MSU has lots to offer to the student who wants to become educated in more ways than one. There are activities for every interest, every personality.

Girl Scouters Plan Calendar for Coming Months

The calendar of activities for the coming months was presented to members of the Tecumseh Girl Scout Neighborhood at the meeting March 19 at the Scout Cabin.

Training dates for various phases were given. One of interest on Arts and Crafts will be given April 7 at West Adrian Congregational Church. Women desiring transportation will contact Mrs. John Robinson.

Plans for Camp O' the Hills activities are underway for Cadettes May 1, 2, and 3 and for Juniors May 29 and 30.

Mrs. Donald Creger announced that results of the Algerian project were overwhelming. Tecumseh sent 69 kits including five blankets.

Mrs. Maurice Tuckey has accepted the position of Day Camp Director for camp to be held in this area June 22-26.

A display and demonstration for the Kiwanis Fair April 3, 4, and 5 was planned with Mrs. Creger and Mrs. Tuckey as chairman. Mrs. Harry Withrow will be in charge of the booth.

Leaders welcomed the approved addition to the Scout Cabin and are thinking of ways to support the project.

With the differences between today's cars, it isn't enough merely to check price tags. Here are other things to look for . . .

You're in the market for a compact, let's say. You shop the showrooms and look at a few price stickers. In no time at all you discover prices are pretty much the same, regardless of make. Okay, what's your next step in making a sound choice? (Actually we've over-simplified, because the '64 Comet is priced below 5 out of 6 competitive models.)

How about resale value?
Here's an item that can save you lots of money! The trade-in value — the amount you get back at trade-in time — really determines how much a car costs you. And only Comet in its class has such an outstanding record for high resale. On this count COMET COSTS LESS!

Let's not forget operating economy!
It's in the record books: Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion! That spells economy — staying power — the ability to go and go and go (with little more than routine care) 1000 grueling hours at average speeds over 105 mph — as a team of '64 Comets did at Daytona to set a stack of new records. And every Comet in our showroom has the built-in service-savers that can save you money mile after mile. On this count, too, we say COMET COSTS LESS!

So there you have it — Comet all the way. Lower first cost than 5 out of 6 competing models. Championship durability and economy of operation. Proved high resale. Figure them all in the price and it adds up to one big fact: COMET COSTS LESS!

Stop by this week. We'll be glad to show you the savings on paper!

Terrific Tournament Finish for Tories

Winning a state basketball championship is a monumental project. It takes a combination of talent, top-flight coaching—and luck. To do the job two years running is an almost impossible accomplishment. But the Britton-Macon Tories went "all the way" twice. With veterans like Pepper Griewahn, Ron Mastie and Phil Benedict, all starters on the 1962-'63 championship unit, Coach Sam Hamilton had a fine nucleus on which to build for the drive to repeat in 1963-'64. He added Verl Sanch, Roger Bortel and Walt Korican, came up with a fine, hard-going club. Britton lost only one game this year, to Class B Dundee, but Coach Hamilton remarked later, "It was that loss that made us a ball team." The Tories swept through to another River Raisin League crown, then methodically stepped past district, regional, quarter-final, semi-final and final opponents. Along the way, the Tories bounced Port Huron St. Stephen, which had won 20 straight games and was ranked No. 1 in the state. Covert was a tough foe in the quarters, falling, 67-58. Barryton couldn't match the torrid shooting by Britton in the semi-final, losing, 78-56. Baraga had a great crew, especially in sharp-eyed Larry Kangas, who sank 32 points to tie the Class D state final scoring mark before fouling out.

Britton Bumps Top-Rated Five

By TOM RIORDAN

Fresh from chopping down the state's No. 1 rated Class D team, Sam Hamilton's Britton Tories run into a tall Covert squad Wednesday at 7:30 at Marshall High School. Lights of the nearby village will be out that evening as the entire population follows their beloved hoopsters.

Britton fans were thrilled last week as the Tories nipped top-ranked Port Huron St. Stephen, 74-70, to grab the regional title.

Britton hopes to do the near-impossible — win a second straight state championship — and the Tories are three steps away from their dream.

But dreams are shattered in final seconds of play and that could be the case against Covert of Van Buren County, which knocked off Coldwater St. Charles, 51-50, to reach the semi-finals.

Coach Hamilton, whose career record is an amazing 85 and 20, scouted Covert, paced by a high-jumping 6'6" center and several other good rebounders.

Britton Crushes Barryton, Gains Class B Final

EAST LANSING, Mich., March 21 — Britton High will be a big favorite to repeat as Michigan's Class B basketball champion this afternoon when it meets Baraga.

Tipoff is at 3 p.m. in the 12,000-capacity Michigan State University field house and a full house is expected.

Here comes All-state Phil Benedict for an easy doggie, gently easing up his shot to the basket. Back at guard is Walt Korican (33) with Verl Sanch (55) edging up in case Phil might miss. Baraga's Steve Putala (14) seems pretty certain he won't.

But, oh, that torrid third quarter. Everything went right for coach Sam Hamilton's hustling crew as they poured through 25 points to Covert's 13.

Phil Benedict got few shots the opening 16 minutes and scored but one goal. In the final two periods he dumped in 17 to provide the big push and finished with 19 for the night.

Ron Mastie and Pepper Griewahn, both with 17 tallies, mostly on long one-handers, were tremendous. Ron, the smallest Tory, picked off a half dozen key rebounds.

Chemical Plant Gets Green Light

Official announcement that Stauffer Chemical Company will build a multi-million dollar plant on Sutton Rd., three miles south of Tecumseh, will be made Thursday morning in Adrian.

A. R. Anderson, vice president of Stauffer and head of its Anderson Chemical Division, has called a press conference, apparently for the announcement purpose.

The decision to build here follows 10 days of frantic efforts by the Adrian-Area Industrial Corporation to reach a settlement between Stauffer and two Blissfield canneries.

Such a settlement reportedly has been reached, and a go-ahead signal from the canners has assured the Tecumseh and Adrian area of the new industry.

Last week, through cooperation of Tecumseh and Adrian municipalities, the possibility of Stauffer disposing of industrial wastes into River Raisin was practically eliminated.

Both communities, from August 1 to Nov. 15 each year for 10 years, have guaranteed that they would assume responsibility for industrial wastes — calcium chloride — and relieve the river from any acid during the canning season, if necessary.

The wastes have been upgraded for marketing to steel companies, and unless there's a steel strike, calcium chloride will then be sold as a by-product.

The economic impact on this area should be astounding.

Stauffer plans to employ upwards of 700 and construct a pilot plant worth about $6 million. Projected growth of the company here entails facilities in five years worth about $20 million.

If supplying companies come in to the immediate area, as now contemplated, employment relative to Stauffer could easily top 1,000 in a couple of years.

Employment at GM's new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant will reach 1,000 starting next year. When the Stauffer plant is completed in the summer of 1965, employment in the Sutton and Occidental Rd. area should be well over 2,000.

COME IN — Don Smith shows off the newly-remodeled and enlarged rear entrance to his restaurant, Don's Beef Buffet. See Long and Short for details.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

King Arthur had a round table. Now so do the Don Smiths in their beef buffet.

Seating eight, it is located in a newly-enlarged section of their eating establishment and is just one of the additions and chances recently completed in a major improvement program.

The entire kitchen had been enlarged and modernized. It's always open for inspection, says the Smiths proudly.

Rest rooms have been relocated and redone. A complete new rear entrance, with a long coat rack its entire length, matching the ones in the front side, handles folks coming in the back way.

The history of this exceptional restaurant makes fascinating reading.

The Smiths came to Tecumseh in 1953, after operating a small eating place in Manchester. They bought out the Cozy Cafe and almost immediately began making improvements.

It wasn't long before they had built a solid reputation as top-flight preparers of tasty food. Their staff of waitresses was constantly on the move trying to keep ahead of the bustling traffic.

When Mr. and Mrs. George French, who ran a grocery store next to the original Don's Grill, decided to quit business, the Smiths purchased that building. This is where they are presently located.

Mr. Smith advised stripping off the old plaster and using the original brick wall on one side, then covering the other with burlap.

Being interested in art, the Smiths invited Russell Steinke and his students to display their works on the walls of the new location. This move also brought favorable comment from clients.

In order to offer the fastest service possible, the Smiths went to the buffet service idea, with waitresses meeting customers at the end of the line and taking trays to the tables.

Another unique idea was to retain the Frenchs' meat chopping block, which is still a feature of the decorations, located in the middle of the dining room.

But there was one serious problem, the kitchen. It wasn't

ARTIST'S RENDERING OF NEW LENAWEE INSTITUTE SPECIAL EDUCATION SCHOOL, MADE POSSIBLE WITH GIFT OF $150,000

NEW PAINTINGS FOR DON'S BEEF — Russell Steinke and his art students will be hanging 16 new oils and pastels at Don's Beef Buffet in conjunction with an open house there this Thursday. Three of the works will be by Mr. Steinke, who is also going to have a one-man show at Les Galleries de Renee in Grosse Pointe Park beginning Sunday, April 19

Special Ed Complex Will Be Among Finest in Nation

With a gift of $150,000, a whole new concept in Special Education for Lenawee County handicapped children will begin next fall.

To be called the Lenawee Institute, it eventually will be a complex of buildings on a 40-acre site along Sutton Rd., adjoining the present Sutton School, where Special Ed classes have been held for several years.

The donation, from a "friend of education", will build the first facility, a one-story, modern school of 10,000 square feet.

It will contain five classrooms for handicapped youths, a multi-purpose room, shop and home-making rooms.

According to County Supt. Milton Porter, who announced the plan at a meeting in Tecumseh Country Club last week, "Physically, mentally, culturally and emotionally deprived youngsters can learn skills, which will enable them to live, socialize and perhaps secure employment under a sheltered atmosphere."

Already, some of the more advanced Special Education students are able to work part-time with Goodwill Industries in Adrian.

Mr. Porter said that the Special Education has lacked space and equipment, materials and facilities.

He pointed out Special Ed's basic goal: "An education program for all children, regardless of individual differences, mental and physical handicaps."

Lynn Marvin, who directs Special Education, added "This will be only the beginning to a new and dynamic educational program for all children regardless of individual differences. This will be the first of its kind in Michigan and one of the most outstanding in the United States.

Under present conditions, 45 youths now attend classes at Sutton School, which is basically a 100-year-old rural structure, re-

Letty Wins Mention

Letty Ringman was among the eight honorable mention winners in the 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Michigan contest.

Sharon Anne Masters of Garden City will receive the $1500 scholarship from General Mills as first place winner among the 18,683 senior girls in 534 of the state's high schools.

Miss Ringman's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Ringman, said Tuesday, "I'm real proud of her. She takes over when I am away, getting a meal or cleaning, whatever is necessary. She is good at making decisions."

Lapeer County Press columnist Anzio Jackson says the American tastes are changing, including the field of entertainment, noting:

"Live plays have become so popular and community theatres in many, many towns have become so successful, that even villages like Clark Lake, near Jackson, can support a full summer season of amateur theatrics and hire from Broadway a fully professional director." Then he adds, "At least the fellow they had out there says he was on Broadway."

Here's a little poem that the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jerome V. MacEachin, pastor of East Lansing's St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church, gives visitors.

When I was young my slippers were red
And I could kick my heels way over my head.
When I got older my slippers were blue
And I could dance the whole night through.
Now that I'm old my slippers are black
When I go to the corner I puff my way back.
This is how I knew my youth is spent
'Cause my get up and go has got up and went.

Talk about lucky. Mrs. Marvin Nelson won four times at an Easter Raffle.

Confusing! Confusing! It was June Stoner who was first to identify the picture of the block on Patterson School, not June Stone.

Members of the Methodist Church confirmation class attended Mass at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church recently to learn about a fellow Christian religion's method of worship.

Don't make it difficult. Tecumseh telephone patrons can call Tipton simply by dialing the party's number. No special code or access number is required, just the listed number from the directory. Likewise calls from Tipton to Tecumseh and Adrian are made the same way. Easy does it.

We're delighted to see that Elly Peterson is going to run for Congress.

Coinkeydinky. Some say coincidence. It happens that Del King's nephew's girl friend donates her time to a blood center in Detroit. She also happened to process blood designated for open heart surgery. Patient— David King. She was unaware of the little King boy completely until she happened to visit in her fiance's home the same week. Mrs. Robert Sutliff, of Detroit is Del's sister and mother of his nephew. David is coming fine. He was home last week-end, returning to the University Medical Center March 24.

Republican out-state chairman for the Michigan committee, Jerry Roe, will be speaking to Tecumseh precinct workers this month.

Sixty boys and girls sang Easter Mass at St. Elizabeth in one of the most outstanding vocal renditions ever heard at the local Catholic Church. Directing the youngsters was Sister Angelica, OP, with Sister Carmen Joseph, OP, and Sister Maureen Terese, OP, also playing important parts. How about a public concert with these young people, Sisters?

Dick Birdwell, 18-year-old senior at Tecumseh High School, offers a challenge to anyone who can out-eat him. Saturday evening he hopped in to Meadowridge Dairy and quickly downed a banana split, hot fudge sundae, double-dip cone, bottle of Seven-Up, two bags of potato chips and three glasses of water. The split took exactly one minute and 30 seconds to disappear, reports Mary Blumerick, who was on duty. Beth O'Neil and Jim Cubberly also witnessed the feat. Dick said he was sorry he'd have to leave — so he wouldn't be late for dinner.

Jack Curtiss rigged up a basket on his garage so that son Jackie could learn the game. To date, daughter Trudy is the family sensation. Ten feet out on the left side, Trudy can flip in baskets all afternoon. In games with neighborhood boys, Trudy is usually the high scorer. Be patient, Jackie, maybe you'll get a chance next year.

Coming up, 135th anniversary celebration for the Tecumseh Methodist Church. The Herald set up an unique picture session immediately following the 9:30 a.m. service Easter. The idea was to get the entire congregation strung across Chicago Blvd., with the church in the background. At the appointed hour, things got a mite hectic. Seems about every church in town was getting out at the same time and the boulevard was clogged with traffic.

River Raisin League awards assembly will be held in Britton-Macon High School Wednesday, April 6 at 2 p.m.

When Ken Blumerick ordered 20 gallons of a special ice cream last week, he told the world about it with a Herald ad. By Saturday night, the stuff was sold.

DAVID DAY SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS — Winners of the David Day Scholarship have been selected. Tim Dickinson, trombone, will go to Interlochen summer camp this year. too functional and patrons who parked behind the restaurant came right through it when entering. Furthermore, the floor was higher in the rear portion and a ramp was required.

When the Smiths' next door neighbor, clothier Harold Green, announced that he was going to expand to the north, the Smiths decided this would be a good time to do some expanding themselves, with emphasis on a new kitchen area.

Well, the job is complete — round table and all — and Edna and Don are going to have an open house this Thursday evening. Everyone is invited for rolls and coffee from 7:30 to 10:30.

An art showing has also been arranged, with the talented Mr. Steinke and his students introducing 16 new paintings and pastels.

The Smiths are also going to provide organ music by Mike Dempsey of Adrian, not only Thursday, but Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday from noon until 5:30. Mr. Dempsey has played in Las Vegas and at the Rock Inn of Adrian.

If patrons enjoy the organ music, Edna and Don will probably retain it as a permanent feature.

All of which shows that you don't have to be one of King Arthur's Knights to sit at the round table. Just drop in on Edna and Don.

Another 15 students are in Prairie School.

Due to the lack of space, about 24 other handicapped youths are on a waiting list to enter the special program.

The new building will have a capacity of 100 and should be ready in early fall.

Mr. Porter said, "This new program represents one of the finest additions to education in Lenawee County over the past 25 years."

At the announcement session, attended by education leaders, township and county officials, Mr. Marvin lauded the donor as "a Christian who believes that no matter what a child's race, creed, religion or heritage, whether or not handicapped, he should receive an education which is consistent with his needs."

Dickinson Wins Day Scholarship

Tim Dickinson was awarded first place in the try-outs for the David Day Scholarship and Darrell Beal, second place.

Lisa Pence was named the alternate.

Both Darrell and Lisa are seventh grade students.

The scholarship pays two thirds of the cost of the first-place winner to an Interlochen Music Camp summer session and one-half of the cost of the second-place winner to another summer music school.

The scholarship was started in 1961 by friends of David Day in his memory.

Twenty percent of all earnings of the Band Boosters Club are given to the fund and members of the Boosters hope that in future years it will grow until several children may be offered summer school session.

DOUG HOOTON

Grandma Speechless at News

"Grandma couldn't even talk", said Gale Hooton Friday as he told The Herald about the appointment of his son, Doug Hooton, as a European regional manager of five countries for Ingersol Rand Corp.

Happy about the promotion, but upset to think of the three little Hooton children, Kimberly, Scott and Mark, going to Germany for three years, Esther lost her voice.

Doug left Sunday to go to Dusseldorf, Germany, where he will have four weeks to find a residence for his family and make other preparations for his new work.

Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Austria are the other countries under his jurisdiction.

Doug is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and General Motors Technical School at Flint.

His wife and children will spend the next month with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Hooton, 110 S. Division St., before going by boat to Germany.

Youth Evangelist and Missionary to Talk at Church

Dale Van Steenis, Youth Evangelist of Detroit, will be the guest speaker Sunday at the Assembly of God, 210 W. Bidwell. He will present the message for both morning and evening services.

The Rev. Harold Speer also announced Wednesday that a missionary to Africa will speak at the Assembly of God Wednesday, April 8, at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Edgar M. Louton, recently returned from Basutoland, a British Colony in Southern Africa, will tell of his work among the Basuto tribe — people among whom ritual murder is still practiced.

The Rev. Speer invited the public to this mission service. Slides, curios and native costumes will be shown.

4 Senior Scouts Going to Chicago

They are Vicki Brees, Sandra Keith, Sue Kennel and Becky Gunder. Mrs. Harvey Carpenter is the leader of Troop 110.

The 38 member group includes 34 seniors from Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee Counties. Christina Bjork, an exchange student at Addison High School, and three chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Spiess and Mrs. B. G. Grout.

Their itinerary includes staying at the Palmer House Hotel, visiting the Shedd Aquarium, Chinatown, Art Museum, Museum of Science, Industry, Prudential Building and viewing an evening play.

The trip will be partially financed by the money earned from the Senior Carnival held last January.

Miss Duvall is a senior at Jackson High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elven Duvall, former Tecumseh residents.

Cub Scouts 'Mardi Gras'

"Mardi Gras" was the theme of the March 23 meeting of Cub Scouts of Pack 4 at St. Elizabeth's school.

Cubs receiving awards were:

Ron Randall, bear badge.
Jeff Berry, bear badge.
Tom Pritchard, gold arrow.
Jeff Mullins, gold arrow.
David Durke, denner stripe.
Mike Bates, assistant denner stripe.

Announcement was made that the next pack meeting will be held April 27 when chalk pictures will be awarded to the Cubs.

The den mothers' meeting will be held April 7 and the Webelos den will continue to meet every evening at 6:30 at the Cabin, except on pack meeting nights.

Tickets for the coming Scout-O-Rama to be held at the Adrian Armory April 10 and 11 were distributed.

The Wolverine Council Executive committee has asked Scouts to participate in collecting clothing, shoes and other repairable household articles for Goodwill Industries.

The project to do a good turn for handicapped people will be conducted between April 18 and 25.

Why 3 or 4 when One will do

Your home and your family can all get protection in the newest Home-Gard homeowners policy. There's no need anymore to have separate policies for Fire, Windstorm, Burglary or Liability. A Michigan Mutual Liability Home-Gard policy combines all the insurance it used to take three or four policies to cover...and it gives you this broad protection at Mutual savings. Insure this modern, cost reducing way, call this agency for details.

With the differences between today's cars, it isn't enough merely to check price tags. Here are other things to look for . . .

You're in the market for a compact, let's say. You shop the showrooms and look at a few price stickers. In no time at all you discover prices are pretty much the same, regardless of make. Okay, what's your next step in making a sound choice? (Actually we've over-simplified, because the '64 Comet is priced below 5 out of 6 competitive models.)

How about resale value?
Here's an item that can save you lots of money! The trade-in value — the amount you get back at trade-in time — really determines how much a car costs you. And only Comet in its class has such an outstanding record for high resale. On this count COMET COSTS LESS!

Let's not forget operating economy!
It's in the record books: Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion! That spells economy — staying power — the ability to go and go and go (with little more than routine care) 1000 grueling hours at average speeds over 105 mph — as a team of '64 Comets did at Daytona to set a stack of new records. And every Comet in our showroom has the built-in service-savers that can save you money mile after mile. On this count, too, we say COMET COSTS LESS!

So there you have it — Comet all the way. Lower first cost than 5 out of 6 competing models. Championship durability and economy of operation. Proved high resale. Figure them all in the price and it adds up to one big fact: COMET COSTS LESS!

Stop by this week. We'll be glad to show you the savings on paper!

Mrs. John Cameron explained various cuts of meat and the proper preparation of each for five members of the Tecumseh Inquirers Extension Study Group recently.

She also stated that sometimes the more expensive cuts prove to be the most economical.

The April 21 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Turk.

THE KIDS SCRAMBLED (A FEW EGGS TOO) AS THEY RAMBLED AFTER EGGS AT THE ANNUAL EASTER EGG HUNT

Snow Can't Stop Easter Egg Hunt

Snow covered most of the 3,600 colored Easter eggs Monday afternoon before the children arrived to gather them up from Recreation Field about 5 p.m.

However, it soon melted.

Only about 200 youngsters turned out for the hunt, which had been postponed from Saturday due to a blizzard.

Prizes were provided by donations from Bill Rumpf, Mrs. Donald Williams, Bill Fetty, George Milosh, Earl Harrisons, Lonal Bishops, Ira Smith and the Hanna Insurance Agency.

They were awarded to children in four different age groups:

UNDER FOUR

Large stuffed rabbit — Bret DesErmia.

FOUR, FIVE AND SIX

Five Dollars — Doug Gilpin.

One Dollar — Lynn Peck, David Revesz and John Sisty.

Live Rabbit — Sharon Pistole and David Revesz.

Basket — Doug Jackowski.

SEVEN AND EIGHT

Five dollars — Jim Mdreum, Terri Fetty, Bobby Cook, Maurineen O'Brien and Kevin Mack.

Live rabbit — Danny Shaffer.

Basket — Frank Stanley.

NINE AND TEN

Live rabbit — Marieta Jacobs and Bill Macbeth.

Five Dollars — Vivian Revesz.

Basket — Debbie Radar.

Lonal Bishop, chairman for the Fraternal Order of the Eagles, sponsor of the hunt, expressed gratitude to all those who helped and especially for the emergency wagon and speaker used on the field.

Auxiliary Will Have Spaghetti Dinner Social

Jaycee Auxiliary met last Wednesday at City Hall with 20 members and three guests, Mrs. William Geissler, Mrs. Charles Robinson and Mrs. Robert O'Neill, present.

Mrs. Donald Moffatt was welcomed as a new member.

The spaghetti dinner social will be held at Tecumseh Grange April 25 for Jaycees and wives. Mrs. Clifford Bird is chairman.

Monday, March 23, Mrs. Richard Creswell was elected district vice-president at the spring district meeting in Saline March 23.

A donation of $10 was made to the Lenawee Cancer Foundation in memory of Mrs. Richard Kingsbury, president of Adrian Jaycee Auxiliary, who passed away recently.

Mrs. Donald Stoner is chairman of the penny pitch to be run at the Jaycee carnival this year.

Mrs. Dyke Helms is chairman of the baby contest.

Easter favors were made for Herrick Memorial Hospital after the meeting with committee chairman Mrs. Dougles Dunn directing.

Hostess Mrs. Walter Wonderly and co-hostesses Mrs. John Day and Mrs. Marvin Stotler served refreshments.

Teen Club To Collect

Mrs. Dwight Helms, chairman of the Easter Seal drive in the Tecumseh area, announced Tuesday that the Teen Club members will be in the downtown area this weekend.

Money placed in the canisters carried by the young people will be used for the Crippled Children's fund.

The Jaycee Auxiliary has completed addressing envelopes to residents in the Tecumseh and Britton area.

Baptist Youths Sing at Easter

The Youth Choir of the Missionary Baptist Church added much to the Easter worship service.

They opened the service singing "Search Me Oh God" from the 139 Psalm.

Fourteen members of the group are under the direction of Mrs. Calvin Dixon, Jr. with Mrs. Lyle Hayford, pianist.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Impact To Be Tremendous

For the second time within a three-week period, Tecumsehites have learned of a second industrial establishment in our area.

The impact of General Motors and Stauffer Chemical Co. coming here will be tremendous, one that will affect the lives of everyone here, including our children.

A silicone division of Stauffer Chemical has been long in jelling. In fact, far too long and without real justification, it seems to many.

We in Tecumseh can not heap enough praise on the Adrian-Area Industrial Development Corporation, nor on Tecumseh Mayor Harold Easton, who worked with our neighbors for locating the new chemical plant on Sutton Rd.

Their selfless, untiring efforts against tremendous opposition has proven worthwhile

When officials in Blissfield seemed certain to bar Stauffer Chemical from locating three miles south of Tecumseh, the Adrian corporation and Mayor Easton did not give up.

We, along with thousands of others in Tecumseh, welcome both GM and Stauffer Chemical and credit the Adrian-Area Industrial Development Corporation for a truly outstanding accomplishment.

Boost for Special Ed

Certainly we all can rejoice in the news of the vital new turn in Lenawee County's Special Education program, with thanks to a Tecumseh man.

The move has been hailed as "the finest thing to happen in public education" during the past quarter of a century. A broad statement, but when one analyzes the situation, it might be concluded that even it is too mild.

As The Herald has written before in discussing Special Education — which puts mentally and physically handicapped children into the classroom — this all is relatively new.

"In the olden days," the family with a child not like all the others felt a stigma. The inclination was to shunt the unfortunates into a dark room and try to forget them.

People simply didn't understand that these children had feelings and desires.

Educators have done a tremendous service to mankind by helping lift this cloak of darkness that hovered over the handicapped. They established programs whereby these youngsters might come together with expert teachers and learn like their fellows.

In Lenawee, this concept has grown magnificently in the past few years and we're proud that in the Tecumseh area, at the old Sutton School, offers the most prominent example of Special Education and how it has been nurtured and seen to grow.

Now comes the gift of $150,000 to build an all-new Special Education structure on a 40-acre plot next to the present building. Eventually, there will be a complex of classrooms, fashioned campus-style.

We applaud this move and the gift which is helping make it possible. —TAR

Bronson Enjoys Reputation

Over in Bronson, a town of less than 5,000, they're justly proud of a reputation earned over the years — "the lowest juvenile delinquency rate for any city of its size in Michigan."

This statement was made in the February issue of The Peace Officer, which carried the following poem, written by a teenager. Tecumseh Police Chief Murell Clark thought Herald readers might be interested

My Midnight Drag with Hank Revere

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of my midnight drag with Hank Revere.
I was stopped at the red light with my 406,
Runnin' 3 two barrels and a four speed stick.

I glanced in my mirror and coming up behind
Was a loud, red Chevy—409.
I waited a second after the light turned green
And he whipped up beside me kinda mean.

He rolled down his window and looked at my flags
Then yelled real loud, "Ya wanna drag"?
I told him, "no, least not much."
But when he yelled "Go", I popped the clutch.

I was still burnin' rubber when I hit second gear
And the roar of that engine was all I could hear.
That Ford had a lot with my foot on the floor
But that Chevy beside me had a little more.

So I skipped third and went on to high
And that Chevy sounded mean when I went by.
In the speed of a second he shifted, too,
And I could see right then we weren't through.

Up ahead was a stop sign, he didn't stop and neither did I;
And I heard him [illegible] as we went by.
I knew it was then that this race would end
With the Fuzz behind and ahead a sharp bend.

As he entered the curve he started to slide
And as he tore through that light pole
Hank Revere died.
Now this story has a moral that's plain to see
Don't drag on the highway, or you'll be in a cell like me.

Consumers 'Team' Helped GM Select Tecumseh Location

SECOND SECTION

TECUMSEH HERALD

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1964

Special to The Herald

General Motors officials have credited the Consumers Power Co. area development specialists with helping GM find and acquire large sites at Tecumseh and Kalamazoo for new plants.

The GM executives in both cases said that Consumers was contacted to handle preliminary details in connection with the plant locations.

The Consumers men also, the GM people pointed out, kept the identity of the real buyers a close secret, did not even reveal it to city and county officials who had to be dealt with on preliminary matters like sewer and water facilities.

It was possible for the Consumers people to do this, one GM executive indicated, because they have the confidence of the local officials, industrial development people and Chambers of Commerce.

"When Consumers is working on something like this," a Consumers man added, "people are generally content to trust us and our discretion."

☆

Horace L. Brewer, director of area development for Consumers Power, says he sometimes feels like a secret agent — because he sometimes is.

But Brewer's sweatshirt doesn't have an "007" on it. (That's the number James Bond, fictional British secret agent in the Ian Fleming best sellers, sports.

Nor do Brewer and his department associates wear wigs and other disguises. His associates, headquartered with him at the company's general offices in Jackson, are James O. Coates and William L. McClelland, both area development engineers.

They work quietly and usually entirely without publicity of any kind.

Other associates of Mr. Brewer's, are Consumers' division managers and their staff members all over Lower Michigan, who team with his department on area development matters when necessary.

☆

IN THE RECENT General Motors' site activity, the power company's general office people in Jackson supplied facts and talent to help gather the information GM needed and helped with local contacts.

"It is a big advantage to us to have all reasonable facilities of the entire company at our disposal to help a prospect," Mr. Brewer said.

"People from both large and small industries see us on plant locations problems because they know we have access to the facts and figures they need from all over our area.

"We supply electric and gas service in 65 of the 68 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula. That means that a plant site hunt, once it has led a prospect to Michigan, is apt to end up in our service area.

"We boost the entire area, naturally, and when the hunt gets down to specific needs — like water or underground salt deposits and so on — the prospect has to decide for himself.

"All we can do is gather the facts he needs, and I don't mind saying that we gather the facts from all over the area we serve.

"In some cases a prospect arrives in our office with his mind all made up about location and asks our help in obtaining a site because he doesn't want a land price war facing him.

"In the old days, you know, as soon as the locale of a new plant was announced land prices skyrocketed and speculators would come from miles away to get into the act, Mr. Brewer stated.

☆

HOW DO CONSUMERS people work with a prospective new industry?

"Every case is special," Brewer said. "We obtain some prospects from calls we make all across the country and others come in to see us.

"Once real interest is shown, we begin to live with the prospect.

"Sometimes he's with us when we visit various locations, but often he visits these on his own, looks at things we've told him about, such as sites. Every company is interested in churches, schools, museums, libraries — all the so-called little things which are really indicative of the standards of a specific community.

"We cannot violate the confidence of the prospect in these matters as it would hurt the prospect's own company if it became known that some town had lost out in a site hunt.

"There is never a simple answer to the question of why one town was chosen over another," Brewer added.

For this reason Consumers people emphasize the positive in their promotion of Michigan and stand ready, through their area development department to gather all the facts a prospects needs, thoroughly and quietly—without fanfare.

"It's a confidential service of the company, on behalf of everyone in outstate Michigan," Mr. Brewer noted.

☆

LOCAL CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE, individual development groups, state agencies and others all help in the fact gathering and in informing prospects.

"If we ever told a prospect something about an area that was not true, or even proved to be exaggerated, our usefulness in this business would end," he said.

"We maintain an objective attitude toward all our area, which we think pays off."

This is one reason why for many weeks at a time, the name Consumers doesn't reach the public in connection with area development work.

"We have to do our job where it really does the good — with the prospect, not with the public," Mr. Brewer added. "That's the way of successful area development work."

New Draft Rule Orders Check-Up of 18-Year Olds

A new draft rule issued by President Johnson which directs Selective Service to examine draft registrants at 18 will have many Tecumseh area young men taking tests at Fort Wayne this summer.

The new rule will apply to all new registrants who are out of school and otherwise available for service.

"The new draft rule is not designed to find out who is qualified for military service, but to find out who is not.

"The purpose of the program is to see that the boys are better qualified to get and hold jobs," said Mrs. Leland Culver, Lenawee County draft board clerk.

"It isn't so much that Uncle Sam wants younger men. He wants to know why he doesn't want them," she added.

Last September, a task force was appointed by President Kennedy to find out why so many youths were unqualified for the draft.

The task force had accepted the theory that "A young man who does not have what it takes to perform military service is not likely to have what it takes to make a living."

In recent years, 12% of all youths examined have flunked the mental test, although standards have been hiked only slightly to an eighth grade level.

And about 15% of all youths have been rejected on the health test in recent years.

☆

Early last summer, the rate of youth unemployment among male teenagers reached 21%, a postwar record.

At the same time, however, the government was having trouble finding youths most able to benefit from the vocational and rehabilitation programs that the Kennedy administration had started.

It was discovered that two-thirds of the trainees had been high school graduates.

Many of those who needed help most were not getting it.

SELECTIVE Service can locate by name and address the 500,000 and more men turning 18 each year who don't qualify for draft.

Men who lack the education and health often needed to make them effective citizens and productive workers.

Early examination will not mean early induction. There is to be no change in the present practice of calling older registrants before younger ones.

But for those found unfit, early examination will provide an immediate opportunity to confront their situation and do something about it.

The aid program will be voluntary and will depend heavily on local participation.

Medical rejectees will be referred to their doctors or community health services.

Previously, even persons with acute disorders were simply told they were 4-F.

☆

EDUCATION rejectees will be referred directly to Manpower Conservation units to be established in local offices of the United States Employment Service.

The task-force survey indicated 80% of the education rejectees needed basic literacy and vocational training or counseling.

The job of helping these youths will be tremendous.

This year, 1.4 million males will turn 18, and 1.9 million in 1965.

For most Tecumseh youths the draft rejectee program will mean nothing. For a few, it will be nipping trouble in the bud.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Announcement that General Motors Corp. will spend the bulk of its 1964-65 expansion money in Michigan is the best news this state has received in a long time.

Of the $2 billion that the company plans to invest throughout the world, a reported $700 to $750 million will be spent in Michigan.

It is a spectacular expression of faith in the great advantages Michigan offers to industry.

The company decision will mean 25,000 new industrial jobs for Michigan, plus an undetermined additional number of jobs in associated lines.

Infusion of new industrial strength through the metal fabrication plant in Kalamazoo and the upholstery trim plant in Tecumseh will add significantly to the community strength in both of those areas.

☆

THE NEED for expanding facilities for the care of delinquent youth is one of the most pressing needs facing our state today.

Between 1942 and 1962, the state's population expanded 45 percent, but facilities for delinquent youth were expanded only 10 percent.

By the end of 1964, the state's facilities will have been increased by 44 percent, and by the end of 1965, we will have increased our capacity by 80 percent.

Recognizing the urgency of the problem, I have asked the Legislature to approve an immediate expansion of the halfway house program.

The Department of Social Welfare has conducted a careful survey of the boys and girls institutionalized at the Boys' Training School and Girls' Training School to determine how many youths could be placed in halfway house programs.

Their survey indicates that 80 to 100 boys and about 10 girls could benefit from a halfway house program which helps bridge the gap between institutional care and the community.

As a result of this survey, I have recommended eight additional halfway houses be programmed: three in the Wayne County area, one each in Flint, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Marquette.

Important as these new facilities would be, it should be remembered that we are not attacking the causes of delinquency when we put youths in institutions or halfway houses.

For this reason, my 1964-'65 recommended programs include preventive as well as remedial measures in the field of juvenile delinquency.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

GERTIE'S DUCKS

Here at the west end of Logan Street, we are all expecting some exciting creek watching this spring. There was no flooding nor ice jams, most of the ice just wore away. One Sunday morning we looked out and all signs of winter were gone, the ice was completely out and the poor creek was at a mid-summer's low.

A really good 'break-up show' starts with a hard winter, lots of snow and plenty of cold weather; then, if heavy warm spring rains come before much snow and ice is melted — wow!

But we simply did not have this kind of excitement. However, there still should be, if all goes according to plan, many thrills in store for us.

Her big white ones have always been fun to watch and over the years, she has had some who were real characters.

For example, the Old Bachelor, who had such a difficult time with his harem, is practically a creek legend now.

He was a rugged individualist whose adventures were many and mostly untellable. Suffice it to say that we will probably not see his likes again.

Running Old Batch a close second was the little duck who liked to joy ride. No matter how high and fast the creek was, she had a ball in it.

Her starting point was on the bend right in back of Gertie's house where the current swings close to the shore.

Hopping into the swiftest part, she bobbed and bounced, the current as a regular roller-coaster.

When reaching the calmer waters, just outside my window, she would swim to the other side of the creek, scramble up the little bank and start waddling to the starting point.

Several days of high water and she would have a regular path worn. Her fun lasted as long as the currents were strong enough for fast riding.

☆

THE PAIR of big whites, who are presently in residence, show a marked talent for flying. They have such heavy bodies that, of course, it takes sizable wings to get them air-borne.

To look out a window and see them sailing around is quite a thrill. One day we were more than thrilled — the best flyer took off up by the duck-house, just barely cleared Doctor's bridge and headed straight for us.

At the last possible moment he veered up to skim over the house instead of crashing into the window.

In the few seconds before we were sure he was going to make it, you can imagine some of our thoughts.

What a mess had he come into our room uninvited — thank goodness for his flying ability, I doubt if the other one could have missed us.

☆

Who knows why — maybe he just wants to 'survey his kingdom' and make sure nothing drastic has happened to it during the night.

And have you ever heard of a window-peeping duck? He is a second-story man, too.

Marjorie was working upstairs one afternoon and just happened to look outside—surprise! Standing on the porch roof and looking through the window at her was one of the big white ducks. A little shocking, I would say.

So it is that Gertie's ducks have afforded us all much fun but there is more duck news to tell. We will continue next week.

NEXT WEEK:
Gertie's Ducks, Part 2)

Book Mark

News from the Tecumseh Library

New growing green things are on the way. It's certainly time to do a little reading about gardening before we're too busy actually out there planting and hoeing.

You can find much helpful and interesting reading about gardens and related subjects at your public library.

Garden Design by Sylvia Crowe gives us impetus with its historical survey and beautiful gardens; then leads up to the practical suggestions that go into the creation of a landscaped area, large or small.

We hate to have to think of pests and other troublesome problems, but these must be dealt with never-the-less. How to Control Plant Diseases in Home and Garden can aid us with those sprays and dusts, and gives us a spraying table as well.

Sunset Lawn and Ground Cover Book presents helpful pointers on watering, mowing, fertilizing, weeding and renovating that expanse of grass that adds so much to the beauty of our homes.

A handy guide for home gardeners in this region is Flower Growing in the North, which proffers advice month by month through the whole year.

How to Grow Roses is not a new book, but its hints are still applicable. Another volume that is no longer published is a fascinating one to read.

It is Garden Facts and Fancies by Alfred Hottes, and includes stories, legends and poems that are a joy to dip into.

A manual of more prosaic nature but an extremely useful one giving a great deal of practical information is The Handbook for Vegetable Growers.

Everything you'll need to know is here for producing those garden-fresh table delicacies this spring and on through the summer.

LOUIE (SCHNEIDER) & CLAYTON (GREENWALD) AGREE:

Chevy-Van Is the Greatest!

This marks the fifth Chevrolet delivery truck Clayton Greenwald has purchased for use with his dry cleaning and laundry plant in Tecumseh from us. He says "It's the greatest" and we modestly agree. With 40-square-feet in which to hang freshly-pressed dresses and suits, stack dozens of crisply-wrapped packages of laundered shirts, this Chevy-Van is doing a great job for Clay. Its husky 120 HP six-cylinder engine, that has all the power needed and still is economy-minded, makes Clay's customer route a pleasure. We'd say this is just about the most perfect delivery vehicle made. Wouldn't you like to try one?

"Ever since we moved west — to our new plant, business has been booming," chorus Christine and Clayton Greenwald, owners of the dry cleaning and laundry business that bears this name. They've been on the job in Tecumseh since 1944, building a striking new layout with drive-in facilities and ample parking area along W. Chicago Blvd. four years ago. There always has been a lot of delivery work connected with their enterprise and Chevrolet has long played a part in the Greenwald operation. The man behind the wheel, Clay, reports that his Chevy-Van is a honey, with its easy side-door loading and unloading, plus that comfortable ride. Makes him feel almost like royalty, Clay says.

Editor
Frieda Rowlands

April 2, 1964

FANS WERE LOOKING — Elmer Eberhardt was among hundreds of basketball fans who paused in recent days to look over the trophies earned this winter by Britton's hoop squad, as they were displayed in the window of Glenn Gripton's Hardware. Mr. Gripton said that on March 22, a steady stream of visitors stopped to peer in at the shiny statues.

Mr. and Mrs. Starkweather formerly lived in the Tipton and Tecumseh area until 36 years ago when they moved to their present address at 601 Pearl Street, Ypsilanti.

Agnes Evans Edwards and Clarence Starkweather were married in Bucyrus, O. by their former pastor the Rev. W. T. Heinzman at his home on April 2, 1919.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Lawrence (LaRue) Hoagland and Mrs. Charles (Phyllis) Patterson both of Britton, three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The couple asks that gifts be omitted.

Motivation Called Top Problem in Education

An article from the recent Elementary Principals' publication holds much interest for both parents and teachers, reports R. T. Gillam, Patterson School Principal.

Entitled "Motivation: The Number One Problem In Education," the article was written by Wilbur Harris, associate professor of Central Michigan University.

Professor Harris says that there are definite limits to the types of improvements that can be effected simply by changing the medium of presentation in the classroom.

In fact differences in the relative effectiveness of methods of presentation appear slight when compared to the influences of such factors as motivation, self-confidence, study skills and habits and mental health.

☆

THE WRITER emphasized this idea by stating that the most critical frontier in education lies in the area of student motivation.

The lifelong zest for learning does not come from gold stars, honor rolls or teaching machines.

It originates from interesting, challenging and creative learning experiences and is nurtured by interpersonal relationships which abound in faith, hope and love, he stated.

The entire community and not the school alone is the educational agency which must assist and guide children in their development of motivation for academic learning, Professor Harris concluded.

. . . but when he isn't holding a steering wheel, you're apt to find him holding on to a fire truck, gavel, bowling ball or golf club, in church, or at a civic meeting.

He's John J. Nelson, 54, a tank truck driver for Michigan Milk Producers Association for 22 of his 25 years of commercial driving . . . with never a chargeable accident, and only one minor traffic violation in some 1,250,000 miles of driving.

John is chief of the Almont Volunteer Fire Dept., member of the Almont Village Council, where he serves on the Police Commission and Streets and Sidewalks Committee, trustee of Almont Community Projects, steward of M.M.P.A. Employees Local 83, attends the Congregational Church where his wife, Ruth, teaches Sunday school, and is sending daughter, Karen, to Port Huron Junior College.

A truck driver? You bet! And proud of it. But more than that, Jack is typical of the many thousands of truck drivers who are good citizens, good family men, and who are active in their communities.

GUARANTEED eat IN THE meat MAKES THIS A GREAT STEAK SALE!

We say "guaranteed EAT in the MEAT" for several reasons. The first deals with quality. Every "Super-Right" steak is cut from selected, grain-fed, fully matured beef—it provides the best eating. Next, the care of the beef. Through every step until the minute you buy—strict quality controls protect the eating goodness. Then there are A&P's cutting methods which insure full value. Let's take Round Steak for example . . . since this is something you can check for yourself. Experts agree, the best is a full cut center Round Steak—the only kind sold as "Super-Right". And you can easily tell cue—look for these points (as shown in the two photos):

1. Bone must be round—not misshapen
2. The meat, red and marbled
3. A generous portion of "top" round steak
4. A full eye round section
5. A generous bottom round

You'll never find excess interior fat, gristle or heel meat—these mark a steak that is not full center cut. Buy any "Super-Right" steak—we guarantee the EAT in the MEAT . . . or your money back.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I enclose an interesting editorial from a health magazine, describing the people of your community and my native community.

I was born 86 years ago near Gady Rd., where Fisher Body is now taking over. Gady, after whom the road was named, and I used to work together in the celery fields of that neighborhood more than 70 years ago.

The editorial writer, being a nutritionist, believes he knows what ails most of us. He says we eat too much of wrong foods, drink too much of wrong drinks, smoke tobacco, and therefore don't get proper nourishment.

However, I wouldn't have thought the people of Tecumseh would be so much worse.

Sincerely yours,
Walter E. Norris
84 Park Lane,
Staten Island, N. Y.

(Editor's Note—Following is the excerpt from "Prevention" magazine of March, 1964. Actually, the writer stretches a point with his "astonishing" and other comments, but it's still interesting and his conclusion is no doubt true.)

It's Not Where, But How

"People with ulcers and jumpy nerves are likely to yearn for the days when they lived in a small, quiet town, free of the pressures and bustle of a big city.

"They blame their illnesses on tensions and inability to relax in a competitive community.

"Well, University of Michigan researchers have found that life in a small town may have many advantages, but relaxation isn't necessarily one of them.

"Tecumseh, Michigan, a community of 10,000, was chosen as an example of quiet life in a small community. Eight years of study by the University of Michigan School of Public Health showed that a remarkably high incidence of heart disease in middle aged people was evident in Tecumseh.

"Along with this came a frequency in high blood sugar in people over 50 that was astonishing. Chronic disease in adults generally was well above what the researchers had expected. In fact one or more of the chronic diseases was evident in 16.2 per cent of women aged 20 or over.

"It is not where you live, but how, apparently, which governs the state of your health. The town you live in may be the quietest in the world, but if you eat poorly and get little exercise, illness will catch up with you.

"There is much evidence to show that ulcers are the product of poor diet, and that diabetes is, too. Circulatory disorders can often be traced to a lack of proper, sensible exercise.

"You can eat well in New York City or Timbuctoo, and thereby help to stave off chronic disease wherever you are."

SOME SPAT — When the professor and his wife have a difference, it ends up that he is really "The Male Animal" and that's the name of the comedy which the Tecumseh Players will be presenting next. Playing these roles are Mrs. Howard Gentry, a newcomer to Tecumseh, and Dick Boyd, a long-time Players' veteran. Opening night is Thursday, April 16.

City Newcomer Has Feminine Lead in Show

The feminine lead in the Tecumseh Players' coming production of the comedy hit "The Male Animal" is being played by a newcomer to town, Mrs. Howard Gentry, 901 River Acres Dr.

Once the Gentry family was settled with their four children, ages 2, 7, 8 and 10, they immediately joined the Tecumseh Players.

Jo Anne had worked with the Wayne Players in Wayne, Mich., for four years and during that time played leading roles in "Critics Choice" and the Children's theatre production of "Land of the Dragon".

She had supporting roles in "Desk Set", and "Seven Nuns from Las Vegas". In addition to her stage work, she performed numerous back-stage chores.

With the Gentry family, theatre is a mutual interest. In Wayne, Howard was also active with the Wayne Players both on and off stage.

Some Tecumseh Players like to think that one of the main reasons the Gentrys chose to locate here was due to the active little theatre group in town.

☆

"THE MALE ANIMAL" is a James Thurber comedy, the story of a college professor, played by Dick Boyd, who has been married for 10 years to a college sweetheart, played by Mrs. Gentry.

He is quietly settled in a nice comfortable teaching job at Midwestern University.

It is the weekend of the Michigan game and Joe Fergason, played by Tom Corkery, who is the greatest football hero Midwestern ever had, comes to town.

He sees Ellen, the professor's wife, to whom he used to be sort of unofficially engaged.

In addition to this slight upset in the prof's life, he is brought into an academic controversy when Michael Barnes, played by

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

One of the proudest pops around Lenawee County these days is Bob Tuttle, president of Swenk-Tuttle Printing Co., in Adrian.

Wherever a person might happen to run into Bob, he'll probably be carrying an armload of books — all with the same, flaming red cover, all entitled "Teenage Ambassador".

For a fast exchange of $3.95, Bob will be glad to include you among the owners of this late edition.

Bob is doubly proud of the work — and justly so. It's written by his 19-year-old son, David, and printed by Swenk-Tuttle.

The book relates the experiences of David during his 13-month stay in Germany, as a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Boehm, through the Youth for Understanding student exchange program.

Dave was the first American fellow to stay for a full year and study in native schools, speaking the native language.

Tecumseh folks may recall that several youngsters from here — Bob Bonner, Jane Hodges, Nancy Beland and Bruce King — have spent summers in foreign lands under YFU, but were placed in English-speaking homes.

Our town has in turn been host to youngsters from Germany, Holland and Sweden, for a full school year. These young people speak fluent English and melted right into the local high school's student body. At present there's Anders Edin of Stenungsund, Sweden, who lives with the Bob Kings.

But, back to the smiling Bob Tuttle, who was the main spring in getting "Teenage Ambassador" off the drawing boards.

When David settled down in the Boehm household in Dinslaken, which is in the northern sector of Germany, he immediately started putting down his impressions via letters home.

One afternoon, Bob took a batch of these, sat down at his typewriter and began to condense. He dropped in at The Adrian Telegram to see Hoig Gay about the possibility of running an article on Dave.

Hoig looked the piece over and asked, "Can you keep them coming?"

Bob replied that there was certainly plenty of material arriving from David.

Easton Is Tops at Polls

Easton and McCombs are veteran councilmen and Tuckey will be starting his second term. Sunderland was successful in his first try for a public position.

Harold Easton — 449
Don Sunderland — 414
Gene Tuckey — 413
George McCombs — 398
Don Clark — 140
Larry Coscarelli — 116

Less than 20% of the city eligible voters turned out for the election. The four Council seats comprised the sole issue on the ballot.

Condemnation of George Peters' Property Starts

Condemnation proceedings have been instigated by City Attorney James Beardsley for the Tecumseh schools to acquire the George Peters property adjacent to the high school at 316 N. Maumee St.

The local schools have attempted for several years to buy the land on which the new $400,000 high school addition will extend.

At this time, the schools are interested only in the back section and have offered to allow Mr. Peters to continue residing in his home.

The hearing for the condemnation is scheduled for April 27 at 1:30 in the courthouse.

'Superior' Rating Won by Girl, 11

Eleven-year-old Jamie Danforth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth, 804 Outer Drive, received a "superior" rating at the Music Festival Saturday on the Michigan State University campus.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs of which Jamie is a special member.

A sixth grade student at Herrick Park School, Jamie will not be eligible for membership in the Tecumseh Junior Music Club until she is in the seventh grade.

☆

JAMIE'S SOLOS were the required "Come Unto Him" from George Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah", and "There Are Fairies at the Bottom of Our Garden."

She was accompanied by Dexter Bailey, who also received a "superior" rating for his piano solo.

She has also had six months study with Mrs. Kenneth Westerman of Ann Arbor.

Jamie is a member of the First Baptist Church and its Junior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Bertram Updike.

Oldest Congregation Celebrates Birthday

A banquet to celebrate the 135th anniversary of Tecumseh's First Methodist Church will be held April 15 in the church parlors.

The Rev. Marshall R. Reed, Bishop of the Michigan area, will be speaker.

Bishop Reed spent his younger days in the Prospect Hill area, and is a distinguished graduate of Tecumseh High School, class of 1910.

Mrs. Robert Bonner, anniversary chairman, will preside at the banquet, introducing Dr. Edwin Stricker, Ann Arbor District Superintendent, and a special guest.

Miles Cowdrey, Tecumseh Methodist Church Choir Director, will provide special trumpet music. A table is being provided for those who have been on the church membership roll for 50 years or more. Wilfred Waldron will give some highlights and reflections as a part of the program.

The banquet is open to the public and there will be 150 tickets available for both children and adults. The deadline for reservations has been set for Saturday, reports Mrs. Paul Hadsell, ticket chairman.

Tickets may also be purchased from Mrs. Don Martin, Sr., Earl Greene, Carl Hale, William Powell and Erwin Buss.

Mrs. William Davis is in charge of the kitchen, Mrs. Harley McConnell the dining room, and Mrs. Aden Mead table decorations.

THE METHODIST Church enjoys the distinction of having placed the first organized church society in Tecumseh during January of 1828. This took place after the Rev. John Baughman of the Monroe Circuit had conducted services here for more than a year.

The Methodist congregation first gathered in October of 1826 when Mr. Baughman made Tecumseh one of the regular appointments on the Monroe Circuit, preaching here every three weeks.

He had 16 preaching points serving Monroe, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Saline, Tecumseh, Blissfield. He was only 23 years old at this time.

☆

IN SEPTEMBER of 1827 the Rev. George W. Walker was sent to the Monroe Circuit, along with James Armstong. The Monroe Circuit included the southern part of the county of Wayne, and all of Monroe and Lenawee counties.

It also took in Flat Rock, Monroe, Raisinville, Ten-Mile Creek, Maumee Rapids in Ohio, Kedzie's Grove and Tecumseh.

The Rev. Mr. Walker organized a Methodist Church here in January with 11 charter members.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Wheeler, Margarette Cross, Bettsey Silliman, Mary Bangs, Mary Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Adams and one other whose name strangely was forgotten later.

The earliest records of the church unfortunately have been

GM Officials, City Huddle on Plant's Utility Needs

General Motors Corp. representatives met with Tecumseh and Consumer Power officials last week to discuss utility needs for the 293,000-square-foot Fisher Body plant, soon to go up on Occidental Rd.

What, if any, city utilities will be needed has not been determined.

Possible services would include water and sewer. Estimates for GM run as high as 250,000 gallons of water per day and 150,000 gallons of waste water.

Actual construction of the plant is expected to start about the middle of May with portions of the building to be occupied by December.

Plant operation is scheduled to start in May, 1965.

'Pit' Obtained for New Park by Foundation

The Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation has purchased "The Pit," a favorite community swimming spot on Adrian St.

The Pit and property, comprising 22 acres, was bought for $35,000 from Mrs. Regina Gallo.

City Manager Cal Zorn was authorized Monday night by Council to sign a 10-year lease with the Foundation, which will hold title until all improvements are made. It will then be turned over to the city.

Few, if any, changes in operation are planned for this summer.

Plans for development include improved fencing, roadways, parking facilities, bath house and construction of a band shell for summer concerts, tennis courts, ball diamonds, and picnic shelters.

Officers of the Foundation have investigated purchasing The Pit for several months.

Work Begins on Stauffer's Sutton Plant

By JIM LINCOLN

Construction of Tecumseh's new Anderson Chemical Division, subsidiary of Stauffer Chemical Co., has started on Sutton Rd.

During the past week, over 400 soil test borings were taken and some roads scrapped out, reported Robert Chandler, project engineer for Anderson.

The multi-building chemical facility will be laid out over approximately 200 acres. The administrative building will be located about 600 feet south of Sutton Rd., almost directly behind what is now the Jess Stretch residence.

Initial construction will be done in three stages, with a research center of about 22,000 square feet scheduled to begin in three weeks.

Anderson Chemical expects about 50 chemists and scientists to occupy the research center in September.

Next two buildings will be the technical service and the administrative or office buildings. Construction for the office will start about the first of August.

Amos R. Anderson, president of Anderson Chemical and vice-president of Stauffer, formally announced the plant last Thursday, following several weeks of uncertainty due to possible dumping of calcium chloride in River Raisin.

☆

MONDAY NIGHT Mr. Chandler and Vic Pallister, secretary of the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce, made brief reports to Tecumseh City Council.

They inquired — and were assured — about Rogers Hwy., inside the city limits being made into a Class A road.

City Manager Cal Zorn told the two officials that some work would be done this year with completion scheduled for 1965.

The Tecumseh official was given permission to continue investigation for extending Russell Rd. to Rogers, and thereby eliminate bridges on Blood and Comfort Rds.

Such a step would turn Russell into a Class A road — all-weather and able to meet state weight regulations.

This could eventually make Rogers Rd. a truck bypass around Tecumseh to the Anderson plant on Sutton Rd. and the new GM Fisher Body on Occidental.

$150,000 Project Is Given OK

The sewer would extend from N. Maumee St. along Evans Creek to the lift station, near the end of the boulevard section on W. Chicago at Sunset Drive.

City Attorney James Beardsley said that most of the easements had been secured. The engineering plans were completed over a year ago when the city first sought Federal aid for the project.

☆

MR. ZORN was authorized to advertise for bids, with their opening scheduled for May 12. Actual construction will take about two months.

Costs will be financed by $30,000 from the general fund, $50,000 from the sewage fund and a $70,000 bond issue.

The city manager recommended the bonds be repaid in 10 years at a maximum interest rate of 3%.

He said the United Savings Bank had been cooperative and indicated the bond issue would be handled there.

Many residents between the lift station and Maumee St. now relying on septic tanks will be able to utilize the new sewer.

Sell 1,165,023

General Motors passenger car and commercial vehicle dealers sold 1,165,023 vehicles during the first quarter of 1964 to surpass previous sales records for the period.

Launch Drive To Reduce Accidental Poisonings

Tecumseh pharmacists recently launched a concerted drive to reduce accidental poisonings that are a constant threat to children.

The program is being supported by 2,460 pharmacies who are members of the Michigan Pharmaceutical Association, including Lamb's Pharmacy, Hodges Drug Store and Wright's Pharmacy.

"More than a half million persons were poisoned accidentally in the nation last year, and between 70 and 90 per cent of the cases involved children under five years of age," said Bill Wright, owner of Wright's Pharmacy.

"Our aim is to educate parents about dangers of poison in the home — including many of the liquids used for cleaning and other household purposes — so they can instill the hands-off policy in their children," said Mr. Wright.

As part of the drive, special gummed-back labels have been designed and are available free from any drug store whose owner is a member of the association.

The new red and yellow snake poison symbol is the first of its kind to be designed by any state pharmaceutical association and was created to impress young children.

"The old skull and crossbones poison symbol has been familiar for years, but unfortunately some children are attracted to it because of its identification with the 'jolly roger' and the glamour of playing pirate.

"We feel the addition of the new snake symbol to containers of poison will tend to repel children," said Mr. Wright.

LONG & SHORT

Thus began "Deutschland Diary" which ran as a series in The Telegram during David's stay in Germany.

When the young man got home to Adrian late last summer, there was a flurry of activity as he got ready for freshman classes at the University of Michigan. Dave had been accepted following his 1962 graduation from Adrian High, but when the YFU opportunity came through he delayed college a year.

Now he was getting set to invade Ann Arbor. There was little time to talk about "doing something more" with his writings from Germany, but it did creep into the conversation.

By the time Christmas vacation rolled around, Dave and his dad had firm plans for re-doing the "Diary" dropping some, adding other so-far unprinted incidents and turning it all into a book.

Here was the scene in the Tuttle household for most of that two-week period — typewriters were placed back-to-back, David hammering on his portable with a page, then handing it to his father.

As a team, the pair worked smoothly. In quick order they had the full manuscript completed and ready for the Linotype machine at Swenk-Tuttle Press.

Bob's firm was able to handle everything but the hard cover. So far, about $2,700 has been sunk into the first printing of 1,000 copies.

Sales have been going pretty well, but there won't be much in the way of profits until a second printing starts.

What Bob and Dave are eager to see is publicity in the metropolitan papers. J. L. Hudson, which has 10 copies, will have an autograph party for Dave—if the Detroit papers will blossom out with some notices.

As a matter of fact, The Herald happily accepted several copies for sale to interested Tecumseh folks.

"Teenage Ambassador" is well done, covers a wide variety of subjects, including co-ed hitchhiking, which is common throughout Europe.

But before you flip over that cup of coffee you're holding, it's a perfectly accepted mode of travel.

Each afternoon, hikers register at youth hostels, which provides separate sleeping quarters for boys and girls, presided over by house fathers and mothers with strict rules — lights out at 10, everyone up at 7:30, no drinking or smoking, hostelers bring own sleeping sacks. Such lodgings cost about 23c a night.

There is one romantic sidenote to Dave's stay in Germany — involving a lovely fraulein and another University of Michigan student.

The American lad, who had been a member of the Michigan band that toured Russia, visited Dave in Dinslaken and met the charming Francie. Ric, the American, thought she was Dave's special, but when he learned Dave was so friendly with her family was because the mother reminded Dave of his own, a whirlwind courtship began.

Who should turn up to enroll this term but Francie and she's in Ann Arbor at this very moment.

So, besides being an author, Dave gets the nod as an international Cupid, too.

lost and the 11 charter members either proved soon to be unfaithful, or quickly moved away from Tecumseh.

IN THE AUTUMN of 1828, Tecumseh Methodism was greatly strengthened by the coming of the Rev. Joseph Bangs, who quickly earned universal esteem in the community. A local preacher, he never became connected with the Conference as a fully-ordained preacher, continuing his trade as a blacksmith and farming. He would preach as the occasion offered, which seems to have been frequent in the early years.

The first Quarterly Meeting, in the summer of 1829 with Elder Zarah Coston presiding, was held in the home of Isaac Bangs. A communion service and testimonial were features of the Quarterly Meeting.

☆

ABOUT THE TIME the Rev. George W. Walker was closing his two years on the Monroe Circuit, which then extended to the Auglaize River in Ohio, Fort Defiance, Maumee, St. Lawrence and Vistula (now Toledo), Erie, Monroe, Tecumseh and Blissfield. In making his circuit, he traveled a distance of about 1,200 miles, was obliged to ford or swim the Maumee River twice.

He was succeeded by the Rev. Jacob Hill, who remained one year and was followed by the Rev. James W. Finley in September, 1830.

At the close of his pastorate in 1831 the Tecumseh Circuit was organized and included a part of the old Monroe Circuit and a portion of the newer Ann Arbor Circuit, extending over a 400-mile area, north and west of Tecumseh, with 27 regular preaching services every four weeks.

☆

THE REV. ELIJAH H. PILCHER and the Rev. Ezekiel S. Gayit were the first two circuit preachers to be assigned to this wilderness circuit, which took in Ann Arbor, Jackson, Coldwater, Marshall and Adrian.

Tecumseh had preaching every two weeks.

For 20 years Tecumseh was head of this circuit, which was cut down in area as towns and population increased. During the 20 years when Tecumseh was the head of the circuit, 34 different preachers served and in 1840 it had 600 members, the largest in Michigan for that year.

In 1831, when the Rev. Messers Pilcher and Gavit were appointed to the Tecumseh Circuit they told of how they hired a man at Marshall to help them find their way through the woods to Coldwater.

Along the way, they cut notches on the trees along the south side in order to find their way back to Marshall for the return trip.

At one time they felt they would not be able to find their way through the uncharted wilderness from Coldwater to Tecumseh, so they returned to Marshall, then to Clinton and finally Tecumseh.

The next week they rode from Tecumseh westward to Coldwater, a route which had only two cabins along the way.

IN 1851 TECUMSEH was made a station appointment with one minister who lived in the town. Meanwhile, in 1842-43 a small church had been erected on the southwest corner of Shawnee— then called Shiawasee — and Pearl Sts.

A pen-and-ink drawing by Mrs. Richard Kureth shows the old-time Methodist Circuit Rider, who used to preach over wide areas, serving many churches. In between his visits, local laymen would conduct services and in this way the Methodist religion grew and prospered through the Circuit. The sketch is being used in conjunction with the Tecumseh Church's 135th anniversary.

By the end of 1850, the church was overcrowded. In 1860, the church purchased a large lot for a new church, but first a parsonage was erected.

In the spring of 1862 ground was broken for the erection of the present church which was completed in 1865. On August 11, 1864, dedication services were held. Until 1901 the church was seldom without the leadership of one or more retired preachers.

☆

THE PARSONAGE was built in 1890, west of the church, to replace the old parsonage which had become too small for some of the families.

In 1905, the Barnes Memorial addition was built at the back of the original church to house the modern kitchen.

This section was a memorial to Dr. and Mrs. Leman Barnes. Dr. Barnes had been a Methodist minister. For 16 years he was a medical doctor in Tecumseh and was active as a leader in the church.

The Tecumseh church has, on at least three occasions, narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire.

Through 135 years it has continued its endeavors to serve the community and to be faithful to the Lord, reports the present pastor, the Rev. Don Porteous.

☆

THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY of the founding of the Tecumseh Church was held January 28, 1928, under the pastorate of Rev. M. J. B. Marsh, father of Dr. R. G. B. Marsh. The 125th Anniversary was held on January 25, 1953, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Ronald Brunger and now in the year 1964 the 135th Anniversary is being held on April 15, under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Porteous.

The preceding historical facts were taken from the church history compiled by the Rev. Ronald Brunger, during his pastorate in Tecumseh.

Five County Roads Changed to Class A

The county road commission redesignated five Lenawee county roads to Class A status. Two new area industries, General Motors and Stauffer Chemical Co., who are locating in Raisin Township just south of Tecumseh, requested the changes from Class B.

Officials from both companies want their trucks to be able to reach the new plants from state trunklines. Under existing road conditions this would be impossible.

☆

NEW CLASS A roads are:

► Rogers Hwy., from Tecumseh to Rouget Rd.

► Rouget Rd., from Rogers Hwy., to US-223.

► Palmyra Rd., from Rouget to US-223.

► Sutton Rd., from Rogers Hwy. to Occidental Hwy.

► Occidental Hwy., from Tecumseh city limits to M-52.

The roads had been limited in weight loads. The Class A designation means unlimited loads will be allowed on the roads.

☆

COMMISSION Chairman William Gibson said spring weight restrictions will not be posted on the roads.

Road commissioners met with officials of both companies to discuss the location of the two new plants.

Stauffer Chemical will build an initial $6 million plant on Sutton Rd. at Raisin Center Hwy., four miles south of Tecumseh.

The chemical research and silicones production is expected to grow to a $20 million complex in the future.

General Motors' new Fisher Body plant will be a $2.5 million upholstery trim layout on Occidental Hwy. at Gady Rd.

General Motors officials said they will hire up to 1,000 people and Stauffer will have about 600 on the payroll when in full operation.

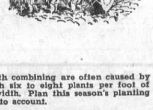
MAKE A CROP MAP. By using a map of your cropping and fertilizing program you can see at a glance what has or needs to be done. Increasing use of herbicides and insecticides makes it especially important to record rates and materials used. This will help in planning a crop and chemical rotation to avoid possible residue buildup, damage to crops or insect resistance. At the end of the year file your map away as a permanent record.

IMPROVED HOG PRICES by late April and continuing through summer are likely. Based on latest USDA estimates, the winter pig crop in the Corn Belt was 5% smaller than last year. Look for a 50c to 75c rise by late April and possibly another $1 to $1.50 by early June. Finishing for expected strength appears profitable. Carry hogs to around 230 pounds.



WHEEL SLIPPAGE. Your tractor is weighted about right when slippage isn't more than 10%, or when tire lugs creep slightly as you plow. When slippage is excessive raise the drawbar to transfer weight to the rear wheels. To avoid danger of too much weight transfer, don't raise it over 19 inches. If more traction is needed, add more weight.

SOYBEAN LODGING and problems with combining are often caused by planting too thick. Stands planted with six to eight plants per foot of row yield highest, regardless of row width. Plan this season's planting rate accordingly, taking germination into account.

Dear Friends, Neighbors, Customers, Prospects and Fellow Real Estate Brokers:

We didn't die, much to the sorrow of some. We have been busy re-organizing and moving to our new location at 509 North Evans St. Same phone number, 423-2340. This is the former office of the King-Roberts Insurance Agency. We're also serving all of their former insurance accounts, so come on out and let's deal. We have enjoyed excellent business in the retail market of homes, and our insurance business is growing daily. You'd better drive by these homes and then stop for an appointment to show you some of the good buys.

197 Burt St. — 2-bedroom.

212 W. Chicago — redecorated, ready to show. Priced right, quick possession.

1990 E. Valley Rd. — sometimes known as South Occidental, large home with five acres. Could cut some lots out of it.

601 Brook St. — don't drive by this and try to tell me how much house is there. There's not a home in Tecumseh with as much to offer as this one. You've got to go inside.

800 River Acres Dr. — located in River Acres proper. Don't think the taxes are high because you live in River Acres. The only people who will tell you this is the broker who doesn't have anything to sell out there. This is a sharp 3-bedroom, worth the money.

8400 Clinton-Macon Rd. — another large spacious house, vacant, immediate possession — 2 fireplaces, large lot. Priced to sell.

We have Lake Lots, Building Lots in town and out, Cottages, and a going Retail Grocery business that is getting larger by the week. Stop and talk to us about these various properties.

When you're driving around looking at different properties, don't let the "For Sale" signs or those vacant F.H.A., V.A. repossessed homes fool you. Go to the broker of your choice, he's authorized to show and sell you these homes.

CITY TAKES OVER — Vern Manwaring (left) hands quit claim deed to property on which the Tecumseh Public Library is located to Mayor Harold Easton (right). Watching are librarian Mrs. Julie Fosbender and School Supt. James McDowell. The former Monument Park, where the library was built, had always assumed to have been city property, but when the library project was begun City Attorney James Beardsley discovered Lenawee County actually had deed to the land. For the consideration of $1, the land was given to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, which has now relayed the property to the city. It will now be leased for a nominal amount to the school district, which is officially owner of the library.

'Big Top Frolic'

A circus booth has been prepared for the "Big Top Frolic" at Patterson School Saturday.

Cages in the room will represent different animals and prizes will be awarded for those guessing what each cage represents.

Everyone participating will receive a prize and those guessing right will place their names in a fish bowl to be selected for the grand circus prize.

INCLUDED among the prizes will be a floral arrangement from Ousterhout Flowers, a gift certificate for an 8x10 colored picture at Dixon Studio, a steak dinner from Harvey's and an electric toothbrush from Dr. William Adams.

Games, movies and a snack bar and many other booths will be arranged, each grade being responsible for one.

Tickets are available from the students and prizes will be awarded in three different categories for the sale of the most tickets.

Posters were made by fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The children selected the best 10 posters from the individual rooms to be displayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Daniels and family spent the weekend in Columbus, Ohio as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Munger.

Tail Lights Foul Escape Attempt

An attempt to elude Tecumseh police about 2:55 Sunday morning resulted in a $100 fine and a suspended 10-day sentence for Douglas V. Marr, 26, 217 S. Pearl St.

Local officers timed Marr driving west on Chicago Blvd., near the Community Center, doing 60 mph.

The patrol car chased him south on Wyandotte to Kilbuck St., where he fled west, running stop signs at Maumee, Ottawa, Evans and Pearl.

Council Refuses City Utilities for Development

Council turned thumbs down Monday night on a request to extend sewer and water lines to the southwest corner of Russell and Occidental Rds. for a mobile home development.

Local officials also refused to discuss annexation possibilities if such a development is planned for that area.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said that a representative for the development told him that streets with curbs were planned, and possibly a swimming pool, if the city utilities were provided or the area annexed.

Tecumseh, Raisin Ok Fire Contract

An amiable agreement was reached by Raisin Twp. and Tecumseh officials Monday night with the city assuring the township of future fire protection.

Prior the agreement, supervisor Jim Mitchell first questioned the feasibility of the city making past fire calls retroactive and charging the township $2,700 for nine former fire runs.

City Manager Cal Zorn agreed with Mr. Mitchell and pointed out that the retroactive charges affected only Raisin Twp., and not the other townships serviced by the Tecumseh Fire Department.

Raisin officials agreed they had a good deal and would have paid more if asked." Only labor charges were paid by the township.

After Councilman John Hamilton suggested that the township pay $100 instead of $300 per call for the retroactive nine calls, township officials held a brief meeting and agreed to the suggestion.

Then officials approved a contract to July 1 at $300 per call.

Mr. Mitchell said the township has numerous fire calls which are not necessary and asked the city to use some judgement before making fire runs to the area.

The plan he proposed would have the police relay the fire call to the township's station at Holloway, and then notify the Tecumser station if the fire seemed serious to warrant local service.

Raisin Twp. residents have been asked not to call the Tecumseh Fire Department, but call the Tecumseh Police instead.

Contest for Babies Now Open

The second annual baby picture contest for children up to age six is being sponsored by the Jaycee Auxiliary — and boosts the group's Christmas Doll project.

A $10 gift certificate will be awarded to the king and queen and a $5 gift certificate to the runners-up.

Pictures may be sent to Mrs. Dyke Helms, 801 Adrian St. or Mrs. Douglas Osworth, 500 Center Dr. with the deadline for mailing Saturday, April 25. The contest ends Friday, May 15.

☆

"ANY PICTURE up to 5x7 will be accepted. The back of the entry should list name, address, sex, color of eyes and color of hair," said Mrs. Helms.

"Pictures will be placed on canisters and displayed in local stores starting Tuesday, April 28," she continued. "And shoppers are invited to vote for their favorite."

Each vote will cost a penny.

The winners will be notified by telephone. Their pictures will appear in The Herald May 21.

The royalty will be crowned on the judges stand after the Safety Check parade that day.

Winners will also ride in the Memorial Day Parade.

Proceeds from the contest will be used by the Auxiliary to purchase dolls to be given to children by the Tecumseh Service Club at Christmas

Deaf Association To Meet at Fire Hall in Palmyra

To accommodate persons living in Washtenaw and Lenawee Counties, the Monroe Chapter of the Michigan Association of the Deaf is holding its April 11 meeting at Palmyra Fire Hall in Palmyra.

A potluck dinner at 6 p.m. will precede the business meeting.

Mrs. Dotson Angell, secretary, invites all persons who are deaf or deafened to attend.

56 Tecumseh Square Dancers Attend Jamboree

The event featured 30 callers making possible almost any dance from "hot hash" to beginners requested by the 500 couples attending.

Following the event 46 people from the Jackson-Lansing area who had a chartered bus, stopped at Don's Beef Buffet for dinner.

A group of the Tecumseh dancers served a potluck meal at the home of one of the Toledo couples.

Packard To Tell Of Experiences in Peace Corps

Barry Packard will be the speaker at the meeting of the Women's Society of the First Baptist Church Monday, April 13.

He will tell of his experiences while teaching in Africa and also show slides of his home, the school and students.

TECUMSEH DOG CITED — Even in death, a Tecumseh dog has been remembered. His master, Danny Greene, displays the Ken-L Ration Dog Hero Award citation and medal bestowed upon the late "Pepper", who last fall saved the lives of Danny's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reiniche, who were awakened from naps by "Pepper" when a roast started a fire in the range at the Greene home. The canine, who slipped off to dog heaven in December, is being considered for National Dog Hero of Heroes for the year, which brings with it a $1,000 bond for the owner of the winner and an all-expense-paid trip to Chicago for the awards banquet.

Recreation Arcade Set for Downtown

A recreational-type arcade will soon occupy the former Greenwald Dry Cleaner and Laundry building in downtown Tecumseh.

Clayton Greenwald, owner of the building and business, now on W. Chicago Blvd., told Council Monday night that he plans to install new recreation equipment there and supervise and control activities.

He said that six new pool tables, pinball machines, a bowling machine, candy and gum machines, and coke and coffee machines will be installed.

The Tecumseh businessman assured Council that all regulations would be followed and that the arcade would be attractive for adult men and ladies.

Youths under 17 will not be allowed to play pool and students will not be allowed in the arcade during school hours. Cigarettes will not be sold.

Other similar establishments have gained popularity in neighboring cities and are now quite respectable and common across the country.

Tipton Scouts at Scout-O-Rama

TIPTON — Boy Scout Troop 17 will participate in the Lenawee District Sixth Annual Scout-a-Rama in Adrian's Armory Friday and Saturday. They will present a demonstration on cooking.

2 Suffer Minor Injuries in Three Accidents Here

Two suffered minor injuries in three accidents investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week.

Maggie E. Frost, 71, of 709 Inner Dr., suffered minor injuries when she was struck by a car while walking across Chicago Blvd. at Evans St., Saturday afternoon.

Driver of the car, Raymond E. Richards, 19, of Britton, was charged with running a red light. He was headed east and struck the pedistrian as she was crossing north from Wright's Drug Store to D&C.

Also Saturday afternoon, Daniel David Schultz, 78, of 303 W. Chicago, was charged with failure to yield the right of way when he pulled into the path of a car driven by Bernard Schmitz, 42, of 607 Murray Dr.

The Cole car ran into the rear of an auto driven by A. T. Burnett, 44, 110 N. Van Buren, who had stopped for another car making a left turn, after the Cole car had been rammed by Thomas C. Morgan, 22, of 711 Seneca.

Morgan was cited for failure to stop within a clear assured distance.

New Gas Station Is Planned for Intersection

Councilmen learned Monday night that Cameron-McCord of Adrian is planning a Gulf station on the triangle at the intersection of Occidental and Russell Rd.

Construction for the station, which will be located in Raisin Twp., will begin late this spring.

Adrian To Host Norman Cousins

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review will appear on the stage of Dawson Auditorium, as the concluding performer in Adrian College's current Celebrity Series.

He will speak on the topic, "World Report" when he comes to Lenawee County Thursday, April 16 at 8 p.m.

Previously scheduled for March Mr. Cousins was called to Europe for business in connection with his profession with Saturday Review of which he has been editor since 1939.

As editor of the weekly magazine, Mr. Cousins has been to every corner of America, and around the world several times.

In 1959 he visited and lectured in the Soviet Union under the American-Soviet cultural exchange program.

He was the first American to speak on questions of foreign policy before the Praesidium of the Soviet Peace Committee.

In addition to his profession, Mr. Cousins has written numerous books including "In Place of Folly," an outline of the essential facts of the nuclear arms race and "Dr. Schweitzer of Lambarene," a personal account of his discussions with Albert Schweitzer at the jungle hospital.

Other books include "In God We Trust," "Who Speaks for Man," "Modern Man Is Obsolete," "A Treasury of American Democracy" and The Poetry of Freedom."

Time To Apply Crabgrass Killer

Now is the time for pre-emergence crabgrass killers to be applied. Crabgrass germinates in this area around April 15.

Applications made after this date will reduce the percentage of control depending on the lateness of application.

Apply as close to April 1 as possible for best results.

One application of material containing either Zytron, Dacthal, or Dipan (Diphenylacetonitrile) will give excellent control throughout the coming year.

Seeding should be delayed until Fall when pre-emergence crabgrass killers are used in the Spring. Crabgrass killers will kill germinating lawn grass seed the same as crabgrass.

Zytron has also proved effective if applied in the Fall for crabgrass control the following year.

When applying pre-emergence chemicals, make certain other operations such as raking, fertilization, etc. are done before applying the herbicide to avoid disturbing the chemical barrier.

Their gowns were identical to the matron of honor and they carried nosegays of white carnations with mint green satin ribbon.

All wore matching shoes and circular headpieces made by the bride's mother. White gloves were the gift of the bride.

Four-year-old Sharon Robson was the flower girl attired as the maids and carrying a white wicker basket of feathered carnations.

A reception for 150 guests was held immediately following in the church basement with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swank and Mrs. Naomi Robson as hosts and hostesses.

Pine Tree Catches Flyer

There was a narrow escape by a Tecumseh Air Force major recently, when he had to bail out at 2,000 feet over Louisiana.

Luckily for Maj. Edward G. Aebersold, there was a friendly pine tree, into which he hurdled, probably saving his life.

The major's mother is Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, 109 S. Union St. His sister is Mrs. Henry Carl Smith, 10054 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

An England Air Force Base pilot escaped injury today when he parachuted 2,000 feet from his F-100 Super Sabre jet fighter about 6½ miles north of the Claiborne firing range.

Maj. Edward G. Aebersold landed in a 70-foot pine tree about one-quarter of a mile from the wreckage of his plane.

He was extricated from his snarled chute lines and the limbs of the tree by a U. S. Forest Service crew.

The major, a native of Tecumseh, Mich., said he had completed a practice run over the Claiborne range and was turning for England when his plane's oil pressure began to drop and the engine "seemed to lose all thrust."

☆

"I HEARD an engine boom," the major said, "and then I ejected." He parachuted via an ejection mechanism which throws the pilot clear of the fuselage.

The plane crashed in a heavily wooded area. Fuel from the tanks ignited and started a small fire which was extinguished by forest service and England pumper crews.

The direction tower at Claiborne said they lost contact with the major at 9:19 a.m. The Gardner forest service tower crossspotted the wreckage and radioed for a crew to come to the major's aid.

☆

HE WAS LOCATED 10 minutes after landing in the tree, but it was almost an hour before he was on the ground. Maj. Aebersold was lodged in one tree while the main portion of his parachute was hung in another.

He said he was afraid of cutting himself loose for fear of falling.

Five sections of ladder were used to remove him from the tree. His only injury was a small bump on his forehead and several scratches on his hands. He seemed calm and unexcited and was taken to England in a staff car.

Maj. Aebersold was last stationed at Wiesbaden, Germany. He has been at England only two months.

MAJOR EDWARD G. AEBERSOLD

Whens and Hows of Pruning Plants

Pruning seems more frightening than it really is.

Most home gardeners, who raise their busnes and trees from "mere seedlings," have a tendency not to prune often enough and far enough according to Michigan State University horticulturists.

First, why prune at all?

► To remove broken, dead, diseased and insect damaged branches.

► To produce a more sturdy and dense plant.

► To control the growth of the plant and produce the desired size and shape.

► To improve flowering and fruiting.

Then, when should you prune?

From the point of view of necessity, you can prune at practically any time of the year.

Early blooming spring shrubs like pussy willow and forsythia can be pruned early and "forced" into blossomed boughs in the warm basement.

Normally, plants which lose their leaves in the winter can be more easily pruned during the dormant season because it is easier to see the framework of the branches.

As a general rule, shrubs and bushes flowering on new growth during the current season (roses for example) grow better if pruned early in the spring. This induces the production of flowering wood.

Those that flower on last year's growth (like forsythia) should be pruned as soon as flowering is finished.

Maple and yellow wood trees bleed less when trimmed in the summer. It's easier to trim most shade trees in fall and winter months.

How far do you go when pruning?

When pruning hybrid tea and floribunda roses early in the spring, before growth begins, you cut the black and dead canes.

Old canes that look diseased and split are cut to the crown. Vigorous growing roses can be cut back more severely.

Climbing roses should not be pruned until flowering has ceased. Then remove all the old stems that have produced flowers and cut back the new vigorous canes to where they are the size of a lead pencil.

Shrubs that are over-grown should be pruned by cutting back older, discolored canes to the ground level. Reshape the clump by pruning back the branches to side shoots.

Ground covers and vines can be pruned to suit the location.

Vines need to be trimmed to keep them within bounds, away from windows or on a trellis.

An evergreen will become more bushy and maintain its natural shape when you remove the tips of branches at least once a year.

When you trim a hedge remember that it is important for the sun to reach all the leaves and branches.

It is important to keep the top more narrow than the bottom. Do not make the side perpendicular or narrow at the bottom.

Trim with a round top leaving the bottow wider or so it is even across the top, but flares out at the bottom.

At planting time, trees should be pruned to produce an even distribution of main branches. When you trim trees first remove dead and injured branches.

It becomes dangerous for inexperienced people to trim large trees and a professional should be called in, MSU authorities advise.

You can prevent the weight of the limb from tearing the main trunk when removing a large branch.

Make the first saw cut from beneath and branch a few inches farther out on the limb.

This can be sawed flush with the main trunk and the wound treated with asphalt wound dressing or sprayed with a aerosol spray specially prepared for this purpose.

The engagement of Maureen Fay McClure to Donald Lee Schmidt is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McClure, rural Tecumseh. Mr. Schmidt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt, 208 W. Cummins St. A July wedding is planned.

400,000 from Michigan Will Probably See Fair

More than 400,000 Michiganians will be among the 35 million tourists who flock to the New York World's Fair this summer, predicts Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

This is the largest number of Michiganians ever to attend any single attraction in history.

New York's biggest show of all time opens April 22, signaling the influx of tourists which will continue through October 18.

The location is the original site of the 1939-40 World's Fair at Flushing Meadows, Queens, in the center of metropolitan New York.

It's nine miles east of Times Square, opposite Manhattan, six miles from John F. Kennedy International Airport (formerly Idlewild) and two miles from LaGuardia Airport.

☆

THE FAIR'S bigness literally staggers the imagination. It is as large as your first county fair midway looked to you but wasn't.

Imagine a grassy, tree-shaded, fountain-splashed area 17 football fields long and 17 wide. Suddenly it is filled so no corner looks empty, with buildings varying in shape from a huge eggshell and a rectangular box to a graceful Oriental temple.

The Fair will provide a peek into future industrial and scientific miracles in everything from your home kitchen to space ship travel.

It'll sell products and brag of U. S. accomplishments, offer fun and religion, food and fantasy, entertainment and education — all in liberal doses.

In short, it'll sell the image of progress.

☆

A VISITOR will be able to do everything from whizzing overhead on a monorail, looking down on the Fair, to scooting along on the ground in a private go-cart-like vehicle. One can eat a full 10-course meal for $15 or make do on a hot dog or hamburg. There are 113 restaurants, ranging from snack bars to the fanciest of eateries.

Featured is everything from Hongkongburger (hamburger and noodles) served from a motorized rickshaw to a three-hour luau at the Hawaiian pavilion.

What'll it cost to see the Fair?

"The average tourist can expect to spend at least $20 to $22 a day," says Mr. Fisher. This doesn't include transportation.

AAA estimates the average family of four, two adults and two children, using an automobile for transportation, can expect to spend approximately $350 for three days at the Fair.

This includes expenses both ways. Those who want to do sightseeing around New York City can expect this to cost around $25 a day.

☆

FROM DETROIT, the distance to New York is 673 miles by the Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes, and by the Windsor-Buffalo-Albany route, 740 miles.

Driving time from Detroit via the United States is some 13 hours. By the Canadian route, it's at least 15 hours.

Once in New York City, sleeping accommodations become the biggest daily expense. The average motel costs $18 to $24 daily for two persons, a hotel $14 to $34 for two.

Plan to spend at least another $3.50 to $4.50 daily for parking unless the motel offers this free. Mr. Fisher advises. At the Fair Grounds, parking will cost another $1.50 a day.

"Motel and hotel accommodations should be made at least two months in advance," says Mr. Fisher. "And don't forget to make reservations along the route, both going and returning."

The Auto Club needs two weeks to make New York reservations, according to Mr. Fisher, adding that the prospective visitor should be ready to forward one to three nights lodging costs in advance to confirm reservations.

Where to stay in New York depends largely upon how the visitor gets there — by car, rail or air.

For those going by automobile, accommodations in midtown Manhattan, Flushing or Brooklyn are recommended.

Those who want to see the sights of New York City in addition to the Fair should strongly consider Manhattan's advantages while LaGuardia or Kennedy's air terminal accommodations are convenient for those who go by air.

☆

FOOD IS THE second most expensive daily item. A light breakfast or lunch costs only 25 cents — if you like doughnuts and coffee.

It jumps to $1.50 if you're partial to ham and eggs. Automat lunches are available under $1.

Just to be practical, however, put down $1.50 to $2 for lunch.

Dinner, as everywhere, is the most expensive meal. If you want to eat in one of New York's or the Fair's better restaurants, it will cost at least $10 a person. Other places a complete steak dinner costs only $1.19. But for an average dinner, figure around $2.50.

The day's expenses also should include transportation in and around New York City and admission to the Fair grounds.

From Manhattan, the bus fare is $1 and the IRT subway 15 cents. From Brooklyn, the subway is 20 cents. Both LaGuardia and Kennedy airports will have limousine service for 50 and 80 cents respectively. These are one-way fare, one person.

☆

Upon arrival at the entrance, the gate fee is $2 for adults and $1 for children to age 13. Unless, of course, you've purchased admission tickets in advance of the opening at a discount.

Money spent at the Fair is expected to average $7.20 for each adult and $3.45 for children, AAA figures. This includes food, admission and 30 cents subway fare.

It all adds up — New York City will be a much-visited place this year between April 22 and Oct. 18. And there's an encore in store next year, from April 21 through October 17.

William Brown Named Director of Livestock Assn.

Sixteen [illegible] board of directors are producers, thus assuring that livestock producers are pretty much going to have the say-so in governing the new organization.

Marketing agencies and educational institutions will also serve on the board.

Getting top priority in proposed projects of the association is that of stepping-up in-state support of the National Livestock and Meat Board's nationwide program of consumer education, scientific research and promotion-merchandising activities for meat products.

GERTIE'S DUCKS — Part II

Last week we discussed a few of the reasons why we have enjoyed Gertie's big white ducks. They are fine performers and have afforded us all much good looking. In midwinter there was an exciting addition to the creek's duck population — three mallards! One of them didn't 'make it' but fortunately the two survivors are a male and a female. It should be an interesting spring.

For weeks and weeks after Gertie's mallards arrived, we were in a regular tizzy. Everybody saw them before we did. All the time that the creek was frozen over, the new ducks huddled close to her house and out of our sight.

Suddenly, however, as far as the newcomers were concerned, a miracle happened — the creek thawed! With water for swimming and playing, they had a new lease on life.

I was excited, too, because finally I saw them. What a handsome pair! The male is especially gorgeous; rather formally dressed, he wears a white collar, a dark cravat and a deep-cut snowy-white vest which extends well up his sides.

His most outstanding characteristic is his beautiful and brilliant green head; in the proper light it has an iridescent sheen.

As might be expected, Mrs. M. is not brightly colored but she is very pretty. She is a mixture of browns and tans which will blend perfectly into the background of a nest-site and provide ideal protection when she starts raising her family.

GETTING BACK to the 'opening up of the creek' — with water handy, the newcomers were in seventh heaven.

They swam, took splashing baths and ate from the creek bottom; it was one continuous show.

Part of this underwater eating is done by merely putting their heads down but sometimes, if a tasty morsel is out of reach, they tip up. Occasionally the current catches them up-ended and a very surprised duck is somersaulted completely over.

As the ice melted away, more and more water opened and the mallards started exploring their new home.

We were so pleased when they worked this way; when they ventured this side of Doctor's bridge, we really had a good chance to duck-watch.

They are surprisingly and deceptively fast; their smooth, graceful swimming technique sends them sailing along.

☆

ON THE DAY of the great blizzard we were all doing more than wondering. We were worrying about the mallards. Where were they?

For six days nobody saw hide nor feather of them. They didn't go up to Gertie's for corn, none of us had ever seen them fly and being so unfamiliar with the creek — well, with all that snow, we just wondered about their ability to handle the situation.

Fortunately our fears were groundless. One morning we looked out and there they were. However, I cannot add the usual as if nothing had happened. Whatever had happened to the ducks during the storm, wherever they were, gave them a great deal of self-confidence.

They are extremely independent these days and are apparently wandering far afield. (Maybe I should say far astream).

Anyway, they seldom go up for corn now and they may be two or three days in a row that we don't even see them. I just hope that their roamings won't become too lengthy and that they don't forget the way home.

So it is that anticipating a spring full of good looking, I will close this chapter about Gertie's ducks.

Spring — Where and When?

Tecumseh Sailor Helps in Good Deed by Navy

USS POLLUX — Frederick R. Hartwig, Jr., signalman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Hartwig, Sr., of 115 W. Pottawatamie St., participated in a good-will visit Feb. 21-24 by this general stores issue ship to the city of Takamatsu, Japan.

The visit was made to strengthen friendly relations between America and Japan.

He helped in constructing playground equipment while the ship was en route from the Philippines to this city, which is not frequently visited by U. S. Navy ships.

The Pollux-built playground consisted of swings, monkey bars, seesaws, a horseshoe pit and a volleyball court. This equipment was presented to the children of Kameyama Orphanage in a dedication ceremony by Captain Vining A. Sherman, commanding officer of Pollux.

The Governor of Kagawa Prefecture praised the Pollux sailors for their meaningful contribution and said it was an example of American generosity and unselfish giving to the needy.

Pollux crew members were then taken by the governor on a tour to Honjima Island where a temple, cemetery and museum stand in memory of the 55-man crew of the Japanese ship "Kanjin Maru".

"Kanjin Maru" was the first Japanese ship to cross the Pacific. Its voyage in 1860 carried the first cargo exchanged between Japan and America under the Japan - American Trade Treaty.

News from the Tecumseh Library

Beginning immediately, Tecumseh Public library is offering a new film information service to all citizens of this community.

For those interested in the content of current movies the library will post 'The Green Sheet', a widely-recognized movie review service containing the composite reviews of ten prominent national organizations.

Representatives of the following organizations serve on The Film Estimate Board of National Organizations: American Jewish Committee, American Library Association, Federation of Motion Picture Councils, General Federation of Women's Clubs and National Congress of Parents Teachers.

Also National Council of Women of the U.S.A., National Federation of Music Clubs, Daughters of the American Revolution, Protestant Motion Picture Council and Schools Motion Picture Committee.

The Motion Picture Review Committees of these national organizations screen all of the important domestic and some foreign films, independently preparing their reviews.

These are then discussed and compiled into a "film estimate" which represents the composite reviews of all members.

'The Green Sheet' will be posted monthly and is made available with the cooperation of the Motion Picture Association of America.

In addition to the reviews, 'The Green Sheet' suggests suitable audiences. These range from General Audience (GA) to Adult (A), including special categories for Young People (YP) and Mature Young People (MYP).

He's America riding a tractor . . . Democracy wearing a straw hat . . . He is freedom holding a hoe . . . He's the future of the world in a pair of blue overalls . . .

Since the dawn of time he's wrestled the land and squeezed life from the angry soil . . .

He likes the music of small streams and the look of trees climbing a hill. He likes the breath of air filtered through growing fields . . . and the echo of a sharp axe cutting into a tree trunk. He likes the look of corn shucks at autumn time . . . and the smile of a harvest moon . . .

He's a farmer.

He's the meat and potatoes of a nation . . . He's the ham and eggs on the menu at a restaurant . . . He's Halloween pumpkins and cold watermelons at a Fourth of July picnic . . . He's the turkey and yams on a Thanksgiving Day dinner table . . .

He's a farmer.

Tan and lean, he's always the first of the pioneers. He breaks frontiers and clears the earth and tames the land for the city men to come . . .

He's a strong man and a gentle man. Strong enough to hold a plow in line against the hard earth . . . and gentle enough to caress a new-born calf with loving hands . . .

His tall, strong sons fight the nation's wars . . . his bustling wife brings gentleness and peace to the raw plains and the wild valleys.

He's a gambler. He throws his seed like dice on a giant gambling table of land. He bets his muscles and his know-how on the heat of the sun and the turn of a rain cloud. Sometimes he wins. Sometimes he loses. The Gods make him sweat for his winnings . . .

He's America's best customer . . . He's the world's most constant hope . . . He's the most useful man in America . . .

He's a farmer!

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Couldn't help but chuckle when news came through this week that my old friends in Egypt have paid up in full their United Nations obligations.

The assessment was the United Arab Republic's share for keeping the peace in Africa, wasn't much by big government standards, less than half a million.

When the WJR newscester told about it Monday evening, he made reference to the fact that now Russia had one less companion in the tiny gang of mavericks who refuse to kick in on such UN bills.

All of which goes to show that Nasser may seem an independent thinker and dedicated to right after all.

This, of course, could be the case, however, probably isn't.

In a few weeks, the United Nations Education Scientific Cultural Organization is going to take off on a $36 million project in Egypt, the cutting up and transplanting — jig-saw fashion — of the Great Temples at Abu Simbel.

This action will preserve the 3,200-year-old antiquities on the banks of the Nile, high above the giant reservoir to be formed by the new Aswan Dam.

Now, do you see the way Nasser thinks?

The United States will foot about $11 million of the $36 million total, or about 33%, which is Uncle Sam's usual committment in any UNESCO undertaking.

With Egypt paid up, Congress, supposedly, won't be so inclined to hang the horse collar on Nasser when it comes time to officially OKing our $11 million in the Abu Simbel deal

Smart people, these Arabs.

Two big events filled last Thursday night — the Pythian smorgasbord at Tipton and the "Daisies Won't Tell" 4-H fashion show at Tecumseh Community Center.

Both were delightful.

Right down to my second piece of home-made cake, the feed in Tipton had all aspects of a Roman feast. How those Pythian Sisters can bake bread, cabbage, rolls, make salads.

Back at the ranch, er, the Community Center, the young ladies from the Holloway Homemakers, County Hi Steppers and Tecumseh Top-Notchers modeled various garments they have been working on over the past few months.

Their sewing was expert and their modeling superior. It's tough for a 12-year-old to sweep up on stage as her name is called, then float about in front of a couple hundred spectators as her work of art is described.

In the judging department, the Homemakers rolled to greatest honors with Marsha and Connie Gautz, Pamela Shandley, Louise Machan and Donna Forsyth all being selected among "best of show." Marcia Gilbert of the Top Notchers also earned a place in the winner's circle.

But to me, every youngster in the event was a winner, including the musical entertainment department.

A finger-snapping, toe-dancing trio of Kathy and Steve Maples and Terry Clymer really shined with such off-beat numbers as "My Dad's an Engineer, Now Whatta You Think of That?"

Over in Jackson, the merchants are threatening to do what Tecumseh businessmen have already begun—thanks to United Savings Bank President Pat Meadows.

Get rid of all downtown parking meters.

Storeman after storeman is climbing on the bandwagon here and when the word from Tecumseh starts filtering into other communities, there probably will be many more doing the same thing.

Just about everyone agrees that dumping the metered parking routine is one step in the direction of enticing more business into Tecumseh.

But, they recognize this is only one.

Still ranking at the top are:

► Progressive merchandising
► Depth of inventory

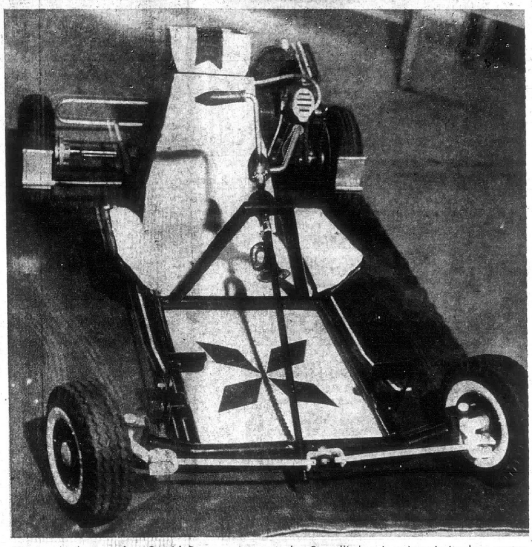
While on the subject of retail business, the next step downtown folks should be considering is a combined beautification program.

The city of Davison, near Flint, did it and the boys there are real happy. Maybe a committee from Tecumseh might motor up and have a look around.

His Shop Project Won Second in State

Russell Cowen, a Tecumseh High School junior, was thrilled last week to learn his go-kart had been judged a state runner-up in the annual Industrial Arts competition at Muskegon. A week earlier, the kart snagged top honors at the Region II judging session held in Ypsilanti and covering nearly 100 entries from three countie. All were made by boys in their high school shop classes. In the Michigan finals, Russell's effort was among more than 200 in Class C, junior and seniors who have no more than 10 hours of industrial arts classroom time weekly.



Tecumseh shop teacher Gerald Potter points out that Russell's kart is unique in its drop center design, giving a lower-than-usual center of gravity. The steering wheel is an original and of walnut. Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cowen of rural Tipton. Used car dealer John Long provided free transportation to Muskegon for the state competition.

Set July 4th Celebration

A well-filled day of activities for July 4 this summer is being planned by Tecumseh service clubs.

The Dawn Patrol, sponsored by Exchange, will begin the festivities with breakfast served in the hangar of the Meyers Airport from 7 a.m. until all are fed.

A parade is planned at noon and the Hall-Slater Post of the VFW will serve a meal from their newly-installed permanent barbecue pit in the parking lot at the rear of the building.

The meal will be offered rain or shine, due to a shelter to be built by the veterans.

Ball games will be held on Recreation Field in the afternoon and an extensive display of fireworks will climax the day.

The Shawnee Squares, western style square dancing group, plans dances during both afternoon and evening at the Tecumseh Community Center with two top Michigan callers on hand.

Dr. Malcolm Bagshaw Accomplishes Another Career Achievement

(Editor's note — A recent front-page story in the Palo Alto Times reported another major achievement in the career of Tecumseh-born doctor, Malcolm Bagshaw. Following is a condensation of the article.)

Dr. Malcolm Bagshaw has been successfully treating localized cancer with intensive doses of drugs concurrently with intensive radiation therapy in the Stanford University Medical Center.

Dr. Bagshaw, associate professor of radiology at the Stanford University School of Medicine, near Palo Alto, Calif., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Bagshaw, 615 W. Chicago Blvd.

DR. MALCOLM BAGSHAW

For the past two years he and his associates have been investigating the feasibility of using this type of combined therapy on patients with inoperable cancer or such that cannot be treated with radiotherapy.

☆

THEIR FINDINGS were reported to the 1964 Science Writers Seminar of the American Cancer Society recently at Palm Beach Shores, Fla., by Dr. Bagshaw and Dr. Henry Kaplan, head of the school radiology department.

Certain drugs may render cells more sensitive to X-ray therapy.

The investigations have been designed to find out if the human body will tolerate a combination of drugs and X-ray treatments for long periods of time.

Treatment of 30 patients with neck cancers and 10 with pelvic cancers, the area best suited to this approach, indicate it can, Dr. Bagshaw reported.

He says that patients can safely be given the drug concurrently with X-ray therapy for as long as six weeks.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Car Strikes 4-Year-Old

A four-year-old boy and a 20-year-old youth were seriously injured in two accidents here Saturday and Sunday.

James William Deakins, 4, of rural Adrian, was hospitalized Saturday afternoon when he ran into the side of a car driven by Charley D. Bater, 34, of 412 W. Brown St.

The Deakins boy was playing on the N. Evans St. bridge over River Raisin while his parents were below the dam fishing.

Mr. Bater was not held responsible.

EARLY SUNDAY morning, Jessie W. Smith, 20, Clinton-Macon Rd., rammed his new convertible sports car into the rear of a car driven by Annie E. Holt, 34, of 501½ W. Pottawatamie St.

Both were taken to Herrick Hospital where Mr. Smith underwent surgery. His condition reportedly is improved, but serious.

The Holt car was in the process of making a left turn off W. Chicago Blvd. onto S. Van Buren St., when Mr. Smith struck her car. Both vehicles were extensively damaged with a fender from Mr. Smith's car impregnated into the Holt vehicle.

The youth was charged with reckless driving.

IN TWO other accidents the past week, Mayor Harold Easton, 39, of 701 Center Ct., was cited for improper backing when his pickup truck damaged a car driven by Harry R. Hunter, 43, of 412 N. Evans.

Ernest F. Gamble Jr., 26, Jackson, also was charged with improper backing when he backed into a car operated by Evan W. Lounsbury, Lansing.

City Picking Up Trash Next Week

City Manager Cal Zorn has instigated a Clean-Up, Fix-Up season for Tecumseh, to get the community ready for Michigan Week, May 17 to 23.

City trucks will make trash pick-ups from the curbs all of next week and again the first two weeks of May.

"Trash should be placed in containers if possible," said Mr. Zorn.

2 Juniors Are Cited by English Teachers

Laura Seager and David Porteous, Tecumseh High School juniors, have been nominated for the annual achievement awards program, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Seager, 309 W. Chicago Blvd.

David is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous, 205 W. Chicago Blvd.

This is the seventh year the Council is conducting the competition of grant recognition to outstanding seniors for excellence in English.

Local and state committees judge the writing abilities and literary awareness of each nominee.

Winners will be announced in December, 1964. Their names will be sent to any college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

'The Singing Cop' Performs Sunday at Friends Church

"The Singing Cop" will be speaking at the Tecumseh Friends Church for the 10 a.m. service and to the Sunday School at 11:10 a.m. Sunday.

The public is welcome.

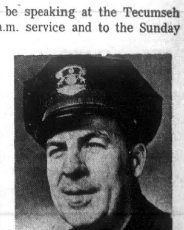
Lieut. Wilburn Legree, known nationally as Flint's "Singing Cop," has been for 27 years a regular officer of the Flint Police Department.

He is in charge of the Child Safety Division, with traffic safety supervision over 35,000 youngsters in public and parochial schools.

He is the director and producer of his "Singing Cop" radio safety program, which is in its 18th year, over WFDF in Flint, and now over Station WMRP, Tuesday at 4:45 p.m., 1570 on the dial.

As a consecrated Christian, Lieut. Legree has sung the Gospel on radio and television, coast to coast, also giving Christian testimony.

Averaging 85 churches a year, giving from 100 to 125 services, he sings sacred concerts, community hymn sings, youth and children rallies, father and son banquets and family night programs.



LIEUT. WILLIAM LeGREE

There are two children in the Legree family, Larry, 19, and Barbara Jean, 15.

Mrs. Legree is an accomplished pianist and organist and assists her husband in his Christian service, often singing with him.

Laughs Come Fast in Comedy

If the laughter coming from the Community Center during the past two weeks is any indication, "The Male Animal" should be one of the Tecumseh Players' funniest shows.

Opening Thursday at the Center, curtain time is 8 p.m. It plays Friday and Saturday of this week and also April 23, 24 and 25.

Ticket chairman Tom Corkery, reports the reservations have already surpassed the total ticket sales for any previous spring production of the Players.

☆

MRS. HOWARD GENTRY, the Tecumseh Players' newcomer formerly with the Wayne Players, is playing the role of Ellen.

The part of her young professor husband is portrayed by Dick Boyd, familiar to the local theater-goers for his roles in "Charlie's Aunt", "Ten Little Indians," "The Golden Fleecing," and "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

Mr. Corkery, a local funeral director, has his first major stage role as the ex-football hero.

☆

THE PART of Michael Barnes, serious intellectual college senior, is played by Don Partridge. Don was active in Tecumseh High School productions of "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Blithe Spirit". This is his first show with the Tecumseh Players.

He attended the University of Michigan, is a bachelor and is currently employed by the Partridge Implement.

Gil Rothfuss, familiar to Tecumseh Players theatre-goers, has the role of Dean Damon, head of the English Department.

Gil is a veteran of previous productions with both Brooklyn and Tecumseh Little Theatre group. He was in Tecumseh's "Ten Little Indians" and the alcoholic attorney in "Born Yesterday".

A Ford employee in the automotive quality control department, he and his family reside in Brooklyn.

Cindy Parker, a Clinton High School junior, is in her first role with the Tecumseh Players, and is playing the college love interest.

Cindy has much theatre in her background as both her father and mother have been active in Tecumseh Players. Mrs. Charles Parker, her mother, is also in this show, playing Mrs. Damon.

She has been seen previously with the Clinton Players in "You Can't Take It With You" and with the Tecumseh Players in the role of Elizabeth in "Angel Street."

As Mr. Parker says, "You name the role of a maid and I've had it".

☆

THE HANDSOME, energetic football player, Wally, is played by Hal Weakly also in his first production with the Tecumseh Players.

Hal had high school experience here in Tecumseh in "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Blithe Spirit".

He is another of the bachelors in the cast and is employed in the export department of Tecumseh Products.

Mrs James Vanzo, special education teacher with the Lenawee County schools, has the role of Cleo, the loyal but somewhat slow-to-grasp maid in "The Male Animal".

Mrs. Vandzo was active in the theatre at Ball State Teachers College. With the Tecumseh Players she appeared in "Ten Little Indians", worked on props on "Pajama Game" — all of this interrupted by a year off in Alaska.

☆

EVER SINCE Bill Frownfelder first did the lights for "The Man Who Came To Dinner", he was bitten with the bug and showed up on stage as Senator Hodges in "Born Yesterday", and worked lights for "Pajama Game".

He plays Ed Keller, the most influential voice of the local board of trustees, in "The Male Animal".

It's that time again. When the geese are flying over and the Mergansers are ducking and diving and generally having a water ball and most of all, the fish are jumping.

You can hide his coat and hat, make off with his transportation, lay out his paper and slippers and still Dad will find a way to sneak away to the most likely spot where the blue gills will snap at that fly.

The rakish tilt of his old fedora, the twinkle in his eye and the bounce in his step help you realize that it's better this way, even though he does bring home just one lone fish.

Orchids, Fish Nets, Grass Skirts

Palms, orchids, birds of paradise, coconuts and a spotlighted bird bath transformed the dining room of the Masonic Temple into a Hawaiian Island April 9.

Mrs. Robert Bonner, worthy matron, assisted by Mrs. Harry Bonner, Mrs. Joe Hyball, Mrs. Ann Grambo, all from Ferndale, did the decorating.

They made colorful place mats, enhanced with orchids, tea leaves and paper palm trees. Pineapples were also used on the tables.

Each guest received an orchid from Hawaii as they entered.

Meter Money Still Coming

Pledges continue to pour into a fund of Tecumseh merchants in an effort to help the city retire off-street parking meter bonds.

The merchants already have retired two bonds, saving the city considerable expense. Plans call for retirement of two more shortly. Each bond costs $1,000.

The week of activity will be climaxed Sunday at 6:30 a.m. when Mr. Bowman will deliver the public address: "Benefiting Eternally from God's Own Book."

Tecumseh Cub and Pony League action is coming soon, reports Joseph Dziachan.

Any boy living in Tecumseh School District who will attain the age of nine years before Aug. 1, and who will not attain the age of 13 years before Aug. 1, is eligible to compete in the Cub League.

All boys, who did not play in the Cub League last year and wish to this summer, can register at the Community Center Thursday and Friday between 7 and 9 p.m.

Boys must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and must have their birth certificate.

In order to properly process these boys it is absolutely necessary for boys to register or they cannot participate, cautions Mr. Dziachan.

Only those boys who did not play last year need to register.

After being locked in the city jail, the children visited the Fire Department and The Tecumseh Herald.

They were grateful for the helpful persons who explained demonstrations for them during their busy day about the city.

Progress Is Great During Last 20 Years

Mr. Wiltse stated that, "More progress has been made in the field of medicine in the last 20 years that in the previous 20 centuries."

A child born today can expect to live 10 years longer than his parents born in the 1930's.

Deaths per 100,000 population has been cut in half for most diseases and almost eliminated in others.

He also stated that, "Drug companies have spent $250 million in research to develop new prescription drugs which must be approved by the Federal Drug Administration before they can be released to doctors for use in treating patients."

Exchange Club members will next meet April 27 at 6 p.m. for an early dinner before going to Ann Arbor to tour the Phoenix Project.

How to get a bigger allowance when you trade your car

When they tell you it's not the first cost that counts, but the upkeep too —that's not the whole story either. Read on . . .

When you visit our showroom and chat with one of our salesmen you're really just talking with another car owner. There's not a man on our staff who isn't a car buyer himself, with the same interest in getting the most for his money as you. He knows your side of the story! And here it is . . .

First you want the best deal you can get when you buy.

He'll explain to you our Spring sale of '64 Comets and how it can save you lots of money right off the bat. It's merely a matter of sales volume. Comet sales are up — 131% over a year ago,* and still climbing. So we're keeping prices down at rock-bottom to keep our sales sky-high.

Next you want economy every mile you drive.

And don't think because a car saves you money by the mile that it's a "dog." Matter of fact, the '64 Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion (each member of a team went that distance recently at Daytona, averaging over 105 mph for the course!). The point is Comets have a host of built-in service-saving features to give economy new meaning!

And finally — you want the most in trade when the time comes.

Well — now we come to the happy ending of our story. For high resale is Comet's language! This one has the tradition of record high resale — one of the hottest items in demand on anybody's used car lot. Yessir, if you want to know how to get more in trade — start with a Comet in the first place!

And the very first place to come for that is our dealership — why not make it today?

*Same period '64 vs. '63.

Hats Are Program at Friendly Class

Twenty members of the Friendly Class of the Friends Church were entertained with a program on "Hats" Friday evening at the church.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows and Mabel Lockwood were hostesses.

A business session was conducted by President Mrs. Herbert Murphy. It was decided to send $10 to the Rev. and Mrs. Dale Neff, missionaries in Africa, for their Jeep fund.

Mrs. Neff is the former Marion Comfort, a Tecumseh Friends girl.

Mrs. Roland Mohr was in charge of the entertainment and introduced Edith Ingersol, who set the pace for the program by talking about bonnets, sunbonnets, fascinators and bird trimmed hats. With her unusual sense of humor she provoked many a laugh.

There were two interesting sunbonnets, large brimmed hats with plumes, smaller hats with flowers, and just plain straws.

☆

ANOTHER GUEST was Mrs. Truman Rentschler and she gave some facts about women and their hats she had discovered in recent research.

"Stories about hats and the part they played in history make informative reading," she said.

A red rose arrangement in hobnail vases was presented to each of the three members with April birthdays — Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Mrs. Roland Mohr and Mrs. Perry Hayden.

The retiring president was presented with a gift from the class and appreciation was expressed for the outstanding job she did in her long term of office.

☆

NEW OFFICERS were elected:

President — Mrs. Perry Hayden

Vice-President — Mrs. Charles Manley

Secretary — Mrs. Roland Mohr

Treasurer — Mrs. Percy Slater

Assistant Treasurer — Mrs. Olive Tomlinson

Sunshine Committee — Mrs. Harry Creger, Mrs. Sheldon Chase and Mrs. Zola Rufner.

We wish to congratulate the Tecumseh city officials and others who were instrumental in bringing the announced General Motors plant to Tecumseh. All Tecumseh citizens are also to be praised, as General Motors would have never selected this community if the ground work of good schools, churches and utility facilities had not kept pace with the needs of the Community and the desire of its residents for progress.

To show our faith in the economic growth of the Tecumseh community, we wish to announce that we will expand the services of our All Day-All Nite Laundromat on West Chicago Blvd. Details will be announced at a later date. We wish to thank all of our good customers who have patronized us for the past four years.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books to be found on the shelves at your Public Library:

Samuel Eliot Morison has written a monumental, but extremely readable volume entitled The Two-Ocean War. Admiral Morison is a competent man to have recorded the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the long war between the submarines and convoys in the Atlantic, the battles of the Coral Sea and Midway, the long grind of Guadalcanal, the leapfrogging campaigns among the Pacific islands, and the final surrender of the Japanese.

Another aspect of the second World War is narrated by Andrew Tully. He, along with two other Americans, reached Berlin on April 27, 1945, at the height of the battle between the Russians and the Germans. He is therefore uniquely qualified to write Berlin: the Story of a Battle. It is the account of the death of a city, and of the end of the war in Europe.

When Adolph Eichmann was brought to trial, the eyes of the world were on the courtroom. Hannah Arendt has written a dramatic account of this in her book Eichmann in Jerusalem.

Until a December day in 1957, Little Rock was only a typical southern city. Then suddenly it became a term heard round the world, a symbol like Lexington and Concord in the struggle for freedom and justice. Daisy Bates who led the battle and gave Negro students and their parents the courage to stand firm has written in moving detail The Long Shadow of Little Rock.

Adela Rogers St. Johns, the daughter of Earl Rogers, the celebrated lawyer, tells the poignant story of his controversial life in Final Verdict.

In a book that matches the charm of its subject, the remarkable woman who stood at Winston Churchill's side during his entire career is at last revealed. In My Darling Clementine, the reading public will find Lady Churchill one of the most fascinating personalities of our times.

Jessica Mitford's explosive and astonishing book The American Way of Death exposes the fantastic inner workings of our funeral industry, crashing through the sanctimonious hush that has kept one of America's most hard-sell industries under wraps.

The remarkable Joy Adamson has written the final volume of one of the most beloved animal stories of our time. Forever Free is the saga in text and wonderful photographs of the cubs of the famous lioness called Elsa.

JOINS AIR FORCE — Kermit L. Wheeler is in basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. A 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Wheeler, 504 Outer Dr. Kermit is a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church and was active in its Youth group.

Anchorage Earthquake Described

(Editor's note: Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whelan are sharing with readers a letter from their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Starkey, who are living in Anchorage, Alaska. The letter was written Tuesday morning following the earthquake there which occurred the preceding Friday).

"Dear Mom and Dad—

"We have just experienced an awful nightmare, all I can say is Thank God we live where we do and were spared extensive damage. Words can never tell what we went through or what we felt during those horrible few minutes last Friday afternoon.

"Friday was my day off but I thought about going shopping and didn't, thank God. I got home at 4:30 and got supper for Bill, who came home at 5:15, thank God.

I had just taken the steak from the broiler and called Bill when we started to shake. We've had a couple of small shakes like this before since we've been here but it didn't stop and I really got shook. Bill grabbed my hands tight and made me sit on the couch. Things fell out of the cupboards, and everything started falling around — that dear old trailer shook from side to side so badly — it wouldn't have been surprising had it fallen off the blocks.

"After it was over, Bill and I went outside and talked with the neighbors, not having any idea how badly the rest of Anchorage had been damaged. The electricity had gone off so I immediately started cleaning the big mess (after we sat down and calmly ate the cold steak).

"Because of no power Bill listened to the car radio. Shortly he came in and told me to come and listen, too. The new J. C. Penney store had fallen down and people had been killed. (Mrs. Starkey is employed in one of the department stores in downtown Anchorage).

"From then on, everything was a big confused time. We came on the air base where Bill reported for work and we sat in the apartments below Brown's. Military personnel and dependents were to get warm clothing, food and go to the cars. We stayed in the apartments and had everything ready to leave if we had to evacuate. When Bill came home we went back to the trailer with no lights or heat — the gas had been turned off by this time. We stayed that night and since have been here on the base at the Browns.

"Sunday night we found that the main water line right under our trailer was broken. So we had to have the trailer moved out — the court is doing this but Bill has to help a lot. All the work Bill did this summer has to be redone. He was just sick. I guess we can just be thankful that our problem is so minor.

"Anchorage is a mess. We are still not allowed downtown. Its really true that about 80 to 90 per cent of the t..... s area has been wiped out. One of the theatres had the marquees right even with the street. The earth opened up and huge buildings fell in.

"We had several large apartment houses, two 17 stories high, (I took the directory in both this summer) which have to be taken down. The people in them are homeless. They were allowed to go back in, ten at a time, yesterday to get their personal belongings. There were several others that were destroyed. The buildings just completely splintered and shattered apart.

"The Turnagain Area was the worst residential area hit. I did part of this area in the directory, also — I believe I told you about some of the beautiful homes I was in. These are the ones completely demolished.

"Robert Atwood, editor of the Anchorage Times, had a beautiful $250,000 manston. He was home when it started to shake and he went outside and stood and watched his home being crumpled to bits, a complete ruin. He fell in big crevices and had a hard time saving himself — this was one of many homes that completely disappeared.

"Of course, no one is allowed in the area so all we've seen is the paper and a few on television after it came back on the air Monday.

"The saddest part is that very few of these places are covered by earthquake insurance because of the high cost. Someone said only two places were insured. You wonder if the people will build again — I know I would have my doubts. Of course, there probably won't be any more earthquakes.

"I believe when they get everyone accounted for there will be more fatalities than the eight already listed. All Alaska was badly damaged — Seward, who became an all-American city last week, was hard hit by the tidal waves as were others. Esther Livingston's boy is in Seward, have you heard anything of him?

"Kodiak, I believe, was the hardest hit at least as far as deaths and casualties.

"Sears will probably think twice about the kind of building they put up as retail store in the summer of 1965.

"Our store came out pretty good. Our car batteries were all destroyed with acid all over the floor. Everything in the clearance store, all the clothing was on the floor. The store downtown was pretty banged up, but fixable, I guess. We worked yesterday cleaning up the mess and were open for business today as usual.

"We were really busy but people were considerate about calling — leaving the phone for emergency only.

"Don't worry about us — we are fine and very thankful to be on solid ground with a place over our heads.

"We are still having some tremors occasionally and everyone is jumpy, but things will smooth out soon, I'm sure.

"Love from both, Joan and Bill."

Earlier the Better

"The earlier, the better" — that's the best time to start a brand new lawn in the spring, according to James Beard, Michigan State University, turfgrass researcher.

"Although August is considered to be the best bet for establishment of a lawn, some folks may decide on the second choice — namely, late March or early April. By planting when the soil temperature gets just above 40 degrees, the seed gets a chance to get established before broadleaved weeds and crabgrass get started."

☆

MR. BEARD OFFERS the following suggestions for sodding or seeding a new lawn:

► If you're planning a lawn on a new homesite, remember to stockpile the topsoil prior to excavation. Remove all debris from the area after construction is completed. Break up compacted areas. Prepare the final contours.

► Insure proper drainage. Tiling may be necessary on heavy (clay) soils.

► Spread the topsoil and allow it to settle. A rain will assist settling.

► Work 1 to 2 pounds of actual nitrogen, phosporous and potassium per 1,000 sq. ft. into the upper 2 inches of the seedbed with light discing or raking. Also, add lime if soil is very acid (pH of 5.0 or lower).

► Roll, then prepare a final seedbed by hand raking. Take plenty of care with this chore, since any undesirable bumps, limps or contours will remain in your lawn if not removed. Up to this point, all preparation procedures apply to both seeding and sodding.

► Seed or sod adapted grasses. Seed companies or your local county extension office can give you a list of recommended varieties.

► If seeding (instead of sodding), drill or broadcast the seed . . . then rake it lightly into the upper one-quarter inch of the seedbed.

► Roll to firm the seedbed. Follow this with an application of a mulch such as straw or peat moss. You may decide to put on a heavy mulch to get the seeding started, then remove part of it to prevent shading of the young grass.

► Apply water and keep moist until the seeding is established.

► After the first or second mowing, apply ½ pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

Following these practices should give you a nice, permanent lawn, says Beard, provided you get started on this project as soon as possible.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SPRING — WHERE AND WHEN

With Old Man Winter hanging on tenaciously and flighty, Miss Spring, being in no particular hurry to start a Michigan visit, we are caught in the middle.

The great blizzard on March 10 was bad enough, but when it snowed on Easter Sunday, that was almost the last straw. A white Easter — who wanted it?

And how about the "pretty" snowfall on the last day of March? I was about ready to pack up and head for Arizona or Florida.

Such drastic action was impossible, however, and so I tried to apply the mind-over-matter technique and think warm weather-type thoughts.

Actually, of course, the calendar says we bid a happy farewell to winter weeks and weeks ago. I know it, you know it, why doesn't the weather man?

About the only consolation is that these many late snow storms are giving the parched ground some much-needed moisture.

But really, wouldn't long drinks of warm, gentle spring rains be just as beneficial?

☆

BUT MARDA, what happened to the positive thinking! There are signs that our first season, as Edwin Way Teale likes to call spring, is just waiting in the wings.

A few weeks ago she even managed to give us a sneak preview of the marvelous things to come. It was a marvelously warm Tuesday. A shirt-sleeve day, a convertible top-down day, a yard-raking day.

As the temperature sky rocketed into the 70's, I felt the first faint stirring of the symptoms which proclaim the dread disease, spring-fever. Just outside my south window were two large clumps of crocus so thick were they that the ground seemed carpeted in yellow, orange, purple and lilac. A lovely sight.

The beautiful sunshine was coaxing the little flowers to open so fast that we could almost hear them pop. The next day the few brave souls who struggled open received our thanks, but also faces full of snow.

☆

BUT EVEN before this much-too-brief sojourn into spring, the birds were showing signs of the changing season. We noticed the action of the old faithfuls first. When they start coming to the feeders in pairs, something is up.

Then, when Mr. Blue-jay starts toting sunflower seed to his girl — well, there is just no explanation except spring. The little round juncos are beginning to bunch up in preparation for their trek north.

They like to travel en masse and the flock which is congregating in our yard must number 12 to 15.

One of these days, perhaps even before you read this, the juncos will all be gone and we will see no more of these slatish black birds, with the white outer tail feathers, until next fall.

☆

THIS IS THE time of year when we lose some birds, but gain others. Robins and grackles are back in full force. How big and fat the robins are and how bright, too.

By mid-summer they will begin to look a bit ragged but now they are most welcomed spirit-lifters. I must admit though that to see them wade through snow banks is quite discouraging. Towhees and red-wing blackbirds are back — we have not seen any, but several people have thoughtfully reported their return.

And have you noticed how delightfully long the days are getting? The folks say it is nice to drive without the car lights on in the morning and I am enjoying being able to eat dinner without the room lights on or the window drapes closed.

Of course, the bitter point of view would be that the ever-increasing hours of daylight merely enable us to see more of the gook which a crotchety Old Man Winter keeps sending our way.

So it is that although there are signs of warm weather's eventual arrival, today I look out on a cold, damp world and wonder, "Spring — where and when?"

THE PROGRAM leader, Ralph Comfort, reviewed the establishment of the brick and tile business in this area by giving the history and experiences over the years in regard to it.

He had copies of The Tecumseh Herald dated April 19, 1866 and Sept. 13, 1866, telling about the beginning of the new enterprise known as the Patterson and Comfort Brick Yard.

The business now is primarily drain tile rather than brick and has undergone many changes in methods and procedures of processing clay.

The program was concluded with a film that he made while in India, showing the methods of making brick.

In Michigan... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

TEEN TALK

By JANICE WHELAN

Newly organized Latin Club met March 9 with 3 members present.

Club officers include:
President — Jerry Hale
Vice-president — Richard Duffin
Scribe — Mary Ann Allen
Treasurer — Dennis McClure.

At the next meeting Mark Renfro has been asked to talk on the effects of Greek and Roman literature.

One tentative activity of the club is to be the second annual Roman Banquet, which will probably be held April 25. The co-chairmen for the event are Pam Brooks and Jeff Long.

April 8 through 10 marked a change in the usual procedure at Tecumseh High School.

Astounded visitors saw students in various garbs unusual for school apparel — girls were carrying boys' books, opening doors for them and scrambling to ask that certain someone to a big dance on Friday.

These three hectic days may be described in two words — Sponge Week. In themselves, they should tell Tecumseh residents that spring has arrived, if only in spirit.

Monday of Sponge Week was Dress-up Day. Can you imagine a classroom of sparkling scholars garbed in suits, ties, good dresses and high heels?

A variety show was held that day, featuring such celebrities as "The Beatlettes", "The Bombs" and a satirical style show.

The second day was Clashing Colors and Funny Tie Day, which really could give one a headache.

The third day was and always will be the favorite — Old Clothes, Gum and Candy Day. Students were encouraged to pick up paper and litter that they found on the floor, instead of adding to it with candy and gum wrappers.

During the week the Student Council collected fines from students who violated the Sponge Week rules — those who did not dress in the order of the day, girls who did not cater to boys' commands.

Gals who asked boys before April 8 to the dance were subject to such monetorial demands as from the outrageous price of 2c on up to a nickel.

The foyer boasted of a smiling dingle-dorf tree, designed by Barbara Colgrove and this writer. On it were pinned the names of the couples going to the dance — the girl would write her date's and her name on a construction paper leaf and pin it on the tree.

The week was ended gallantly with the dance. Its theme was Cannibal Kingdom and the decorations were done by the Future Teachers club.

Two shades of green streamers in the false ceiling and entrance made one feel like they had entered an over-size grass shack. In the center was a small grass shack and [illegible] cooking pot, while along the sides of the gym, jungle characters stared out from paper at the dancers.

The French Club was in charge of the tickets and door favors. Couples were charged by the size of their combined waistlines — standing back to back, together, to be measured. The cost was five cents an inch. At 10:45, Senior Anders Eden was crowned Sponge King.

Members of the court were junior Russ Blanden, sophomore Gordon Gibson and freshman Scott Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newton then led the grand march, which ended at the refreshment table. The refreshments were taken care of by the Spanish Club.

The band was The Quartertones. The Latin Club was in charge of the publicity for the dance.

The winning corsages for the evening were constructed by Susie Hohenstein, Diane Ries, Marilyn Mumaw and Dorothy Nettleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kruger chaperoned and the Council wishes to thank them.

Spanish Supper Is Feature

Gail Meads was elected president of the Methodist Junior High Youth Fellowship at a recent meeting.

Other new officers are:
Vice-president—Beverly Wood.
Secretary—Peggy Loughney.
Treasurer—April Trickey.

The group will meet again on April 19 from 5 until 7 p.m. in the social rooms of the church.

Beverly Wood will lead in prayer and Reed Skinner will present the devotions.

The meeting will feature a Spanish supper to celebrate the research done by the group on Argentina for the past few weeks.

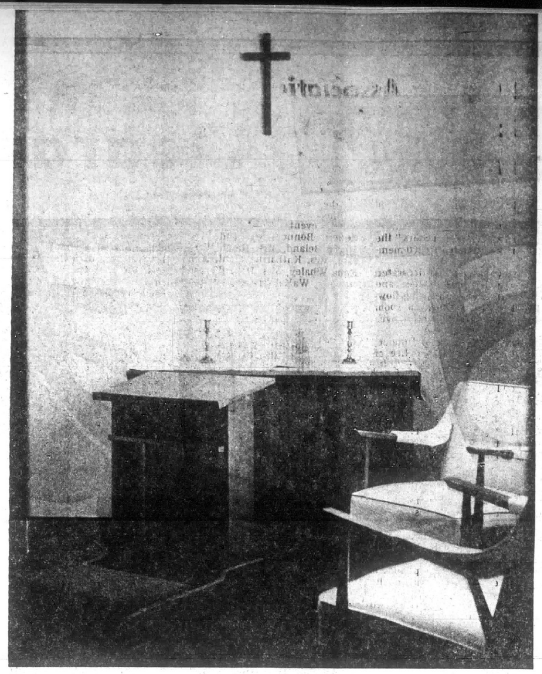
Beverly Wood is chairman of decorations and will be assisted by Robert Wood, Darrell Beal, and April Trickey.

Those attending will bring Spanish dishes to serve. Peggy Loughney and Sonja Sprague will make a pinanta for the event.

Visitors Welcome to Square Dance

The Tecumseh Square Dance Club will hold a dance Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Products Workers Union Hall.

Music will be played by the "String Aires" and refreshments will be served.



QUIET CHAPEL — Peaceful quiet may be found now at Herrick Memorial Hospital in the sanctuary of the chapel. There are times when solace is sought by patients and members of their families. This room provides a place for medi tation and prayer.

Knights Templar Install Officers

LeRoy Montgomery of Blissfield was installed as Eminent Commander.

Others were:
Robert Hunt—generalissimo
Wayne Smith — captain general
George McCombs — excellent prelate.

All are from Tecumseh.

Others in office from this area include D. J. Frayer of Britton, as warder, Delbert Tallman of Clinton as second guard and Howard R. Wilson, Sr., of Ridgeway as associate prelate.

A dinner was served to 100 guests in the Temple dining room prior to the installation.

☆

HOWARD WILSON, SR., was presented with a past commander's jewel.

An afterglo, consisting of a birthday party for Jil Montgomery, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Montgomery, was shared by all who attended.

Jil, the guest of honor, was unable to attend, having contracted scarlet fever three days before.

$16.30 Netted by Special Sale

A total of $16.30 was netted from the white elephant sale at the meeting of the Daughters of St. Peter's Church Tuesday evening in the parish hall.

Mrs. Glenn Driscoll was chairman of the event.

Refreshments were served to 16 by Mrs. Guy Nixon and Mrs. Harry Schuch.

The next meeting will be held April 21.

Gem and Mineral Club Members See Silver Casting

Sixty-five members and guests attended the State Line Gem and Mineral Society meeting Sunday at the Community Center.

He hand carves the shape from wax and embeds it in a plaster of paris material with a small hole in the end, then it's put into a 1200 degree oven for about an hour to allow wax to melt and evaporate.

Then the plaster of paris containing the mold is placed in a centrifugal force apparatus and molten silver is forced into the cast for three to five minutes.

Immediately it is placed into cold water which dissolves the plaster of paris and there is the jewelry.

He stressed that the carving and the smoothness of the first object is the key to fine workmanship.

Outstanding specimens collected by members were on display including trilobites, and septaria.

A complete pyritized trilobites was shown by George Pochay of Lyons, O.

Mrs. Olive DeMerritt, school teacher of Adrian displayed her sizeable collection of septaria.

A schedule of forthcoming field trips was announced as well as plans for the annual rock swap to be held at Frontier City in June.

Lyster League Will Sponsor Public Card Party

Mrs. J. Richard Gates, Mrs. Jack Curtiss, Mrs. Owen Merrill and Mrs. Jule Fosbender are the general chairmen for a public card party Thursday, April 29.

The event will be sponsored by the Lyster League of St. Peter's Church with prizes and refreshments furnished. Activity will begin at 8 p.m.

Final arrangments will be made at the League meeting April 21.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Retail advertising has a double purpose in local newspapers — item selling and image building.

To properly inform the consumer and to meet competition, the retailer gives specific information on certain products which are in demand. It is especially important that such information be presented about the continuous flow of new products handled by every retailer.

But the other function is important. It is vital to long range retail success for the consumer to be constantly reminded of the "personality" of a particular store.

A store may develop an image as a bargain store, a volume store, or as a high fashion store. A large store has the difficult problem of projecting a combination image.

The public image of a store determines the type of customer which comes to buy. The consumer expects the quality of goods to conform with a store's personality.

Realizing this, the nation's major retail chains spend millions of dollars annually on image building advertising. They have found that an image of quality is as important as an image of low cost goods.

Perhaps the local retailer recognizes the need for both kinds of advertising. What he may not recognize is that the public image of his store is constantly changing. The change may be for the worse unless the image is refreshed by advertising as a store improves with changing public demand.

Soil Conservation Service Expanded to Help Rural Area

The United States Department of Agriculture's soil conservation service expanded its technical help to Michigan and the Nation during 1963, reports "Conservation Highlights", a digest of the service's annual report.

The report shows that SCS made a million acres of soil surveys for immediate use in rural-urban planning.

The agency helped plan watershed projects to include recreation and wildlife development, water supply and others along with the primary purpose of flood prevention.

Principal areas of the SCS's work are:

► Rural Areas Development—Bringing to focus USDA services locally by serving on local panels for planning local resources.

SCS helped over 200 rural area development committees, 58 in Michigan.

► Rural Recreation — Farm-based income-producing recreational developments making good use of some kinds of farm land, also public recreation developments in watershed projects.

► Service to Urban Fringe Areas — Special soil survey mapping to guide land planning and development.

Seventy in the nation with five in Michigan received assistance.

► Soil Conservation Districts — Nationally, SCS helped over a million landowners and operators plan and apply soil and water conservation practices with over 30,000 in Michigan.

► Conservation Practices Applied — SCS helped 686,000 landowners and operators apply one or more conservation practices, 19,785 in Michigan.

► Soil Surveys — field mapping the nation's soils.

► Watershed projects — planning and establishment of water and erosion control practices aimed at flood prevention and the best use of land and water resources within the boundaries of one watershed.

A watershed is an area of land all of which drains naturally to a single outlet.

Nationally, 88 new projects were approved for operations and 121 approved for planning. In Michigan there was 1 project approved for operations and 3 for planning.

► International Assistance — service to foreign countries, including assisting with training in Michigan of 12 visitors from six countries.

► Conservation Needs Inventory — In Michigan the survey showed that three-fourths of the land needed conservation treatment and 99 watershed projects are desirable.

☆

Preserve and improve the family farm pattern.

Increase rural income.

Expand rural job opportunities.

Develop wide range of outdoor recreation.

See that resources are used for purposes to which they are adapted.

Provide appropriate services and financial support for protection, development and management of soil, water, forest, fish, wildlife and open spaces.

Improve existing rural community facilities and build new ones so rural people are assured pure water, top schools and other services standard in a modern community.

Continue to strive to eliminate the causes of rural poverty.

Residents of Franklin Should Call 263-2324 for Fire Help

This is the number of the Lenawee County Sheriff, who will pinpoint the trouble and notify the nearest department by radio.

The caller can request assistance from any of three departments — Tecumseh, Sand Lake or Onsted. Clinton is not connected by radio with the sheriff as yet.

All have working agreements with Franklin Township, explains Supervisor Merrick E. Dibble. Cost per call is $300. Recently there have been double calls, where two departments were phoned — and only one was needed.

In the event more trucks are needed, he states, the department already on call will radio for help through a special mutual aid agreement, which will save the township additional billing.

Franklin Township board passed a resolution at the annual meeting to clarify the correct fire calling procedure.

"By having calls come through the central number, quicker service is available and the sheriff knows if any equipment might be out on call at the time, points out the supervisor.

With the sheriff's office handling fire calls, the chance of two trucks from different departments appearing at the same fire is eliminated," Mr. Dibble states.

TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

VOLUME 113 — ONE HUNDRED FOURTEENTH YEAR — NO. 29 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, APHIL 23, 1964 | 14 PAGES PLUS 24-PAGE TABLOID AUTO SECTION | 10c

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Well, as far as The Herald gang is concerned, This Is the Week That Was.

Readers will understand after they take a peek at our 24-page, two-color automotive supplement, which booms an area New Car Jamboree and is included with this edition.

The idea hatched two months ago—seemingly lots of time to put things together. But as it always happens, this turned out to be a last-minute project.

While the office force was tearing about with automobiles on the mind, out Tipton way, our correspondent Mrs. Faye Luce was having her problems.

A most conscientious newspaper gal, Mrs. Luce has been really wound up over her new page-per-week program for Tipton, when the doctor said she'd have to undergo a gall bladder operation.

Instead of calling to say she was sorry and that the next four weeks wouldn't be her own, she fairly zoomed about to make preparations for Tipton news in The Herald during her absence.

Lillian lined up pictures and stories, dropped off a flock of stuff Tuesday morning — en route to the hospital.

She arranged to have Mrs. Raymond Platt fill in for her while she was on "vacation" at 500 E. Pottawatamie St.

When Mrs. Luce gets back home, she'll be recuperating in her upstairs apartment — with telephone, pencils, copy paper and typewriter, all located strategically within easy reaching distance.

That's dedication to a job.

☆

THERE ARE some other dedicated newspaper folks, over at Mason, owners and employees of the Ingham County News.

They're the ones who produced the New Auto Jamboree section for Tecumseh, as well as for weeklies at Clinton, Dundee, Blissfield, Petersburg and Milan where dealers are staging a simultaneous three-day promotion.

Jim and Dick Brown own the Mason paper, which recently moved into a new $75,000 building and installed about $100,000 in offset press equipment.

Their big beauty produces 18,000 papers an hour and the Browns, along with their offset expert, Jim Noverr, just loves to see jobs like our section come into the plant—even if it means staying up all night, as Jim Noverr did in preparing our copy Monday for platemaking, which took place Tuesday morning.

The News has been in the Brown family for 41 years, originally owned by Vernon Brown, one-time lieutenant governor, who just died two weeks ago, and then by Dick and Jim's dad, Nelson.

Going offset, which is a photographic method of printing from plates, has propelled The News gang into another business, advisors on setting up this kind of operation.

They charge $100 a day, plus expenses, for their services and other publishers are glad to pay for it since the things they learn from the two Jims and Dick in a few days can save them countless thousands of dollars and hundreds of hours of heartache.

Well, the day our stuff was delivered in Mason, the Browns excitedly reported their latest request for counsel — from Ariel Melchoir, publisher of The St. Thomas Daily News in the Virgin Islands.

One or two of the boys will shortly be making a sortee to Charlotte Amalie Island to see Mr. Melchoir and guide him in switching over to offset—at 100 bucks per day, all expenses paid, going, coming and while there.

See what being dedicated to a job can mean?

Schneider Wins Bid for Buses

Other bidders were Tecumseh Motors, $3,240; and Tecumseh Equipment, $3,275.

Bids were opened by the School Board Monday night.

STANDOUT PERFORMER — Tom Corkery is confused by a hot water bottle during a laugh-filled scene of "The Male Animal," current Tecumseh Players' production. But the job of portraying the one-time star football player, returning to campus for homecoming, offers no confusion for the local funeral director, who has drawn raves for his performance. The comedy continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at the Community Center.

'Male Animal' Starts Slowly, Finishes Fast

By JUDY FIELDER

James Thurber is a great writer. His play, "The Male Animal," has rung up a string of successes over many years.

It's the current offering of the Tecumseh Players and a first-night report could best be condensed: slow start, laugh-filled finish.

Opening performance jitters and the fact that several cast members were making debuts, caused a dragged first act.

However, as the Players lost themselves in Thurber's lines, the show got airborne and before the night was over, things were in orbit.

Judy Vanzo, the shuffling, mumbling maid — a stage-wise gal — saved the opening portion with her comedy pacing.

Jo Anne Gentry, the feminine lead of Ellen, had a raft of stage experience before recently moving to Tecumseh. The new surroundings may have bothered her at first, but by the second act she was going great guns.

☆

RICHARD BOYD as Tommy, the mild-mannered husband who turned into a "male animal", did an excellent job after he relaxed.

In the scene where he and Don Partridge (Michael, the college newspaper editor) carefully drank themselves into a stupor over their troubles. Dick maintained too much poise.

Rubber-faced Don, on the other hand, had the crowd roaring with his complete loss of dignity.

Tom Corkery handled Joe, the football hero of 10 years past, like a pro. He WAS Joe, the football hero. He continually tied the show together with his complete ease and naturalness.

Cindi Parker, Ellen's teenage sister, although a newcomer to The Players, has inherited tremendous acting ability from her parents. Too venemous with her emotions towards her boyfriends in the beginning, she leveled off and was soon clicking smoothly.

Ed, the blowhard college trustee, done by Bill Frownfelder, was a character to be played to the hilt. Bill did a beautiful job, making everyone thoroughly disgusted with this mouthy, back-slapping, cigar-chewing politician.

☆

HAL WEAKLY, making his first appearance with The Players, did well with his portrayal of Wally, the present college football star. His nervousness was extremely noticeable during the first act, but he calmed later.

Gil Rothfuss, as the flustered

Additional picnic tables and grills, as well as recreational equipment, will be installed. This activity is slated for completion by the Fourth of July.

The committee of public and business affairs has received $200 to provide funds for its "Get Out the Vote" campaigns and safety programs for water activities, drivers and pedestrians.

The entire club worked on the project with the initial committee consisting of Dr. Burkhard, general chairman, Harlan Dicks, Don Partridge, Gene Bosche, Jan Baxter, Edwin Fortin and Gene Tuckey.

☆

Diane Ries has good reason to be all-smiles these days. She was named a 1964 Lenawee County Dairy Sweetheart last week and was also selected by The Herald to appear as "cover girl" on the 24-page New Car Jamboree special section that accompanies this week's paper. Diane's picture will also adorn Jamboree supplements in Clinton, Blissfield, Milan, Dundee and Petersburg weeklies. As a Dairy Sweetheart, Diane and Betty Keller of Jasper, afforded a similar honor, will represent the county at the first annual Dairy Foods Educational Conference on the Michigan State University campus April 19 through 21. The girls won on personality, poise, knowledge, beauty, manners and public speaking abilities.

Two Issues, Two Seats on Ballot

Tecumseh's Board of Education approved two issues for the school's June 8 election at which time voters also will decide two saets on the board.

The Tecumseh Public Library, which technically comes under school jurisdiction but is managed by a library board, will be seeking sixth-tenths of a mill for five years.

The library is presently getting .3 mill. This will expire at the end of the year. The issue was presented once before and turned down by a small margin.

A second issue on the ballot will be a request from the voters to change the local school district from a Fourth Class to a Third Class District.

This proposal has been discussed for over a year by the board.

☆

THE THIRD CLASS rating will give the school authorities less stringent regulations for operation and should save the district some expenses.

Savings could be rtalized, for example, by holding school elections at the same time the city does, thereby sharing election expenses, which now cost the schools about $1,000 per election.

It also would eliminate duplicate registration by the school and city officials.

Detailed information about the two classifications can be secured at the administrative offices of Supt. James McDowell, at the James St. office, just north of the high school.

☆

SCHOOLS AND districts with at least 2,400 youngsters and not more than 30,000, between the ages of five and 20 in a school census, qualify for Third Class.

Baptists' 125-Year Tecumseh History Is Varied, Exciting

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Members of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. and Mrs. Blair Bashore have been enthusiastically planning the observance of the 125 anniversary of the founding of their congregation.

A banquet, followed by the annual meeting and a program, will be held Wednesday, April 29.

Dr. W. R. Hicks, president of Kalamazoo College, will be the guest speaker at the 11 a.m. service May 3 as part of the 125th celebration. A special anniversary service will be conducted at 2:30 that afternoon.

The Lenawee-Monroe Baptist Association officers, Mayor Harold Easton and other dignitaries have been invited.

The Rev. Harold Speer will represent the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, the Rev. Raymond Taylor of Adrian, the Lenawee Baptist Association and the Rev. James Burgess, director of Town and Country Churches, will bring greetings from the Michigan Baptist Convention.

The Senior Choir of the church has prepared a concert of traditional music including many hymns used during the worship down through the years.

☆

THESE WILL be presented Sunday afternoon, May 3, in the sanctuary, followed by a time of reminiscing in the Youth House.

Refreshments will be served with a decorated cake made by Mrs. Thomas Gallant, Sr., in the form of a church highlighting the social hour.

Following the banquet Wednesday evening, the congregation will enter the sanctuary for the meeting and program when honor will be paid to the eldest members in point of service, as well as age.

Tax Cut Proposed

A 10 to 20% cut in winter txes for residents of Tecumseh will be realized if City Manager Cal Zorn is successful in an appeal to the State Tax Commission.

The city manager plans to vote against a committee report on taxes this Thursday at a meeting of the county supervisors equalization committee.

The local city official, who also is chairman of the equalization committee, then plans to file an appeal with the commission by early next week.

Mr. Zorn says chances of a cut are good, since sales of property here are lower than the state equalization figures used for local property.

☆

AN APPEAL on personal property is not planned.

The State Tax Commission would have between now and Dec. 1 to check property here and issue its decision.

Local tax statements are sent out by the city on Dec. 1, and officials here would anticipate an investigation and report in time to make any adjustments.

If the appeal goes through, such as two years ago when Adrian successfully appealed, Adrian successfully appealed, city property owners could benefit from a tax cut in December.

rection of Mrs. Bertram Updike, will sing.

A replica of the original church, made by the late Dr. L. G. North and O. B. Finch, father of Del Finch, one of the present members, has been reassembled by Fred Bryan and is on display in the sanctuary.

CHURCH RECORDS show that a group of 28 Baptists met February, 1839, in private homes and rented halls.

In April of that same year they voted to build a "meeting house".

The enterprise was met with many trials, discouragements, and poverty, however, obstacles were a challenge to greater efforts from the sturdy, dedicated Christians.

The Charter list of those who obeyed the command "to work the works of Him while it is day" was recorded in the earliest records:

Isaac Adams and wife
Peter R. Adams and wife, Cordelia.
Oscar P. Adams
Hellen Adams
Rufus Adams
Liticia Colvin
Margaret Jane Colvin McConnell
Benjamin Farley
William Fisher Sr. and wife
Dr. W. C. Fisher
Betty Fisher
John Fisher
Hattie Fisher
George Gove and wife
Mary Gove
Felix Holdridge and wife, Deborah
Harriet Scofield
Libbie Scofield
Messrs. Savage, Hewitt and Brooks. (no first names recorded)

☆

PETER R. and Cordelia Adams were the grandparents of Edyth Shull. Their daughter, Eliza, was one of the first brides of the church and married Colonel Percy Fitzsimmons, a graduate of West Point.

Liticia Colvin was the great-grandmother of Norman C. and E. H. McConnell and Clara Waldron. Margaret Jane Colvin McConnell was the grandmother of Norman C. and E. H. McConnell and Felix Holdridge and wife were the great-great-grandparents of Lawrence Holdridge.

In October, 1839, Deborah Holdridge went into the woods to gather rushes and disappeared and not until six weeks later was her lifeless body found in an Indian hut in Dundee.

Shortly after the church was organized, John Garlinghouse, brother of Delmar Finches' great-grandmother, joined the group.

The site of the first house of worship was the southeast corner of Pearl and Logan Sts., 26 by 36 feet, occupied in 1841.

In 1846, the building was moved to the west side of Ottawa St., between Logan and Chicago Blvd. It was in May of 1863 that $2,700 was subscribed and the site of the present structure was purchased.

☆

THE BUILDING was completed and dedicated in 1865.

Many pastors were called over the years, some stayed a few months, some several years. Lack of funds presented constant problems, however, the church stood the trials.

The first Young People's Society was organized in 1867 and the women formed a Missionary Circle in 1874.

Dr. W. B. Hartzog became pastor in 1909 remaining until 1918. His son, Justin, an only child, was a brilliant student, graduating from Cornell University to become a city planning counselor for many large communities.

The Rev. W. B. Curtis pastored the church from 1918 to 1922. His son, Vaughn L. and wife, the former Helen Sheldon, gave many years of service to the Adrian school system and the First Baptist Church of Adrian.

The Rev. H. Buell served until 1925, followed by the Rev. Warren Jackson and then the Rev. Frank Vreeland.

The Rev. O. V. Robinson became pastor in 1935, resigned in 1943 to accept a pastorate in Grand Rapids.

IT WAS in 1943 that one of the young church members, Charles Marsh, was ordained, bringing the number to four who have become ministers from this church. The others are the Rev. Oscar Heck, the Rev. Clem Lester and the Rev. Alvin Brazee.

Mr. Bashore started his pastorate in 1943. He has also served in many capacities throughout the county.

On Dec. 7, 1947, Mr. Bashore began an unbroken string of Sunday morning worship service broadcasts over WABJ, which continue to the present.

In 1949 the church members were happy to share their minister as "yoke" pastor with the North Rome Church, a mission project, which still continues.

Services there are held each Sunday morning preceding the Tecumseh worship service.

Ground was broken in October, 1952, for the Youth House and three years later plans for the remodeling of the sanctuary were presented.

Completion of the latest venture made a total of $130,000 in improvements to the church and parsonage over the past 20 years.

Last November an appreciation dinner for the untiring efforts of the Rev. and Mrs. Bashore was held with nearly 300 members and friends attending.

BUCK MAYNARD DRIVES, BISHOP "RIDES SHOTGUN" AS MRS. REED LOOKS OUT STAGE

Bishop Takes Stage Coach Ride During Methodist Celebration

By ALMINA HUNT

The eminently successful Bishop, Marshall R. Reed, proved himself to be his usual good sport as he gamely climbed aboard an authentic stage coach and was chauffeured down Chicago Blvd. to be photographed in true frontier style.

Designer and builder of the stage coach, "Buck" Maynard, a member of First Methodist Church, drove Bishop and Mrs. Reed to The Herald office.

This began the anniversary festivities celebrating Methodism's 135 years of continuous service to the community.

☆

THE CLIMAX of the occasion was the banquet April 15. Mrs. Robert Bonner chaired the affair and was the mistress of ceremonies.

She told of the circuit riding preachers and of the members' gratefulness to them.

In 1826, the Methodist Church was a member of the Monroe Circuit with the Rev. John Baughman, one of its first circuit riders.

Seventy-two ministers have served since.

The social hall was decorated in the style of the past — oil lamps provided light, center pieces were placed in cast iron cooking pots, napkins were of the calico print of a by-gone era.

☆

MRS. ADEN MEAD, assisted by Mrs. Victor Lawson, Jr., was in charge of decorations.

Mrs. William Davis was in charge of the kitchen; Mrs. Harley McConnell chaired the dining room and Mrs. Paul Hadsell handled the sale of tickets.

Mrs. Harry Stanifer's Spencerian script handwriting was used on the printed program.

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous, pastor, opened the evening with the Invocation.

☆

WILFRED WALDRON, a long-time pillar of Methodism in Tecumseh, spoke nostagically of the "good old days", whimsically recalling memorable events in the life of the church.

In the glow of the kerosene lamps, he told of two rows of sheds behind the present church.

One was used for storing wood and the other to house the horses.

"Sometimes," he said, "it was easier to walk to town than hitch up the horses." Some members paid for their church subscriptions in wood for the stoves.

Three or four church bells which tolled at 9:30 every Sunday morning are most missed by Mr. Waldron. They could be heard at his home two miles out, he said.

Mrs. Bonner paid tribute to the following who have been members of the church for fifty years or more: Miss LaVie Snedecor, 68 years; Robert McCoy, Leon Williamson, Mrs. Alma Austin, Wilfred Waldron, 59 years; Mrs. Ernest Robison, 56 years; Mrs. Elsie Abbott, Mrs. Mable Taylor, Mrs. Duane Service and Mrs. Rose Service, 57 years.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin Stricker, Superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of the Methodist Church, introduced Bishop Reed. He told how deeply concerned the Bishop is for even the smallest church.

Bishop Reed recalled his two years at Tecumseh High School and of catching the 4 p.m. train every Friday for Onsted, his home. At that time, there were only 10 grades in Onsted.

The first Methodist Church in Michigan was a log church, situated near where the Ford Rouge plant now stands, he said.

Also that the first Michigan Methodist Conference, really started in Ohio.

☆

CHRISTIAN Concepts in History was the subject of his message. The five essentials he brought out were: faith in God, appreciation of the value of an individual, value of the individual is universal, the Kingdom of God as the goal of human history, belief in this final triumph of righteousness.

He finished by explaining the forward look in the Methodist Church today.

Dr. Stricker pronounced the benediction.

The present church was built 100 years ago with the kitchen and parlors being added 59 years ago.

Final plans were made for the Family Night Potluck which is to be at the church Wednesday evening, May 13.

Girl Scout Troop 110 which this circle sponsors, will be entertained at a supper May 18.

Co-hostesses Mrs. Carl Kerns and Mrs. Herbert Dillon served refreshments in conclusion.

The committee asks that "Tecumseh friends of the Auxiliary have their choicest cast-offs to donate for this worthy project."

Proceeds will be used for nursing scholarships, landscaping and other civic causes.

Work is beginning on the largest area of the landscaping plan at the back of the hospital and around Herrick Nursing Home this week.

Calls may be made to Mrs. Sluyter 423-3106.

"MALE ANIMAL"

college dean, was funny with a difficult part. He mastered the reverse approach to comedy with his mild introverted manner.

His stage wife, Charlotte Parker received many laughs for a small part. She ran away with the cocktail party scene with her affected speaking and Ele-gant-expressions.

Thomas Sadler, with a short walk-on part of "Nutsy" Don Partridge's sidekick, didn't need to say anything — he looked the part.

A distracting item, although not visible to half the audience, was the right stage exit — patio doors covered with sheer curtains, through which the brick fence and garden outside were visible.

It was a letdown to have fighting men go through the door, then see them walk calmly backstage.

Sound from the record player was another problem. It's a strange feeling to see someone turn it on, then have music come from a completely different angle.

☆

PARTICULARLY enjoyed was the cocktail party, where everyone was talking at once, yet timing was perfect and voices faded in and out at the exact moment.

With opening night behind them and a few knots untied, "The Male Animal" is a presentation that should become another Tecumseh Players' hit.

It continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening at the Community Center theatre. Curtain is at 8 p.m.

Awards Will Be Given for Safety

To kick-off the annual Safety Check program the committees have agreed to award a courteous Tecumseh driver or pedestrian for his or her safety act of the week.

The recipient of the award program will receive a prize and the description of the courteous act will be published each week in The Tecumseh Herald.

This will continue each week through Safety Lane Check Time May 21-22 and 23.

Details of this program, which the committee expects to be the finest one yet for the Safety Check, will be made public next week by the Herald.

They were accompanied by Mrs. David Holly, Mrs. Richard Gardner and their bus driver, Mrs. Ronald Barrett.

They were particularly impressed when they were locked up in the cells at the police station.

After lunching on picnic tables at the Community Center in the spring sun, they were told by their teacher of the history of the building and allowed to tour it even though World's Fair booths were being disassembled.

AFTER LUNCH the children drove around to the various industries in the city and Miss Sherwood explained the manufacturing at each one.

They visited the State Police Post at Clinton and learned the difference between the city and state police departments.

We're On High Road, Guest Says

Elmer Goerke, past district governor of Rotary, was speaker Tuesday at Rotary here when past presidents were honored and presented gifts by Clifford Knudson.

Mr. Goerke talked about the work of Rotarians, especially club presidents.

He said Tecumseh is a fine community and how that past Rotary presidents have contributed their share.

"Rotary is intangible as well as tangible. It is something felt as well as seen, and it gives us a deep concern for the whole of mankind.

"If it is good to respect the liberty of man, protect the liberty of man and educate the minds of youth; if it is good to worship God and to serve man, then we are on a high road," he concluded.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:

What colors should I use in a room with grey carpeting and green walls?

Mrs. JBS.

DEAR MRS. JBS:

This question is asked many times and I can't give a pat answer with over 100 hues per color.

A person with a grey or beige carpet, for example, will find on close inspection, that there is another color involved such as blue, lavender, yellow or rose, among others.

It's important to have samples of the fabric to work with in your home.

I have large 1½ yard samples available for you to work with in your home or for consultation.

Pick them up at Kustom Kraft Draperies or call me 423-3810 for home appointment.

Fabrics to make your own draperies or slipcovers are available from $1 up.

I also have Kirsch pleater tape for making your own draperies for 29c yard.

Or we will make draperies custom to your specifications.

4 Bus Bodies Are Purchased by School Board

Four 60-passenger school bus bodies have been ordered from the Wayne Body Co. of Richmond, Ind., for new chassis, purchased Monday night by the school board.

The bodies were bought locally instead of through the Lenawee County School cooperative plan.

Norval Bovee, business manager, says bids presented for cooperative buying were higher than those submitted only to the Tecumseh Schools.

Wayne Body's low bid was $3,715 per body.

Need Easement for New Sewer on School Field

An attempt to secure an easement across the athletic field adjoining N. Maumee St. was delayed by the School Board Monday night.

Lynn Noble, city engineer, explained the city's plan to install the Evans Creek Interceptor Sewer to the northwest section of Tecumseh for anticipated population growth there.

He said the Ann Arbor engineering firm planned the sewer across the athletic field to cut costs and to provide a proper grade.

Such work would be done during the summer, after school recesses and before it convenes in September.

Officials agreed to meet with the engineer Thursday morning and see where the sewer would cross the field.

3 Days in Washington

WILLIAM BAILEY

A safety patroller from Tecumseh Acres School will take off on a four-day trip to Washington, D. C., May 7 as Automobile Club of Michigan's guest at the AAA National Safety Patrol Rally.

He is William Bailey, 12, of 906 Sunset Dr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bailey.

This is the 28th consecutive year that a group of Michigan youngsters has been taken to Washington on the expense-paid trip as a reward for spending an average of 180 hours yearly on street corners in all kinds of weather protecting their classmates.

Most of the 130 boys and girls from 101 Michigan communities chosen to make the trip will converge on Detroit by bus, originating from Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Bay City.

The three buses from these points will join a Detroit bus at the Veterans' Memorial Building the afternoon of May 7 in a caravan to the nation's capitol.

Paratroopers will spend May 8 and 9 seeing the sights of Washington and will be returned to their homes by Sunday. They will participate in Washington's largest annual parade down Constitution Avenue Saturday with 26,000 patrollers from all over the nation.

"Michigan's safety patrollers have played a significant role in reducing child pedestrian accidents since 1919 when the program began," says Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club's safety and traffic director.

"In 1926 there were 125 traffic deaths among school-age children in Detroit and approximately 250 throughout the state," he said. "Now the average number of traffic fatalities yearly among school-age children is about 25 in Detroit and 60 for the entire state. This has been the average over the past five years."

Membership Rally Held

Mrs. Henry Treet, American Legion Auxiliary Second District chairman, spoke on membership at a rally held in the Underwood-Orr American Legion Post Home.

Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, western area chairman, spoke briefly on membership.

Entertainment for the evening was presented by a kitchen band from the Brooklyn Unit 315.

Anyone interested in securing the services of this group may contact the Brooklyn Legion.

Old Library Will Become School Office

A move of administrative offices from James St. to the old library was approved by the Tecumseh School Board Monday night.

Administrators had sought the move for the past two years in an effort to solve their cramped quarters and working conditions.

The Board set a limit of $5,000 to be spent on remodeling and repairing the library, located on W. Chicago Blvd., at S. Maiden Lane.

Remodeling will include lighting, ceiling, plumbing, wiring, doorways, steps and improving the parking lot behind the 5,000-square-foot building.

Offices and equipment will be moved there this summer before the opening of the 1964-'65 school term.

Probation After Death

A Bible Lesson on "Probation After Death" will be heard at Christian Science churches next Sunday.

'Fling Into Spring' Amid Butterflies, Bouquets, Music

In an auditorium decorated with butterflies and bouquets, St. Elizabeth Rosary Society will present the latest in spring and summer fashions via a "Fling Into Spring" at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 28 in St. Elizabeth School.

Wedding gowns from Stramm's in Adrian will be featured, along with styles from Clinton Woolen, Cal's Tog Shop, Watkins Shop, Green's Clothing and Mott's Tiny Town in Adrian.

Organ music will be played throughout the show.

Arrangements for stores and models are under the direction of Mrs. Jack Ries, Mrs. Morgan Ford and Mrs. Joseph Dziachan.

Mrs. Clettus Fuhrman has lined up unusual entertainment to be fitted in with the show.

Each dessert will be accompanied by its recipe, which may be purchased for 10c.

Serving will begin before the style show and continue throughout the evening.

Proposed City Budget Hits Record $567,821

A record-breaking budget — likely to become a habit for many years to come — was presented to Council Monday night by City Manager Cal Zorn.

Proposed for the fiscal year, July 1, 1964 to June 30, 1965, is:

Both of these figures exceed the 1963-'64 budget by about $24,000.

Major items constituting the increase in expenditures are salary raises for many city employees, planned improvements for Parks and Recreation, and an $8,000 accounting machine.

A public hearing regarding the budget is scheduled for 9:30 at the May 4 Council meeting.

Cortland Hunt Is Junior Member of Association

CORTLAND HUNT

OMAHA, Neb. — Cortland Hunt of 9849 Murphy Hwy., has been named a junior member of the American Shorthorn Association, nation-wide registry for Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn beef cattle. Acceptance of full status membership was announced, here by C. D. Swaffar, executive secretary.

Cortland's membership carries member-breeder registration privileges and names him a cooperative participant in nation-wide promotion of the breed.

Universally known as the "Great Improvers", Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn (polled meaning naturally hornless) bulls are used extensively for crossing on other beef breeds. They are sought and used to step-up weaning weights of feeder calves; improve size and milking-ability of replacement females; and to stimulate rate-of-gain.

Shorthorns led the purebred movement in America and for many generations were commonly called "Durhams."

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.
Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.
Why?
Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.
You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice. You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains. And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.

Hits and Mrs. League Proves Fun for Couples

TIPTON—Last Fall a group of 20 Tipton couples formed a bowling league for the purpose of getting together for an evening of fun and relaxation.

It turned out to be just that.

The get-together has been held at the Colonial Lanes at Clinton every other Sunday evening.

Two couples combined to make one team, rotating every other week so everyone gets to bowl with everyone else.

Most of the folks had never tried bowling before, but that only added to the fun. As they are required to belong to the American Bowling Congress and Women's Bowling Association in order to be recognized and share in patches and prizes, everything has been done on a business-like scale.

CALLED THE Hits and Mrs. League, it has Harold Calhoun as the president.

Other officers are:

Vice president — Willis Davenport

Secretary and treasurer — Hilah Alcock

Sergeant-at-arms — Bill Luce

By-Laws — Guy Cox

LAST SUNDAY was the last night for the season. A banquet will be held May 9 at the Tipton Grange Hall and each will find out how much improvement they made from the beginning to the bitter end.

Tipton couples interested in joining the fun for next season can have their name put on the list by calling the president or secretary.

Rock Hounds Track Down Trilobites

Despite cold, rain and mud-caked boots, 35 members of the State Line Gem and Mineral Society participated in a field trip Sunday.

The group visited the Medusa quarry at Filica, O. famous for the abundance and variety of fossils.

Trilobites are extinct marine animals, the Phacops usually two to three inches in length. They are believed to have been bottom feeding scavengers in the old sea which covered that area eons ago.

In appearance, they are three lobed and legless with a head and bulging eyes, which remind one of a frog, but are in no way related to that amphibian.

Included among the other fossils sought and sometimes found were primitive fish, plants, corals and shelled creatures, resembling present day clams.

TIPTON — The Sand Lake Fire Department was called to the Bauer Manor by the Sheriff's Dept. three times last week.

On April 12, a grass fire burned over one-half acre.

April 16, five acres of brush and grass was destroyed when a resident burned brush without a permit.

☆

ON THE SAME DAY, the department received a call at 10:37 p.m. to assist the Tecumseh department in controlling a fire at the Donald Stevens residence in Tipton.

Fast service by the two units saved the house from burning. Sand Lake emergency wagon arrived at 10:44, Tecumseh pumper at 10:46, Sand Lake pumper at 10:47 and the two tankers and Tecumseh emergency wagon at 10:50 — six pieces of equipment and 22 men in 13 minutes.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmissions of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Special carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations.

You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8. The 300 cubic inch V-8 is the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas

The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars. The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies. There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I am just a mother of one of the athletes, but I would like to comment on the attendance of parents at the baseball and track events at THS.

During football and basketball game seasons, parents and friends turn out in vast numbers to watch these boys in action. Now that spring sports are in full sway, you could count on your fingers, the parents who attend the baseball and track events.

Don't forget for one minute that these boys are working just as hard as those in other sports, but some parents just don't seem to care. It wouldn't hurt some of you parents to have the supper hour delayed a little while.

These boys are so much more important. They are only young too short a time. We, as parents, owe it to them to give them a little more moral support for their comrade and perseverance. How sweet it is to hear praises and shouts of encouragement to anyone in competition sports.

PLEASE . . . won't you parents get out a little more and attend these activities? We do — and then play the game all over again during supper time. We enjoy it and are closer to our sons for it.

Also, I think The Tecumseh Herald could do a little better job on the publicity end of it. So far this year, they have not even printed a single schedule on either event or anything pertaining to the wins or losses.

These boys deserve more than this. Now, come on, everybody, let's get out there and enjoy these games to the fullest. How do we know but what we might have a future Olympic star right here in our own school!

A Mother and Father, who are always there!

(Editor's note — You're correct on all counts. The Herald has muffed the ball on reporting spring events to date and it's our aim to do a better job from this point. We wish that coaches would help us on this count with schedules and by phoning when a spring event is taking place. Weather causes so many postponements and last-minute scheduling in April and May that it's nearly impossible for us to keep track — of track, poor pun — not to mention baseball and golf.)

IT'S A PHOTO FINISH — Dean Hebb, Tecumseh J.V. third baseman, was on the losing end of a race to the bag in a J.V. game against Onsted last Friday. Tecumseh won, 6 to 3. Is that the bag that the first baseman has his cleats on or just a cloud of dust? Photo is by Jim Wilbar.

Wins Pair

Tecumseh again appears to be headed for another Huron League track championship with two victories in three meets so far this spring.

Lone defeat came against Adrian, a non-league affair with what is probably the Maples' strongest track team in seven or eight years.

The Indians, under Coach Tom Fagan, edged Bedford, 55½ to 53½, and then trounced Milan in a league meet, 66-43.

With the exception of the field events, excluding Bill Thomas in the shot put, the Indians have a well-rounded squad with good strength in the relay teams and hurdles.

☆

STEVE DERBY is undefeated in both the 120 and 180-yard hurdle events and seems certain to break the schools' 180-yard low hurdle record of 20.6, which he set last year.

Bob Koffron's mark of 15.4 in the lows, set in 1961, also is within Derby's reach. Jay Osburn is running second to Derby in the hurdle events and held the best time of 16.2 in 1963.

Thomas should rule the shot putters, and already has topped the 47-foot mark. John Lindstrom is just behind him.

Tim Collins won the 100 and 220-yard dashes against Milan and Bedford and should be among the top league speedsters.

Dave Lemerand is running strong in the 880 and Jim Brown in the 440. Both are on Tecumseh's fine mile relay team.

MIKE SHARPE could surprise most of the milers with the junior bettering his best time of 4.52 against Milan.

Kirk Lucas is leading the pole vaulters. Doug Goldsberry had figured to be one of the best in the league until he hurt his knee, finishing him for the track season.

Congrats

The Britton Tories and Coach Hamilton would like to congratulate Coach Vic Lawson and The Tecumseh Indians for a great season. The Indians proved to River Rouge at least, that Tecumseh produced something other than refrigerator units.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New fiction at your public library:

The Venetian Affair by Helen MacInnes. From its very first page this new novel is permeated with suspense and builds to a tension of high adventure.

The Living Reed by Pearl Buck. Tells the story of a close-knit family in Korea who dedicate themselves to the salvation of their homeland. The reader lives with them from the splendid era of Queen Min to the climactic days of the Second World War, and emerges not only with admiration for the Korean people, but with the discovery of a little-known and fascinating history closely entangled with the history of America itself.

The Group by Mary McCarthy has a collective heroine — eight Vassar girls who grouped together at college in the Class of '33.

Reuben, Reuben, by Peter De-Vries. A dexterous satire on urbanite society.

The Spy Who Came in from the Cold by John le Carre has as its central figure, Leamas, whose mission is to trap the top spy of East Berlin. The tension here is of a committed man unable to come to terms with the utterly ruthless machine he serves.

New non-fiction:

Homestudy Course for Civil Service Jobs. A guide to Federal, State and Municipal jobs; 34 chapters of leading Civil Service question types with related study material.

Mrs. Seton by Joseph Dirvin. In her short span of 47 years Elizabeth Bayley Seton was a society belle and matron, wife, mother of 5, and a religious foundress of the American Sisters of Charity; her cause for beatification and canonization is in process at Rome.

Apostle for our Time, Pope Paul VI by John Clancy. A perceptive and responsible portrait of the man, his background of education and ecclesiastical training and his relationships with men of all faiths and races.

Our Living Bible by Michael Avi-Yonah. Conceived as a work that would tell the story of the Book of Books in the light of ancient treasures unearthed in modern times and meticulously studied. Non-theological in its approach, it is enlightening, interesting and beautifully illustrated.

The Enterprising Americans; The Fate of the Edsel; The Road to Huddersfield are lively accounts of business history in our nation and of the World Bank.

Ruth Davis, Jack Escott Speak Vows

Three-branched cathedral candelabra faced with emerald foliage, white gladioli and majestic daisies flanked the altar of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church April 10 for the wedding of Ruth Davis and Jack Escott.

The chancel entrance was flanked with palms.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Davis of Clinton-Macon Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Escott of Clinton.

Her elbow-length veil fell from a crown of pearls and sequins and the pearls at her throat were a gift of the groom.

☆

Mrs. Jack Crittenden of Saline was her sister's matron-of-honor in a street-length gown of pale aqua nylon lace over taffeta.

She wore a matching pill box hat and carried a white wicker envelope basket arranged with pastel colored sweet peas, hyacinth florets and yellow Boston daisies.

Linda Davis, sister of the bride, and Anita Gillen were the bridesmaids in pink and yellow pastel gowns of nylon lace over taffeta.

☆

A reception for 250 was held in the social room of the church where a five-tiered wedding cake was featured.

Mrs. Leon Schafer served coffee, Kristine Finnegan, punch and Glora Schafer, the groom's cake.

☆

THE BRIDE is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed by Faraday, Inc.

The groom is a graduate of Clinton High School and is serving with the Navy.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Driftwood Inn Wednesday evening.

Twenty members answered roll call with "What They Do in Their Spare Time." Mostly this was reading and gardening.

The annual state spring planning conference will be held at McKinley Hall on the Eastern Michigan University campus May 2. Five delegates from the club will attend.

Bake Sale Will Go On as Scheduled

The seventh and eighth grade church school classes of the First Methodist Church are plunging ahead with their money-making plans.

They decided that they would like to do something for the church in a financial way at a recent meeting.

Plans were completed for a bake sale for Saturday, April 25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Baldwin Hardware.

Co-chairmen Gail Meads and Beverly Woods contacted the store for space.

Everything was prepared and then they learned from their red-faced teacher, James Records, that he had neglected putting the item in the church bulletin.

An error like that might lead to his losing his high salaried position each Sunday morning.

TO THE EDITORS:

The interest of one parent or teacher in Esperanto often sparks the interest of others in the school or community, and classes spring up due to local initiative.

Information may be obtained from The Esperanto League, 808 Stewart St., Meadville, Pa.

Esperanto, the international language, is the ideal second language for adult or elementary school study.

Simple and logical, with no exceptions to its rules, Esperanto greatly reduces problems of teacher training.

It rewards students with early fluency, and soon they find and correspond with friends in other lands.

Esperanto is excellent preparation for later foreign language study, or in itself a useful tool which widens horizons and can be enjoyed by the student all his life.

'Let Me Weep'

(Editor Note: This original poem by Mrs. Ralph Halladay of Macon was written in memory of her friend, Mary B. Howell. It was read at the funeral service April 18 at the Macon Methodist Church by the Rev. Ronald Corl.)

In Loving Memory of Mary B. Howell

"LET ME WEEP"

Let me weep o'er the loss
Of a neighbor and good friend
One who was ever faithful
And true to the end.

Let me weep for the days
Of happiness we've had,
When we just reminisced
Of bright things and sad.

Let me weep, but not for
The return of suffering she's been thru
But in fond rembrance
Of happy days we once knew.

Let me weep when I recall
Her quaint remarks in Southern drawl
As we took our departure;
Of "Hurry back, you all."

Let me weep for the times
When in accents tender and mild
She gave me hope and inspiration
And called me "Honey Child".

Let me weep on this sad day
As I bid you a last good bye
And may we meet over yonder
In that home on high.

Methodist Youth Hold Slave Days Starting Saturday

Members of the Tecumseh Methodist Youth Fellowship have planned a project called Slave Days to begin Saturday, April 25.

For a period of three or four weeks, on Saturdays, during the week after school, the youngsters will rake lawns, clean windows, clean houses or other odd jobs.

Miss Bottoroff phone number is 3-2249. The church office, 3-3929, will accept calls during the morning.

Musical Memories Presented to Club

The Tecumseh Monday Club held its annual spring luncheon April 13 at the Baptist Youth House.

Women of the First Baptist church, prepared and served the luncheon to the 80 members and guests present.

The opening ceremonies were conducted by the president, Mrs. Truman Rentschler.

Mrs. Robert McCoy of Ann Arbor, Mrs. E. T. Armstrong and Mrs. W. P. Van Orden of Adrian and Mrs. W. P. Rogers of Palmyra, were introduced as were 12 past presidents.

☆

She in turn honored her corp of officers and introduced the new board members, Mrs. Roland Mohr, Mrs. Ethel Koch and Mrs. Floyd Bryan.

Mrs. Ted LaBounty, president of the officers club, thanked Mrs. Rentschler in behalf of the officers, for their gifts.

Mrs. Beulah Caldwell, with her "Bits of Wisdom" gave the definition of a husband.

☆

EDITH INGERSOL, reminisced with "I Remember," about the changes in spring housecleaning. She told of how the carpets had to be removed and beaten. Then how the floor was prepared for a new bed of oat straw, which was placed under the rug, rug laid, stretched and tacked into place. With rug pads and vacuum cleaners today, this chore became a thing of the past.

Mrs. Albert Todd displayed her talents by reading several original poems about her family's dog and cat, and the Monday Club.

At each place at the table, was an old Lincoln penny, gaily wrapped in a touch of green, tied with gold.

These became a lesson in history as Mrs. Wilfred Waldron explained what one could learn from such a penny.

"In God We Trust," a religious nation, Mr. Lincoln, a hero worshipping nation, a sheaf of grain, an agricultural nation and more about the penny.

Mrs. Waldron played "Consolation" by Mendelssohn for the Memorial service while Mrs. Clarence Brock entered the names of Mrs. Herbert Temple and Lillian Cannon in the book of memories.

A PROGRAM of musical memories, written by Mrs. Todd and directed by Mrs. Ralph Westgate was presented for the group's entertainment.

Handmade quilts, a lock of hair and a packet of letters, were used by Mrs. Clifford Knudson, who portrayed the grandma in the play.

Her granddaughter, played by Karen Knudson, asked about the contents of the trunk and while grandma recalled her courtship, engagement, marriage, birth of the baby and courtship of the child grown, these memories became real.

Each quilt, held many memories.

John and Nellie as sweethearts, were played by Mrs. George Green and Mrs. Todd. Mrs. Todd was dressed in old-fashioned furs, while John carried a lantern to escort her home.

"Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party" was sung by a trio, Mrs. Nina Heath, Mrs. Brock and Mrs. Thomas Gallant.

☆

JOHN, a carpenter building a home on the Wabash, was played by Mrs. Roland Mohr. Glenn Driscoll and Fred Dickinson sang "On the Banks of the Wabash".

Mrs. Lynn Hubbard portrayed John the lover, as Mrs. Thomas Gallant and Mr. Dickinson sang "Always."

Mrs. Perry Hayden, played old Sam as Mr. Driscoll and Mr. Dickinson sang "My Old Kentucky Home."

Mrs. Robert Hunt, dressed in old-fashioned, hand-made, white gown as the bride and Mrs. Lee Purkey, dressed in cut-away coat and tails, as the groom passed in review while "I Love You Truly" was sung by Mrs. Gallant and Mr. Dickinson.

☆

MRS. HAYDEN appeared as Aunt Liza, carrying the new baby, while Mrs. Maynard Mulvanye sang "Mighty Lak a Rose."

College sweethearts were portrayed by Mrs. Robert Benner, dressed in an old-fashioned pink gown carrying a parasol to match while Mrs. Paul Hadsell wore sweater and slacks and carried a tennis racket. The trio sang "Sweetheart Of Sigma Chi."

All the quilts were displayed and the group passed in review while the songsters sang "Memories."

Mrs. Waldron accompanied at the piano, while Bess Livingstone assisted with the make-up.

A poem, read by the president, closed the year's activities of the club, now in recess until the fall.

IMPROVED SITUATION FOR FED CATTLE is in prospect. Look for a drop in markings and weights of fed cattle during the next 30 to 60 days. Expect some pickup in price in early May. With the movement of cattle into feed in recent months, though, improved prices may not hold beyond early summer. Best prices should come in May or June. Top on Choice steers at river markets is expected to be in the $24 to $25 range.

PLAN FOR ADEQUATE GREEN CHOP to avoid a summer milk slump if you're on this kind of a summer feeding program. For instance, where forage acreage may not provide sufficient summer growth you may want to try planting corn for this purpose. Minnesota studies show rates of 20,000 to 40,000 plants per acre as most desirable. Heavier plantings give rise to lodging and forage harvester problems. Besides the additional forage doesn't justify the extra seed cost.

ADJUST YOUR MOWER NOW. Doing it well ahead of time will prevent costly breakdowns in the field. Cutter bar, sickles, and guards should be torn down and checked for wear and damage. Examine and sharpen each knife section to assure clean cutting and light draft. If your mower has clogged often at the inner end of the bar, replace the shoe ledger plates.

LIMITED FEEDING of sows during gestation saves on feed without reducing birth weights, weaning weights, or number of pigs weaned, report Iowa researchers. Overall, sows limited fed during gestation are more efficient than full fed ones.

It is important to bring the child's birth certificate.

"Please register your child at this time as it will enable the school to organize their Kindergarten program for the coming year," said William L. Saxton, superintendent.

The leading roles in the three-act comedy by John Tuttle will be played by Mary Lou Hall and Jim Miller.

Joshua Knight is portrayed by Walt Korican.

His world is centered around his daughter Janice's happiness at present.

Jeffrey Whittlesey is played by Bill Kahle, Janice's "almost fiance" who wears glasses, and is the stuffy type and a young bank vice president about 25 years of age.

April Barry, Steve's actress girl friend from Hollywood, is played by Fayetta Hall who is full of worldly glamour.

Mrs. Dingle, the Knight's next door neighbor, is played by Ginger Frazier.

She is a middle aged, annoying woman who never minds her own business when she can mind somebody else's.

Debby Peters, a typical high school student and newspaper reporter, is played by Karen Harriott who is full of hero worship and enthusiasm.

Kay Benedict plays Gaby Drake, a Hollywood press agent, who is knowing and sure of herself but has a sense of humor with it all.

The play is being directed by Mrs. Donald Bush and Mrs. Margaret Rodgers.

Tickets are available from members of the junior class or may be purchased at the door for both performances.

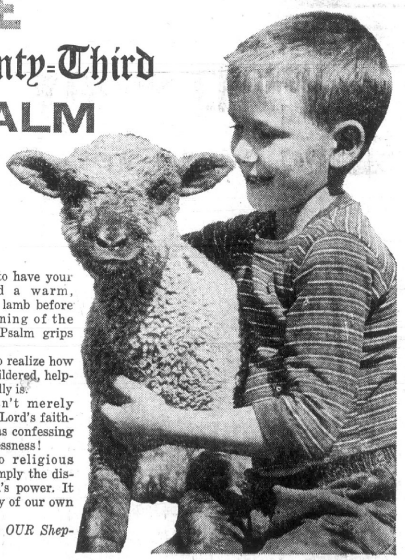
THE Twenty-Third PSALM



You've got to have your arms around a warm, wooly, wobbly lamb before the real meaning of the Twenty-third Psalm grips you.

You begin to realize how awkward, bewildered, helpless a lamb really is.

The key to religious faith is not simply the discovery of God's power. It is the discovery of our own need.

The Lord is OUR Shepherd.

1 The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want;

2 he makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters;

3 he restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.

5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies; thou anointest my head with oil, my cup overflows.

6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

The 1964 Chryslers are here. The luxurious New Yorker (above), sports-bred 300, and the surprisingly easy-to-own Newport. Clean. Crisp. Handsome. Backed by 40 years of engineering leadership. The '64 Chryslers are full of news. For instance, an optional seven-way steering wheel. And bucket seats are standard on 300's (passenger's reclines). Come on in and browse around . . . at Chrysler's exhibit.

DRISCOLL BROS. MOTOR SALES

CHRYSLER — PLYMOUTH — IMPERIAL — VALIANT

CLINTON, MICHIGAN

They've Sold 3,800 Autos

Bill and Dick Driscoll purchased Clinton's Chrysler, Plymouth, Valiant and Imperial franchise from Fred Geiger in 1951. Prior to that, the brothers were both in the Standard Oil business, Dick in Adrian and Bill in Detroit.

During their 13½ years in Clinton, they have sold and serviced more than 3,800 new and used cars.

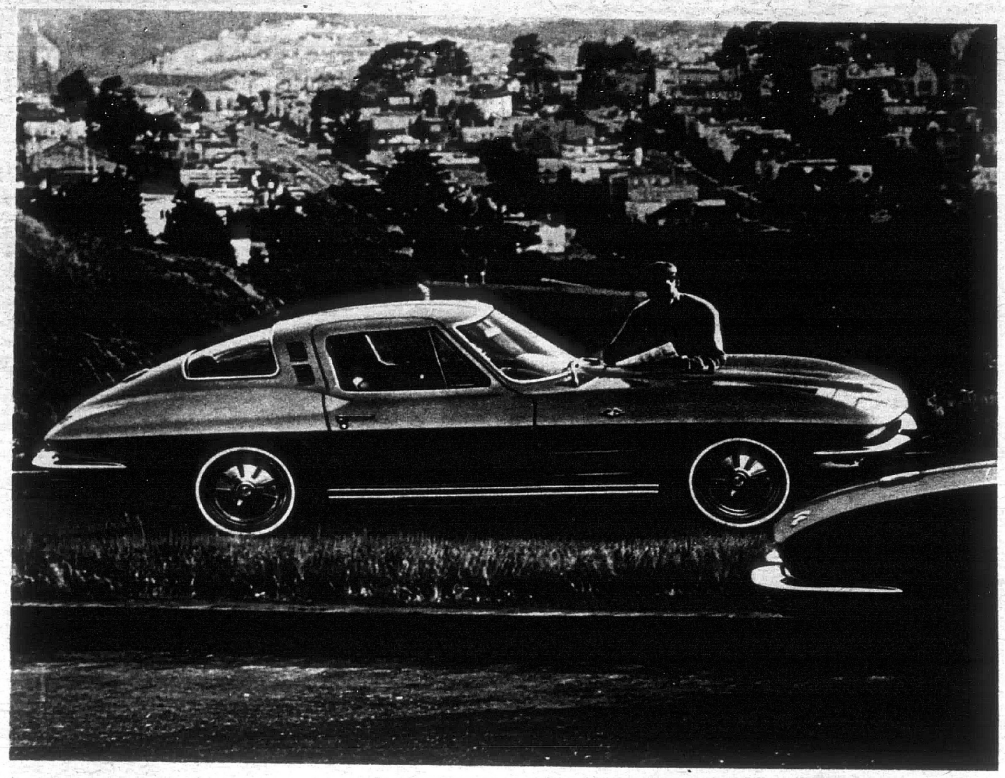
Last year, the Driscolls completely redecorated the interior of their facilities. They also put new lights in the new and used car lots in the rear, as well as black-topping the entrance to the service department.

The Driscolls boast elaborate parts facilities and considerable inventory. John Shuch is service manager, assisted by Paul Pearson and Max Hoffman. William Rhoades assists in the service area part time. Mrs. Meredith Hogan has been office manager for nearly five years.

The Driscolls are proud of their service department and especially of the offer made last year. "New cars have a five-year or a 50,000-mile warranty.

Bill and Dick appreciate their customers' patronage in the past and welcome the opportunity to continue serving both old and new customers.

Parents of Bill and Dick are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Driscoll, who make their home in Adrian. Frequently Mr. Driscoll helps his sons with pick ups and deliveries as well as some sales work.



Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet makes roads feel as smooth as the maps they're printed on Run your finger over a map and find yourself a place to go. That's a preview of how it feels to get there in a Chevrolet.

We've put what we think is the best suspension system in its class under this great highway performer. A big husky coil spring at each wheel and double-action shock absorbers to soak up bumps. Over 700 sound deadeners throughout the chassis and that spacious Body by Fisher to blot out noise from road and wind.

There's a lot of other Jet-smooth luxury, too. Wide seats with foam-cushioning front and rear. Luxurious wall-to-wall deep-twist carpeting (this year it comes with even the lowest priced Biscaynes). A choice of seven great engines, all precision-balanced for smoother running, with four smooth-shifting transmissions to match. Everything that makes Chevrolet the great highway performer it is.

So get out those road maps. And wherever you go, get off to a good start—during Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's.

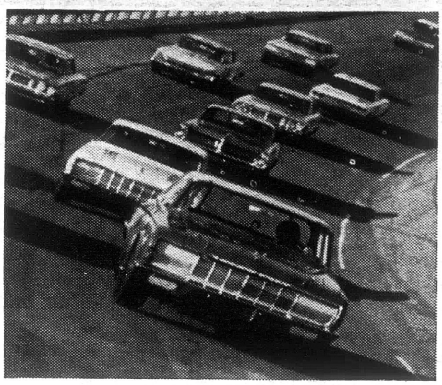
HIGH SPEED



Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"

According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500."

Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd for a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.

For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.

YOUR SPEED

Plymouth beats Ford & Chevrolet in tests of showroom V-8s

This competition was more "your speed."

At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.

The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s—cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for"—acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.

In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!

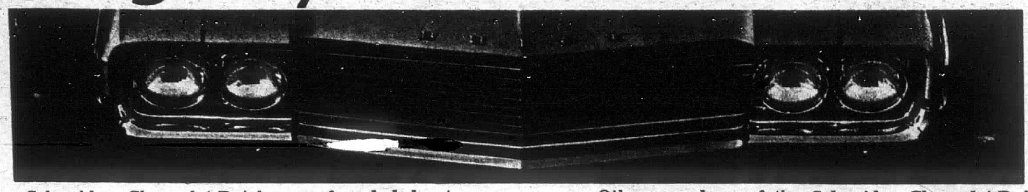
Agency Founded in '22



Schneider Chevrolet-Buick was founded by two brothers, Louis S. and Karl Schneider. They formed a tire repair shop in 1920 and became Buick dealers in 1922, picking up Chevrolet dealership in 1930.

Shortly after, Karl went into the finance business and Louis S. continued with the automobile dealership. The present owner, Louis L. Schneider, worked for his father after graduation from high school and following a hitch in the armed services, he joined his dad on a full-time basis in 1946. In 1952, the elder Mr. Schneider retired and Louis L. maintained the business.

Lee March is parts manager, Russell Johnston, service manager and Mrs. Don Johnson, secretary. George McCombs is bookkeeper.

Orville Alcock has the position of body shop manager, Troy Warren, body and paint man.

Mechanics include Dan Reinhardt, Kent Sheldon, Larry White and Clayton Doty.

Keith Loves Olds

Keith Bailey loves Oldsmobiles.

He grew up in the car business. His father, the late Howard D. Bailey, had been a dealer since 1925. Keith joined him in 1946 after naval service during World War II.

In April, 1954, he came to Tecumseh after purchasing the Oldsmobile dealership from Jack Osborn — sold on the quality of Olds over all other cars, says Keith.

The only dealer in Lenawee County to handle Oldsmobile exclusively, he also has a leasing company, where a client can lease a new Oldsmobile for as low as $84.20 per month, including insurance, tires and all maintenance.

Keith takes pride in his business and has top-notch mechanics to maintain the Oldsmobiles. To quote him, "We depend on our loyal Olds patronage and provide the best service to keep our customers."

Keith and his wife,Jane, moved to 906 S. Sunset St. in 1960, after selling their home between Tecumseh and Adrian. They have five sons, John, 13; Bill, 11; Joe, 10; Todd, 9; and Allen, 7; and one special little daughter, Alison Kay, 3. Bill, a natural cartoonist, has been helping his dad by preparing original ads that appear regularly in The Tecumseh Herald.

Cadillac

AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair . . . the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is, in addition, the remarkable smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydra-Matic or new Turbo Hydra-Matic.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Visit your Cadillac dealer soon. His selection of international favorites has never been more tempting.

UNDERWOOD CHEVROLET-PONTIAC, INC.

105 BROWN CLINTON, MICH.

George Underwood, Jr., went into the automobile business for himself in 1952, when he opened a used car lot on M-52, south of Clinton. Still at the same spot, he has one of Lenawee County's most extensive Ford franchised dealerships.

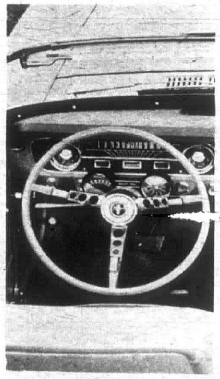
George's first franchise was the old Packard, running through 1953 and '54. When they went out of production, George became an agent of Lincoln and Mercury in 1955. In 1961 he added Ford and the balance of this line — Falcon, Thunderbird and Comet — and now the Mustang.

This makes Underwood's one of the few dealerships in the United States which has every product of Ford. Louis Underwood joined his brother with the firm in 1955. Others on the sales force are Dick Wright and Bernard Lewis. Lee Smith with the exception of one year has been service manager for George since 1955.

Parts Manager Carl Hanna is assisted by service mechanics, James and Charles Cox and Harold Mattis. Complete body service is handled by Edward Cammet. Mrs. Burton Stadler, the bookkeeper, has been with the firm since 1956. Roger Allen and Larry Whelan are the automotive reconditioners.

George Underwood's service crew have 126 years of combined experience behind them in maintaining all makes of automobiles.

Through the years there have been many new additions both to the show rooms and the service facilities. There are modern hoists and a complete clean-up department to handle heavy duty trucks as well as automobiles.



George Underwood, Jr., one of the few dealers in Michigan who carries every line offered by Ford, has just made another major step in improving his facilities (right), enlarging and transforming his showroom into a Swiss Alpine ski lodge. Only a few months ago, George added a giant new service area.

George Underwood Motor Sales

TECUMSEH RD., CLINTON, MICHIGAN

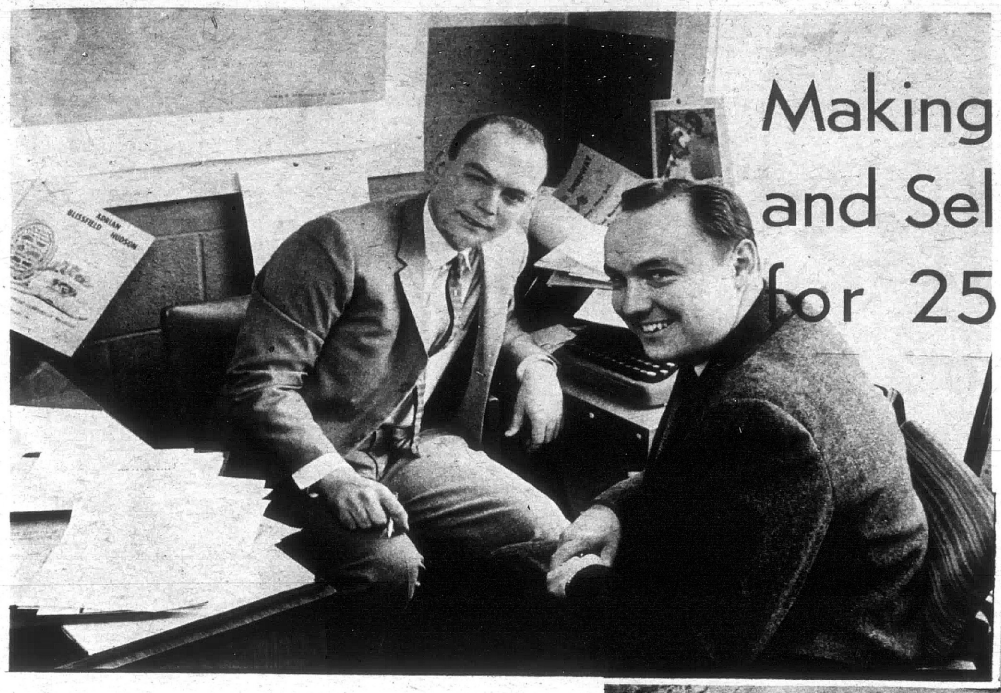
Making Friends and Selling Cars for 25 Years



Underwood — A Name Synonymous with Cars

After many years of selling cars for other agencies George V. Underwood, Sr., in 1940 founded the Underwood Chevrolet Sales and Service in Clinton.

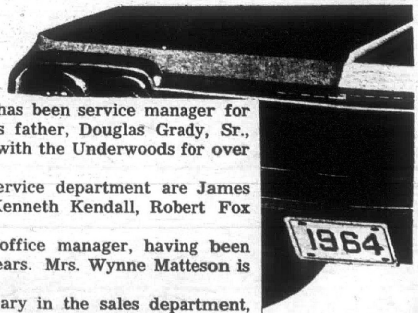
At that time there were only two employees, a one-car showroom and a tiny used car lot.

Through the years of World War II, even though there were no cars to sell, the doors were open for service every day.

John W. Underwood joined his father in the firm in 1956 and the Pontiac franchise was added to Chevrolet in 1961. Underwood is Pontiac dealer for Clinton, Tecumseh, Tipton, Britton, Manchester and the Bridgewater areas.

In 1962, Gary Underwood, the youngest Underwood son, joined the firm, which now has a staff of 16 people and needs three buildings. There are also three lots to stock both new and used autos, including a giant one across from the showroom that was recently hardtopped and lighted.

BILL MACKEY, WELL-KNOWN TECUMSEH RESIDENT, JOINED UNDERWOOD CHEVROLET-PONTIAC AS A SALESMAN LAST YEAR.



Douglas Grady, Jr., has been service manager for more than 15 years. His father, Douglas Grady, Sr., parts manager, has been with the Underwoods for over 16 years.

Rounding out the service department are James Kinney, Nelson Helm, Kenneth Kendall, Robert Fox and David Rafferty.

Mrs. Dean Daly is office manager, having been with the agency for 15 years. Mrs. Wynne Matteson is secretary.

Besides John and Gary in the sales department, William Mackey, long-time resident of Tecumseh, joined the selling team eight months ago.

The name Underwood, throughout the area, has become synonymous with automobiles.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Day dreaming about the past can be dangerous. Shows a guy is getting old.

Looking back over nearly seven years in Tecumseh, the thought of how business row has so drastically changed crossed my mind recently.

A flight of fancy had me tramping up Chicago Blvd., as it was in September 1957, the week your publishers took over The Herald.

Starting on the Sunny Side of the boulevard, down at what is now Woolworth's corner, there was Butler Motor Sales, with a wide-open area for parking cars cut right out of the building's ground floor.

Strolling east, the Vogue Shop, with Florence Weir in charge came next. "I run a two-column by two-inch ad every week," Mrs. Weir said and she did, right until she retired from business a few years later.

Walt Nichols was the show manager. The late LeRoy Titley had his insurance office between the Strand marquee and the theatre popcorn stand, where John Thompson now operates his loan company.

Gambles was bulging at the seams in the present Bancroft Cleaners and also the spot next door, which is now a part of Osborne's.

Ray Puffer was trying then to retire as manager of Allison's Clothing store — and he still seems to be, following a succession of short-time managers.

Don Smith's former grill was jammed with customers wanting charburgers. French's Market next door eventually closed and is now Don's Beef Buffet with Dr. George Burkhart taking over the old Don's.

Harold Green has doubled his floor space since my first walk up the boulevard seven years ago.

The United Savings Bank is just one-story now. Then it had three more, remnants of bygone days when a hotel flourished at the corner.

D&C was across the street and the Hanna Brothers had just moved in next door. An appliance and bottled gas shop was in the spot now owned by Eggleston Jewelry (and I can't recall who owned it.)

Cal's Tog Shop handled men's clothing then and next door there was Skip Rex's Western Auto, presently the Watkins Shop.

Baldwin's Hardware and Brandt's dime store were as now, but Larry's Grill was a dress and baby shop called Rushia's, operated by Mrs. Larry Coscarelli, while Larry had his diner up the street on the other side.

Dick Eggleston was where Ernie Oliver now holds sway as justice of peace and insurance salesman, then Porter's, Sluyter's and Marv's Market.

A Standard gasoline station was across Ottawa St., since remade into a barber shop by Joe Gregory. Helms Furniture sat back from the sidewalk about 25 feet (later getting a large addition) and Vescio's was Tecumseh Kroger.

Returning back the other side, the telephone company had the two-story building (now empty) over from Vescio's, while McCoy & Powell Real Estate, Tecumseh Camera and Consumers Power Co. were then as now.

Jamboree Reactions Are Mixed

Three of four Tecumseh dealers — Schneider Chevrolet-Buick, Tecumseh Motor Sales and Keith Bailey Olds — reported good crowds.

Wilson Motor Sales said the effort didn't reach expectations.

The three Clinton agencies — George Underwood Ford and Mercury, Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac and Driscoll Bros., Chrysler-Plymouth — felt that the sale didn't create any unusual stir.

New Math Will Start Next Fall

Tecumseh School Board took advantage of worn-out text books Monday night to approve a new approach in elementary arithmetic.

Called "modern arithmetic," it lets the child make discoveries relative to math problems.

Following a national trend, modern math was recommended to the local board by book salesmen and consultants.

The group included Earl Greene, Robert Kelty and Mrs. Gordon Garlick, Mrs. Russell Schultz, Mrs. John Becker, Mrs. Russell Raymond, Mrs. Irving Shaw, Mrs. H. C. Bailey, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. J. T. Callihan, Mrs. Carl Barnes, Thelma Youngblove, Frances Baker and Merry Sherwood.

☆

ANOTHER committee, chaired by Thomas Gillam, Patterson principal, recommended new text books for reading for the first three grades, since these books need to be replaced.

The group included Mrs Homer Colson, Mrs. Dorman Edward, Mrs. Wallace Whiting, Mrs. Gloria Jadwin, Mrs. A. L. Van Winkle, Mrs. Raymond Puffer, Mrs. Ralph Young, Mrs. John Beal, Mrs. Robert Blanks, Mrs. Leon Schwarts, Mrs. Albert Tonneberger, Mrs. Charles Todd, Mrs. Leo Neitling, Mrs. Frank Laskey, Mrs. Jean Z. Miller, Mrs. Edmund Millyard, Mrs. Stephen Illeck, Mrs. LaVon Renfro and Mr. Greene.

Honored by Ford

Dick Boyd has been recognized for the sixth consecutive year by the Ford Motor Co. as an outstanding agency accountant.

Employed by Tecumseh Motors, Mr. Boyd will receive an award pin and certificate at a luncheon on May 7 in Lansing.

Four Narrowly Escape Death in Accident

Four people narowly escaped death in a three-car accident here Sunday night near the Community Center on E. Chicago Blvd.

Still in Herrick Hospital are:

Emery P. Revesz, 36, of 606 Cairns St.

Floyd F. Bohannon, 30, of 208 N. Maumee.

Mrs. Helen E. Hall, 69, Blissfield.

Kathleen A. Summers, 24, Adrian.

According to the police reports, Mr. Revesz was driving west and first struck the car driven by Mrs. Summers.

He then bounced off and collided with the auto driven by Mrs. Hall, who was driving east and following the Summers' vehicle.

Both the Revesz and Summers cars are almost total losses with extensive front end damages. The Hall car also sustained considerable damages.

Mr. Revesz is in serious condition with fractured ribs and lacerations.

Mr. Bohannon, passenger in the Revesz car, suffered a fractured jaw and lacerations and is expected to undergo surgery on his jaw.

☆

MRS. SUMMERS received a broken knee cap and facial lacerations.

Mrs. Hall, apparently the least injured, suffered facial lacerations and bruises. She is the mother of Mrs. Cal Damon, 506 Seminole Dr., and is expected to be released soon.

Blood Bank Assumes Full Responsibility

When the late Mrs. Frank Cubon underwent open heart surgery last week, 31 pints of blood were administered to her.

A bill for $775, to cover cost of the blood, was received by Mr. Cubon Monday from Grace Hospital in Detroit, where the surgery took place.

But Mr. Cubon will not have to pay it.

The American Red Cross has assumed responsibility for replacing all the vital fluid through its blood bank, a Red Cross official told Mr. Cubon Tuesday.

This is another example of the benefit Lenawee County residents receive by being a part of the Red Cross program.

It's also an excellent reason why those able should donate blood when the mobile unit visits the area.

Fawn Choske and Margaret Johnson Are Merit Scholars

Fawn Choske and Margaret Johnson, Tecumseh High School Seniors, have been selected honorary merit scholars by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Though the honorary students receive no financial assistance they are designated merit scholars to honor them for their high achievement.

Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, 516 W. Pottawatamie St.

She is president of the Future Teachers Club and the Science Club at the high school.

Miss Johnson is a member of the National Honors Society, Student Council Representative for her class, secretary of the French Club and the band. She plays fourth chair in the clarinet section.

She attended Girl's State in Ann Arbor last summer.

Mrs. Johnson says that her daughter is a "book worm".

She has been accepted at Western Michigan University for the fall term where she will major in languages preparatory to teaching.

Fawn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Choske, 707 Wenonah Drive.

She is also a member of the National Honors Society and a winner in the Michigan Mathematics Prize competition.

She was among 102 in the country last summer to participate in the government sponsored Honors Science Institute at the Michigan State University.

Miss Choske is a member of the Student Council, Future Teachers Club and the senior band, playing solo chair baritone.

She is president of the French Club, secretary of the Science Club and a member of the varsity debate team.

Her poetry entry in The Detroit News Scholastic writing awards program rated a gold key.

Miss Choske plans to major in biology at MSU for a secondary teaching certificate after completion of her high school studies.

Fawn and Margaret were among 13,000 semifinalists in the program this year.

National and Sponsored Merit scholarship winners in the program, about 1,625 in the nation, will receive from $400 to $6,000 for college education.

Tonneberger Subdivision To Enlarge

Nearly 30 acres of land, along the west side of the River Raisin, have been added to the Tonneberger Estates subdivision.

Although the purchase became official this week, an agreement was made in January and the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Al Tonneberger and Mr. and Mrs. James Tonneberger, have been working to clear the area.

More than 1,000 thornapple and about 800 white ash trees have already been cut down.

The land, purchased from Kuehman Foods, Inc., is a wedge behind the present farm of James Tonneberger along N. Union St., running to the Tecumseh and Clinton Townships line.

☆

Primary emphasis is being placed on the present housing development, which now has 11 homes with five to be constructed this spring. The area is plated for 30.

In addition, a three-acre playground will probably be fashioned this summer and given to Tecumseh Township. The township is expected to blacktop Tonneberger Dr. and N. Union St. to the Clinton Township line.

Acres PTA Holds Special Session May 1

A special meeting of the Tecumseh Acres PTA will be held May 1 at 8 p.m., for the nomination of officers, installation of new officers and voting on an amendment to the by-laws.

There will be no room visitations before the meeting, at which 40 members are required for a quorum.

Plaques Help Promote Drive

Plaques are on display at the United Savings Bank this week to bring another Safety Check program to the attention of local citizens.

Awarded to the people of Tecumseh for three consecutive years, they signify that this city had the best safety-check program in Michigan among communities of 10,000 population and under.

"New governmental developments will perhaps make this year's program bigger than ever," said C. Q. Butler Monday as he told of the committee's added efforts.

He said, "Compulsory vehicle inspection laws are being considered in our state legislature and probably will be passed. Most states are heading this way."

☆

"WE HOPE that all drivers will join the Circle of Safety and have their cars and trucks inspected free of charge at the safety lane this year during the week of May 17," continued Mr. Butler.

"There will be no arrests

Music Makers Will Attend Concert May 17

The Music Makers Club will not have a meeting Sunday but the members will attend the concert presented by the Tecumseh Music Club Sunday, May 17.

A brief meeting of the junior Club will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Youth House preceding the concert.

Senior Citizens To Gather May 8 and Map Program

"Anyone need a ride to the senior citizens get-together?"

Arrangements have been made to see that those desiring to attend the get-acquainted time for older area citizens may be provided transportation.

It's going to be Wednesday, May 8 at the Community Center from 2 to 4 p.m.

A call to city hall 423-2107 will reach Don Moffatt, superintendent of Parks and Recreation, who will get a driver on the job pronto.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler has been invited to be the coordinator of the afternoon and Mrs. Lee Purkey will have charge of the refreshments.

It is hoped that people will offer suggestions and help to organize plans for future activity.

Mrs. Beth Moser, of Jackson, will be present to tell of the program in that city.

Mr. Moffatt will offer and explain facilities at the Community Center, where this first session will be held.

THS Teacher Resigns To Enter Insurance Sales

Ronald Croll, Tecumseh High School teacher, has resigned to enter the insurance business with James Howard, former THS math instructor.

The Tecumseh schools, at the present, have the smallest turnover in teaching personnel for many years.

A fifth grade vacancy exists at the Patterson school, and four at the high school — two English posts, math and industrial arts.

BAPTIST CHURCH SANCTUARY WHERE FESTIVITIES ARE BEING HELD THIS WEEK

Baptists Start Celebration

The Junior Choir of the First Baptist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Bertram Updike, was featured Wednesday evening in opening observance of the congregation's 125th anniversary celebration.

The children sang following the banquet held in the Youth House.

Recognition of the eldest members was given by the Rev. Raymond Taylor of the Adrian First Baptist Church.

Children of the Junior Choir also are members of church school, of which Mrs. Anna Grigg is superintendent.

The first Baptist Sunday School classes were organized in 1839, shortly after the church was established here. These were held in a house, north of where the city hall now stands.

Records show that Sunday School was closed during three winters because of the lack of a stove, lesson materials, hymnals, bell and an organ.

Deacon Isaac Adams led the singing both in church and Sunday School, using a tuning fork to give the key.

☆

DR. WEIMER K. HICKS, president of Kalamazoo College, will be the guest speaker Sunday at the 11 a.m. service as the anniversary celebration reaches its climax.

Dr. George Burkhard will preside at the anniversary service Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

The Rev. James Burgess, director of Town and Country Churches of the Michigan Baptist Convention, and other dignitaries will be present to extend greetings.

Professor Blaine Ballard will direct the choir in a presentation of hymns from the first half of the 19th Century, which are not usually included in services today.

He will narrate an explanation of the origin.

A fellowship hour with coffee served in the Youth House will conclude the observance.

A Tecumseh policeman reports some alert action by John Zeigler, who held back teen agers from crossing against the stop light at the Four Corners recently while traffic was at its peak. "If all of our good citizens would be so careful, accidents in the city would be light," notes Police Chief Murrel Clark.

Pretty soon we're going to need a special section for rumors. Not many hours go by but that Ford, Chrysler, Dow, etc. is reported going to put up a plant near town, or someone is dropping a big store in our midst. We track down as many as possible. Maybe it would be simpler just to print them all as is.

Mrs. Lloyd Slagh, newcomer to town, says she is sorry for having gotten a subscription to The Herald. She finds it hard to wait until Thursday to read the local news, knowing the paper is on newsstands Wednesday evening. We view the whole predicament as wonderful. Others have told us the same thing. For the record, we sell nearly 900 papers each week at our newsstand locations.

Caption under Franklin Township boardmen picture on page one of this week's second section should read, Richard Platt, Elwyn Shea, Merrick Dibble, Glen Fisher and Lyle Whelan. Sorry!

United Savings Bank showed assets of $26,625,207 when the first quarter statement of condition was "called" by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Michigan Banking Commission. This marks the highest published total in the financial institution's history.

The Herald is going international. We received some classified ads this week from Vienna, Austria.

Judy DeLoach, daughter of the Duane DeLoaches of Blissfield, won a scholarship to Michigan State with an original orchestration in which she prepared the scores for 27 instruments. Blissfield band may use the number in a concert May 1 with Judy handling the baton.

Long and Short

The late Earl Updike was operating a Mobile station and Lamson shoe repair was in a low-ceiling structure, recently torn down.

Jerry Eggleston had a cleaning establishment and Albert Hamond an investment office, with the old Greenwald's Laundry next door.

Pearl Meyers ran the Boston Lunch, which eventually meandered to N. Evans St. Joe Church operated Van's Bakery.

Bea Ring's Gift Shop (now Jean Colgrove's) was in midblock with Hodges Drug next door.

Leon Rosecrans, still alive then, headed up one of the oldest family businesses in Tecumseh.

Right next door was Hite's Hardware, Gaston Jewelry and another well-known name along merchant row, Wright Drugs, still buzzing along at a great clip. Part of Wright's then (now Tecumseh Office Supply) was devoted to wall paper and paint.

Across the intersection, Watkins Shop ran double-width, using what now is Uncle Bill's and National Carpet. Tecumseh Tavern was the predecessor of Tony's and Mary's. Unchanged are Kerby's Hamburgers, Elmer Eberhardt's Insurance and Glenn Kohler's Real Estate and Coscarelli's Grill.

John Cameron owned the Rexall Store, later selling out to Carl Lamb, who in '57, was working for Hodges Drugs.

Bancroft Dry Cleaners was next door, the spot now housing the office of Dr. Robert Bowers and then the Rocket Tavern.

What is presently the House of Glamour Beauty Shop was the Jack Osburn Real Estate office and Pickard's Floral housed Cook Electric.

Adrian Federal was across the alley — beautified later into a mall — with General Telephone Office in the now-empty wast wing. Harold Easton's Mobil station was just about to undergo extensive remodeling.

All of which goes to prove the face of business changes without seeming to change.

Suzette Velandra Weds William Ross

Suzette Pauline Velandra became the bride of William David Ross in nuptials Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Velandra, 709 N. Union St., and Raynor Ross, 616 W. Kilbuck St., and the late Mrs. Ross.

White snapdragons and carnations filled the altar vases for the ceremony performed by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins.

Mrs. Donald Johnson presided at the organ accompanying herself as soloist. She played "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed her bouquet at the feet of the Blessed Virgin.

☆

ON THE ARM of her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white peau de soi fashioned with scoop neckline, long sleeves and chapel train. She wore a hoop beneath her skirt.

A double crown of pearls and Alencon lace held her re-embroidered and beaded Alencon lace veil in place.

☆

MRS. STEPHEN KRUGER was her sister's matron-of-honor in a street length dress of powder blue peau de soi with matching Dior bow on her head.

She carried a miniature white wicker basket filled with hyacinth florets and yellow sweetheart roses.

Thomas Velandra, brother of the bride, served as best man. The ushers were Jon Aho, George Heeman, Mike Velandra, Charles Mueller and Dennis Harrison.

MRS. WILLIAM ROSS

A wedding breakfast for the bridal party was served at Pearl's Cafe where the rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. Ross Friday evening.

☆

A RECEPTION was held at the IOOF Hall for 250 guests. A four-tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs. Rose Service, centered the bride's table. A blue yellow and white theme was used in the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hodges were the hosts for the reception. Mrs. Margaret Maschino, Mrs. H. Van Brandt, Mrs. H. Velandra and Dorothy Velandra assisted with the serving.

The bride, a graduate of Tecumseh High School, is employed by Brockley Studios in Adrian.

The groom, also a Tecumseh High School graduate, attended Stautzenberger Business School in Toledo and is presently employed in the cost accounting department at Tecumseh Products Co.

'To Each Among Us..A Share'

Soil Stewardship Week — May 3 to 10 — is a nationwide observance which places embhasis on man's obligations to God as stewards of the soil, water and other related resources.

Donald Gust, Lenawee Soil Conservation District, is chairman.

This year's observance, with the theme, "To Each Among Us . . . A Share", underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in meeting the responsibilities of soil stewardship.

The Lenawee Soil Conservation District and some 2,940 companion Districts throughout the nation and Puerto Rico, are sponsoring this event for the 10th consecutive year.

The Lenawee District has distributed to churches of all faiths, programs, bulletin inserts, posters, and booklets created particularly for this year's observance.

In this year's booklet each citizen is asked to consider his share—

"In the great Society of mankind, (since) each of us has a God-given purpose for being. In our time each among us fulfills a mission in the long progression toward the ultimate design of our Maker.

"To each among, God has assigned a share in the expanding brotherhood of stewards. It is a membership of service, dedicated to the husbandry of lands and waters, forests and ranges, and the fish and game He has placed at our disposal."

SMORGASBORD

What nicer way can the family honor Mother than to sweep her off her feet and out of the house and bring her to Roumell's for a delightful smorgasbord dinner. Most of the other holidays, Mother slaves in the kitchen all day, preparing for the feast, then cleaning up the scraps afterward. Give her a day off on Mother's Day — dress up and come to Roumell's. We welcome children and they love the quick service and fun of smorgasbord. With a little help from Mom and Dad, the youngsters can choose a delightful nourishing meal in a short time. We expect a large crowd, so please call Clinton 456-4659 for reservations.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Facts Refute State Figures

City Manager Cal Zorn is going to hand wrestle the Michigan Tax Commission on behalf of city property owners.

His objective: reduce winter real estate taxes by persuading the state to drop its equalized valuation figures on city property closer to the local assessment.

Mr. Zorn has concrete facts as evidence for the showdown.

Over the past three years, there have been 142 sales of real estate in Tecumseh. On 113 of these, Mr. Zorn has full particulars, including sale prices which total $1,313,000, and actual valuation of the property, $685,500.

In the other 29 instances, the information is insufficient, so he hasn't included these deals.

Properties in the 113 were assessed locally at 52.2% of the sale price. This is about as close as an assessor can get to the formula of having taxes based on one-half real value.

But the state equalized figures, which are used to compute the winter taxes, were 40% of these sale prices.

Mr. Zorn hopes that the Commission will concur with him, agreeing that Tecumseh's local assessment of $14,075,880 for real estate is correct, instead of the state's $17,675,880. This is a difference of $3,600,000.

If he's correct, this could mean a cut in tax dollars paid on real estate next winter of from 10% to 20% for city property owners, although the millage would be identical. The drop would result from a smaller total value to which this mill rate would be applied.

Should this happen, the Tecumseh School District would be a loser, getting $48,000 less in operating money. Winter taxes of 15 mills are spread between county government, special education and schools.

Two years ago, Adrian appealed to the Tax Commission. Its state equalized valuations were lowered, so that now its ratio of local assessments to state equalized are 93%. At present, Tecumseh's are 79%.

Adrian's appeal was tempered by the Commission and probably the current one by Tecumseh would be, too.

However, Mr. Zorn adds that it's possible the Commission could go the other way and increase the equalized figure.

We've Had Enough of Elmer

Some years back, a debate was held in Tecumseh High School, featuring Senator Elmer Porter and his Democratic opponent in that November's election.

When it was all over, the program moderator asked a spectator, "Well, what did you think?"

After a short pause, the fellow responded, "I think we need two new candidates."

A lot of people probably agreed with the thinking that evening in 1960 following the debate. The fellow who ran as the Democratic candidate against Senator Porter is long forgotten, but not Elmer.

He is still around.

This became painfully evident last week when he and nine other state senators banded together with the Democrats to push through a program for state re-apportionment.

There was no discussion on the floor, no debate. The combine had that all taken care of in a secret session the night before.

They did the deed with one thought in mind — sink George Romney.

Detroit's newspapers referred to the Republican members of the group as "The turncoat ten" who "cut their party to shreds" and "Lansing's hatchet men."

We agree wholeheartedly.

These 10 GOP senators, striving above all else to hold onto their seats in the Legislature, didn't just combine on an approach to apportionment, they butchered their own party.

Once more, let's go back in time. It was the summer before Mr. Romney won the governorship. One of your editors was at a press meeting in upstate Michigan. On hand were a group of public relations people, actually lobbyists, who look at the Legislature quite objectively. They're not concerned about who does what so much as how will the group they represent make out.

One of these men was asked how the senate would react to a Romney victory.

The man gave an honest answer. "They don't want a Republican governor. If one gets in, it means the end of their power in the party."

The 10 conservatives in the senate have done their darndest to roadblock progress in Michigan. Always before, they tried hard to camouflage their actions. This time they got up enough courage to flaunt their selfish antics in front of the whole state.

Around Lenawee County, we can't do much about nine of these fellows, but we can about the tenth. We certainly want to see — and should see — someone else besides Elmer Porter sent by this area to the senate next November.

Fans Are Complimented

Tecumseh students and basketball fans have been complimented for their sportsmanship and conduct at last month's Tecumseh-River Rouge game in Ann Arbor.

Frank Kline, athletic director for Ann Arbor High School, has written Neville Hart, local high school principal, expressing his appreciation:

"As you know, approximately three-fourths of the crowd were your fans from Tecumseh, and I want to take this opportunity to express to you so that you may express to your students and community our congratulations for the type of sportsmanship, conduct and attitude of your whole group.

"Your cheerleaders and students brought over signs and had the courtesy to ask permission to place the signs on the wall and above all removed the same signs after the game. Your people were very patient with the crowded conditions that we had as the game was sold out. They were very enthusiastic but not rowdy.

"Your team, coach, students, and fans have left an impression of championship material."

Who Can Figure This One?

There's a story in this week's paper about the Feed Grain program in Lenawee County.

It states two extremely interesting facts:

1. Goals of the plan are "to bring production into line with demand, to reduce excessive stocks and to cut government costs."

2. Checks to land owners will amount "to $2,479,009 in addition to the price support payments to be made this fall," for not growing corn and barley.

You can take it from there.

The engagement of Shirley May Creger to Ernest Clemons is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Creger, 104 Muscody St. Mr. Clemons is also of Tecumseh. He is employed by the H. W. Tuttle Co. The couple plan a June wedding.

Macon Club Members Show Their Keepsakes

MACON — The Macon Community Club opened their meeting last Tuesday evening by singing "'Tis Springtime", "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Old Black Joe".

Clayton Bigelow conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Gorton Sr. led the Pledge to the American Flag and the Lord's Prayer.

A story was told with the people giving the sound effects.

They sang "Now The Day Is Over".

Members displayed and told about keepsakes, among them an 1857 Testament from Scotland, Chinese linen uniform, coffee grinder, 1832 Bible, powder horn, British Army Officer's watch, drawing knife and a plate that had been painted with a spray pen years ago in England.

Mrs. Ralph Halladay showed a pair of white satin slippers with pointed toes and an inch and a half heel with the base the size of a dime.

They were worn in Dublin, Ireland in 1780, by the ancestor of a relative of Mollie McGee.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton Sr., the hosts for the evening, served pie alamode, cookies and beverage.

New 2nd Grade Section Added by School Board

With an estimated 270 pupils for the second grade next year, the Tecumseh School Board approved an extra class Monday night.

The addition will increase the number of sections to nine.

The fourth grade had an extra class this year, but it will be eliminated for 1964-65.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

With the spring rains, the plowing of the fields and seeding, along come the Floridians back from the south.

After months in the sun that we here in Michigan know nothing about, the Orville Laidlaws, the Earl McNeils, the Clair Belands and the Ted McConnells look real healthy with their nice tans.

Many other Tecumsehites who spend their winters in the southern states will be soon making their appearances.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Kempf spent Sunday in Garden City attending a family get-together honoring Vaughn Pryne at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hesselgrave and family. Mr. Pryne is a former Tecumseh resident and nephew of Mrs. Kempf.

Mrs. Gale Fisher, former state president, Mrs. Archie Dunsmore and Mary McWilliams were in Saginaw last weekend to attend the Michigan PEO Convention.

Mrs. Bryce Miller has returned to her home here after a visit in Flint as a houseguest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rossie Birks. While there she was an honored guest at dinner in Frankenmuth observing her birthday anniversary and that of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Birks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Larsen will spend the summer in Cheboygan.

Duncan Oliphant Gets High Award

"I thought they were talking about someone else," said smiling Dune Oliphant, as he told of the presentation of the Scouting Silver Beaver award he received Tuesday evening.

The award was to be presented at the annual banquet held in January, but both Mr. Oliphant and his wife, Lela, were hospitalized at the time.

Both have since recovered completely from their surgery.

The Silver Beaver is the highest citation a local Council can present to a volunteer leader.

ARTHUR LESLOW, chairman of the Silver Beaver committee, made the presentation, reading a special citation:

"The Silver Beaver committee selected a man who was a Scout in another council in his youth and became associated as an adult leader with the Wolverine Council in February, 1954.

"Serving as troop commiteeman, institutional representative for Pack 73, vice-chairman in Lenape District, member of the executive board, active on the district camping and activities committee with a special interest in the council camp.

"He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, serving on the board, singing in the choir, active in local operations of his community, a member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge, having served it in many capacities.

"He has taken a direct interest in the youth work of his church and community in addition to his volunteer work in Scouting. He has also served as a volunteer fireman.

"Mr. Oliphant has been employed for 29 years at the Tecumseh Products Co., as chief electrician for the past 25 years. He is associated with technical clubs connected with his position."

THIS AWARD Committee is made up of top Scouters, who have previously received the award and make the recommendation to the National Council.

☆

MANY TECUMSEHITES are familiar with the good works of Duncan Oliphant and his wife. They are frequently found in some capacity on worthwhile projects in their church and community.

The couple have one daughter, Doris, who recently graduated with honors from Michigan State University.

Mr. Oliphant said, "If we can help these boys over the rough places, and they all have them, then the program is worthwhile. And it makes one feel real good."

"One of my teachers reiterated the now-familiar saying years ago in a class room, 'A person never stands so tall as when he stoops to help a child' and I never forgot it."

"Most of the people in the Scouting program are really dedicated and are not seeking personal glory. This makes it a pleasant group to work with."

Tecumseh Jaycees Hosted at Supper by the Auxiliary

Members of the Tecumseh Jaycees were hosted by their Auxiliary Saturday night at the Tecumseh Grange Hall.

Thirty-five attended the spaghetti supper, chaired by Mrs. Clifford Bird assisted by Mrs. James Rundell, Mrs. Don Stoner and Mrs. Walter Wonderly.

After dinner, games were played, dancing was held and progressive euchre was enjoyed.

Apple pie with ice cream was served by the committee.

20 Will Tour School for Deaf

Twenty members of the Lutheran Churchwomen of Gloria Dei will tour the Lutheran School for the Deaf in Detroit Thursday with the pastor, Dr. Laszlo Gero.

Arrangements have been made by Mrs. Fred Weseloh and Mrs. J. Gabe French. Mrs. French has two children attending the school, Valerie, 12, and her brother, Stephen, 9.

They are the grandchildren of Mrs. Weseloh and have been boarding at the school since they were four.

According to Mrs. French, the school's ultimate goal is to educate and prepare the children to become self-reliant citizens in a hearing society.

She continued, "Since communication is an all important factor, the oral method of instruction is stressed, employing both lip and speech reading.

"Children of all religions are welcomed: Christian education and training being an essential part of the school life," she added.

☆

CHILDREN usually are enrolled at the school when they are three to four years of age and continue through six grades, which are comparable to eight grades of public school.

At present, there are 114 enrolled, including some who have been found to be able to hear, but for other reasons have never spoken.

The children come from the southeastern, midwest and plain states, as well as many provinces of Canada.

☆

THE GROUP visiting the school this week will arrive in time for lunch with the students and then will attend classes during the afternoon.

Walter Bellhorn, executive director of the board of the school, will lecture and show movies made at the school. These have been used in television programs.

There have been children from the Tecumseh area who have attended the Lutheran School, graduated from high school and taken their places in society — thanks to the efforts of the conscientious educators of whom Mrs. French and Mrs. Weseloh speak so highly.

Patient Better Than Expected After Surgery

It's over.

Mrs. George Mack, is getting along, almost better than could be expected.

Mother of two little boys; Mrs. Mack underwent open heart surgery Thursday at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

A resident of 405 East Chicago Blvd., Mrs. Mack was in the operating room for five and one-half hours.

About 18 pints of blood were used for the surgery and she was still getting blood Saturday from the Red Cross bank. As a resident of Lenawee County, the whole blood she needs is all free.

Sunday she was able to take some liquids and her family is quite encouraged.

Jeff, 5, and Kevin, 8, are staying with friends and relatives.

OBITUARIES

He married the former Thelma Funk June 9, 1931. They moved to Tecumseh the same year.

Resolution Questions Expansion

LANSING—The Michigan Association of Junior and Community Colleges (MAJCC) today passed a resolution questioning the proposed expansion of Flint College, a branch of the University of Michigan.

Flint College currently offers only the junior and senior college years. The University of Michigan proposal would add courses at the freshman and sophomore level, thus duplicating the course work offered by Flint Community Junior College which is located on the same site as Flint College.

Future Teachers Plan Events

To celebrate Teaching Career Month, the Lois Service Chapter of the Future Teachers of America has planned several special events.

The club has put up a display case in the Tecumseh Public Library on the many and varied activities of a "typical" teacher.

Posters are being printed to stimulate interest in teaching as a career. These will be distributed throughout the high school and in the downtown area.

Of special interest to the Future Teachers is their cadet teaching program, designed to allow students "try on the profession for size," before they get to college. A radio interview with a cadet teacher is planned.

A play, "Tex, Two Knuckles, and a Note," will be presented for PTA and other interested groups at May meetings.

Social Security Pays $6½ Million in County

About one out of every ten residents of Lenawee County is now receiving a monthly Social Security check.

Raymond C. Backus, Jackson District Office, says beneficiaries in Lenawee total 8,226, an increase of 314 over last year.

The dollar total hits $6,796,000 yearly.

	No.	Paymts.
Retired Worker	4,455	$352,069
Wife or Husband	1,218	52,107
Widow or Widower	904	61,315
Mothers and Children	1,104	64,883
Disabled Workers and Dependents	531	35,002

Mr. Backus pointed out "that almost every dollar of Social Security benefits coming into the county is spent each month in local businesses for food, clothing, shelter and other essentials."

2 Petition for Gutters on Evans St.

Two petitions for curb and gutter were received by Council Monday night, with one affecting the industrial area along S. Evans St.

H. W. Tuttle Co. has requested curb and gutter along its property on S. Evans, near Russell Rd. City officials hope that others owning property in the vicinity there also will request curb and gutter.

Tuttle's request, plus one by John Long on the 100 block of N. Van Buren, will be acted upon at a future public hearing and then scheduled for construction, probably in 1965.

Farmers Given $2,479,000 Not To Grow Feed Grain

Farmers in Lenawee County enrolled 2,189 farms in the 1964 Feed Grain program during the sign-up period, which recently ended, according to Walter Sager, chairman of the ASC county committee.

Nearly 2,200 farmers enrolled to divert 50,295 acres of the 97,126 Feed Grain base established by the 1959-1960 history on these farms.

The estimated total payment will amount to $2,479,009 in addition to the price support payments to be made this fall.

Mr. Sager said the goal of the feed grain programs is to bring production into line with demand, to reduce excessive stocks and to cut government costs.

Farmers help to achieve this goal by voluntarily diverting feed grain acreage to conserving uses. The farmers are eligible for acreage diversion payments, price-support payment and regular price support loans.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Russian newspapers are conducting a campaign to stimulate the purchase of better and more attractive dress in the USSR.

Theoretically, the Communists consider advertising a waste. But the present campaign indicates that common sense tells them otherwise.

The Russian woman, or man, grew accustomed to sloppy clothing when the production of consumers goods was sacrificed for industrial and military build-up. Now that better goods are available they are not desired.

Apparently, the present Russian leaders feel that a well-dressed person is a more contented and more productive citizen. But the techniques of capitalistic promotion are needed to break sloppy habits of yore.

This belated appeal to the consumer in a Communist society again demonstrates the part advertising plays in creating wealth. For no economy benefits from products which are not wanted.

The desire for new products is the first factor in mass production. That desire usually follows effective advertising.

Advertising stimulates the consumer to obtain the wherewithal to make a purchase. It puts into movement the machinery which makes low cost products available to the whole public.

NEWCOMERS

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Buschlen, 217 Burt St., recently moved here from Jackson. Mrs. Buschlen retired in January as special agent for the Continental Insurance Co.

Fishing has been the popular pastime with both the Buschlens until arthritis curtailed the activity for Mrs. B., but her husband still enjoys it and golf, too.

The couple have one married daughter, Mrs. Mike Gendzwill, formerly of Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Gendzwill and eight children — they had a new little girl since they left here — are now living in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mike, former coach at Boysville, is now superintendent of the county schools at the Soo. He has received his Master's degree.

The Buschlens expect to visit their eight grandchildren in May.

Tidal Wave Sends 300 to Impromptu Festivities

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maves had an unusual experience — which could have been terrifying — while they were on the Island of Hawaii recently.

It was just about a month ago that they were vacationing on the sunkissed islands when a tidal wave was reported.

Immediately buses were summoned to evacuate their hotel and most systematically nearly 300 people were taken to higher ground.

Mrs. Maves went to her room for her camera and pictures and was among the last to leave.

From 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. they were entertained by an orchestra for dancing and a buffet of food in a warehouse, a couple of miles from the hotel.

Mrs. Maves said that there was no panic, in fact it was almost like a party — except everyone kept an ear to the radio.

Blankets and benches were provided for those who wished to sleep. There was no damage on Hawaii, but the wave did come up on lawns on the Island of Maui, which they saw the following day.

Cars damaged belonged to Esther M. Back, 34, Maybee, and Chester T. Blaska, 42, of 5584 Monroe Rd.

A parked car belonging to Dwight Hodges, 59, of 312 S. Union, was damaged Tuesday morning of last week while parked on N. Maumee, across from the high school.

How the car was damaged and by whom are unknown.

Color Slides Take 38 On Dream Trip

A trip to Latin and South America.

This was the good fortune of 38 members and guests of the Power Class Saturday evening.

Families were guests for a pot-luck supper in the basement of the Tecumseh Friends Church. Afterwards, the group viewed slides of neighboring countries to the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitman and children of Temperance were special guests, and Mr. Whitman narrated the slides.

The Whitmans, in the company of another family, spent several months touring Mexico, Venezuela, Peru, Haiti, Jamaica and other countries.

Their slides depicted the work of missions, as well as historical and geographical information.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sommers were in charge of arrangements for the evening. Their children, Judy and Kent, assisted by presenting the devotions.

22 from Area Being Sent to Boys State

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Twenty-two young men from Tecumseh High School and one from Boysville will go together to Wolverine Boys' State this summer on the Michigan State University campus.

This is the largest number in the state to attend from one area.

Boys' State is an American Legion project in which civic organizations interested in better citizenry are invited to cooperate with the Legion in developing the ideals of democracy.

Don Maves and Richard Purkey are co-chairing the program this year, which requires collectively more than $1,000 from various organizations and businesses for expenses.

The Underwood-Orr post No. 34, its Auxiliary and the Legion Memorial Home Association all send one boy each.

☆

OTHERS WHO financed a boy at a cost of $46 each are:

- ► General Telephone Co.
- ► Tecumseh Products Co. — two boys
- ► Retail Division, Chamber of Commerce
- ► Ottawa Machine
- ► H. W. Tuttle Co.
- ► Tecumseh Products Credit Union
- ► Dixon's Studio
- ► United Products Workers Employees Union
- ► Business and Professional Women
- ► Rotary — two boys
- ► United Savings Bank
- ► Rumpf Truck Lines
- ► Exchange Club — two boys

☆

WOLVERINE BOY'S STATE is not a school room activity, but is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government.

It is not meant to take the place of the course in civics or government, as taught in high schools of the state, but it is planned so that the boys may put into practice the theories of American government as taught in the classroom, through actual control of mythical city, county and state offices.

Boys are selected for high moral character, good sportsmanship and potential leadership ability — not just scholastic attainments.

The 27th annual assembly of boys will be held on the campus of the Michigan State University from June 18 to June 25.

Legionaires will accompany the Tecumseh group on the 40 and 8 box car.

☆

Must Sign Up for Wheat Program Before May 15

The voluntary wheat program in the new agricultural act requires a sign-up before May 15 by wheat growers at their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices.

Because the new program is quite different than many under which they have operated under in past years, farmers will need to study the alternatives the program offers.

Farmers will get negotiable certificates worth money if they comply. Based on average yields, about 45% of the bushel-certificates will be at 70c a bushel and the remaining at 25c a bushel rate.

Either county Extension offices or ASC offices have forms on which farmers can calculate figures for their individual farms.

Summer School of Music Being Given in Toledo

A summer school of music for high school students will be offered from June 15 through July 19 at the University of Toledo.

Classes will be held daily from 1 p.m. till 5 p.m.

The program is open to all high school students. Course fee for the five-week program is $40. Registration will be held Saturday, June 13 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Doerman Theater.

Campers Can Use Trailers While Seeing World's Fair, But There Are Problems

Camp-minded Michiganians may have the idea it's the thing to do when planning a visit to the New York World's Fair.

Is it?

It can be done, says Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

But, he adds, it won't be as easy as camping in northern Michigan or other places where the welcome mat is untrampled.

Sites may be found within a 50-mile radius of New York City. But, and this is most important—reservations simply must be made well in advance of arrival.

IT'S WELL to keep in mind that there are no trailer parks within the five boroughs (or counties) that make up New York City — Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Staten Island, and the Bronx.

In addition, there are no facilities now, or planned, at the Fair for parking travel trailers.

A central clearing bureau to aid those seeking New York travel trailer accommodations has been established. Full details can be obtained from:

Trackmen Trounce Blissfield 73-36; Upset 57-52 by Ypsilanti-Lincoln

The Railsplitters, garnering all 27 points in the broad jump, high jump and pole vault, edged the Indians in the final event to win the meet, 57-52.

Even then, Ypsi-Lincoln capitalized on a dropped baton to win. Jim Greene lost the baton on the third leg of the relay event, picked it up, but had lost too much ground.

Anchoring the event, Dave Lemerand almost pulled the Indians to victory when he nearly overcame the fourth man on Lincoln's team.

☆

IN THE running events, Tecumseh won the 880-relay, both 100 and 220-yard dashes and Lemerand captured the half-mile.

Bill Thomas and John Lindstrom won first and second in the shot put.

Some observers doubt that Lincoln's win will have much bearing on the outcome of the league championship.

Two or three other teams are likely to take the Railsplitters, particularly on tracks other than Lincoln's loose cinders.

☆

LAST FRIDAY, Coach Tom Fagan's thinclads ripped Blissfield, 73-36.

The Indians won all 11 running events, losing only in the high and broad jumps.

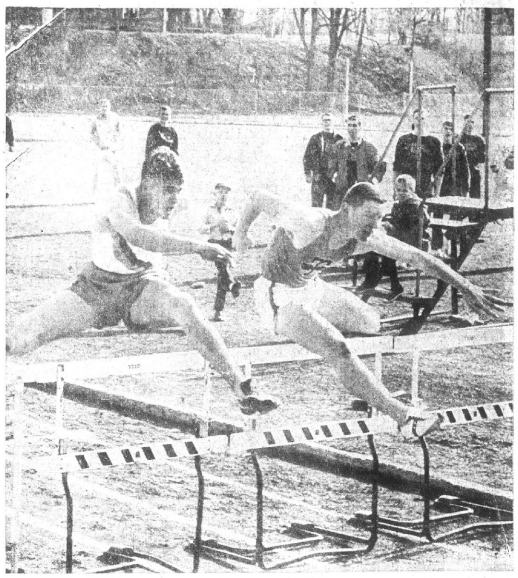
A new state record appeared set in the 120-yard high hurdles —until officials discovered the finish line was 10 yards short.

Derby, just nipped in the first "heat" of the 120, came back in the second to win over Blissfield's ace, Fred Walters. The undefeated Tecumseh hurdler also won the 180.

☆

OTHER THS first place winners were:

Thomas — 48'6", new school record.
Curt Lucas — 10'6", pole vault.
Sharpe — 4:53.9, mile.
Brown — 54.6, 440.
Collins — 10.6, 100.
Collins — 24.1, 220.
880-relay and mile relay — Tecumseh.



HURDLERS UNDEFEATED — Steve Derby, right,nips Fred Walters of Blissfield in the 120-yard high hurdles here Friday. If the red-haired ijunior keeps improving, he's almost certain to break the 15.4 school mark set by Bob Koffron in 1961. He already holds the 180-yard low hurdle THS record.

Eldon Walker Opens Season With Low of 39

The Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League got under way Wednesday night with weather that was windy, wet and cold and scores that were high.

Eldon Walker, however, refused to be daunted and carded a low gross of 39.

The league obtained its name because the original members were divided between those three towns.

Now in its fourth year of play, it has members from Detroit, Saline, Blissfield, Dundee, Adrian, Onsted, Tecumseh, Clinton and Macon.

It also has substitutes from each of those towns to fill in when a regular member cannot play.

The standings for the first night are as follows:

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP BOARDMEN LYLE WHELAN, RICHARD PLATT, MERRICK DIBBLE, GLENN FISHER AND ELWYN SHEA

Franklin Township Government Responsibilty of Trustee Board

TIPTON — Who holds the responsibility of government within a township?

Most people know it's the board of trustees, but how many can name the five men who compose this body in Franklin Township?

This feature story gives a thumbnail sketch of each member and the accompanying picture ties the faces in with the names.

If citizens ever have occasion to wonder about any township governmental action or responsibility, these are the persons to contact.

Merrick Dibble — Has served eight years as justice of peace and was appointed to fill out the vacancy of Township Treasurer, after which he was elected to the office of treasurer, which he has held for 10 years.

He next filled the vacancy of Supervisor and was then elected to the office and has served for three years in that capacity.

He is a member of the Tipton Community Church and a trustee on the Church Board. As a member of the Tipton Grange he serves on the Board of Trustees. He is also a Past Chancelor of the Knights of Pythias.

He resides on Whelan Rd. with his wife, Shirley. They have two daughters, Mrs. Roger Borton of Fayette, O., and Mrs. Donald Sunderland of Tecumseh.

Elwyn Shea—Has served three years as clerk. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias and holds the office of treasurer in that Lodge. He, his wife, Lucille, and son, Larry, live on Tipton Hwy.

Richard Platt — Has had the job of trustee on the Franklin Township Board for 10 years. Richard lives with his wife, Alice, son, Robert 13, and daughter, Susan, 9, at 8220 Tipton Hwy. He farms 266 acres, along with a herd of dairy cows.

Glenn A. Fisher — Township Treasurer for three years, is a member of the Knights of Pythias, Tipton Grange and the Tipton Community Church board.

He formerly owned and operated Standard Oil Station at Tipton. He resides on Tipton Hwy. with his wife, Ruth. He has three children, Maurice Fisher of Northfield, O., Frances Campbell of Bellevue and Joseph Rockwell of Tecumseh. He has eight grandchildren.

Lyle Whelan — Was justice of the peace before being elected trustee, an office he has held for 12 years.

He lives at 3450 Whelan Rd. with his wife, Alice, to whom he was married in 1929. They are the parents of four children including Wesley, who lives on the farm, Mrs. William Starkey of Anchorage, Alaska, Mrs. Richard Blue of Britton and Mrs. Gerald Fox of Tecumseh.

Lyle is a member of Tipton Grange and is a Past Master and has been treasurer for 14 years.

He is on ASC Committee representing Franklin Township and is a councilman for NCSA for Onsted local.

Tipton School Notes

Fourth graders at Tipton School recently made a field trip to Ann Arbor Museum April 17, then wrote about the experience.

"The first thing I saw was the poisonous lizard in America. There were 16 mothers who went with us. We went in the planetarium. We saw many constellations. They had many souvenirs. We stopped along the road and ate our lunch," penned Beverly Baker.

"We saw an egg something like a Dodo egg but it was not. Our guide, Don Nash, said the bird that had laid the egg was about 10 feet tall," said David Whelan.

"We saw a lot of dinosaurs and different animals in the Museum. After we were all done looking in the Museum, we went to the planetarium. There we saw many stars and constellations," Steven Vargo stated.

"We saw fish, fossils and other bones of other animals. After we got done looking at the things in the Museum, we went into the planetarium and saw the moon and stars. After we got out of the Planetarium we bought souvenirs. Then we came home. I had a very nice time and I am sure everybody else did too," reported Diane Allen.

"I took four pictures of the Museum and the bus. We had no one absent and we had 16 mothers go with us," explained Wendy Luce.

On behalf of pupils and teachers of Tipton School, Principal Mrs. Doris Tonneberger presented Mrs. Doris Jones, fifth grade teacher, with a certificate of appreciation for her three years of devoted service as director of the safety patrol.

H. C. Bailey framed the certificate.

Mrs. Jones has given a great deal of her time and energy to the patrol.

Her counseling and guidance of both the children serving on the boys safety patrol and the girls service squad has enriched the program and aided in the safety of all concerned.

In celebration of Arbor Day, the third grade invited the other grades to share a tree-planting experience with them.

A short program was held in the gym with Margaret Keeney reading Joyce Killmer's famous poem, "Trees".

Afterwards John Gebarowski read a letter addressed to Mrs. Tonneberger, which dedicated the tree to her for her kindness and interest in helping all boys and girls. The letter was signed by all the third graders.

It was then placed in a small bottle and buried under the roots of the tree.

The tree was planted north of the building, outside of the third grade room so that the children will be able to watch it grow.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

BLACK CLOUDS

April showers may come our way but this article is not about spring storms There has already been much discussion about the weather and it settles nothing.

We fuss and fret but, when spring decides to bring on the warm weather, it comes and until then we can just shiver.

Today's topic is birds — huge flocks of them. The birds themselves are big and black and as they fly in formation, it looks exactly as if black clouds were scuttling across the sky.

What are the birds? Why, grackles, of course, they are back and in full force, too.

We saw our first 'black thief' on the sixth of March and, to be perfectly truthful, I must admit it was a thrill.

Robins are usually called the harbingers of spring but the grackles, to us, share this title.

At least, they turn our thoughts away from the dreary winter and point them toward nicer things.

☆

By the time they have arrived in such numbers that they take over everything, somehow, then we don't find them quite so attractive.

However, in the bleak early spring landscape, these big jet black birds, with heads which sparkle a deep iridescent purple, are most welcome.

Like many other birds who travel with the seasons, the grackles arrive in waves. One bunch follows another and, if the weather further north is bad, which of course it is apt to be, the birds pile up.

That is precisely what happened this year and we had black thieves practically falling over each other. They were everywhere!

When weather conditions are favorable some of the horde moves on, thank goodness.

IT WAS before the population thinned out that we had fun watching the black clouds of grackles. Every evening, just before dark, the birds gathered into flocks and started hunting for favorable sleeping quarters.

Back and forth they went and really, they flew much better than many humans drive.

With all the aerial maneuvers we saw no collisions; each flock moved as a single unit and just think what a traffic jam there could have been had just one bird made a wrong turn.

Marshes big evergreen was a favorite roosting spot and it was amazing to see the cloud descend.

The birds crowded into the tree until we wondered where they were finding perching room. They seemed to prefer the top of the tree and the end of the branches.

When everyone was tucked in tight and apparently all settled for the night—swish. Grackles exploded out of the tree and a black cloud quickly formed again. In a few moments they were back and the whole ritual was repeated.

This went on until dark and, as we said before, was great fun to watch. Had it been warm enough to open doors and windows, I imagine the sound, which accompanied all this getting ready for bed, would have been not so much fun.

☆

DURING the day the big flocks did not seem so tightly knit. There were grackles all over but there was not much organization.

Several times, however, the creek was 'cloudy'. We have often commented on the grackles' fetish for bathing — when they are in town it is almost impossible to, anytime of the day, look at our creek and not see some of the black thieves during and splashing.

It was surprising, though, to look out and see all of the shallower spots carpeted in black. The evening clouds were bathing.

Well, now of course, many of the grackles are inspecting the northern part of our state, getting an early start on their summer vacation Up North as it were.

We are not bemoaning the loss — we still have too many grackles around, but, I'm afraid, the present group are this year's residents.

They will afford some good looking, though, the other day, for example, we noticed one soaking his feet. It was just after a heavy rain, the creek was higher than usual and running fast; two grackles decided this was just what their aching feet needed and there they stood, just soaking.

So it is that the grackle population has now leveled off, but, for a while, it was interesting to see them form black clouds.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

When I announced a few weeks ago that Michigan would have a surplus of more than $60 million on June 30, one of our veteran capitol reporters commented:

"I've been waiting ten years to write this story." There can be no question that it is a big story. How was a deficit of $88 million transformed into such a surplus in the short space of two years?

There are many partial answers — tight legislative control over state budgets, efficiency programs in state government, new taxes enacted two years ago, lower welfare costs, higher yield from long-standing taxes because of better overall economic conditions.

But in brief, and most important, it is simply this: State government spending less money than it has available to spend.

We made elimination of the deficit and return to pay-as-you-grow government our number one goal.

But in restoring fiscal responsibility and public confidence in state government, we have not neglected the need of our citizens.

☆

WHILE WE have been wiping out the deficit and building a surplus against the day that we will need some cash on hand, we have been making this type of progress:

► More money for education than ever before in Michigan history, including an unprecedented single year increase for higher education of 20% in operating funds, plus more help for elementary and secondary education.

► A statewide scholarship program for deserving college students who need financial help, plus an expanded student loan program.

► An expanded community help program in mental health. More buildings and more specialized treatment for the mentally retarded and mentally ill.

► Help for young boys and girls in trouble unprecedented in the nation. We established youth camps and expanded detention facilities, proposed a series of halfway houses to help juveniles in trouble to readjust more quickly and more adequately to their society.

► More meaningful help for senior citizens, including a program to make 100,000 more of our older citizens eligible for medical and hospital assistance.

► Higher welfare payments and participation in new and expanded programs. We removed favoritism from our unemployment compensation program, strengthened this fund financially, raised unemployment benefits.

► We accelerated the construction program. Today, a massive building program is underway for education, mental health and other necessary functions, worth $200 million from drawing board to ribbon cutting.

☆

A SPENDING program? Of course it is. But the important thing is that we are spending less than we have available to spend.

In the Sixties, we are making up for some of the things that weren't done in the Fifties when Michigan government stood still and yet ran up a $110 million deficit and a payless payday.

Lenawee County Unemployment Payments Drop

Dollar value of unemployment compensation payments to Lenawee County unemployed individuals in March amounted to $48,816.

This is $2,435 less than February, nearly half as much as the $91,365. value of benefits for March, 1963.

During the last week of March, the Adrian office of the Michigan Employment Security commission processed only 389 claims, fewest for any week since December 1955.

Lenawee County employers hired 232 workers through the local office during the first three months of this year.

Manufacturing establishments hired 97 workers, 32 others were placed in office positions, retail establishments hired 37, agricultural 28 and the remaining were odd jobs, reports Clifford J. Rice, manager Adrian office.

'Snacking' Should Be Sensible

ANN ARBOR—Americans are "snacking" their way to obesity.

Snacks in themselves are not harmful, say dieticians at The University of Michigan Medical Centers — if you choose nutritious foods to nibble on.

The danger lies in filling-up on things that do not give you proper nutrition.

The food specialists make a careful distinction between foods which are health-producing and those which are merely fat-producing. High calorie foods are not all nutritious.

They may give you a sudden spurt of energy, but most lack an abundance of protein, vitamins and minerals, which help the body to grow and function properly.

Examples are carbonated beverages, candy and potato chips. These are filling and fattening, but have little nutritional value.

The dietitians suggest a selection of between-meal foods which make a worthwhile contribution to health — milk drinks, fruit, cheese or meat are nutritious snack for morning, afternoon and evening.

State Police Urge Parents To Warn Children

Because child molesting increases sharply in warm weather months, parents are strongly urged by Sgt. Carl Anderson, commander of the Clinton State Police post, to warn their youngsters of the possible dangers in contacts with strangers who offer gifts of candy or money and want them to go for rides or walks.

This has been an annual warning by the State Police.

Sergeant Anderson advised parents to report all molesting incidents to police with as many details as possible. This helps officers take action necessary to apprehend offenders and to prevent reoccurrence.

He pointed out that names of minors involved and their parents are not used by the press, radio and TV except in emergencies of abduction and murder.

Reluctance in reporting thwarts police action and also hides the true total of these incidents.

As in other years complaints were most numerous in summer. August was high with 64, July next with 62 and June third with 52. May and October had 50 each while April and September each had 47. The other five months had totals under 40.

☆

SERGEANT Anderson suggested that parents instruct their children to follow these rules:

► Don't go for rides or walks with strangers and avoid being tempted to do so by candy or money gifts from them.

► Have companions with you when you play outdoors and if possible when going to and from school, on shopping errands, or to the movies, fairs and carnivals. Avoid playing in isolated areas and vacant buildings.

► Don't loiter in or near public rest rooms as these can be danger spots.

► Report to your parents, police or teacher anyone who tries to get you to break these rules or when you have any question concerning your safety.

Sergeant Anderson added that children can help curb molestation incidents by remembering features about suspected or actual molesters, such as approximate height, weight, age, color of eyes, skin and hair and unusual things such as a mustache, tattoos, jewelry, scars and physical defects.

If there is a car involved, details about it also should be memorized or marked down somehow.

He pointed out that anyone investigated because his presence near children arouses suspicions should not be offended if he has proper explanation for his activity.

Cut in Services Will Save Money for Post Office

The limited adjustments in some postal services ordered in Washington March 10 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to save $12.7 million will begin to take effect in Tecumseh and other cities May 4, Postmaster Jack Metcalf said today.

Service changes planned locally include the following, Mr. Metcalf said:

Window services on Saturdays — no money orders will be issued on Saturdays and patrons are encouraged to use the stamp vending machines. There will also be no money orders sold on the rural routes on that day.

Parcel post deliveries — This service will be provided five days per week except that on mounted and rural routes, which will continue on a six-day week.

First class parcel, air parcels and perishable articles will continue to be delivered six days per week and special delivery parcels will be delivered.

The Postmaster emphasized that no major services are affected under the orders.

There will be no change in home delivery or special delivery, for example.

Regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual.

Letters and other first-class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step, Mr. Metcalf explained, is in line with President Johnson's programs under which the recent Federal income tax cut was provided.

"Loneliness is an experience you undergo when you are without money among relatives."

Couple Trains for Peace Corps

Barry Sheldon and his wife, Carol, are presently in St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands training in field conditions which simulate Jamaica for the Peace Corps.

Barry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sheldon of Dundee, former Tecumseh residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon, 5382 Milwaukee Rd., and Mrs. Sam Clough and the late Mr. Clough of 1106 Murray Dr. are the grandparents of the young volunteer.

The Sheldons are the first couple in the general area to volunteer for Peace Corps service.

They spent several days in Dundee before going to St. Thomas. Prior to visiting in Dundee, they completed the first phase of training with five weeks of introductory instruction and orientation in Brattleboro, Vermont.

After their stay in St. Thomas they will continue on to Puerto Rico for two weeks physical training to help them become accustomed to the climate.

Carol and Barry are the first married couple from Eastern Michigan University to join the Peace Corps.

MR. AND MRS. BARRY SHELDON

Barry graduated from Dundee High School in 1959. Carol is a native of Detroit.

Although the program is flexible Mr. Sheldon's principal work will be teaching at the junior and senior high school level.

Mrs. Sheldon will work with women and teen age girls, and both will have literacy classes with adults during the evenings.

One out of about eight who apply for the Peace Corps are accepted.

A rigid examination is given along with psychiatric and psychological interviews, and a security check by the FBI.

Each member is trained at a cost of $9,000 to the government.

Pay includes a monthly sum automatically deposited for the volunteer by the government, a monthly salary and living and traveling expenses.

New applicants are given a preference of where they would like to serve, but they may be placed as needed, although a choice of acceptance or rejection remains with the applicant.

A volunteer can drop out of the Peace Corps at any time.

Dangers of Power Mowers

With the increasing use of power mowers, it is essential that the public be aware of the dangers involved in their operation. Allstate Insurance safety expert offers the following tips for power mower users:

1. Always disconnect the spark-plug wire or electrical plug whenever you want to work on the underside of the mower, as well as when you are refueling. If you do not know how to disconnect this wire or electrical plug for safety, ask your dealer to show you.
2. Thoroughly inspect the lawn before beginning to mow and clear it of all sticks, stones, wire and other debris.
3. Never fill the tank indoors or while the engine is hot or still running.
4. Never use a power mower barefoot. Protect your legs. Wear heavy shoes while mowing.
5. Keep children out of the area you are mowing. Never let anyone get in line with the grass discharge side of the mower.
6. Stop the motor whenever you leave the mower. (Children are quick to try to operate an unattended mower. Never give them a chance to get seriously hurt.)
7. Learn to disengage the clutch or stop the motor quickly in case of emergency.
8. Never allow youngsters or inexperienced persons to operate a power mower.
9. Cut grass on hills and banks sideways, not up and down.
10. Stand firmly behind the machine and stay in step with it. Don't run.
11. Do not use an electric power mower when grass is wet or when it is raining. Electric mowers should have the frame grounded through the cord.
12. Have your mower inspected thoroughly and kept in a good state of repair by an experienced serviceman at least once a year.

"Remember," warns a company official, "Treat your power mower with the same respect that you would a loaded revolver."

Postmaster Jack Metcalf Attends Workshop Sessions

"The 1964 Postmasters' Training School held in Lansing, was an outstanding management training school for Michigan Postmasters," said Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf of Tecumseh.

"Smaller classes, longer class periods, the workshop method instead of lectures, all contributed to making the school worthwhile," explained Mr. Metcalf.

The training school for postmasters is part of Postmaster General John A. Gronouski's program to insure that the postmasters are trained in the latest methods of management.

☆

SOME OF THE major topics covered in three-hour workshop sessions:

1. Organization and internal operation of a post office including scheduling and organization of manpower, responsibilities of supervisors, importance of proper assignments and functions.
2. Cost control and analysis.
3. General accounting procedures.
4. Principles of management as applied to post office operations.
5. Postmaster's public relations and information program.

Advice to car owners on how to get more in trade!

When they tell you it's not the first cost that counts, but the upkeep too —that's not the whole story either. Read on . . .

When you visit our showroom and chat with one of our salesmen you're really just talking with another car owner. There's not a man on our staff who isn't a car buyer himself, with the same interest in getting the most for his money as you. He knows your side of the story! And here it is . . .

First you want the best deal you can get when you buy.

He'll explain to you our Spring sale of '64 Comets and how it can save you lots of money right off the bat. It's merely a matter of sales volume. Comet sales are up — 131% over a year ago,* and still climbing. So we're keeping prices down at rock-bottom to keep our sales sky-high.

Next you want economy every mile you drive.

And don't think because a car saves you money by the mile that it's a "dog." Matter of fact, the '64 Comet is the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion (each member of a team went that distance recently at Daytona, averaging over 105 mph for the course!). The point is Comets have a host of built-in service-saving features to give economy new meaning!

And finally — you want the most in trade when the time comes.

Well — now we come to the happy ending of our story. For high resale is Comet's language! This one has the tradition of record high resale — one of the hottest items in demand on anybody's used car lot. Yessir, if you want to know how to get more in trade — start with a Comet in the first place!

And the very first place to come for that is our dealership — why not make it today?

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:
What are the differences in custom-made draperies?
Mrs. MKG.

DEAR MRS. MKG:

Draperies classed as custom-made are supposedly made to fit your own special windows, but can vary tremendously from this point on.

A quote from the Detroit Free Press explains the differences:

"It pays to buy quality. Look for fabrics with a high thread count, vat dyes, permanent finishes, headings stiffened with permanent buckram (pellon), heading pleats not more than 3 inches apart and hand tailoring.

"Machine-made draperies are sewn with small stitches close together. Custom-made (hand-sewn) have long, loose stitches to eliminate puckering, improve the hang and adapt to atmospheric conditions."

At the Kustom Kraft shop, all above mentioned points are stressed in our work.

We hand-sew double hems, both on the sides and in the deep bottom hems.

These give extra body and eliminate the use of weights which tend to make draperies sag wherever used.

Our personal attention guarantees exact fit, no excess drapery bunched on the corners, and straight hem lines.

We attach linings by hand to allow perfect hanging of both lining and drapery fabric.

Come in and visit with us and observe our work.

Hours 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily except Tuesday. This day is set aside for appointments in your home. Call 423-3810 for appointment.

We also have complete line of bedspreads available.

Announcement was made at a Stoic Society banquet.

Guest Sings Number He Composed

BRITTON — Glen Williams of Aberdeen, Md., presented special music Sunday evening at the Bethel Baptist Church.

A song, composed by Mr. Williams, "Let's Put Prayer And Bible Reading Back In School" was among the selections presented.

The content of the number relates how atheists are using the Constitution and the high courts of the land to take religious freedom, bit by bit, to destroy the foundation upon which our forefathers built our great nation.

Mr. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams of Tecumseh, also used this for his topic when speaking before the young people.

He and his family attend the Bible Baptist church in Aberdeen, where he is Sunday school superintendent and a church deacon.

19 Attend Class Party

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Harland Parker of Tecumseh, were hosts to the Adult Sunday School Class of the Bethel Baptist Church.

The Rev. Duane McNeil, pastor of the church and class teacher, held the devotions and presented the games.

The party, held Saturday evening, was attended by 19 members.

Refreshments were served by the hosts.

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.

Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.

Why?

Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.

You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice.

You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains.

And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Thirty-eight years ago, a businessman in Adrian named Harry A. Fee made a rather dramatic decision.

People who heard about it probably chuckled at the time and said poor Mr. Fee was going off his rocker, wanting to spend all that money on a giant 200-acre flower garden.

Well, thank goodness for people like Harry Fee. Their farsightedness and unselfish projects are the thing which can make life a lot more fun to live.

Harry's project was Hidden Lake Gardens. He fashioned it, nurtured the one-time barren land, planting a variety of shrubs, trees and flowers.

In 1945, he gave it to Michigan State University, with trust funds set up to continue his beautiful dream.

To area newcomers, Hidden Lake is located about eight miles west of Tecumseh on M-50 and is one of the most beautiful spots in Michigan.

With no cost to taxpayers or the University, Hidden Lake grows and expands. No matter what time of year, the 410 acres are a vision of rolling warmth to the eye.

A new 120-acre section is currently being planted, with flowering crabapple and cherry trees, ornamental evergreens and native Hawthorns. A batch of evergreens, now just about knee-high, will eventually grow to 60 feet and screen in the western boundry.

Shrubs and trees in the area will be battling to get a toehold in the earth for a year, but even now, with giant poles staked in next to many of the trees, it's interesting to see.

A trip through this section in a few years will probably have Hidden Lake regulars saying, "Why I can remember when those big fellows were hardly sprouts."

He said, as we rolled along the meandering roadways of the beautiful park Tuesday morning, that there are more than 2,500 species of flowers, plants, shrubs and trees — all labeled for visitors.

Another 60-acre farm was recently purchased, squaring off the northwest side of the park. This segment won't be developed for probably another year. As the late Mr. Fee found, there is always plenty of time when it comes to fashioning a giant-size garden.

A big feature of the new plot is a glacial pothole, which was formed hundreds of thousands of years ago by gigantic lobes of ice that ran all the way from Georgian Bay.

The geologists report that the Irish Hills were formed by these glaciers, with lobes which inched south from Saginaw Bay and the Lake Huron-Lake Erie lowlands and met in this section of Michigan.

They explain that the glaciers brought boulders and rocks from Canada and dumped them all around here. Now the mystery of where Nokomis Street's vast supply of rocks in Tecumseh came from is solved.

The Gardens' prime objective has always been "to exhibit valuable plant collections for enjoyment and study and to create landscape pictures that will give rise to a demand for more beautiful surroundings."

How well this project lives up to this goal.

In case you wonder what's doing at Hidden Lake these days, the narcissus and forsythia, magnolia and flowering cherry are in bloom.

Flowering crabs, redbuds, flowering dogwood, primrose and tulips are in there pitching these early days of May and the lilac collection is expected to burst into brilliance this weekend.

If you have been searching for something special for Mother's Day, Hidden Lake is one of the best choices we can offer.

The entire six miles of roadways can be done by car, with half a dozen convenient parking areas where motorists can stop and take extra-long looks.

There also are several hiking routes, one through the Sugar Bowl area, which takes about 30 minutes.

Thanks, Mr. Fee, for your thoughtfulness.

Needed: Candidates for Board of Ed Race

Unless there's a last minute rush for petitions, two seats for four years on the Tecumseh School Board may be decided next month by write-in candidates.

As of Wednesday, only one petition had been taken out and it had not been filed.

Dwight Hodges, incumbent and member for the past 13 years, does not intend to seek re-election.

Aden Mead, president of the board and also a member for 13 years, is still undecided.

Petitions are available at the administrative office or from Mr. Hodges at Moore Lumber Co. They must have 50 signatures and be filed by 4 p.m. Saturday, May 9.

Candidates who take out petitions are asked to file them at the administrative office by 4 p.m. Friday, or with Mr. Hodges on Saturday before the deadline.

Gets Standing Ovation

80 Years a Baptist

Mrs. Anna Morse was given a standing ovation for her 80 years of membership at the First Baptist Church 125th anniversary banquet last week.

Mrs. Orville Bishop, president of the Women's Society, pinned an orchid corsage on her shoulder as the congregation applauded.

Since Mrs. Morse and her late husband lived in Monroe for a while, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon have the longest continuous membership of 77 years.

Mrs. Sheldon was present to receive her corsage from Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, who also assisted Mrs. Bishop and the pastor, the Rev. Blair Basbore, in honoring those who have been members 40 years or more.

☆

MR. SHELDON was unable to be present, but a daughter, Mrs. Dale Hoag of Saginaw, accompanied her mother. Another daughter, Helen, who married Vaughn Curtis of Adrian, son of former pastor, W. B. Curtis, and her husband were present.

The late Rev. Curtis served the church from 1918 to 1922.

The Rev. Warren E. Jackson and his wife, who pastored here from 1925-1930 were present to extend greetings. They are now

Township Does Not Plan Job

The Herald was in error last week.

A story on Tonneberger Estate said that Tecumseh Township was going to pave Tonneberger Rd. and a section of Newburg Rd.

"The township has made no plans for this," he told The Herald.

Mr. Eaton explained that the township budget appropriates approximately $5,000 annually for road building and repair.

Last year, about two and one-quarter miles of Matthew Hwy. was regarded at a cost of $7,000. It still needs a cap of process gravel and this will run about $2,500.

Mr. Eaton pointed out that the cost of paving is $10,000 per mile.

He said he had no comment on plans for this year's township road work.

Gal Golfer Gets First Hole-in-One

First hole-in-one to be recorded by a woman at Tecumseh Country Club was made last Friday by Mrs. Austin Miller, 233 Maple St.

Playing in a foursome with her husband, Austin, and the John Finleys of Saline, Mrs. Miller used a No. 5 wood on the 150-yard sixth hole to score her ace.

"I'm not that good," glowed Mrs. Miller. "It surprised everyone and I was most surprised to find that I was the first woman."

Seven men have made holes-in-one on the Tecumseh Country Club course.

They include Frank Rice, Arthur Geisenhaver, Roger Linger, Louis Vargo, the late Judge George Rathbun, Paul Clauda and Chuck Butler.

Downtown Apartment Under Fire

Police action was started Tuesday to have an abandoned refrigerator on the back porch of the Bills Apartments, 212 E. Chicago Blvd., removed from the porch or properly fixed to eliminate a dangerous hazard.

Police Chief Murrel Clark advised Mrs. Marion Murphy, E. Monroe Rd., of the violation and set a Friday deadline.

This week police and fire department officials and health authorities were to inspect the building to consider condemnation.

☆

AT MONDAY night's Council session, Chief Clark showed Councilmen pictures of the dilapidated building and unfavorable health conditions inside.

Council authorized City Attorney James Beardsley to proceed towards ordering Mrs. Murphy to either fix the building or board it up to prevent anyone from wandering in.

It was also pointed out to the Council that taxes for the past two years had not been paid.

Products' President Joseph Layton Dies

Regarded as one of the nation's top industrials, Joseph Layton, died early Saturday following a heart attack. The 56-year-old president of Tecumseh Products Co. had been the chosen successor of Ray Herrick as the firm's chief executive officer.

Services were held Monday afternoon in a jammed Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, which Mr. Layton had helped to build last year.

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Laszlo Gero officiated.

The body was transported to Hinsdale, Ill., for a service the following day with burial there in the Fairmount Cemetery.

Mr. Layton is survived by his wife, Pearl; a daughter, Marilou, who is a senior at the University of Michigan; and a sister, Mrs. R. A. Greener of St. Petersburg, Fla.

☆

AN INTENSE and hard-working executive, Mr. Layton had just returned to Tecumseh following his annual around-the-world visit to Products' licensees.

Accompanied by Joe Galazzie, vice-president in charge of Foreign Operations, Mr. Layton had visited Australia, the Philippine Islands, Japan, India, Italy, Spain, Germany, Denmark and Scotland.

He returned in apparent good health and was mowing his lawn the afternoon before the fatal coronary attack.

It struck at 3:55 p.m. Saturday. A family physician was unable to revive Mr. Layton.

When Mr. Herrick, one of the Products' founders, decided to lighten his load in 1954, he personally selected Mr. Layton to take over as president.

At the time, Mr. Layton was with International Harvester, directing its foreign operations as a vice-president.

☆

ALWAYS THE type of executive to keep a close tab on what was happening, Mr. Layton was continually on the move, checking manufacturing operations here and in the firm's domestic layouts in Ohio, Wisconsin and Indiana, which total seven divisions.

About once each year, Mr. Layton would make a world-wide swing to the plants of licensees, who build refrigeration units to Tecumseh specifications with assistance from the company's engineering department.

Through the past 10 years, the Products has continued to grow and prosper, never being challenged for its role as "the world's largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors."

Its sales have pushed the $200 million mark with net profit after taxes reaching $9,900,000.

Fortune Magazine's ratings of all manufacturers in the United States place Tecumseh Products among the nation's top 100 firms.

☆

IN THE PAST year, Mr. Layton became interested in a long-forgotten talent — horse-back riding.

Encouraged by Tim Neill, who had erected a stable on Newburg Rd., Mr. Layton purchased three horses, with an American saddlebred mare, Toka-B, his favorite.

Both Mr. Layton and his wife spent many hours riding on Saturdays and Sundays.

Mrs. Neill said that "he couldn't wait to get to see his horses" after returning from his recent trip.

☆

MR. LAYTON was a member of the Tecumseh Masonic Lodge and a 32nd Degree Mason of Detroit's Moslem Temple.

Other affiliations included the Tecumseh Country Club, Lenawee Country Club, Recess Club of Detroit, University Club of Chicago and the American Society of Tool Engineers.

Born in Chicago April 28, 1908, he attended the University of Michigan, where he won a degree in engineering, joining International Harvester immediately following his graduation.

Bob McCoy, Oldest Businessman, Dead

Robert McCoy, 85, lifelong resident of Tecumseh and the community's oldest businessman, died shortly after noon Tuesday in Ann Arbor.

He had been in ill health for the past four months and confined most of the time in a nursing home.

He had been active in business here for over 50 years, the last 43 years in the real estate field.

Mr. McCoy, born here on March 21, 1879, first started working as a youth at the turn of the century for Marsh's Meat Market. He then clerked in the Williamson Grocery.

Later, he operated produce and creamery businesses with creamery stations established in many southern Michigan and northern Ohio communities.

In 1921, he founded McCoy Real Estate in what is still the business's office on E. Chicago Blvd. His son-in-law, William Powell, joined him in the business in 1951.

At one time he was a Tecumseh mayor and councilman, serving with Perry Satterthwaite, Ken Hall, Ed Heilman and others of the time.

He was a member of the Methodist Church — second oldest parishioner at the time of his death — and several fraternal organizations.

☆

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 with the Rev. Donald Porteous officiating. Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow, Thelma; a daughter, Mrs. Powell; two grandchildren, Robert and Barbara Powell; a sister, Mrs. Sidney Wilson; and a step-daughter and two step-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, Mrs. Grace Austin McCoy, in 1937.

Survey Results Awaited

River Raisin Watershed Project chairman Harold Easton announced Tuesday that at least another three months will pass before a work plan will be presented to the public.

Federal and state preliminary survey party will compile information they have been collecting and come up with a work plan which will be presented at public hearing for local approval before submitting it to the Federal government.

"Just change the lady to man and run my classified ad again this week," said a pleasant voice on the other end of the telephone line. No, we didn't err. She wanted some lady's clubs and ran an ad last week. The response was so great and she was so pleased, she thought she'd try again this week for her husband.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Proctor's Shoe Store and a Chris Taylor Barber Shop. In last week's day-dreaming Long & Short column, a mythical stroll up the main drag as it was in 1957, the pair were missed.

Newcomers from Connecticut with Gray Faraday, Walt Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sieverts had a great time telling how "fork" is pronounced in the East — here, "fork" there, "falk".

Big joke with firefighters last week was when The Herald photographer asked how the barn fire started. One of them replied, pointing to raccoon in nearby tree, "The 'coon started it — he was smoking in the barn."

Tecumseh friends of Jim and Gerry Murray were pleased to hear mention of his brilliant humor over the Arthur Godfrey program Monday. Gary Morton and Lucille Ball were on the show and Morton was reminded of a joke by this sportscaster Murray, who has a column in The Los Angeles Times. His wife is the former Gerry Brown, sister of Rod Brown and Mrs. R. C. Osburn of this city.

Say, those parking meters are pretty sneaky. Harold Williams pointed out one of the penny pinchers in front of The Herald office. It read "60 minutes for one nickel." Then added, "For Your Convenience — 60 minutes for one dime." How 'bout that?

Giant Parade Opens 3-Day Safety Check

State dignitaries will cut the ribbon to open Tecumseh's Safety Check Lane May 21, following a giant parade to start at 7 p.m.

The Rotary Club has planned a new and enlarged program for the three-day Safety Check, which will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 21, 22 and 23.

The lane will be located in the first block of Pearl St., south of Chicago Blvd., where cars and trucks will be safety checked Thursday night and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. the following two days.

An enlarged budget by the Rotary finance committee will make possible more generous prizes.

A Safety Queen, selected from candidates nominated by the four auto agencies in Tecumseh, will be judged by dignitaries in the parade stand, then crowned following the march.

King Safety will be selected from letters of nomination from friends and relatives. In 50 words or less the letter will tell why the nominee is "the safest male driver." Letters should be sent to The Herald.

The king will receive a generous prize.

James McDowell has said that the schools will support the program. Art classes will paint posters on safety for display in merchants' windows.

Students will compete for prizes with safety scenes and messages painted on downtown windows.

Winners of essays by grade school students will also be given awards.

The topic of the essays will be "What Should be done about our appalling accident rate?"

You Told Us

"Yes, we're going and we can provide transportation for three," said Mrs. Archie Dunsmore Wednesday when queried about the Senior Citizen get-together Friday at the Community Center.

"We have heard such nice things about the Clinton one and West Dearborn where we came from when my husband retired. We thought it unusual that Tecumseh didn't have something." She continued, "They call the one there, the Pleasant Hours group."

Several others have offered transportation and there are those who would appreciate a ride, too.

Among those planning to attend are Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, Mrs. Blanche Halberstadt, Mrs. Burt Warren, Louise Bauman, Mrs. George Green, Don J. Hunt, Mrs. John Wintersteen, new residents Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Buschlen, Oscar Meads, Mrs. Sam Clough, Mrs. Ilah Mead, Mrs. Pearl Pocklington needs transportation, Mrs. Bryce Miller and Mrs. Joseph Sheward.

Several from out-of-town are planning to be there too. G. S. Richards of Azalia, Harry Crowe of Onsted, Worthy Sell and Sam Lewis of Adrian are coming.

Probably many more.

Some people who are interested had previous engagements like those who are members of the DAR chapter. Abi-Evans members have met the second Friday in the month for 27 years.

It would appear some changes will have to be made and that is exactly what Don Moffatt would like to do Friday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Come one, come all. Let's get this much-needed program off the ground.

Mrs. Dan Birdsall of Albion, Mabel Lockwood and Mrs. Perry Hayden returned last week from a two-week trip East.

They toured New York City, the World's Fair and Philadelphia, Pa. They also visited Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson at West Orange, N. J.

Mrs. Don Blesing attended a bridal shower recently for her granddaughter, Beverly Ann Walter, at the home of her cousin, Joyce Fasoli, in Detroit. Miss Walter's marriage will be an event of May 9. Mr. Blesing accompanied his wife to the city.

Among those returning from Florida this week were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood from Fort Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe from Sebring, and Mrs. Lester Munger returning with Mrs. Herbert Munger from St. Petersburg. They stopped en route at Topton, N. C., to visit the former's uncle.

Dewey Sturtevant, Howard Wilson, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, Roberta and Corky Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Montgomery and daughter Jil of Blissfield were in Detroit Sunday.

They attended the Fort Street Presbyterian Church where the men representing Adrian Commandery, joined with the Detroit Commandery Knights Templar in observance of Ascension Sunday.

There were about 275 Knights in full dress uniform. A horse and buggy delivered two of the older members of the Detroit Commandery to the church. They were honored for many years of service to their church and Commandery.

SMORGASBORD

What nicer way can the family honor Mother than to sweep her off her feet and out of the house and bring her to Roumell's for a delightful smorgasbord dinner. Most of the other holidays, Mother slaves in the kitchen all day, preparing for the feast, then cleaning up the scraps afterward. Give her a day off on Mother's Day — dress up and come to Roumell's. We welcome children and they love the quick service and fun of smorgasbord. With a little help from Mom and Dad, the youngsters can choose a delightful nourishing meal in a short time. We expect a large crowd, so please call Clinton 456-4659 for reservations.

JOSEPH LAYTON

A Leader Is Lost

All men are mortal, the saying goes. But when death comes, it always seems harsh and sudden.

In the case of Joe Layton's passing, this truly was unexpected and a crushing blow to his family and to Tecumseh Products, where he had been president for the past 10 years.

Joe Layton was to have been the successor to Ray Herrick, the man who was the driving force behind the rise of this great industry.

Mr. Layton was intense in his efforts, a keen judge of the industrial world. His talents and capabilities helped Tecumseh Products continue to grow and prosper as it had under the guiding hand of Mr. Herrick.

A Point Well Taken

Reprinted from The Blissfield Advance

Twenty years from now, when the furor has all blown over, people of Lenawee and Monroe counties will have occasion to thank Cecil Schmitz and George Waigle for having the backbone to stand up for what's right.

That residents along the lower reaches of the River Raisin are entitled to pure water, uncontaminated by those using it first, is a fundamental concept.

But that two Blissfield canners would stand pat on this surprised some people. The men were even called obstructionists. This was one of the milder terms. Seekers of privileges are not always temperate in what they say and do.

As a people, we have become so accustomed to waiving our rights in this or that, we astonish ourselves when we exercise our right to say 'No.' We are so permissive about so many things affecting our daily lives.

In fairness to the industry leaders whose firm asked to use the stream for disposal of its industrial wastes, and thereby precipitated all the hullabaloo, it should be stated that he recognized the ethic of the Blissfield position and found a suitable alternative that avoided the main point of conflict.

The issue in this instance has been safely resolved with no more damage than ruffled feelings. But it is not a dead issue. It will come up again for some other seeker of privilege.

The only rights we have are God-given. We have no right to despoil our inheritance, whether it is in Nature's bounty or our own capabilities. It takes real courage to stand up for what is right when it is not always the most popular thing to do. We do not always see the truth of this except in retrospect.

DEDICATED TO MRS. TONNEBERGER — A young tree was planted at Tipton School in celebration of Arbor Day. Members of the third grade conducted a short program. Margaret Keeney read Joyce Kilmer's famous poem, "Trees". John Gebarowski read a letter addressed to Mrs. Albert Tonneberger, principal of the school, which dedicated the tree to her for her kindness and interest in helping boys and girls. It was signed by all the third graders, then placed in a bottle and buried under the tree roots. The tree was planted north of the building, outside the third grade room, so the children can watch it grow.

Letter Used for Theme

Mrs. Clyde Smith presented a devotional period on "Stewardship" using a letter written by Susie Janousek at the meeting of the Mabel Lawrence Circle May 4.

Fourteen-year-old Susie is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Janousek, and her sister, Debbie, in Monrovia, Liberia, Africa.

In her letter, typed by her missionary mother, Susie mentions missing being in school with other children since she has to use the services of a tutor.

She tells about their pet chimpanze, saying, "I could almost write a book about her."

She told about her mother helping to deliver the cook's wife of a new baby and how she and Debbie helped to care for it until they were sorry to see her go home.

She wrote "little children here are beautiful with such shiny big brown eyes."

"I hope some day to be a nurse and Debbie wants to be a teacher and go to the mission fields, even though mother warns us that it will be hard."

Susie concludes her letter with a brief poem especially for the "young people but the older folk can read it too."

Only one life, 'twill soon be past,
Only what's done for Christ will last.

"And," she says, "we are never too young to know this."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Bonner with 19 present.

Members voted to donate a money gift to the Jesse Lee home for children in Alaska which was badly damaged in the recent earthquake.

The time of meetings for the coming year was changed from the first Monday to the second Monday of each month.

Activities for the year and goals to be attained were discussed.

The hostess served luncheon assisted by Marvel Steinhoff.

A potluck supper will be served at the church for the next meeting June 3.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

It seems the majority of folks around Tipton are depending more and more on The Herald for local news.

Since our children are all in the Tecumseh school system the paper is gaining in popularity here.

I would like very much to have a page devoted to Tipton Community.

We may be a small town but we certainly have the activities here.

If anyone doubts it, let them find a night that isn't already taken with a long-planned social affair.

All we need is to become conscious of reporting our activities to our Tipton editor.

I am sure we would all appreciate the consideration from The Tecumseh Herald.

Thelma Swarts,
Postmaster.

TO THE EDITORS:

We wish to advise that we all enjoy reading your fine paper, and the Tipton items are very interesting.

We look forward to receiving your paper each week, as it gives us much more local news than any other paper we receive.

Due to two of our members being away, I was asked to write and submit this letter to you, as it expresses the feeling of us all.

With best wishes for a bigger and better paper and your continued success.

TO THE EDITORS:

Tipton is one of the busiest little villages on earth. It is good to see its activities fully covered.

Three Cheers for Those Tipton Items

By A. READER

Its Thursday morning
I could hardly wait,
Then My Tecumseh paper
Had to be late.

I want to know
Now who is right,
And which neighbor
Had a big fight?

If Cal and Effie
Had a spat,
What kind of flowers
She had on her hat?

Do you think Betsey
Is going to loose,
And why oh why
Those high heel shoes?

What's the price of butter
Yes also eggs,
How come Hilda
Has bow legs?

Just look in your paper
And then you'll agree,
The answers are printed
On page twenty three.

Those Tipton items
They are no mishap,
For they keep Tipton
Square on the map.

He Solved the Problem

Earl Roe, local barber, apparently has solved a breaking and entering problem on his property northwest of Tecumseh on Taylor Rd.

About two weeks ago, several juveniles were surprised there by the Tecumseh barber who pelted one of the youths in the legs with a .410 shotgun.

During the past two years, Mr. Roe estimates losses amounting to $200 from theft of gas, oil and tools.

A watch dog also has been killed there, and another dog, obtained from the humane society, has been stoned

Squad Takes First Place at Albion Class B Relays

The Indians won six events with Derby placing first in three of them.

The redheaded junior took both hurdle events, winning the 120 highs in 15.3 for a new school mark. His time in the 180 lows was 20.7. He picked up a third first with a 5'6" leap in the high jump.

Bill Thomas took first and John Lindstrom second in the shot put. Thomas' winning put was 47'5". Lindstrom's 45'11¾".

Mike Sharpe captured the mile run in 4:53.2, about three seconds slower than his best time.

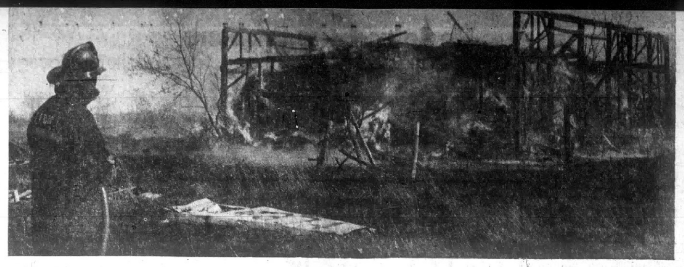
Lemerand also finished second in the 880 run with a mark of 2:05.3.

The Indians' winning total was 42. East Jackson was second with 34.



NOT A CHANCE — Firefighter stands by while barn on property of Mrs. James Bishop burns to ground April 29. The barn stood behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Higgins, east of Meyers Aircraft on Tecumseh-Macon Rd. Babysitter Olive Bates said the children were playing outside when one of them rushed in yelling that the barn was on fire. The building, full of baled hay, seemed to blow up because of the intensity of the blaze. By the time the fire department arrived, the barn couldn't be saved, but the men remained at the scene to protect nearby buildings.

Merchants May Soon Have Free Off-Street Parking

Tecumseh merchants may soon have some free off-street parking.

Pat Meadows, bank president, gave city officials a third parking meter bond, worth $1,000, at Monday night's Council meeting.

After presenting the bond, he asked Council to consider removing some of the meters in the four lots.

City Manager Cal Zorn suggested removing five meters from each lot, but met with opposition from Mr. Meadows, who added such a small number would ruin the merchants' plans to retire more bonds and eventually have free parking in all lots.

It was hoped that about a fourth of the off-street meters would be removed in a test maneuver to determine if the city would lose an appreciable amount of revenue.

Councilmen implied that such a plan was feasible but asked to wait till the May 18 meeting for a decision.

227 Scouts Camp Out

Twenty-six Cadette troops totaling 227 girls from Lenawee, Jackson and Hillsdale Counties of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council, spent last weekend at Camp O' the Hills.

Program Chairman Mrs. Robert Kempf from Jackson, assisted girls with planning a fun-packed weekend, with a Wide Game all day Saturday.

Lashing contests, string burning contests, water boiling contests, relay races, egg-rolling contest and skits by each troop around a giant campfire were included.

Food Chairman Mrs. Don Stine from Jackson, with girl-planning committees, served up French toast on Buddy burners early Saturday morning. All units cooked their meals out of doors with the exception of the noon meal Saturday, served at Hill House, cafeteria style.

☆

THE HOUSING committee with Mrs. Bob Corwin from Ackerson Lake as chairman, housed the girls in Hill House, Kiwanis Lodge, Cheekee Hollow, Shadow Valley, Gypsy, Craft and Staff Cabins, Paddle Inn and a large primitive unit on Juniper Knoll, sleeping in tents.

The lashing contest was won by the Shadow Valley unit with a traveling trophy to be placed in the office at Jackson.

From Tecumseh Troop 70, 178 and 93 attended with Mrs. Jack Curtiss and Mrs. Hubert Lavender the adult leaders.

Mrs. Alan Whiteman from Clinton was business manager and Mrs. Donald C. Creger from Tecumseh was general chairman.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:

What is the accepted length for draperies?

Mrs. DG

DEAR MRS. DG:

There are three conventional lengths for draperies.

The casement drapery will come either to the top of the sill or below the window sill casing.

To obtain a more dressed-up or formal look, draperies should come within a half-inch of the carpeting.

"Home of Kustom Kraft Draperies" signifies just what we want it to, because our draperies are made by experts here in our home town.

We have over 4,000 patterns and colors in our shop available to you within 24 hours. We also have fabric on hand.

Win Nine of Twelve, Still Lose

Winning nine of 12 events failed to bring the Tecumseh thinclads to a victory in a triangular meet here Monday against Jackson St. John and Boysville.

St. John edged the Indians 66½ to 59. Boysville collected 7½ points.

The winners capitalized on 10 big points in the shot put to grab the victory. Tecumseh's top putter, Bill Thomas, was unable to compete because of a sprained ankle, and John Lindstrom is with the seniors on their trip to New York and Washington, D. C.

Both Thomas and Lindstrom have better marks in the shot than the winning 45'2½" toss.

Steve Derby broke the school's high jump mark in the meet with 5'8". He also won the high and low hurdles and anchored Tecumseh's winning 880 relay team.

Firsts for the Indians were:
Broad Jump — Lucas.
High Jump — Derby.
880 relay — Collins, Hannibal, Greene, Derby.
Mile — Sharpe.
120 highs — Derby.
880 run — Greene.
100 — Collins.
180 lows — Derby.
220 — Collins.

In a tight race in the mile relay, the Indians were disqualified for bumping.

The squad lacked several members — Dave Lemerand, Jim Brown, Lindstrom, Jay Osborn — who are on the senior trip.

Order Sweat Shirts

The Franklin 4-H Club met Monday night with 20 members present at the home of Gary Fairbanks.

The county 4-H Project Mothers have been asked to serve meals May 1 and 2 at the project building for the men attending a race horse show. Pies were collcited from the Franklin group.

Sweat shirts printed with the club name were ordered by members. Members were asked to make suggestions at the next meeting for places to visit on the summer educational tour. Summer projects were selected.

Mrs. Claude Creger, club leader, thanked the members and their mothers for their kindness during the recent illness of her son, Ronald.

Because the club is a year-round project club, with membership enrollment in October members voted to accept new people in October only, so that they might have a full year's experience before Lenawee County fair participation.

Carol Davenport gave a demonstration on "Grooming a Dairy Heifer". James Creger will be host for the May 25 meeting when a demonstration will be given on preparing soil for planting corn.

Three Men Re-appointed to Commission

Richard Eggleston, Joe Rice and John Ziegler were re-appointed to the Planning Commission by Council Monday night.

Councilman Gene Tuckey objected to Mr. Zeigler's appointment and cast the sole vote against his returning to the Commission.

He said there was a conflict of interest, since Mr. Zeigler is an attorney assisting the Tecumseh Township board, and that he is argumentative at the Commission meetings.

The Tecumseh lawyer has served several years on the Commission and is a past chairman.

Golfers Have Fun

Wednesday night golf league once again; for the second week in a row, battled not only each other, but Mother Nature in the form of rain.

Scores were predominately high which was an indication of either soft living and rich food during the winter, calloused hands from Spring raking, or an adversity to moisture.

However, when it came to clubhouse complaining after the match, everyone was in mid-season form.

Several members attempted to get their handicaps raised because the rain fogged their glasses but the president vetoed this, considering it an advantage for many of them.

The league standings are:

Jack Ruffner and Mike Buku	25½
Lee Marsh and Larry Yoakum	25
Bob French and Vern Manwaring	25
Bill Johnson and Dale Garrison	23½
Allen Mawery and Don Nestor	22
Gabe French, Jr. and Gabe French, Sr.	21½
Floyd Busz and Doug Turnbull	21
Doug Hall and Chuck Allen	21
Lee Phibbs and Charles Studnicki	20½
Lamont Hunt and Tike Mattis	20½
Dick Meyers and Jerry Creger	20½
Bob Rang and Dick Pierce	20
Bob Wojtowicz and Walt Johnston	19
Bill Brown and Fay Crane	18
Bob Beevers and Doc Morden	18
Bill Walker and Eldon Walker	16½
Mickey O'Neill and Karl Roberts	16
Pat Hollar and Jerry Manchester	16
Hal Weakly and Gene Mackey	15½
Charles Parker and George Lancaster	14

Behind Page One

(Quite A Ways Behind!)

Jean Hall of Kustom Kraft Draperies is having a great time answering decorating questions in her column. Although she still has several for the future, she would like to have readers call or write her with more questions.

Several out-of-towners are requesting The Herald to be sent each week to check the real estate listings.

Safe Driver of the Week is Mrs. Richard Halsey, 23, of 382 N. Union St. Courtesy Plus is her motto — she stopped to let three jaywalkers across the street, also boy on bicycle, and let passenger out of her car only after she had pulled into parking spot.

Dowling-Snyder Nuptials Are Spoken at St.Joseph's

Mary Alice Dowling became the bride of Gary Allan Snyder in nuptials Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

The bride is employed as a dental assistant for Drs. Robert Murray and Laidlaw.

Her mother is Mrs. Coleen Dowling of Adrian and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Claude Snyder of Adrian and the late Mr. Snyder.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Dennis Arnold Dowling, wearing a floor-length gown of organza fashioned with fitted bodice, long tapering sleeves and skirt featuring Chantilly applique trim and scissors pleats with colonial drape at the sides.

Her two-tiered bridal veil of illusion was secured to a crown of pearls and she wore a cultured pearl in a wishbone setting with matching earrings, gift of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to Upper Michigan and Wisconsin, the couple will make their home at 3307 N. Adrian Rd.

Mr. Snyder is a salesman for Midwest Tire Distributors, Inc., Adrian.

Young Drivers Continue with High Accident Rate

Charles W. Frost, Jr., 19, Munger Rd., was charged with failure to have his car under control when he rammed the rear of an auto driven by Fayette Hall, 18, Britton.

A minor accident involving Randy Fergus, 17, of 138 E. Chicago, and Dorothy Conklin, 42, of 1207 Murray Dr., was settled without any citation.

Mae and the Mustang

CLINTON — There were some excited people in town last week and heading the list was Mae Brady, 212 Litchfield St.

Miss Brady was one of a dozen folks, among 125 guests invited to a special Ford Motor Co. dinner held at the George Underwood agency, who were handed keys to new Fords and told to drive them for a week.

Mae's loaner was the most special of all — a 1965 Mustang convertible, red exterior with black leather interior.

It had the full treatment, power steering and brakes, V-8 automatic engine.

When she found she was going to be given the Mustang, Mae leaped high into the air and shouted, "It's me, it's me".

☆

The Underwood agency was selected recently with special invitations going to people who live in the franchised territory.

Allen Wise, 6471 Clinton-Macon Rd.

Allen Brooks, 315 W. Franklin St.

Harold J. Calhoun, 3450 Clinton Macon Rd.

If they'd like to purchase the autos, they may do so at approximate dealer cost.

☆

ON HAND to give out the cars was Paul Czamanske, Jr., Lansing District sales manager, whose responsibilities cover all of Michigan except metropolitan Detroit.

During the meal, two of his associates, Don Casterline and Ron Boeve, presented small boxes to guests. On each was a seal stating, "Don't open until the magic moment."

The contents of the boxes contained the secret of the night — those with models of Ford Galaxie convertibles were the ones to be loaned the cars.

Then, Mr. Czamanske added, the person with a model colored blue would be in for a special treat — he or she would have the use of the Mustang for a week.

With this, Miss Brady was on her feet yelping, "It's me."

Mae reported that the same evening her telephone began to ring as people commented on her good fortune and asked for rides. Mae said she was so excited that night she couldn't sleep. When morning arrived, the phone started to ring once more.

For the dinner, Mr. Underwood had his spacious service area — more than 6,400 square feet — cleaned spic and span.

Dinner organ music was provided by Alfred Middlebrook.

Hidden Lake Adds Many New Species

(Editor's note — Traditionally, Hidden Lake Gardens bursts into its first brilliance of the season over the Mother's Day weekend. This year will be no exception, predicts Dr. Fred W. Freeman, director of Michigan State University's amazing horticulture center west of Tipton on M-50. Dr. Freeman prepared this special article for The Herald on recent additions to Hidden Lake.)

By DR. FRED W. FREEMAN

Spring has once again settled on Hidden Lake Gardens.

One can see a wide spectrum of greens on the emerging leaves of the various trees, from the pale shades of the aspens and larches to the dark hues of the spruces and pines.

While fall foliage is more spectacular, the subdued spring shades are restful and hold promise of the summer ahead. Nature's own spring beauties, bloodroot and dog tooth violets are in full bloom.

Man's addition of primroses, Narcissi and tulips are also beginning to add their color.

☆

NEW, RARE TREES and shrubs are added to the various arboretum collections each year. Approximately 300 new species and varieties, encompassing many families, are being planted at the present time.

Their size, form, texture, coloration and other traits, which mark them as individuals, are as diverse as their areas of origin. Magnolias and shadbush are now covered with blossoms, indicating that the flowering crabs are just a few days away.

Ten new magnolias, added only this spring, are already helping to brighten up the entrance.

The flowering crabapple collection now numbers nearly 100 different varieties, from weepers to pyramidal types. Other collections gaining notable size are the willows, mountain ash, birch, flowering cherry, maple, beech, linden and ornamental evergreens.

SEEDS OF WILD FLOWERS collected during last summer's trek through England have been germinated and will be given an opportunity to adapt themselves to the more rigorous conditions of this area.

Thirty-six new species of primrose will also soon be added to the Polyantha hybrids now growing along the east lake bank.

These new species come from Vermont, Oregon and points between.

English sources and possibly others in India will soon supply additional species of this large family.

For those who enjoy house plants, the greenhouse collections have been enlarged and placed in categories pointing up their best locations in the home.

☆

THE HANGING baskets contain some fine specimens and the ivy, zonal and species geraniums are now at their peak. Lavender Bougainvillea and a banana plant — with a large bunch of bananas developing on one side — add a touch of the Tropics.

Birdwatchers should also find their endeavors most rewarding. Although insecticides and soil additives are used extensively in our work — contrary to "Silent Spring" — for us the birds sing.

Honeymoon Trip to Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Van Frayer are presently honeymooning at Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Va., visiting her brother, Jack Bryan and his wife. Jack is based there with the navy.

Janice Bryan became the bride of Van Frayer Friday evening at the First Methodist Church, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Bryan of Dinius Rd., and Mrs. Jennings Frayer of Britton and the late Mr. Frayer.

The ceremony was performed before a background of palms, and basket arrangements of gladioli, snapdragons, and carnations. White bows marked the family pews.

Howard Powell, uncle of the bride, accompanied by Mrs. James Hood, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because". While the bride and groom knelt at the altar, he sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and approached the altar on the arm of her father.

She wore a gown of taffeta brocade, styled with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves forming points over her hands.

The floor-length gathered skirt was formed into points at the front and back of the bodice.

She wore a crown of matching taffeta with sequins which held the shoulder length veil of French illusion. Her only jewelry was a blue star sapphire pendant, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Douglas Willitts, sister of the bride, was the matron-of-honor in a street-length dress of copen blue taffeta. Her head piece was of matching taffeta and tulle.

Cynthia Frayer, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jack Holderman were bridesmaids.

D. J. Frayer, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ushers were Lee Rhoades, a student at Alma College, and Don Ries of Britton.

About 200 guests attended the reception which was held at the church. The five-tiered cake centered the table with lighted candelabras arranged with white and yellow carnations.

☆

ASSISTING WITH the reception were Mrs. Lyle Powell, Mrs. Howard Powell, Mrs. Floyd Dickens, Mrs. William Swanston, Mrs. George Dinius, Mrs. Fred Brighton, and Mrs. Harold Milosh. Mrs. Howard Selland registered the guests as they entered the church.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Tecumseh High School and Jackson Business University in 1963 and is now employed with the Harris-McBurney Company in Jackson.

The bridegroom is a 1960 graduate of Britton-Macon High School and also graduated from Jackson Junior College in 1963.

He is employed at Gray Faraday.

Scouts Collect 562 Bags

"We are very happy with Tecumseh to say the least," remarked Duane Morey when interviewed Wednesday about the "Good Turn for Goodwill" drive conducted in Lenawee County.

Tecumseh Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers collected 562 bundles out of a 3,600 total reported Saturday throughout the county.

Household items and clothing donated by area residents will be used in employing handicapped persons by Goodwill.

The 3,600 sacks represents about three months work for 43 people. It also means that 45% of the bags distributed have already been collected thanks to efforts of the Scouts and their leaders.

☆

MR. MOREY said that he and Walter McCullen, both directors of personnel, training and evaluation, at Goodwill expect many more bags in the coming months.

Anyone who did not have a pick-up for the Scouts, may call the local Goodwill representative, Sandra Burkhead, 423-7216.

Scouters assisting boys in the drive this year were Richard Witt, Donald Brees, Dr. Robert Laidlaw, Thomas Kampmueller and Wendel Disbrow.

Mr. Morey said that a similar operation was tried about two years ago. This year, through the fine cooperation of the Scouts and the community, the drive was almost a 100% success.

They hope to continue the campaign on an annual basis.

LOCAL BUSINESS

During recent years a mass of information has been accumulated on the effect of newspaper advertising.

Among the more significant findings has been the revelation that a good newspaper advertisement will be needed regardless of the position of the ad in the newspaper, or the position of the ad on a particular page.

This comes as a surprise to retailers who ask for a special in the newspaper. The attitude is understandable because it is well known that time has a great deal to do with effectiveness when electronic media is used because of the great variation in type of audience as programs change.

Not so with newspapers.

Research has shown that position has little or nothing to do with readership of newspaper advertising. The content of the advertisement itself determines readership.

If an ad offers a real value to the reader, he will see it. He scans the entire publication for the specific purpose of finding material which serves his self-interest. If he is a potential consumer of a product, he is almost certain to see and study an ad related to the product.

Ironically, research has shown if a preferred position really exists in a newspaper advertising the position is next to the retailer's competitor.

Since the newspaper reader is a shopper he may prefer to have competetive advertising clustered together. Realizing this, many large grocers or department stores insist on having their ads placed near to competitive advertising.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

AREN'T THE DAYS BUSY

The marvelously frustrating thing about this time of year is that so much is happening and it is happening so quickly — who can keep up?

Everything is growing — a veritable explosion of green. The weather — well, who knows what that will be. Birds are returning until it is hard to keep track of who is who. Every day is charged with the excitement of expectation.

Already our bird calendar is quite full, the early returnees are flocking in, anxious to end their winter vacation in the south and be about their spring business.

Several drizzly Sundays ago, Mom and Dad were in the back yard, discussing the planting of some most welcome new daylily bulbs, when I noticed them suddenly turn their attention to the creek.

Rattle, rattle, rattle — kingfishers. Two of them flew by. How thrilling. There is something about that loud raucous noise of the kingfisher which never fails to excite.

☆

I HAVE NOT seen the pair of them since that first sighting, but the male is an almost daily visitor. He fishes from the top of Doctor's bridge.

It is apparently a good spot for him and for us, he could not pick better. We have an excellent view and by using the binoculars — wow.

He is a big bird with a large, over-sized head and bill — blue and white are his dominant colors, back and wings a bright, blue-jay blue and his snowy white breast crossed by only one dark band.

His girl friend, if we have a chance to see her again, will be easily recognized because she has two bands, the lower one being reddish in color.

By the way, this is the time of year when good field glasses are worth their weight in gold. One year we used our Christmas money to buy a pair and how much we have enjoyed and used them.

Ida and I spent one morning trying to follow a dark newcomer who seemingly took great pleasure in flying to a new limb just as we were getting him in focus.

Actually, of course, instead of teasing, he was really following the tricks of his trade and darting after insects. The wig-wagging of his tail finally gave him away — a Phoebe!

☆

THIS IS also the time of year when all of the birds are pairing up. Two pairs of beautiful cardinals keep flashing through our window pictures.

The males are busily wooing their lovely ladies with tasty sunflower seeds and our feeding stations are busier right now than they were all winter. Two blue jays, two tufted titmice and two nuthatches are also using the feeders regularly.

Mourning doves are billing and cooing. Every branch, fence rail and utility wire has a pair sitting side by each. 'Tis spring!

Another twosome who caused great excitement was a pair of yellow-bellied sapsuckers. We had not seen any forever so long — welcome back.

Black and white woodpecker type birds, they are, size-wise, in between the little downy and big hairy. Rough, ill-kept looking birds, they are nevertheless fun to have.

☆

THE LITTLE warbler sized birds are beginning to arrive. As usual, they bring trouble and confusion when we try to identify them. Not a bit difficult to name, though, are the slim and sleek cat-birds.

Slate gray in color, I wonder if they ever have a feather out of place. For the first time in years, the peppy little white throated sparrows are not worrisome either.

They are coming close enough to let us see their chalky white bibs and bright little dots of yellow between their eyes and bills.

So it is that finally spring decided to make her long-awaited appearance and my, but aren't the days busy.

SHARP CHOPPER KNIVES and a square shear bar as shown on the left are important for making direct cut silage or green chopping. The dull knives and shear bar as illustrated in the righthand drawing beat rather than cut the stalks, resulting in long, frazzled pieces that are hard to pack. Like a rusty lawnmower, dull knives and shear bar take much more power, gas, and there is excessive wear on bearings, pto, and gears. Regrowth is also slower when stalk ends are shredded.

KEEP BUTTERFAT TEST AT A HIGH LEVEL when cows are on spring pasture. Early season pastures are low in fiber which tends to lower the butterfat test. Also, finely chopped hay will reduce fat content. If your tests start running low, increase amount of silage or long hay for awhile.

FEEDING GESTATING SOWS with the high-low-high system has worked well. A ration containing a high energy level fed 14 to 21 days before breeding increases ovulation rate. Then a low-level feeding for the first two-thirds or 75 days during gestation reduces embryonic mortality. Finally, during the last third of gestation resume a high level ration to help assure strong pigs at birth. Flushing helps gilts more than sows.

GRAIN FEEDING CATTLE ON PASTURE this summer will help avoid low profits or losses on cattle. Gains are faster than for pasture alone and cheaper than grain alone. You can feed more cattle per acre, and cattle not finished can be moved quickly through a feedlot.

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.

Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.

Why?

Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.

You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice. You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains. And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.

Stop skimping on nitrogen. Feed your crop what it takes for maximum yields. Dow Anhydrous Ammonia. The price is right. See us today.

THIS BARREN SIGHT AROUND NEW NURSING HOME HELPED TO PROMPT HOSPITAL AUXILIARY LANDSCAPING PROJECT

Landscape Project To Cost $11,154

Cheerful flowering trees and interesting bird feeders in back of the Herrick Nursing Home will give patients a beautiful view of the world while recuperating.

The landscaping plan provided by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will also provide paved walks and benches for the enjoyment of the patients.

The barren, colorless view of the area around the new Nursing Home is what inspired the Auxiliary members to take on the project of the landscaping.

This area includes all of the hospital property south and east of existing buildings. Doing the whole area will save considerable money over doing it in small sections.

Total cost of the area will be $11,154.92.

This includes:

► $3,600 for installation of a well, pump and sprinkling system by Clauda Plumbing Co.

► $7,500 for landscaping materials, labor and grading by Spielman's Landscape and Nursery.

► $2,991.20 for construction of walks, steps and benches by Abbott Construction Co.

Spielman's will be general contractor for the project under architect Jim Smith's supervision.

"BIDS MADE by contractors were sacrificially low," explains Mrs. Carlton Cook, "Since payment comes from the gifts and the labors of so many people in the community.

"The Committee and the board are grateful to them as well as to those who have made the front landscaping of the best quality for the least amount of money," she adds.

The Hospital Auxiliary has $3,000 above its annual expenses for Nursing Scholarships, Hospital decorations and puppet materials for juvenile hospital patients.

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping Fund has $878.88 for plantings in the area.

The Auxiliary has high hopes that civic groups as well as individuals will respond with memorials or gifts which will grow in value and beauty with the years.

If there is not enough money available to pay for the project this year the Auxiliary will have to borrow it.

☆

WITH THE success of the new Nursing Home, which has 23 patients, many people throughout the state will be interested in what is being done in Tecumseh.

The combination of Hospital and Nursing Home is a new frend to help a great need of our day. Three-quarters of the patients now will benefit daily from this development and all rooms in future development plans.

The Auxiliary feels the best way members and other individuals can show their appreciation of the hospital and promote beautification of our city is by giving now.

Any donation from $1 up can be specifically put towards any favored planting in the plan by depositing it in the Landscape Memorial Fund at the United Savings Bank or dropping envelopes available at the hospital or any funeral home in Tecumseh, Clinton or Britton.

☆

THE USE of the donation should be specified on the deposit if there is a preference.

Plantings being used are red, silver and sugar maples, Austrian pine and white pine, sunburst locust, mountain ash, crabapple, star magnolia, peach and dogwood trees and spreading taxtus shrubs, myrtle and stone ground cover.

Donations may also be applied to construction of benches and bird feeders. If there are any questions please call any of the committee members, Mrs. Carlos Knisely, Mrs. R. G. Marsh, Mrs. Harold Easton, Mrs. Neville Hart, Mrs. Howard Furry, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert and Mrs. Carlton Cook.

The front of the Nursing Home is now in the completion stage. Landscaping is being done by Tecumseh Greenhouses and construction by James Fielder.

Weather permitting, the Indians face Grosse Ile Tuesday and Adrian Wednesday on the local diamond at 4 p.m.

On Friday, the THS nine goes to Airport.

So far, the Indians won two and lost four.

COACH HALE comments:

► Leading hitters have been Jim Lawson, who had seven blows in a row over two games, Don Baird and Henry Mensing. Henry, a freshman catcher, came through with three-for-four in the second Ypsi clash when he replaced injured Don Baird, who split his finger in the first inning.

Mrs. Vern Brown of Port Huron is spending some time here with her daughter, Mrs. James E. Danforth, who severed the tendon in the third finger of her right hand recently. The injury occured while she was spotscrubbing her living room carpeting. After five weeks in a splint, Ann Arbor physicians will determine whether surgery is necessary.

Stop to Visit with Daughter

Parents of Mrs. Gerald Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hatt of Marion, Mich., stopped here Saturday en route to Toledo where they had been called by the death of Mrs. Allen's uncle, George Willis. Mrs. Allen and her son, Robert Eichenberg, will attend the funeral Tuesday in Toledo.

TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

VOLUME 113 — ONE HUNDRED FOURTEENTH YEAR — NO. 32 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1964 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

If you say something often enough, pretty soon people will begin to believe it.

With this breathless philosophy, our neighbors to the southwest are going to prove that their town is really the industrial center of the universe.

To make certain everybody gets the right idea, they've hired a public relations chap in Detroit to "tell the whole world."

For his talents there is a comfortable price tag.

So, the cannons roar and the drums of publicity throb.

It's fascinating to watch the developments. Most readers have probably already seen a few comments on the pages of their daily newspapers over the past weeks which makes them wonder.

But the darn thing is beginning to slip out of hand and before it's over with, maybe there'll be a few red-faces around the county seat.

Come on along and let's disect this week's publicity release from Detroit.

It starts heady enough, "A major milestone in Adrian's all-out drive for industrial expansion will be celebrated on Thursday, May 21," going on to talk about the ground-breaking for Stauffer Chemical, followed with a banquet.

I want to be sure to add at this point that over here, we have always felt the boys in Adrian did a tremendous job in landing Stauffer Chemical.

They operated like pros and the results prove it.

But, that doesn't seem to be enough, so the public relations release goes on to point out that "the banquet will salute the four new industries that have moved into Adrian in the past six months."

This is where truth just melts into fiction.

Among the quartet mentioned, of all things, is Tecumseh's new Fisher Body Division layout.

Yep, the point is simple: Fisher Body didn't really select Tecumseh when GM Chairman of the Board Frederic G. Donner announced two new layouts for Michigan — one in Kalamazoo and one in Tecumseh.

No sir, Mr. Donner was mistaken.

Just because GM said it would build two miles south of town on Occidental Hwy., and be called the Tecumseh Fisher Body plant, that really isn't what he had in mind at all.

If you're in doubt, just read the news release.

You see, innocent readers, the case simply is that Fisher Body will be located in the Adrian Area — if you believe what is reported in the release.

All of which tells the present theme — really there is no Tecumseh or Lenawee County anymore, just a great big happy Adrian Area.

Artists To Hold Exhibit

An art exhibit will be staged as part of Michigan Week, May 18 to 24, by members of the Tecumseh Artists Key Club.

It will be held in the club's studio, located above Don's Beef Buffet, by appointment for guest groups.

Interested persons may call 423-2239 or 423-3382 to make arrangements.

On Friday, May 22, there will be open house at the studio for the general public.

Held annually, the art exhibit is the closing activity for the club year.

The Artist Key Club was organized to promote the appreciation of fine arts and to improve painting abilities of members. Russell Steinke, Tecumseh artist, is hired by the club to teach the members.

Dr. Knisely New Prexy of Chamber

They include:

President — Dr. Carlos Knisely, local veterinarian.

Vice-president — Clarence Beach, co-owner of Beach Bros. bulk plant.

A Chamber membership dinner, in conjunction with the ground-breaking for the new General Motors Fisher Body plant, was discussed. It will be staged sometime in June.

An expression of thanks was made to retiring board members, Louie Schneider, Karl Schneider and Harry Beland.

Others still active on the board are Jack Osborn, Jerry Roberts, Dwight Helms, and Paul Claudа.

New members are welcome to join with dues set at $25 per year. Interested parties can contact any officer or board member.

SO WENT THE MEET — Smooth-striding John Coburn of Cranbrook paced his squad as it captured the Tecumseh Jaycee Relays Class B Division Saturday for the second straight year. John's 4:28.8 time in the mile established a new Relay record and probably came as the result of a tremendous effort by Milan's Ed Head, who dogged John's steps every inch of the way. Willow Run was second in Class B and Tecumseh third. Twenty-three schools completed in the highly-successful affair, which took most of Saturday to complete. More than 300 young athletes showed their talents during morning preliminaries and afternoon finals. The meet was sponsored by local Jaycees and run by the Tecumseh High School athletic department with Don Brazee as meet manager. It annually is one of the area's finest spring affairs. Details on page 8.

Parade Opens Safety Check

Tecumseh's ninth annual "Safety Check", sponsored by the Rotary Club, will begin with a parade Thursday, May 21 at 7 p.m.

Since Thursday is also Michigan Week's Mayor Exchange Day, visiting Mayor Otto Gabier of Mesick will be on hand to view the parade and participate in the program afterward.

Representatives from the National Safety Check program and Michigan's Safety Commission will also be here for the festivities.

Notables will select the Safety Queen from one of four candidates nominated by automobile dealers, likewise Mr. Safety plus winners of the recent Jaycee King and Queen baby contest.

Speeches by state officers, singing by the local quartette "The Four Dads", Shawnee Squares demonstration and other acts are planned for the area of the reviewing stand immediately after the parade.

The parade will form on the first and second blocks of N. Maumee St. and adjacent streets starting at 6 to 6:30 p.m.

It will begin promptly at 7 p.m., proceed west on Chicago Blvd., to Union St., and return.

☆

FEATURING Tecumseh, Boysville and Britton bands, the parade will include a color guard, American Legion and VFW drill teams, Boy and Girl Scouts, new cars carrying queen candidates, decorated bicycles, scooters, stage coaches, surreys, horseback riders, fire and police department units, manufacturing and business cars and trucks — a total of over 100 units.

Also participating will be the Irish Hills and Adrian Antique Car Club, Frontier City vehicles, and the Britton state championship basketball team.

☆

CHIEF OF POLICE Murrel Clark, Rotary chairman of the parade committee, invites anyone with units that can be sat in, ridden in, on or pushed, may enter the parade, including decorated bikes, scooters, putt-putts, racers, golf carts, etc.

People may call him at police headquarters or Clarence Beach at his home or place of business for a position in the parade.

Mr. Beach is coordinator and marshal of the event.

$94,168 Bid Is Low for Sewer

Bids from nine construction firms for the Evans St. interceptor sewer project were opened Monday with the lowest bid running about $30,000 less than engineering estimates.

Selders Excavating was low bidder at $94,168.30 to install the sewer from N. Maumee St. to the lift station on W. Chicago at Sunset Dr.

His other bid of $47,036 to run the sewer to N. Maiden Lane was also low.

Council is expected to act on the bids at Monday night's meeting. The bids ranged upward to $147,904 to the lift station, and up to $106,184 to N. Maiden Lane.

After Council awards the contract, actual construction is expected to start this summer and last about two months.

The city has secured easements from all property owners except the schools and Robert D. Moore to N. Union St., but none from property owners west of Union St.

Music Club Presents Concert on Sunday

Tecumseh Music Club members will present their spring concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Nina Heath, Mrs. Perry Hayden and Mrs. Clarence Brock.

A demi-opera and several piano solos will also be presented.

The club stages a concert in the spring each year in observance of National Music Week, which in 1964 has a theme of "Make Music Your Key Note for Living."

Only Two Will Run on Ballot

Unless there is a write-in campaign, two seats on the Tecumseh School Board will go to Aden Mead, incumbent and president of the board, and Herbert Simpson.

Mr. Simpson, assistant manager at the local A & P store, is making his first appearance for a public position.

Deadline for filing was Saturday.

☆

THE ELECTION will be held in June and the ballot will also have two proposals:

► Change of the Tecumseh School District from Class Four to Class Three.

Members of the Tecumseh service clubs will place tags on out-of-state cars to notify them. Two lucky cars will be served free evening meals courtesy of Don's Beef Buffet and the A & W Root Beer drive-in.

A delegation will meet him at the city limits and escort him and his wife to city hall.

☆

IN LIEU of the usual key to the city, Mr. Gabier will be presented an Indian headdress as Chief Tecumseh for the day.

They will ride in the Safety Check parade that evening. The parade begins at 7 p.m. at the city hall.

Mr. Gabier is a life long resident of Mesick and is in the insurance business. His hobbies are hunting and fishing.

A banquet in honor of the Gabiers will be held at the Tecumseh Country Club at 8 p.m.

According to Chairmen Morgan and Creswell, reservations for the event must be made by May 18. Cost, $3.25 per person.

Ground Breaking for New Institute To Be Thursday

Ground will be broken Thursday at 10 a.m. for the new Lenawee Institute on Sutton Rd.

This is the $150,000 structure going up as the first in a series of campus-type facilities for special education students of Lenawee County.

The Tecumseh High School band will open the program playing "God of Our Fathers," followed with an invocation by the Rev. B. O. Bashore.

Milton Porter, Lenawee County Superintendent of Schools; Nathan Knowles, president of the Lenawee County board of education; and William Austin, superintendent of Adrian Schools, will also be on the program.

☆

AMONG THOSE making comments will be:

► Mary Ellen Vogel, a veteran Sutton teacher.

Tecumseh School boardmen, Aden Mead and Robert Moore, will be turning up some turf along with the Sutton children. The new school is located in the Tecumseh District, which purchased the land when the special education building was proposed in April.

☆

AS THE ACTUAL ground breaking takes place, the THS band will play "America the Beautiful" and following benediction by the Rev. Mr. Bashore, the band will offer "America."

The new facility is made possible as the result of a gift from "a friend of education," according to Mr. Porter.

Lester Rogers Honored for Service

More than a half century of service to St. Peter's Episcopal Church was recognized when a certificate was presented to Lester Rogers by Bishop Archie Crowley at a service in the church May 6.

The certificate made Mr. Rogers "Vestry-man Emeritus" honoring his many years of service to the parish as member of the vestry and officer of the local church.

Besides serving as treasurer for more than 25 years, he has been superintendent of the Sunday Church School, junior warden and senior warden. He has also been parish delegate to several diocesan conventions.

Mr. Rogers has been a Tecumseh resident since 1904. He ran a steam engine for H. Brewer & Co., manufacturers of Clay Woodworking Machinery, once located where Bug's Service Station is now at the corner of Evans and Shawnee Streets.

He was a machinist at Anthony Fence Company before purchasing a trucking business when he was in charge of mail to and from trains daily in the village.

Parish Wardens Glenn Driscoll and J. Paul Ammer stood with Lester Rogers during the presentation.

At his visitation Bishop Crowley blessed and dedicated a new credence table for the chapel given by Lester Rogers and Mrs. W. W. Ring in memory of Ina Rogers, their wife and mother.

He also blessed a new set of wrought iron candlesticks for the high altar designed and made by St. Gregory's Studio of the Episcopal Benedictine Priory of St. Gregory at Three Rivers.

Class System Changed for Two Grades

Tecumseh School Board Monday night approved departmentalizing the fifth and sixth grades in the schools' two largest elementary buildings, Patterson and Tecumseh Acres.

Through departmentalizing, pupils will move from classroom to classroom, with teachers specializing in reading, arithmetic, social studies and other subjects.

School officials feel students will receive a better education. Departmentalization in the grades is common in some other schools.

Other elementary schools in the Tecumseh district will gradually work into departmentalization and adopt programs on a modified scale.

☆

DISCUSSION at the board meeting included:

► Changing hours for the elementary from 8:30 to 9:00, with dismissal at 3:45 in the afternoon.

► Returning physical education to the grades.

► Purchasing or leasing more buses in order to eliminate double runs and start all schools at the same time.

Sandra Wilson Speaks Vows

White gladioli and chrysanthemums filled the altar vases of the Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church and fronted the lighted candelabra May 9 for the wedding of Sandra Rose Wilson to Ronald E. Mukensturm.

Palms adorned the chancel and traditional bows marked the pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Wilson, 5618 Holloway Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Muckensturm, 9526 Bramble Rd.

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin performed the ceremony and Mrs. Hazel Coller was the organist accompanying Greg King, soloist.

The radiant bride, on the arm of her father, wore a dress of Chantilly lace with long sleeves. Sabrina neckline embroidered with sequins and a bouffant skirt with five extending ruffles of lace accenting the back in a full chapel train.

☆

HER VEIL of imported bridal illusion, was attached to a double crown of seed pearls. A single strand of pearls belonging to her grandmother was the bride's only jewelry.

She carried a cascade arrangement of White Elegance carnations centered with Golden Rapture rosebuds edged with miniature ivy.

Claudia Wilson was her sister's maid of honor in a street length gown of blue and white peau de soie fashioned with scooped neckline and long sleeves. The full bell skirt was attached to a tight-fitted bodice.

Janet Forrester, Sharon Crane, Sally Cutler, and Judy Wilson were the bridesmaids with Cindy Wilson and Barbara Mukensturm as junior bridesmaids. Their headpieces were the gift of the bride.

Beth Ann, small sister of the groom, was the flower girl dressed in a full tiered lace dress with large satin bow at the back waist. She wore a circlet of flowers on her head and carried a basket filled with pompons.

MRS. RONALD E. MUKENSTURM

☆

Mrs. Allen Cutler and Mrs. Donald Mukensturm cut the five-tiered cake decorated in blue and white and flanked by blue lighted tapers on a white linen cloth.

Mrs. Richard Graham, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Raymond Campbell, Mrs. James Newman and Carol Bassett assisted with the gifts.

The bride is a graduate of Deerfield High School and is employed at Don's Beef Buffet.

'M' Student Studies Herald

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles taken from an analysis written by Mike Lewis, University of Michigan journalism major, on The Tecumseh Herald, its good points and its faults.)

By MIKE LEWIS

It is not in the class with the Lapeer County Press, but it is interesting to note that the Tecumseh editor reads the Press religiously for new ideas.

The Herald looks like The Press, and yet it is different. Both papers make use of white space and play up photographs, especially The Herald.

But The Herald has dropped all rules and uses a special system to leave a full pica between columns.

☆

THE HERALD has a good location for a weekly.

But the Adrian Daily Telegram has a circulation of only 18,169, up only 3,000 from 1946.

Furthermore, the county has been growing more rapidly than the circulation of The Telegram.

☆

THE TELEGRAM looks like an anachronism; its head schedule is a weird mixture, many of its faces looking like the paper was printed 50 or 60 years ago.

But The Telegram is competition. It covers Tecumseh carefully and most of the readers of The Herald also take the Telegram.

Unusual Ode

Editor's note—This poem, by Herald Linotype operator Bill Schooley, was inspired by ads and copy regarding last week's new auto promotion, all of which he set into type.)

OWED (ODE) TO THE AUTO INDUSTRY

Oh, why did I go to the motor car show?
Why did I fall for its lure?
I once was content
But now since I went,
I know it's Hell to be poor!

Beautiful colors, gorgeous styles and fabrics
And that is not all of the matter,
My head is obsessed
With phrases expressed
By salesmen who spilled me their patter.

Full-floating rear axle, four full coil springs,
Vibrationless motor with frictionless rings.
Air-cooled carburetor, quadrangular spark.
Transmission's equipped with multiple arc.
Tach on the dashboard, concave triple gears,
Here's a job that'll last five or ten years.

Oh, why did I go to the motor car show?
'Twas the beginning of my horrible plight:
Now through my brain
Runs this crazy refrain,
I chant it by day and by night:

Landau, landauette, roadster, coupe,
Speedster, sportster, cabriolet,
Brougham, victoria, runabout, van,
Station wagun, coach and sedan.

Oh, why did I go to the motor car show?
I wanted each car that I saw
And though I desired It,
I could have acquired it
In no way save breaking the law.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Challenge for Every Citizen

An Editorial By Jean Worth Of The Escanaba Daily Press

In a Michigan Week talk to a national audience, Gov. George Romney said, "There was no compelling reason why Michigan should become the center of the world's automotive industry. Favored as we were with natural resources, there were other areas of the nation that could more easily have become the world capital of the auto industry.

"What made the difference was the imagination and energy of men like Ford, the Fisher Brothers, Olds and other auto pioneers. Nor was that combination alone enough to create the industrial miracle.

"It took the thousands of people who flocked to the state from all parts of the nation and world. Danes, Belgians, Negroes, Poles, Germans, Italians and Irish — Michigan represents almost every national group — to translate the dreams of a few into the reality of many.

"What is more important than the natural favors which God bestowed on Michigan is our people — people who have been drawn to its high rewards since the Frenchman, Etienne Brule, reached what is now Michigan's Upper Peninsula two years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock.

"Without the spirit, the intelligence, the skill, the courage and the imagination of these people and their organizations, Michigan would be nothing more today than the green wilderness which Brule found in the 17th Century.

"People make a state and people can unmake it. Through their laxity, through their devotion to selfish aims at the expense of the public good, through an allergic reaction to the idea of reasonable concession, through a dismal unconcern for the affairs of government, they can bring their state's government and its economy into disarray."

The governor's words put Michigan Week in focus. More than our natural blessings as a commonwealth with 126 years of statehood, we should be counting our human blessings, the men and women who have made the state great.

It's a human tendency to think that the pioneers had special opportunities and made their names enduring because they were active in a virgin theater of human endeavor. But there is more opportunity today than any of them ever had.

There has been more discovery and change in human life since World War II than in all the years since Brule first saw the falls of the St. Mary's River.

Contributions to Michigan's heritage are needed as they ever were and perhaps more so. There are so many important things to be done for the state that they challenge every citizen.

Enlarge Circle of Impact

Staging an event like the coming three-day Safety Check is no small chore. There are all sorts of details and before it's over, the volunteer workers conducting this event will have given hundreds of hours of their time.

This effort has not been made in vain. For the past three straight years the Tecumseh Safety Check has won top honors for the community. Each time, this city's effort ranked best among all Michigan towns up to 10,000 in population.

But more important than this has been the attention focused on the need for all vehicles to be in first-class shape when they venture onto city and state highways.

We realize plenty of car and truck owners will not bother to go through the safety lane, either because they didn't want to bother or because they figured their vehicle wouldn't pass the 10 check points. But by even thinking of these things has been progress of sorts.

Certainly the ones who went through the lane come away feeling pretty good about the whole thing, even if it means having some repairs done which they were not aware needed doing.

This year, the Safety Check program is being expanded with 10 service stations authorized to conduct inspections — identical to the 10 points in the lane — for convenience of their customers. This helps broaden the base of the operation and should enlarge the circle of impact this public service event has on those who drive.

Governor Romney To Help

Gov. George Romney will help turn the first pieces of sod for construction of the new Stauffer Chemical Co. plant on Sutton Rd., three miles south of Tecumseh on May 21.

Joining him will be Christian de Guigne, chairman of the board of Stauffer, and his entire lineup of directors. They're flying in from New York that day, following the annual two-day directors' meeting there.

B. M. Conboy of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion will also participate in the ceremony.

Amos Anderson, a Stauffer vice-president who will be in charge of the new $6 million operation here, has invited about 125 of the firm's leading customers from all over the United States to view the groundbreaking.

From the 4:30 ground-breaking in Raisin Township, the spotlight will swing to Ritchie Hall on the Adrian College campus for a banquet with James H. Fridd, Jr., of Adrian as toastmaster.

☆

ALONG WITH the honors for Stauffer, the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce, will also cite several other Lenawee County industries:

► General Motors Fisher Body Division, which will soon build a 290,000 square-foot upholstery trim plant in Tecumseh

► Dura Corp., which is moving to Adrian from Toledo.

The new Stauffer layout here will include a research center and headquarters for three of the firm's divisions. Eventually, this will grow into a $20 million complex with employment for well over 1,000.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:
In what way can I treat the window directly over my kitchen sink?
MRS. RCV.

DEAR MRS. RCV.:
These are problem windows but there are several treatments recommended for this area.

We often use shutters with perhaps a valance or cafe drapery at the top.

This helps to prevent the constant splashing on the drapery.

We come in and measure for the shutters so that exact size and type of installation is obtained.

The shutters will be stained or painted to match the surroundings and installed.

Regular draperies and cafes are used if this is not a problem.

New on the list of treatment for this area are the new topper shades, which come in custom colors.

Also laminated shades and toppers can be made from fabric to match your wallpaper or draperies.

Kustom Kraft Draperies is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except Tuesdays.

We keep Tuesdays open for home appointments. Evenings also by appointment.

PLEASE HELP END MICHIGAN'S HIGHWAY SLAUGHTER

CHECK YOUR CAR • Join the "CIRCLE OF SAFETY" • CHECK YOUR DRIVING • CHECK ACCIDENTS

Death on our state's highways have risen 40% in the past year. Within Lenawee County there has been a 22% increase. Speed, carelessness and defective vehicles have been major causes of this needless slaughter. You can help hold down the accident rate by driving with more care and less speed. You can also make certain that your car or truck is 100% safe — its brakes, lights, tires, exhaust, windshield wipers. Be sure to have your vehicle checked — it's entirely free — in the Tecumseh Safety Lane May 21, 22 or 23. On Thursday, the lane will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. In addition, if you do not have seat belts, we advise getting them. Two out of three traffic deaths would probably have been prevented had the victims been secured with seat belts.

Communism Is Discussed at Exchange

Lloyd George of Novi talked about communism at Monday's dinner meeting of the Exchange Club.

Mr. George urged the audience to preserve American Freedoms by keeping in contact with members of Congress and adhering to the principles set forth by the founders of the nation.

He reviewed the communist take-over of China, Poland, Tibet, Hungary and Cuba.

The speaker pointed out that in the United States, confusion and apathy among some citizens regarding communism is compounded by an apparent lack of policy towards this threat by the State Department.

Mr. George is district chairman of the American Legion Americanism Committee and director of the Conservative Federation of Michigan.

Meyers Is One of Three Plants Making Aircraft

(Editor's note — Michigan Week begins Sunday. This story on aviation, issued to help promote the annual celebration, is of particular interest to area residents.)

Michigan, long a pioneer in transportation, has made great contributions to the growth and development of aviation.

While major manufacturing of aircraft is now centered in the south and west, it is estimated that the industry contributes more than $110 million annually to the state's economy.

The Michigan Department of Aeronautics, headed by James D. Ramsey, chairman of the Michigan Week aviation committee, was established in 1929 as one of the first such divisions of state government.

The Michigan aeronautics code has long been a guide for other states.

Michigan today has 138 licensed airports, and a total of 250 landing fields with the addition of emergency landing areas and seaplane bases. Of the state's 7,397 registered pilots, 287 are women, according to aeronautics' department figures.

☆

THERE ARE three manufacturers of aircraft in Michigan, the Maule Corp. of Jackson and Napoleon, Meyers Aircraft of Tecumseh and the new Enstrom Helicopter plant at Menominee.

The state today is served by 14 major airlines and the estimated value of all airports in Michigan is $184,000,000. The average annual airport construction program in the state is $6,000,000.

A department survey for 1962 revealed a total of 3,963,000 operations (landings and take-offs) from Michigan airports. Of this total 1,445,000 were non-commercial of which 53 percent were for business and commercial purpose.

The first air mail flight was made from the Michigan State Fairgrounds in 1915. As early as 1926 there were 12 commercial airlines in America and five were using Michigan built aircraft. Eight of the 12 were conceived and largely financed by Michigan businessmen.

The first spark plug made exclusively for aircraft was produced by the A.C. Spark Plug Division in Flint in 1917.

Mail Boxes in County Need Care

Mail Box Improvement Week is May 18 to 23.

When people think of housecleaning, their minds turn instinctively to spring. Renewal of life and renewal of property go hand in hand.

"With the postal service, it's much the same," says Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf.

"Though we like to keep people conscious all year round of the need for proper mail-receiving, we put special emphasis on clean-up and fix-up projects in the spring when the public is especially in the mood."

Next to the people who live there, no one comes to anyone's home as often as the mailman.

To the success of business and social lives, his visits are indispensable.

If the containers into which carriers put people's mail were related in looks, safety, adequacy, and otherwise to the value of their contents, only first-quality receptacles would be used.

Postmaster Metcalf is anxious always to give good service.

He can be assisted by seeing your mail box is —

► Adequate in size, of approved design, and in good repair.

► Clearly visible and readily accessible.

► Locked, if in an apartment house or otherwise unprotected.

► Properly identified.

Questions may be directed to Mr. Metcalf by calling 423-2556.

Before Pilgrims

Etienne Brule reached what is now Michigan's Upper Peninsula between 1619 and 1621, at the same time the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620.

Shetland Sheep Dog Wins Trophy

"Mike," a shetland sheep dog owned by Mrs. James Mull, won a second-place trophy in the recent Toledo Dog Show for American-bred entries.

"Mike" will be entered in the American Shetland Sheep Dog Show novice class at the Detroit Lightguard Armory this weekend.

Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of my sweet Mother, Mary P. Jones, who passed away five years ago Tuesday, May 12, 1959.
Mother, dear, since you've been gone the days and night have been so long;
I think of you both day and night, and know you're here, tho' out of sight.
All of the suffering and the pain I know now it was not in vain;
You're with Our Lord up above, surrounded by His wondrous love;
Five years, Mother, you've been gone, and my love for you goes on and on.
Greatly missed by her daughter, Lee Horton and family. M14,p

Cranbrook, Morenci Capture JC Relays

Willow Run, with outstanding performances in the short running events, finished second, with the Tecumseh Indians running third in the field of 14 Class B teams.

Morenci, proving too much in the field events, also won the Class C division for the second straight year.

☆

PROBABLY THE outstanding performance of the day was turned in by Willow Run's Larmar Miller with a time of 14.4 in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Miller, running with a strong wind at his back, easily won his preliminary heat in the record-breaking time, and then nipped previously undefeated Steve Derby in the afternoon's finals.

Tecumseh's only first in the meet came in the shot put where Bill Thomas recorded a 48'4½" mark. John Lindstrom finished second to give the Indians their best scoring for any individual event.

☆

Head, outstanding Huron League miler, failed in his stretch drive to overcome Coburn who ran the four trips around the quarter-mile track in 4:28.8, bettering his record set in 1963 by nearly eight seconds.

Those tallying points for the Indians besides Thomas, Lindstrom and Derby were:

Tim Collins, fourth, 100-yard dash.

Relay teams in the Tecumseh Medley, two mile, shuttel hurdle and mile.

Lemerand Is Hero in Track Win over GI

Tecumseh moved into a three-way tie for first in the Huron League track race Tuesday with a come-from-behind win over Grosse Ile, 56-53.

Dave Lemerand pulled his teammates to victory with a 52.3 quarter-mile in the final mile relay event.

Lemerand, starting five yards behind his opponent on the last leg and already beaten by the same lad in the half-mile run, nipped his rival by three yards at the finish for Tecumseh's fifth league track win.

Another surprise for the Indians — but it did no harm — was John Lindstrom's shot put of 47'8½" to beat teammate Bill Thomas.

Both are probably the best shot putters in the league with Thomas usually coming in first.

Lindstrom has progressed in recent weeks and could top the field in the league next Wednesday at Eastern Michigan.

GI won seven of the 13-event meet, but failed to collect enough seconds and thirds to win.

☆

OTHER TECUMSEH winners were:

Steve Derby, 120-yard high hurdles, 15.8; 180-yard lows, 21.2.

Tim Collins, 100-yard dash, 10.6.

Half-mile and mile relay teams.

Second places were picked up by Mike Sharpe, Kirk Lucas, Lemerand, Jim Brown, and Collins; and third places by Lemerand, Jim Greene, Rod Imes, and Jay Osburn.

Blissfield knocked Ypsilanti-Lincoln from the undefeated ranks to create a three-way tie for first.

☆

THE ANNUAL Huron League track meet will be held next Wednesday afternoon at Eastern Michigan U. at Ypsilanti.

Assistant high school principal Don Brazee will be in charge.

Four teams are favored in the meet — Milan, Grosse Ile, Ypsilanti-Lincoln and Tecumseh.

The Indians meet Airport here Thursday afternoon in what should be an easy track victory.

33 Attend Clinic at Tiger Stadium

Tecumseh baseball coaches Carl Hale and Gordon Gutowski took 33 varsity and junior varsity players to a clinic Saturday morning at Tiger Stadium sponsored by the Detroit Baseball Co.

In the afternoon, they watched Baltimore defeat the Tigers, 7-6.

Hits and Mrs. League Ends Season at Banquet

TIPTON — The Hits and Mrs. Bowling League enjoyed an evening of fun at their banquet Saturday night when prizes were awarded and officers were elected.

The Tipton Grange put on a turkey supper which was devoured by all members present.

The tables were decorated with bowling pins and balls and spring bouquets.

Officers table had a large bowling pin with the league name on it and with a ball it was set in a floral arrangement.

Each place was marked by a small wooden pin with league name, members name and high game on it. Each member was given the place marker as a token.

☆

Vice president — Willis Davenport

Secretary-treasurer — Hitch Alcock

Sergeant at arms — Bill Luce

By laws — Guy Cox

Rules committee — Wallace Wilkins, Willis Davenport, and Don Daniels.

Trophy committee — Richard Smith, Bill La Farriere and Ken Munger.

Banquet Committee — Shirley Smith — Juanita Davenport and Lilah Ries.

A drawing was held to pick teams for next year as none of the members wished to drop out.

☆

DON DANIELS was toastmaster for the evening. He awarded prizes to the following members:

League champions — large trophy and patches — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Church.

Second place champions — crying towels — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Luce and Mr. and Mrs. John Becker.

Last place champs — loving cups — Pat Anderson and Steve Covell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill LaFarriere.

High game trophy for men went to Guy Cox with a 245 game and also high series for men with 608.

High series pin for women was awarded to Rita Luce for 491.

June Ohlman and Kenneth Munger received a Gutter Gus and Gutter Gussie towel for obvious reasons.

Connie Jackson was awarded a triplicate patch for three games of 104 in succession.

After the meeting Jerry Munger brought over his stereo and records and the group square danced.

Enthusiasm for next fall is high.

Grosse Ile Wins in Final Frame

Grosse Ile pushed over a run in the last inning to nip Tecumseh High's baseball squad, 3-2, on the local diamond Tuesday night.

Scott Edwards and Gregg Allen shared the hurling duties, with Allen coming on in relief in the final frame.

The Indians entertain Flat Rock here Thursday.

TOP HURDLER, TOP SCORER — Steve Derby, only a junior, already ranks at the top of a fine list of past Tecumseh hurdlers. Although beaten for the first time Saturday in the Jaycee Relays, Derby has run the 120-yard high hurdles in 15 seconds flat for a school record, and just two-tenths of a second off the state mark. With firsts in the hurdle events in all regular track meets, plus scoring in the high jump — he also holds the school mark in this event — and anchoring the 880-yard relay team, Derby is the top Indian scorer on the track squad. He is almost certain to represent THS in the state Class B meet at Michigan State.

Golf Reporter Prompted To Tell Story in Verse

(Editor's note — Chuck Allen, who regularly reports activities of The Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League, was prompted to poetry when turning in this week's standings. Chuck didn't say if he was heralding one of his own experiences or some other star in the local circuit.)

ODE TO THE TECUMSEH-CLINTON-MACON GOLF LEAGUE

By CHUCK ALLEN

The day was fine, the sun was bright
The golfer's heart was pure delight.
Upon the tee he proudly strode
His chest swelled large, 'bout to explode.

He'd smack that ball — it'd disappear.
He gave a Colavito stretch
Teed up his ball the very best.
A couple swings — is mighty club
T'get the feel for that sudden thud.

Stepped to the ball and got all set,
Drew back his club, a mighty threat.
And down it came — a solid crack
In the distance, his eyes on track.

He'd gave a smack with all his might
He'd knocked that ball clear out of sight.
But as he turned — his heart near stopped
He'd missed the ball and hit a rock.

The league standings are:

Bill Johnson and Dale Garrison	41	Lee Marsh and Larry Yoakum	31
Bob French and Vern Manwaring	41	Charles Parker and George Lancaster	30
Lamont Hunt and Teke Mattes	34½	Pat Hollar and Jerry Manchester	29
Jack Ruffner and Mike Buku	34	Dick Meyers and Jerry Creger	27½
Bob Wojtowicz and Walt Johnston	33½	Floyd Busz and Doug Turnball	26½
Bill Brown and Fay Crane	33	Bob Beevers and Doc Morden	26
Doug Hall and Chuck Allen	32½	Bob Rang and Dick Pierce	25
Lee Phibbs and Charles Studnicka	32½	Mickey O'Neill and Karl Roberts	22
Allen Mowery and Don Nester	32	Bill Walker and Eldon Walker	20½
Gabe French Jr. and Gabe French Sr.	31½	Hal Weakly and Gene Mackey	18

95 Turn Out as Senior Citizens Organize

Senior citizens of the Tecumseh area will soon be a going group.

At an organizational meeting last week in the Tecumseh Community Center, 95 interested folks were on hand.

They heard Mrs. Beth Moser, a director of the Jackson Senior Citizens Center, tell about activities of that city for its senior citizens.

The large sunny room of the Tecumseh Community Center seemed to radiate well-being as the charming Mrs. Koser related the many possibilities for older people of the area.

"Not just high school graduates make trips to the nation's capitol these days," said Mrs. Moser. "Only this morning, two bus loads of senior citizens left Dearborn for Washington, D. C."

☆

THE SPEAKER mentioned the appropriateness of organizing the group just now since President Lyndon Johnson has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens month.

She spoke of the rapid growth of such groups in other cities, saying that Senior Citizens were first nationally organized in 1958 and now there are 17 million in the United States.

In Jackson, they now have 500 people at four different centers. Jackson County alone has 12,000 senior citizens.

She said, "So many are retiring and so many do not have planned activity for the future."

"An organized group provides some place to go, something to do and most important, someone to do it with," continued Mrs. Moser.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler, moderator, introduced Don Moffatt, city parks and recreation superintendent, who welcomed the group and told of the facilities of the Center available for the gatherings.

A steering committee volunteered to plan for another get-together to be held Thursday, June 4, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Center.

Those on the committee are Worthy Chandler, Waldo Mohr, Lester Hunt and Oren Feight.

TWO PLANTS from Ousterhout's Flower Shop were awarded as door prizes to Waldo Mohr, 214 W. Logan St., and William B. Hotrum, 203 E. Shawnee St.

Mr. Moffatt is accepting reservations for a Regional Senior Citizens gathering in Jackson May 20.

Five counties comprise the group that will meet at the National Guard Armory in Jackson that day from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

An award will be presented to each group present as well as special prizes including one for the couple present who have been married the longest time.

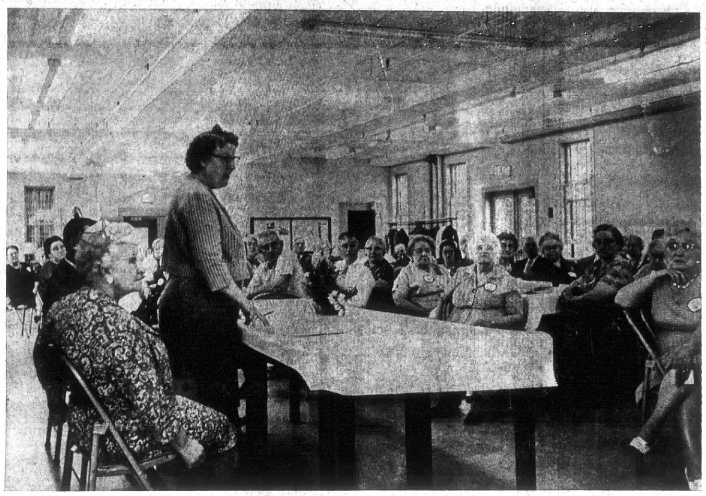
Mrs. Lee Purkey, Mrs. William Beagle, Mrs. Fred Feight, and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant served punch, coffee and wafers to conclude the event Friday.



MRS TRUMAN RENTSCHLER MODERATES AT SENIOR CITIZENS MEETING

Cadet Band Will Present Outdoor Concert at School

Families are invited to a varied concert presented by the cadet band of the Senior High School Monday, May 18, at 7:30 p.m.

The outdoor program for the public will be played at the front drive of the High School.

Miles Cowdrey, director of the cadet band, suggests that perhaps those attending would like to bring blankets or folding chairs for more comfort.

Among the selections will be Leroy Anderson's "The Typewriter" with Lee Lemerand, soloist, and "Trombero", a trombone trio with a Latin-American beat featuring Jim Goodman, Steve Sowers and Gerald Slick.

Selections from "The Music Man" will be sung by Debbie Earling with band accompaniment.

Vicki Hannah and Debbie Black will present a flute duet.

Mr. Cowdrey said that the concert will be played in the gym if it should rain that evening.

Michigan is a great agricultural state. Thirty-nine of its 83 counties rank among the first 100 in the United States in the production of field crops, fruit and livestock. Michigan leads the nation in the production of many farm crops. Only California rivals Michigan in diversification of food production among the states.

Mrs. Geisenhaver Elected President of Convocation

Mrs. Arthur Geisenhaver, newly-installed president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Southwest Convocation of the Diocese of Michigan, attended the annual meeting of the Diocesan Board of Churchwomen at Christ Church in Grosse Pointe May 6.

She was elected and installed at Pleasant Lake, April 27.

As Convocation President, Mrs. Geisenhaver will serve as a member of the Board.

She is past president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Peters Church and is a former vice-president of the Convocation Episcopal Church women.

A get-acquainted dinner meeting was held May 5 at the Park-Shelton Hotel where Mrs. Geisenhaver met the other members of the board.

Plans for June Alumni Banquet Are in Full Swing

The 1964 Tecumseh High School Alumni Banquet will be held Saturday, June 6, with a coffee hour at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at 6:30 p.m., at the Tecumseh Recreation Field.

The meal will be served by the Tecumseh Grange and will consist of barbecued chicken and trimmings.

Following the dinner there will be dancing on the Basketball court east of the swimming pool.

Tickets will be $2 per person and will be sold by advance registration only.

Reservations may be obtained by writing Russell Hyatt, 6671 Mill Hwy, Tecumseh, or by stopping at Eggleston's Jewelry.

Your receipt of payment will serve as your ticket.

Those mailing reservations may pick up tickets at the banquet.

Missionary-Pilot Will Tell of Upper Amazon

BRITTON — The Rev. Hank Scheltema, a dedicated missionary-pilot of the Association of Baptists For World Evangelism, will present films, show curios and speak here concerning his mission work in the upper Amazon regions of Brazil.

Mr. Scheltema will be at the Bethel Baptist church Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

He will tell of the pagan tribes, who even though most have never seen a missionary or received any information about God, live with a strange messianic hope.

One remote village has begged for a missionary for two years.

The Rev. Mr. Scheltema is a member of the Wealthy Street Baptist Church of Grand Rapids, and a graduate of the Baptist Bible College and Seminary.

He and his wife and their five children have been stationed in a jungle outpost where Brazil, Peru and Colombia blend together in a wild tangle.

A pilot, he has flown about 1,000 hours, covering 100,000 air miles in the past three years.

The use of the amphibious airplane has enabled him to start many new preaching points in previously inaccessible villages and tributaries of the Amazon. Valuable time and lives have been saved.

The little old "Aeronca Sedan" is not sufficient to serve the challenge of the world's vast unexplored area with its thousands of miles of tributaries along which dwell many people who have never once heard the name of Jesus Christ.

While on furlough in this country, the Rev. Mr. Scheltema is working toward the eventual purchase of a Cessna 180 which can be strategically located along the Central Amazon region and enable all missionaries to make use of air travel in reaching hundreds of villages.

"What we are going to do to reach the Amazon tribes, we must do quickly," says the Rev. Mr. Scheltema. "They are asking for missionaries now, but in a few years we won't be able to get in," he continued.

The pastor, the Rev. Duane McNeil, invites the public to attend these special meetings at the church at 159 Osborne St. in Britton.

Mrs. Viva Brown Is 'Mother of the Year'

BRITTON — Floral Portraits was the theme for the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Congregational Christian Church Friday evening at the Britton-Macon School.

A total of 172 guests were seated at tables centered with spring bouquets and tall green candles.

Marking each place were miniature lace fans in assorted pastel colors with tiny arrangements of flowers.

Mrs. Gustav Hannevik gave the invocation.

Following the Swiss steak dinner, which was prepared by Mrs. Forrest Barrett and her committee, the group enjoyed a "Sing-a-Long, led by Mrs. Ronald Frayer accompanied by Mrs. William Raeburn at the piano.

Mrs. Donald Berkley of Tecumseh served as toastmaster and narrator for the Floral Portraits, which ran from infancy to grandmotherhood.

☆

AS MRS. NEIL BENEDICT stood in the floral portrait in her wedding gown, Mrs. John Costello sang, "O Perfect Love".

Mrs. Joseph Hall and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks sang "Whispering Hope."

Mrs. Robert Hoekstra gave the toast to the daughters and the toast to the mothers was given by her daughter Susan.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. Sam Hamilton and daughter Barbara, Sally Costella, Lisa Auten, Jan Frayer, Dawn Hetrick, Amy and Sally Vreeland, Debbie and Betty Pilbeam, Kay Benedict, Brenda Palmer, Mrs. Gerald Benedict and Mrs. William Gibson and her granddaughter Mary Schroeder.

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.

Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.

Why?

Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.

You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice. You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains. And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.
